THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 23—Tomorrow evening two candidates will be initiated at the meeting of Wm. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. It is likely that a Court Orient will be established at the next meeting of the council.

Next Wednsday afternoon a missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Horace Garrabrant. Mrs. Glark, president of the New Jersey Branch of the Ladies's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church, will make an address.

When North avenue is widened according to the ordinance adopted by the Council it will make one of the best improvements in the borough. It is wise that such action was taken when the opportunity offered itself.

Work on the trolley through the borough will be started in a very short time. The contracts for the work for the building of the trolley have been given out by the Brunswick Traction Company.

At Taylor's hotel a handsome American flag is displayed. It shows that the host is unquestionably patriotic. There are many other handsome flags to be seen in the borough.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Alfred Jamison, pastor of the M. E. church, will preach a patriotic sermon before the members of the Jr. O. U. A. M., of this place.

Mrs. O. B. Chandler, of Church street, is somewhat improved from her recent slight illness.

Already Justice Warden is finding lots of business. He is kept busy most of the time.

A. N. Randolph's new barn is nearing completion. Harry Gaskill is doing the work.

Mrs. Samuel Vermeule, of Jackson avenue, has almost recovered from her illness.

This evening there will be a regular meeting of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Miss Jamison, of Church street, has returned from a visit to out-of-town friends.

Miss Ella Fenner, of Plackamin, has been visiting relatives in the borough.

Postmaster Coriell has returned from a business trip in New York.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

New Market, May 23.—Next Sunday evening a patriotic service will be held in the First Baptist church. Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor, will preach an appropriate sermon and there will be special music.

Wednesday evening of this week an entertainment will be given in Friendship Hall by the members of the public school. An effort will be made to secure enough money to purchase an American flag for the school house.

Friday evening, May 27th, Rev. Frank Fletcher will deliver his celebrated lecture on "Sherman's March to the Sea." It will be given for the benefit of the Presbyterian church, of that place

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to the Daily Press)

Scotch Plains, May 23—Horace Hand, of Plainfield, visited friends in town Friday evening.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held an interesting meeting in their rooms Friday evening. Harry Flannery was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

Mr. Ruffner, of Virginia, who has been visiting Wm. Corey, has gone to Connecticut on a short visit.

Mrs. Ryno, of Haverstraw, N. Y., is spending a few days with her father, Robert Walpole.

John Warta is confined to the house with a bad attack of sore throat.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 23—Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Lambert will celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary at their home on Summit avenue this evening.

A large crowd gathered at the Clark grounds Saturday afternoon and witnessed an excellent game of baseball between the Westfield Club team and the Brooklyn Heights team. The game was close and exciting throughout, the home team winning by one run in the last inning. Higgins and Kelly were the battery for Westfield and Plaiser and Slady for the visitors. Features of the game were the fine backstop work of Kelly, the clever throwing of Lee and Roth, and Morgan's fine playing at first. For the visitors Addie in left field and Cawley in right field did some fine work in pulling down several sky-scrapers.

The Rev. Dr. Roberts, a returned missionary from Africa, occupied the pulpit at the New York Avenue Baptist church yesterday, preaching interesting sermons both morning and evening.

The Township Committee has asked Thomas I. Nicholl, of Fanwood, to act as one of the commissioners to settle up the business between Mountainside borough and the township.

The "Sins of Falsehood" was the subject of a most interesting and instructive sermon preached by the Rev. George A. Francis in the Baptist church yesterday morning.

Mary Rowland, the ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Kate Rowland, of Elm street, fell down a flight of stairs Friday and broke her right arm in two places.

A large number of the members of Willard W. C. T. U. will go to Plainfield tomorrow to attend the spring convention of the Union County W. C. T. U.

The Elizabeth and Westfield Railway Company are surveying for a crosstown trolley line to connect Summit and Rahway.

The board of officers of the Sunday-school of the Methodist church holds its regular monthly meeting this evening.

Township Clerk Irving I. Ross came up from Long Branch Sunday to spend the day with his family on South avenue.

T. M. Foote will lay a concrete sidewalk in front of his residence on Westfield avenue.

M. L. Saulsbury is spending a two weeks' vacation with relatives at Ridgeway, Md.

Mrs. Anna Herrick, of New York, spent a few days last week with friends here.

The public fountain at the corner of Broad street and North avenue is being planted.

The Social Club wheelmen will hold a club run Decoration Day afternoon.

James A. Goodale, of Dover, was in town Saturday attending to business.

F. C. Decker visited the State Camp at Sea Girt yesterday.

Miss Carrie Wouit visited friends in Plainfield Saturday.

LINCOLN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Lincoln, May 23—A number of the young men residing in this town are about to organize a baseball nine, and only require a little financial encouragement from some of our wealthy residents to make it a certainty at once.

The public school was closed Friday afternoon to allow the teacher, Miss Maude Titsworth, to attend a meeting of the teachers' institute at New Market.

The park, near the depot, has been put in fine summer condition by the addition of several flower beds, which have many pretty flowers in bloom.

Mrs. Mohring and daughter-in-law, of Plainfield, have been spending a few days with Charles Wilson, of Mountain avenue, this week.

A number of young people of both sexes from this place visited the Wild West Show at New Brunswick Thursday evening.

Miss Mary Sanderson, of Metuchen, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Thos. Wrench, of Mountain avenue, this week.

Captain Frederick Davy, of Weston, was a welcome visitor at Mayor Drake's office Thursday.

Mrs. W. H. Kenyon, who has been ill, is reported to be much better.

Absorbs Like a Sponge

+AMOLIN+

the only Odorless Antiseptic Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others—covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

GIVE THE BOYS A CHANCE.

Don't Handicap Them with Undesirable and Inappropriate Names.

The practice of naming children after distinguished or prominent men who may be in the public eye for the nonce, while usually springing from patriotic enthusiasm, does not always have so worthy an origin. Of course, where fathers continue to call their young hopefuls after George Washington, Henry Clay, Abraham Lincoln, Henry Ward Beecher and such shining lights, there is no suspicion of mercenary intent, as there is evidently no hope of pecuniary recognition of their act, for obvious reasons. But now and then this sort of tribute of admiration to the great and good is abused, and mercenary motives are apparent, or at least suspected. Yet, while most men prominent in public life have vulnerable spots about them and are easily reached with a shaft of this kind—"touched" the expressive phrase of the day has it—now and then the mercenary man finds himself badly left out in the cold, as he deserves, because of his unworthy motives.

As illustrative of this point a morning paper prints an amusing instance, for which it appears to vouch, as it is a "special" from Washington, in which a Pennsylvania farmer complains to his member of Congress that, having eight months ago named his "12-lb boy" McKinley, "he being a large Bilt fellow," he wrote to the President. "But," says the father, "he never so much as ansuard my letter. I felt completely beet. I did not no he was a stingy grown man."

Still worse—a cousin of the complainant once named a son after "Mr. Blaine," and "Mr. B. sent him a check for $25," and wrote him a very warm letter, thanking him for the name. He further complains that even Mr. Bryan sent one infantile namesake in Homestead "a 10 dollar cloke and a ck for some money," besides a "very warm leter." And the uphot of it all is that the complainants neighbors are poking fun at him. His name is Smith, he says, and there are lot of Smiths around his neighborhood, and he would like to have the Congressman do something for him to stop the neighbors' "gags."

It would seem as if Mr. McKinley was the only level-headed man in this naming business. Why should a good and great man have his name bestowed upon a boy who may, when he grows up, make everyone sorry he was named as he is? Or why should an innocent least don't handicap him with too great child have a name stuck on to him for which he may have no ympathy when he arrives at the years of discretion (such as "William J. Bryan," for instance)? No; give every boy a fair chance with a name of his own, or at a name.—Brooklyn Standard Union.

SYMPATHY OF THE BIRDS.

They Did Not Live Long After Their Little Mistress Was Buried.

The last scenes of a pathetic little drama and tragedy, in which canary birds were conspicuous actors, was recently enacted, and a little girl and three canaries are under the sod in one grave at Ekerty, Ind. Some time ago Minnie Fay, a charmig little girl, died. She had been sick for some time, and death came as a relief. During her long sickness her most intimate friends had been three canary birds, which occupied a cage jut over her bed where she could see them.

There they sung to her their best songs, and there she watched them with the kindliest devotion. As she became weaker and weaker the birds seemed to notice that something momentous was at hand. As she neared death she became very nervous, and the little songs of her canaries, instead of pleasing her, annoyed her. At last one day she became very nervous, and when the birds began to sing she interrupted them by exclaiming nervously: "Oh, hush, Dick." The birds seemed to understand either the look, tone or words of their mistress and immediately stopped. The little girl died the next day.

Either the harh command or the loss of their mistress affected them so seriously that Dick died three days later, a week later another died and a few days later the last one dropped from his perch and was dead the next morning when found. They had hardly touched food since the command to stop singing. They were laid to rest in little graves made on top of the mound. There always seemed to be the very closest bond between the birds and the invalid, and all think that the birds understood her command and that it caused their death.—Louisville Commercial.

Meanness is idleness in business. To lose patience may be to lose all.

WHICH WAS FAIRLY OFTEN.

"How did you first find out that you loved me, darling?"

"I found myself getting angry every time pa called you an idiot."

—Ally Sloper.

Tucked Batiste Waist.

The popular shirt waist continues to blossom out daily in all manner of novel and dainty forms. Tucks are particularly effective on these waists; a dainty blouse recently seen of fine cream batiste, tucked, and worn over a slip of pale pink silk formed a very lovely model for wear with a white pique or woolen skirt. The sleeves were the regulation shirt waist model. A stock of pink silk with an accordeon pleated bow under the chin gave a pretty finish.

Silk waists are much worn at this season. Taffeta is too warm, but many charming styles are of China silk fashioned in the same way as the cotton ones with the exception that the box pleat in the front is more elaborately trimmed.

A Barbaric Custom.

Although Russia is rapidly advancing in civilization many barbaric customs still exist, and that of choosing a wife is amongst the most curious. It is chiefly prevalent in country districts, and is really a game played at Christmas-time. A prominent person in a village announces that this annual feast will take place in his house, and all the young men and women of the place flock there at the appointed time. First there are dances and songs and games just as at any other ordinary party, but when these are over the hostess takes all the girls into one room where they sit upon benches round the walls, and are completely muffled up in large white sheets. In the meantime the young men have been drawing lots, and when the girls are all rolled up in their sheets, and looking more like mummies than human beings, they enter the room one by one, their order being decided by the number each draws. It is impossible to distinguish any one girl, and the young man, having finally made his choice, unveils her, it being the unwritten law that he should marry whomsoever he may pick out. If either the girl or the man refuse to marry, they must pay a heavy forfeit. Strange as it may seem, this extraordinary game of marriage is said to lead to many happy unions.

Experiments in Inverted Vision.

Professor George Stratton, of the University of California, has made a novel experiment in inverted vision by wearing for eight days a mask fitted with lenses which invert the visual image, thus projecting it upon the retina in an erect instead of the normal inverted position. He soon learned to refer all objects to their correct positions, in other words to see them right side up; but, on removing the apparatus at the expiration of eight days, everything appeared to be upside down at first. He therefore concludes that the seeing of objects right side up is due to a mental rectification of the visual image actually projected upon the retina.

Unique Work Bag.

A useful bag may be made of two silk handkerchiefs, or two pieces of silk or any other material about 27 inches square. If plain silk is used, and a handsome bag is required, the inner square may be worked in cross-stitch or embroidered to make it pretty. One dozen rings about the size of a ten cent piece are sewn on at regular distances. The corners and sides are turned down equally so as to form a circle. When the rings are sewn on ribbon or cord is run through them double to draw up and close the bag with. Brown holland bound with red braid makes a strong work-bag.

Useful Information.

It is highly dangerous to leave a gas-burner turned low unless surrounded by a globe, and even then a draught of wind may blow out the flame and leave the gas escaping.

Cupboards and storerooms should periodically have the doors set open for air and light to penetrate, and the shelves should be cleaned or at least brushed out once a week.

Sponges should never be used for applying a lotion to an open wound.

To keep a quill pen soft, have it always in the ink and do not let it get dry.

Celery Soup.

Ingredients.—One head of celery, two onions, one pint of water or stock, one pint of milk, one bay leaf, one blade of mace, six white peppercorns, two tablespoonfuls of cream, salt.

Method.—Prepare the vegetables and slice them; put them in a saucepan with the stock, bay leaf, mace, peppercorns and salt; cook gently until tender, rub through a sieve, return to the saucepan, re-heat, add the milk (warm) and then the cream. Do not let the soup boil after the cream is added.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Dennweiler. Hier brach auf bisher noch unaufgeklärte Weise ein Brand aus, der fünf Wohnhäuser mit Nebengebäuden einäscherte. Es verbrannten hierbei auch zwei Ochsen und einige Schweine.

Freinsheim. Aus dem Amtsgerichtsgefängnisse zu Dürkheim entsprang der hiesige Kolporteur Georg Gläsfer, der sich wegen eines Vergehens gegen das Reichsstrafgesetz in Untersuchungshaft befand. Irrthümlicher Weise glaubte der Gefängnißwärter den Häftling in der Zelle und schloß dieselbe zu. Gläsfer war aber außerhalb des Verwahrlokales und konnte so leicht entfliehen. In der Nähe von Dirmstein gelang es, seiner habhaft zu werden, von wo er dann neuerdings nach Dürkheim verbracht wurde.

Hochspeyer. An dem Todtenbette einer alten Botenfrau dahier standen brennende Wachskerzen. Der Wind warf eine Kerze auf das Bett, das sofort Feuer fing. Bett und Leiche verkohlten.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Die Sozialdemokraten veranstalteten am 1. Mai, nachdem die polizeiliche Erlaubniß eingeholt war, einen Umzug, an dem sich die Mitglieder sämmtlicher Gewerkschaften betheiligten.

Briegelmühle. Wegen längerer Krankheit lebensüberdrüssig entleibte sich der Privatier Xaver Bader, indem er sich mit einem Rasirmesser den Unterleib aufschnitt.

Hall. Bei der Gemeinderathswahl hatte der Kandidat Meißner aus der Urne einen Wahlzettel herausgenommen, dafür einen anderen hineingethan und so das Resultat zu seinen Gunsten gefälscht. Deswegen bestrafte ihn die hiesige Strafkammer mit vier Wochen Gefängniß.

Heilbronn. Großes Aufsehen erregt die nach einem Fluchtversuch erfolgte Verhaftung des Ingenieurs Albert Neumann, der hier ein Geschäft für Einrichtungen auf dem Gebiet der Elektrotechnik betrieb. Neumann, der große Schulden machte, soll Wechselfälschungen und andere Betrügereien verübt haben.

Königsheim. Auf dem Heimwege von Böttingen hierher verirrte sich der hiesige 60jährige Zimmermann J. Dreher und stürzte in der Dunkelheit einen Felshang hinab, was den Tod des Mannes zur Folge hatte.

Sindelfingen. Im Hause des Hafners Christian Körner brach Feuer aus, welches das Gebäude binnen kurzer Zeit vollständig einäscherte. Die sofort eingetroffene Feuerwehr konnte trotz eifriger Bemühungen nicht verhindern, daß auch das anstoßende Gebäude mit Scheuer des Friseurs Dipper von den Flammen ergriffen und gleichfalls bis auf den unteren Theil zerstört wurde.

Tuttlingen. Zwischen der Haltestelle Tuttlingen und Nendingen bei Ludwigsthal waren die Eisenbahnschienen auf einer Strecke von etwa einem Kilometer von Bubenhand mit faustgroßen Steinen belegt worden. Bei einem Kontrollgang wurde das Hinderniß entdeckt und durch Bahnbedienstete beseitigt. Als Thäter wurde der Gerber Jakob Friedrich Grauer von Backnang ermittelt.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Dieser Tage wurde hier eine dem Trunke ergebene Frau wegen Mordversuchs verhaftet. Sie hatte dem Mittagessen Phosphor beigemischt, um ihren Mann zu vergiften.

Freiburg. Der neue Erzbischof Dr. Komp ist in Mainz, wo er sich zu Besuch befand, plötzlich an einem Schlaganfall gestorben.

Heidelberg. Musikdirektor Rosenkranz, langjähriger Dirigent des städtischen Orchesters, beging in völliger körperlicher und geistiger Frische seinen 80. Geburtstag.

Konstanz. Neulich Nachts ist nach einem Bankett zu Ehren der anwesenden Generäle im Offizierkasino der Dachstuhl und der zweite Stock theilweise abgebrannt.

Theningen. Zwei durch Erbschaftsstreitigkeiten auf einander verbitterte Schwäger fuhren auf dem Felde aneinander vorüber; der als jähzornig und als zeitweilig geistesgestört bezeichnete Landwirth Wilhelm Gasser ergriff plötzlich eine Hacke und versetzte dem nichts ahnenden Landwirth Wilhelm Heinrich Fuchs mehrere Schläge auf Kopf und Stirne. Hinzueilende fanden Fuchs in den letzten Zügen.

Proposals for Macadamizing.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Committee on Streets and Sewers at their office, 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock p. m., on Thursday, May 26, 1898, for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the macadamizing contemplated in the following ordinances, entitled, "An ordinance for the repairing and permanent improvement of Stelle avenue," "An ordinance for the repairing and permanent improvement of Madison avenue" and "An ordinance for the repairing and permanent improvement of Woodland avenue," adopted by the Common Council and approved by the Mayor May 2, 1898, and as provided for in the specifications on file in the office of the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Committee will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents thereof in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of said prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Committee.

Separate proposals must be submitted for each street, endorsed, "Proposals for Macadamizing."

THE FISH CAUGHT THE MAN.

A Funny Incident Related in the "Wild Sports of the West of Ireland."

A singular incident connected with fishing is related by the author of "Wild Sports of the West of Ireland." A party of fishermen were out in a boat after gudgeon near Sumbury. One of the men, who had lamed his horse some miles from home, had been taken on board, but was not fishing. As a penalty for wearing spurs, he sat in the bow with his feet hanging over the side of the skiff.

Soon after he got into the boat one of the anglers caught a small gudgeon, which he playfully hung on the horseman's projecting spur. The incident was forgotten, and the gudgeon hung there, its tail just touching the water.

Suddenly the man gave a cry of astonishment, and the others, looking up, saw a large jackfish floundering about the dangling foot and splashing the water in vigorous fashion. The boat began rocking, and the man in the bow lost his balance and tumbled into the lake, where he disappeared from sight.

A moment later he rose to the surface, the jackfish still thrashing the water about his foot, and it was seen that the fish was caught on the spur. The jack was a huge fellow and very strong, and in its struggles for freedom it plunged toward the bottom of the lake, dragging the man feet foremost after it. His weight, however, was too much for the fish, and it made small headway.

The fishermen now went to the assistance of their luckless companion, and one of them struck the jack with an ore and stunned it. The man was pulled into the boat and the jackfsh dispatched. The big fish had jumped for the gudgeon, fixed its teeth in its body, and had somehow been caught by the gill on the crane-necked spur.

STATE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Professor Grace Espy Patton Presided Over the National Convention.

Prof. Grace Espy Patton, of Denver, is one of the brightest women of that mecca of the modern woman—Colorado. Not only has she become widely known as the first woman to hold the high position of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, but in recognition of her splendid services she has won a new honor of a national character. Prof. Patton went to Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the national convention of the State Superintendents of Public Instruction, over which masculine assemblage she was invited to be presiding officer.

GRACE ESPY PATTON.

Prof. Patton, who is barely old enough to hold her present position, has gathered about her in Denver a clever coterie of feminine assistants. Out of the fifty-nine counties in the State twenty-seven have women superintendents of schools, and every school board has from one to two women members. In fact, the entire department is in the hands of the fair sex, to whom United States Commissioner Harris was able to say recently: "The Colorado schools are the model schools of the country."

A Premium on Wide Tires.

The good roads movement seems to be making better progress in New Jersey than anywhere else. Within the past few years an astonishing number of highways have been converted from mere beds of sand into hard, smooth roads. The movement has become so popular that the farmers, always the last, though they should be the first persons to be come interested in the subject, are beginning to clamor for macadamized, or, as they call it, "stone" roads throughout the State, and Assemblyman Crispin has just introduced in the Legislature what seems to be a practicable scheme for inducing a general use of broad tires on wagons. This is a device beneficial at once to the road and to the farmer, but one which is winning its way very slowly. Mr. Crispin proposes to stimulate its progress by giving a rebate of $1.50 in taxes for each wheel in habitual use whose tire is four inches or more in breadth. This is $6 a year per wagon, an amount great enough to ensure prompt consideration, if not acceptance of the offer by every owner of such a vehicle. It is a remarkable admission of the value of broad tires on a highway, but statistics show that the saving of wear and tear on the roads will more than pay for the rebate. It is an object lesson that might be applied with profit in other States.

A NEW WAR INVENTION.

Wonderful Liquid Air Gun, Smokeless and Noiseless.

A rifle, fired by liquid air, is the latest invention for war. The inventor is a Frenchman named Paul Giffard, and his new weapon, if all that is claimed for it be true, will revolutionize the whole theory and practice of gunnery, for cannon, as well as for small arms. In the conflicts of the future, gunpowder will be dispensed with.

Air liquefied under enormous pressure is the explosive used for M. Giffard's new rifle. It is loaded into a reservoir beneath the barrel. The trigger is pulled, causing a little valve to open and permitting a single drop of liquid air to escape from the reservoir. The magazine is full of conical bullets, and one of them always lies in the barrel of the rifle until fired and succeeded by another. The liberated drop of air instantly expands in a small chamber behind the bullet, and the power of its expansion is so tremendous as to discharge the projectile with a velocity approximating half a mile a second. No combustion having occurred, there is no smoke, of course. Stranger yet, there is no sound—no report to give notice that the gun has been fired. In the battles of the future men will fall without knowing from what direction they are struck. The magazine holds 150 bullets, and can be refilled in six seconds. The projectiles can be discharged in a steady stream.

JAPANESE IMAGES IN FAIRMOUNT.

"Devil Scarers" for Sleepy Old Philadelphia's Park.

Visitors to Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, receive something of a shock as they unexpectedly come upon two monstrous, grotesque, writhing, menacing images that stand before one of the doorways of the permanent museum buildings erected for the Centennial Exposition and known as Memorial Hall.

The figures were recently purchased in Japan by the Museum Commission. They are supposed to be over 300 years old, and for three centuries stood sentinel like at the gate of Toshida, a temple at Nra, the ancient capital of Japan. They were placed at the gate to prevent the devils from getting in.

The images are each six feet six inches high, and with the pedestal, eight feet four inches high, being carved from wood and painted.

In the olden days, when Buddhism and superstition ruled Japan, the "devil scarers" were held in great awe and veneration by the simple people. That they could be purchased and taken away to a foreign land for exhibition as mere curios speaks volumes for the progress that has marked the land of the rising sun during the past quarter of a century.

Japan is to-day absolutely free from the thraldom of the priesthood that once held its people bound in superstitious chains.—New York Journal.

SLEPT IN A BEAR'S DEN.

In Order to Win a Husband a Silly Young Woman Performed this Act.

Mrs. Augustus Sheutzenbach, of Lopez, Pa., is the heroine of a real life drama that may fitly be called "The Lady and the Bear." Mr. Sheutzenbach being unable to choose between herself and her rival, Miss Sarah Fisher, the girls themselves decided to have a test of courage, the winner to become Mrs. Sheutzenbach. They decided that a night in a bear's den should be the test. The bear was the property of Dave Brown, a Lopez woodsman. Miss Fisher first went into the pen, but her courage forsook her in less than an hour, for Bruin was in a surly mood. Miss Mary McDonald the next night entered the pen, neatly clapped a muzzle on Mr. Bruin's snout, tied him hand and foot with a clothes line, toppled him over, and then used his great shaggy body as a pillow. Thus she went to sleep, and stayed there the night through. And so it was that Miss McDonald is now Mrs. Sheutzenbach.—New York Journal.

Cause for Thoughtfulness.

"An' hoo's the guid wife, Sandy?" said one farmer to another as they met in the market-place and exchanged snuffboxes.

"Did ye no hear that she's dead and buried?" said Sandy, solemnly.

"Dear me!" exclaimed his friend, sympathetically; "surely it must have been very sudden?"

"Aye, it was sudden," returned Sandy. "Ye see, when she turned ill we hadna time to send for the doctor, sae I gied her a bit pouther that I had lying in my drawer for a year or twa, an' that I had got frae the doctor mysel', but hadna ta'en. What the pouther was I dinna verra weel ken, but she died soon after. It's a sair loss to me, I can assure ye, but it's something to be thankfu' for I dinda tak' the pouther mysel'."—Spare Moments.

HISTORY OF THANKSGIVING DAY.

How It Grew from the Earliest Colonial Times.

The earliest record which we have of an American Thanksgiving Day is found in the New England annals of 1621. In the autumn of that year Governor Bradford, so saith the chronicler, sent out men to procure some game, in order that the New England Colonists might properly enjoy a day of thanksgiving in remembrance of the fruits of their labors during the year that had passed. Another day of rejoicing was set apart and "solemnized" as "a day of thanksgiving unto the Lord," after an abundant harvest in 1622. It is stated that, on this occasion, Massasoit and his council of braves were invited to participate in the festivities, and that they did so, spending three days in feasting. Evidently the Indian friends of the Colonists found Thanksgiving Day a day to be made the most of.

These Thanksgiving Days were not, however, of official character. The first official public Thanksgiving Day was not until the year 1631; and even this day was not at first intended to be a day of rejoicing and thanksgiving. It had been set apart as a day of fasting and prayer for relief. The colonists were in great distress; famine was imminent; a vessel laden with provisions, and long at sea had not arrived. But just before the day of fasting came, the ship made port; and the day was then officially changed by the authorities from a day of sorrow to a day of thanksgiving. This was the first real Thanksgiving Day of the American people.

Thanksgiving days were occasionally observed also in the New Netherland after this date; but it was not until February, 1644, that another official Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed. That year Governor Kieft proclaimed "a day of general thanksgiving," the occasion being the victory of the Colonists over the Indians. At the conclusion of the peace, in 1645, another Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed. We are not told that the Indians were invited to this ceremony.

The first National Thanksgiving Day was, by proclamation of President Washington, set for Thursday, November 26, 1789.

Other presidents, after Washington, issued Thanksgiving Day proclamations, from time to time; until now it is become the annual practice of the President of the United States to name the last Thursday in November as a day to be observed by thanksgiving and prayer. Governors of States issue their proclamations to correspond, thus making the observance uniform throughout the land.

In the New England States Thanksgiving Day has been observed annually for over a century. The custom has extended to other States, one at a time, until, to-day, it prevails almost everywhere in the country, and is observed by Americans in foreign lands with a sentiment that is not only religious but patriotic. It is a legal holiday also. According to the official reports on the subject in 1893 there were, at that date, but eight sections of the country where Thanksgiving Day was not recognized: Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Utah. The rest of the Union had adopted the general custom. Latest reports (1897) show that there are now but three sections in which Thanksgiving Day is not officially recognized—Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi.

Respect Paid to Turkish Women.

On the Bosphorus their salques are a great resource to the Turkish ladies, but in Pera those of the upper classes, can only go out, in closed carriages, to the Sweet Waters, occasionally accompanied by their husbands on horseback. But they may speak to no one while driving; their husbands and sons cannot even bow to them as they pass, and no one would venture to say a word to his own wife or mother when the carriage pulls up—the police would at once interfere. The highest mark of respect is to turn your back on a lady, and this is de rigueur when any member of the Imperial harem passes.

Formerly a man never saw the face of his intended until after the marriage ceremony, when they withdrew into a room and the veil was lifted for the first time. Now it is generally contrived that the bridegroom-elect shall see his future wife for a moment unveiled. —Exchange.

A Rare Coin.

While engaged in digging under his farm house, near South Windsor, N. Y., a short time ago, George Buell found a curious copper coin. The obverse side of the coin has upon it a sun and a sun dial, the date of coinage, 1787, and the inscription, "Mind your own business." The reverse side has thirteen links above the margin and an inscription in the center, "United States, one cent. The coin is known as a "Franklin cent," and is the first coin authorized by the United States. It is rare and valuable, being quoted at from $25 to $100. Mr. Buell has already been offered $20 for his find.

Apropos of my remarks on the sometimes conflicting ideals of religion and gentlemanliness, says the Private Diarist in "Cornhill Magazine," a lady sends me an amusing anecdote of a friend who bewailed to her the loss of a somewhat ill-bred, but extremely wealthy, neighbor who had been very liberal in his help to her country charities. "Mr. X is dead," said she. "He was so good and kind and helpful to me in all sorts of ways; he was so vulgar, poor dear fellow, we could not know him in London, but we shall meet in heaven."

GOLF.

Next Saturday afternoon the preliminary round for the Chapman cup will be played on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

Decoration Day the first round for the Chapman cup will be played at 10 a. m. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the semi finals will be played.

The regular monthly handicap for the handicap cup was played on the Hillside tennis and golf course Saturday. At the same time the players played for the Mrs. Charles J. Fisk cup, the scores counting on both the events. After the game the usual Saturday afternoon tea was served, which was presided over by Miss Bundy and Miss Lynch. The handicap scores are as follows:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
F. C. Ard	92	14	78
W. T. Kaufman	92	14	78
M. S. Ackerman	101	20	81

E. R. Ackerman	138	40	98
H. W. Beebe	120	16	104

In the contest for the Mrs. Charles J. Fisk cup, C. F. Walz made 3 points; F. C. Ard, W. T. Kaufman and J. W. Sandford each made two points. The ties will be played off next Saturday. M. S. Ackerman made one point.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Miss Elizabeth Runyon, of East Sixth street, is riding a new Eldridge wheel.

The wheeling trip up the Shenandoah Valley which was to have been taken charge of by B. W. Lewis, of the Prospect Park Branch, of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A., is being agitated. Mr. Lewis is unable to take charge of the expedition, but the trip will be taken just the same.

ONE YEAR MORE TO A DECADE.

Ninth Anniversary of Epworth League Society at Grace M. E. Church.

The ninth anniversary of the Epworth League of Grace M. E. church was celebrated last evening in the church in an appropriate manner. The platform and pulpit were prettily decorated with flowers and plants of various kinds. The exercises were in charge of Charles Hummer, president of the League, assisted by Rev. Mr. Gardner.

During the exercises there were four papers presented by members of the League. The first paper was on "Spiritual Deportment," by Andrew Wilson, first vice-president of the League. Mr. Wilson stated that during the year there had been an averaged attendance of twenty-eight at each meeting, and during the four winter months the attendance was forty-eight. The paper suggested that a monthly consecration meeting be held similar to the one held in the Christian Endeavor Society. An excellent paper on "Literary and Social Work," prepared by Miss Steiner, was read by Miss Della Voehl. The paper on "Mercy and Help Department," by Miss Hoagland, was interesting, as was also the paper on Junior League work by Mrs. Taft.

Rev. Mr. Gardner, pastor, made a short address at the close of the exercises which was helpful and interesting. He admonished the members of the League to do better things, to attend the meetings and assist as much as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Hegeman are Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Sr., of Sycamore avenue, who have been at Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, for several weeks, are home again. Mrs. Hegeman was quite ill with throat trouble while at the seashore, but is somewhat better now. Mr. Hegeman was benefited by the change and was able to attend divine service at Trinity Reformed church yesterday and enjoy, for the first time, the remodelled church, and hear again the voice of his pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck.

THE PARK GOLF CLUB.

NEW LINKS TO BE LAID OUT IN THE BOROUGH.

The Club Formed Saturday Night and Elected Trustees — Course Will be Located on Hyde Land Near the Mountain

A meeting was held at the Park Club last Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a golf club. The club will be known as the Park Golf Club and it starts off with a membership of fifty. The idea is to go ahead at once and have the leased grounds put in shape for playing. The grounds secured are located near the mountain and are owned by Charles Hyde.

For twenty-five years the grounds have been used as a pasture and it will not require a great deal of work to put them in shape. A constitution and by-laws were adopted at the meeting and the following were elected trustees for the club: S. St. John McCutchen, Pierre Mallt, George P. Dupee and Charles A. Reed. Three more trustees are to be selected and that will be done at a meeting of the board of governors of the Park Club tomorrow evening.

It now looks as though golf is to be an assurred success in the borough and no doubt the new club will be one of the best in the State. A large number of excellent people have thus far joined and a number are waiting for the opportunity to do so.

HONORED BY THE ENGINEERS.

A Notable Dinner Given to Commodore Mordecai T. Endicott.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New York, May 23.—Commodore Mordecai T. Endicott, chief of the bureau of yards and docks of the Navy Department, a brother of Dr. George Endicott, of Plainfield, was accorded a distinguished honor Saturday night when a dinner was tendered to him by the Engineer's Club at the club home, 374 Fifth avenue. Mr. Endicott is the only civil engineer in the United States possessing the title of commodore. Many prominent men were guests at the banquet.

Commodore Endicott talked of the efforts which had been made to have an engineer appointed chief of his bureau, and said that after fifty years the credit for the appointment belonged to President McKinley and Secretary Long. He added that Mr. Long had an eye to what would be advantageous to the navy, and he saw that it was needful that a responsible engineer should be at the head of the navy engineering department. The Commodore also referred to the good work of the newspapers of the country in bringing about the appointment and also to that of the Engineers' Club. He did not refer in any way to the present war.

This evening Commodore Endicott will be entertained by the Century Club.

FUNERAL OF AN OLD FIREMAN.

Obsequies of Late George Butsche Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late George Butsche was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of John T. Odam, of Lyman place. The funeral was in the charge of the Odd Fellows, and was also attended by the members of No. 2 Company, of which Mr. Butsche was a member, and the driver for many years.

The floral decorations were very beautiful, and consisted of a large pillow from the Odd Fellows and a pillow from the members of the engine company. Interment was in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Rev. Cornelius Shenck officiated at the house, and Chaplain C. M. Raybert and Noble Grand Fred Becker took charge of the services at the grave. The pall bearers were Chris Frederickson, W. C. Smith, W. Brokaw, L. Sheppard, N. Pennington and J. Kurzhall.

Martin Act Report in Court.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 23—The hearing of the report of the Martin Act Commissioners took place before Judge VanSyckle this morning. Craig Marsh appeared for the city, and insisted that the report be confirmed. V. V. Lindabury represented the other side. Judge VanSyckle reserved his decision for a week.

Baptized by Her Father.

Miss Crane, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Crane, of Carleton avenue, was baptized at the First Baptist church last evening by her father.

TO DON THE RED CROSS.

A SOMERVILLE BELLE OFFERS HERSELF AS AN ARMY NURSE.

She is Miss Elsie Reed, the Beautiful and Accomplished Daughter of Rev E. G Reed—Waiting for Call to Duty.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 23—Somerville has felt the war fever. Since the departure of Company H. of the Third Regiment, there has been little else talked about but the war and the probable results. The young men who did not go when the Third Regiment was called out are now talking of enlisting, while the young women are planning to provide comforts for the boys at the front.

One of the most enthusiastic of the fair workers is Miss Elsie Reed, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Rev. Dr. E. G. Reed, pastor of the Second Reformed church. Miss Reed is considered one of the most beautiful young women of Somerville. Not satisfied with what work she could do at home, she has offered her services as a nurse to the Red Cross Society and has been accepted. The offer was made through the New York headquarters of the society. Miss Reed is now awaiting the call to service which may come at any moment. It is understood that several other young women prominent in Somerville society circles are preparing to follow Miss Reed's example.

—The special Bible service to be conducted by the Rev. George C. Needham at Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening is not simply for the Union Bible class, but is for all classes. "The Everlasting Name" is the topic.

Miss Josie Martin, of Chatham street, is confined to her home by illness.

Stanley Krom, of Jersey City, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Stephen R. Krom, of Madison avenue.

CHINESE BEGGAR CHIEFS.

One of the Peculiar Features of Social Life in China.

One of the most peculiar and interesting figures in Chinese social life is the beggar chief; and no less peculiar and interesting, both as to methods and personal appearance, are the members of the motley organization of mendicants over which he reigns absolutely.

He is required to pay a sum equivalent to about $100 to every newly-appointed tung hwan prefect, as a humble testimonial of his allegiance to the high authority from whom his badge of office emanates, and when this requirement has been duly fulfilled he is allowed to exercise the prerogatives of his position without fear of interferences on the part of the government officials in the district assigned to him. His authority over the beggars is absolutely unlimited, and they obey his orders without hesitation or sign of protest.

The office is hereditary, so long as the tribute is paid; but the immediate progeny of the incumbent are debarred from the enjoyment of any literary degree. Why this condition is exacted is not quite clear, but it is certain that no descendant of a beggar chief ever held a literary degree. However, the other privileges enjoyed by him are so attractive and the income is so substantial that he probably does not worry much over this one privation.

How does he secure his income? From the merchants and tradespeople who know that unless they procure from the beggar chief on or before New Year day a "holo twa," or "passport of safety," their shops or "hongs" will be infested almost constantly by a horde of boisterous, impudent, importunate vagabonds, who will drive away customers and damage the stocks of goods without hindrance from the regular authorities of the district.

Once a month, on a day suited to the convenience of the chief, he assembles all the beggars of his district at the "Khichia Jan," or rendezvous, and distributes alms among them, each receiving a sum commensurate with his personal merits and obedience to orders.—Philadelphia Press.

No Blood on the Moon.

The Yerkes telescope, the most powerful one ever constructed, reveals nothing new concerning the moon. It only brings out in better detail the innumerable craters, crevasses, hills and ravines which go to make up the rugged surface of the planet, but no trace of vegetation or of water, and, consequently, no sign of life. This is what astronomers long ago decided to be the condition of the moon, and every additional discovery there only confirms the conclusion. It has been supposed that, as the moon always turns the same side to the earth, there might be forests and streams and living beings on the side that is turned away from us; but no indication of an atmosphere can be discovered, and it is inconceivable that an atmosphere can exist on only one side of the moon. If there were one, it must encircle the satellite, and since it does not, there can be no atmosphere, and, therefore, no water, no vegetation and no life. The moon is a dead world—a type, the astronomers and physical geographers say, of what our own world must become in the course of time, though not until long after the present generation has ceased to take an interest in its affairs.

TOM KELLER'S SURE AIM.

The Crack Shot Did Some Brilliant Work at a Gun Club Meet.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 23—The return match between teams of ten men of the Bound Brook and Dunellen Gun Clubs was shot on the grounds of the Dunellen Club in this place Saturday afternoon. It resulted in a second victory for the home club. They won by the decisive majority of 24 birds.

The feature of the afternoon's sport was the shooting of Lindsley, Giles, Manning and Keller. The work of Tom Keller was particularly brilliant. He was high score in the team race, with 24 out of 25 birds. He also established a ground record by making a continuous run of 46 birds, before missing, and finished a string of 50 with a score of 49. Tom Keller demonstrated by his work that Victor loads are about the right load, and with a little assistance from the gunner will gather the game.

Funeral of Little Edna.

The funeral service of the late Edna Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, of Westervelt avenue, were held Saturday afternoon from the house at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The attendance of relatives and friends was large. A beautiful floral tribute from the drivers in the department was displayed. The bearers were Herbert Randolph and Andrew Jennings. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

other in their support of the government. Partisan vituperation has lost its sting, while the camp fires have smoked out political heresies. It has brought the north and south together as they had not been since the great division. When Lee surrendered there were painful memories that would not surrender. But today another Lee has, by his noble work in Cuba, united all hearts. The war is knitting together in friendly relations the two great English speaking people of the world. England is the truest friend that America has today

Finally, the world as such will be blessed. The example of self-abnegation which America has set cannot be lost on the other nations of the earth. Her mission is the mission of the Gospel, which is "to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and to set at liberty them that are bound." The war will compel wider recognition of the truth of a controlling Providence. The wonderful victory in Manila harbor demonstrates that God is in this war. It was the sword of the Lord and of Dewey.

The war will forward the movement looking to the conquest of the world for Christ. Westward the star of Christian empire takes its course. Leaping the bounds of the Rockies and Sierra Nevadas, the ensign of this great Christian nation has been planted on the isle which fronts the great strongholds of heathenism. The hour of the world's redemption draweth nigh!

PROF. CONDE'S CONCERT.

Some Fine Music Heard by a Critical Audience in Y. M. C. A. Hall.

The annual concert given at the Y. M. C A. last Saturday evening by P. Ludwig Conde, of this city, was a great successs. The programme as published Saturday was given complete and every number was rendered with perfeetion and skill. The hall was prettily decorated with American and Cuban flags. The opening selection, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by the orchestra, was enthusiastically received as was also the closing selection, "The Star Spangled Banner." The appearance of Miss Blossom Fitz Randolph, who rendered several violin selections, received an ovation for her excellence in playing. She was recalled, as was also Miss Clyde Burnett, who gave several piano selections. Her playing was marked with carefulness and precision. The double duet for violins by Miss Randolph, Miss Florence Wohlfert, Miss Elizabeth Cahoone, Miss Charlotte Cave, with Miss Burnett at the piano, was delightfully given, as was also two selections given by Messrs. Conde and Fischer, violins; Mr. Suenderhaft, viola; Mr. DeNike, 'cello, and Mr. Weber, bass.

Another feature of the programme was the zither playing by Mr. and Mrs. Nebel, and the zither solo by Mr. Nebel, accompanied by the orchestra. The playing of a 'cello solo by W. Paulding DeNike was a treat. This popular player always wins fresh laurels in Plainfield and his appearance Saturday evening was no exception.

The playing by the orchestra of twenty-five pieces, under the direction of Mr. Conde, was fully up to the standard. Every piece was given perfectly and won merited applause throughout. Mr. Conde and his assistants deserve unlimited praise for the very excellent concert given.

As an accompanist, Bert Harold, was excellent. His work received favorable comment.

Cost $50 to Plead Non Vult.

It cost John Kavanaugh just $50 this morning to plead non vult to the charge of illegal liquor selling at his restaurant on Grant avenue, or the prospect of spending sixty days in the county jail. The City Judge warned the defendant that another charge of a similar character, followed by conviction, would mean a term of five months in jail.

RUMORS OF VICTORY FOR SAMPSON'S FLEET

Dewey's Decisive Stand Against German Aid for Manila.

Dewey Would Fire on German Warships if They Attempted to Land Supplies at Manila—The Cuban Cables Were Cut Without Serious Loss.

NAVAL BATTLE RUMORED.

London Despatches Say the Spanish Fleet Was Utterly Defeated.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 24, 11:11 a. m—A special just received says that a great naval enganement has just been fought in the vicinity of the Windward Passage. It is reported that the American fleet under Rear Admiral Sampson closed on Admiral Cervera's Spanish squadron.

The report says that the Spanish ships were all destroyed after a terrific fight in which the Americans suffered little loss. No details were given.

Madrid, May 24, 2 p. m—Official despatches assert that the Spanish fleet is still at Santiago. The belief is general, however, that the government is withholding important news from Cuba that tells of a serious defeat of Spain.

Port au Prince, May 24, 2:30 p. m—A telegram from Port Deposit, sent Sunday evening, arrived last night. It says the cannonading continued this morning and afternoon. It is rumored that the Vizcaya and Alfonzo Twentieth were destroyed by the American fleet.

Washington, May 24, 2:40 p. m.—Nothing official has been received from Sampson or Schley.

DEWEY DEFIES GERMANY.

Will Use Force If Necessary To Prevent Her Landing Supplies For Manila.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

New York, May 24, 11:16 a. m—The correspondents of The World and Journal at Manila have cabled that Dewey is maintaining a strict blockade at Manila. He is reported to be anxiously awaiting troops from America. The sailors are all in good health and have a plentiful supply of food.

Rear Admiral Dewey has been unable to control the Spaniards ashore. They are without meat and are living on canned goods. An absolute famine is predicted to occur in two weeks. More rioting is imminent.

A small Spanish transport captured a few days ago is now being used as an American despatch boat. The Spanish now report that five hundred were killed and seven hundred wounded at the bombardment by the American fleet.

Manila, via Shanghai, May 24, 1:08 p. m—Rear Admiral Dewey, commander of the American fleet here, has been threatened by the German consul here with serious complications.

After an interview with General Agusti, of the Spanish army, the German consul attempted to land provisions from a German merchantman in the harbor. Dewey refused permission to allow the provisions to be landed.

The representative of Germany was very indignant and declared that he would land the supplies by force with the aid of the two German eruisers there.

Dewey retorted that he would blow the German men-of-war out of the water if they attempted to execute the consul's threat. The experience of the Spanish fleet with the Americans was not without its warning. The provisions have not yet been landed.

The Germans are very friendly with the Spanish. Frequent conferences are held. They expect to obtain the Caroline Islands at the final partition of the Spanish possessions in the Orient. The Spanish are expecting reinforcements.

Hong Kong, May 24, 1:55 p. m—The Japanese cruiser Akitsushima arrived here this morning from Manila. She reports that the captain of the Spanish revenue cutter Callao, recently captured by Dewey, will be shot for failure to return five Americans.

It is reported that Admiral Montijo, who commanded the Spanish fleet that was annihilated by the Americans, is to be court-martialed by the Spanish on the charge of cowardice.

Rear-Admiral Dewey is said to have greatly improved the sanitary conditions of Cavite. He granted the British and German residents permission to move from Manila to Cavite and ordered houses placed at their disposal.

Provisions are becoming scarce in Manila. The Spanish volunteers have threatened to seize the stores because their demand for arrears in pay was refused.

CUBAN CABLES CUT.

The Work Was Accomplished With No Serious Results to the Americans.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Thomas, May 24, 10:10 a. m—The orders of the United States Navy Department have at last been carried out and all cable communication between Cuba and Madrid cut off. This was accomplished last Wednesday.

The principal cables to the east start from Santiago de Cuba and from the Bay of Guantanamo, thirty miles east of Santiago.

Last Wednesday the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis and the armed tug Wompatuck were ordered to make the attempt to cut the cables. They manned several small boats and did the work under a heavy fire from the Spanish batteries.

The aim of the Spanish gunners was very wild, however, and the only casualty reported was the breaking of the finger of one of the sailors by the fragment of a shell. As soon as the work was accomplished the Americans retired out of danger.

STRANGE EXPLOSION.

The Monotony of the Blockade Still Continues With Little Interruption.

Key West, May 24, 1:58 p. m—A terrific submarine explosion occurred in Yucatan Channel yesterday. Its effects were felt on board the American ships, where sailors were hurled to the deck. No damage was done, however.

WOULD BURN SOLIDS IN THE SEWAGE FLOW

How Eddy J. Clark Would Do Away With Offense to Nostrils.

HAS PLANS DRAWN UP.

CLAIMS THE SCHEME CAN BE PUT IN OPERATION AT NOMINAL COST.

He Would Build Two Large Vats in the Plant of the Sanitary Company, to be Fed by the Sewer Pipes, and in Which the Solids Would be Allowed to Settle and Then Burned—The Liquid Would be Flowed Onto the Disposal Beds, But Without Bringing an Offensive Smell to Neighborhood.

Eddy J. Clark, the well-known civil engineer, has an idea which will be hailed with delight by all Evona and Dunellen citizens, and which, if carried out, may deliver Plainfield from any more suits such as Mrs. Sarah Milligan has begun as a result of the operations of the sewage disposal beds.

Mr. Clark was the engineer under whose supervision and direction the garbage disposal plant of the Plainfield Sanitary Company was erected, and by the aid of this plant he believes he can successfully eliminate the disagreeable and unpopular features of the city sewage disposal as now operated.

He has prepared elaborate plans by which the sewage can be made to flow through the crematory plant of the Sanitary Company, the solids extracted from the liquid and cremated, and then the liquid allowed to flow on to the sewage beds as at present, but without any material to emit such a stench as it is claimed now arises from the beds to offend the nostrils of residents in the vicinity.

Mr. Clark's plan can, it is claimed, be put in operation at a slight cost. They provide for the construction of two large vats at the sanitary plant, which will be fed with sewage from the main sewers by two lateral pipes to be connected somewhere near Girard avenue. The liquids and solids would be run into the vats, each being used twelve hours alternately. In this way the solids would be allowed to settle to the bottom, then the liquid run off into the main sewer again, and after that the solids cremated in the same manner as the garbage is now.

Mr. Clark believes his plans to be entirely practicable and possible of being put in operation at a nominal cost. Though they have been completed for some time he has never made any attempt to have them presented to the public, and only a few city officials have been made acquainted with the details.

OBJECT TO TAXES PRIOR TO 1881.

That is the Principal Contention of Those Affected by the Martin Act.

At the report of the Martin Act Commissioners before Judge Van-Syckle at Elizabeth yesterday, the lawyers who represented the taxpayers contended that the taxes assessed prior to 1881 could not lawfully be collected.

The chief objection to the report is that it holds unpaid taxes prior to 1881 as a lien against the property. It seems that, whereas the law specifies there shall be public tax sales of property in arrears for taxes within a period not greater than two years from the time these arrearages were contracted, there was no tax sale held in Plainfield until 1883, and that was for the unpaid taxes of 1881. People who purchased property since then had no way of knowing that there were unpaid taxes due on it prior to 1881, as the property was not exposed for sale as the law expressly directs it should have been. They got what were supposed to be clear deeds.

After the counsel for each side had made their arguments, Justice Van-Syckel told them to prepare briefs and present them to him, and he will render a decision later. It may be several weeks before a decision is reached.

The lawyers who represented the Plainfield people were R. V. Lindabury, W. R. Codington, J. H. Van-Winkle, Nelson Runyon and J. B. Coward. Craig Marsh represented the city.

Decoration Day Picnic.

One of the events of Decoration Day will be the grand picnic of the Twilight Social Club to be held in the Crescent Rink, afternoon and evening. The dancing surface is the largest in the State and the picnic will be held rain or shine. The committee of arrangements, consisting of F. S. Moore, Theo. Smith, L. Feiring and E. C. Searing, are making great preparations and a big time is promised to all who attend.

A PERSISTENT LOVER.

OSCAR VAUGHN'S ATTENTIONS TO MISS STEWART REPULSED.

One Time Oscar Said He Would Commit Suicide if the Girl Would Not Marry Him—Must Explain to a Justice

Oscar Vaughn, a resident of the borough, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Mosher. The complaint against Vaughn was made by John Stewart and his daughter, Miss Hattie Stewart, of the West End. It seems that Vaughn had threatened Miss Stewart, and she was afraid of her life. It is said, on one occasion, Vaughn called on Miss Stewart and said that if she did not marry him at once he would commit suicide. The man was arrested by Constable Rockafellow and afterward he was taken before Justice Newcorn. It was decided that the warrant was defective and Vaugh was released. Today Justice Mosher issued another warrant for the arrest of Vaughn and he will demand that the man be brought before him. Lawyer W. A. Coddington represents Vaughn.

WITH OUR SOLDIER BOYS

PRESS CORRESPONDENT WRITES FROM CAMP VOORHEES.

Three Other Plainfielders Have Been Mustered In—Some Details of Camp Life—More Rain—A Good Suggestion.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 23.—The little settlement of Plainfielders here are all enjoying good health and spirits. There has been little happening aside from the regular routine of drill and camp duties, but the numerous rumors that have been flying around have kept everybody in a state of excitement.

The rain storm that began this morning has found the camp much better prepared to receive it than the first one. While it is not exactly pleasant, many of the discomforts of the first storm are absent. The Plainfield boys are all in comfortable quarters and have managed to keep pretty dry.

John Sullivan, Charles Flynn and James McCormick were mustered in Company H, Third Regiment, Saturday afternoon. There has been a preponderance of battalion drills under the charge of Major Landon. He is very popular with all the men.

Some of the Plainfield boys have been agitating the question of going to Plainfield Decoration Day to take part in the flag-raising. The Plainfield contingent could furnish a nice squad of well-drilled men to take part in the demonstration on that day, if a furlough of forty-eight hours could be secured.

Private Florence McCarthy has just received a handsome dressing case, the gift of City Treasurer W. F. Arnold, of Plainfield, which we have all greatly admired.

The last report in camp is that the Third Regiment is to be divided into two divisions, one to go to Fort Hancock, and the other to Fortress Monroe. Nobody knows whether it is true or not, however.

A PARLOR ENTERTAINMENT.

Young People of First M. E. Church Gathered at the Pastor's Home.

The young people of the First M. E. church gathered at the parsonage on Central avenue last evening to a parlor entertainment given by the Young Ladies' Mission Circle, of the church. The programme was an informal one. It consisted of a piano solo by Miss Maud French, a vocal solo by Mrs. Jones, singing by the choir and several readings by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass. The choir sang the patriotic air, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

The programme was arranged by a committee chairmaned by Miss Persis Snodgrass. Miss Elsie Horne was chairman of the committee that prepared the refreshments that followed the entertainment.

Taking of Testimony.

The taking of testimony in the case of Macroni against Varette, which was to come up before Senator Charles A. Reed as special master yesterday, has been laid over until tomorrow. William Newcorn is the lawyer for the plaintiff.

Troops Go South.

Troop A and C, Cavalry, of Brooklyn, went through Plainfield yesterday on their way to Falls Church, Va. The 69th Regiment went through in the afternoon, making seven train loads over the Central Railroad for the day.

Summons in Supreme Court.

Judge William Newcorn has issued summons in the Supreme Court for his client in the contract case of Terry et als adminstrators against Lambert. The suit is over a note of the amount of $600.

—Boynton Beach will open on Decoration day.

DR. MANNING'S FUNERAL

TRIBUTES PAID IN WORDS AND TEARS TO A WORTHY MAN.

Medical Association Attended in a Body—Dr. Yerkes Said that He Had Baptised, Married and Buried Dr. Manning.

The last sad words were said and all that was mortal of the late Dr. Andrew Manning was laid to rest in Hillside yesterday afternoon. His funeral was held from the house and was largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased from Somerville, Bound Brook, Westfield and Newark, who came to pay their last respects to the departed.

Seventeen members of the Medical Association, of which Dr. Manning was a member, attended in a body. Before Dr. Manning's death there were twenty-one members of the association. Their offering at the bier was a broken column, typical of the life which was broken in its very prime. A large pillow from the fatherless daughter was also conspicious. The other floral pieces were beautiful, and came from those who had known the doctor intimately and well.

Rev. Dr. Yerkes had charge of the funeral, and his remarks were wonderfully comforting to the widow and those of the doctor's family. Dr. Yerkes said that he had baptized Dr. Manning, had given him the right hand of fellowship and welcomed him into the membership of the First Baptist church, had married him, and now was called upon to perform that saddest of all offices, to bury him. Dr. Yerkes said that in a conversation that he once had with Dr. Manning the latter expressed a desire that Dr. Yerkes would officiate at his funeral.

Dr. Yerkes said that at the time, there being such a difference in their ages, he had no idea that he should out live Dr. Manning.

Dr. Yerkes went on to say that he had known the young intimately, and that he knew of whom he spoke. He spoke highly of the upright christian character which the doctor had always shown, and said that he had understood the heart.

During the services Mrs. Ward, of Elizabeth, sang two solos, "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Abide With Me." The bearers were six cousins of Dr. Manning, James Manning, Howard Randolph, Walter Manning Fred Manning, Warren Randolph and Albert Manning.

A PATRIOTIC PRIEST.

FATHER M'CORMICK ANXIOUS TO BECOME AN ARMY CHAPLAIN.

The Reason He Wanted to Leave Plainfield—Father Smyth Has Had Five Assistants in Fifteen Years.

Another change has been made in the assistant to Father Smyth at St. Mary's church. Father McCormick, who has been the curate there for the past few months, has been transferred to Jersey City and Father Westman, who has been curate at All Saints church, at Lafayette, has been sent here.

Father McCormick is anxious to go to war as an army chaplain, and has had communication with Vice-President Hobart to that effect. Besides Father McCormick had grown tired of the country, although not of Plainfield people, and was anxious to get back to Jersey City, his old home.

On the other hand Father Westman had grown tired of the city, and his health demanded a change. Therefore the change was very acceptable to both and was easily effected.

Although Father Smyth has been priest at St. Mary's church for about fifteen years, not one of the curates who have been his assistants have stayed more than five years. Father Stafford was the first to be stationed in this city, then came Father Murphy, who stayed several years. Father McCormick was the next, and now comes Father Westman.

JOINED THE U. S. CAVALRY.

Willard L. Case Now a Corporal at a Recruiting Station.

Willard L. Case, of this city, for some time a member of Essex Troop, the famous cavalry organization of the New Jersey National Guard, that is located at Newark, has joined the regular United States cavalry. Temporarily he has been assigned to the principal recruiting station in New York city as assistant to the captain in charge of the office. He has been given the rank of corporal He is at liberty to be sent at any time to such troop as he may be detailed.

Police Drill Comes in Good.

The friends from Plainfield who have been to Sea Girt to see the soldiers all agree that Florence McCarthy is one of the best drilled soldiers in camp. His work receives favorable comment from all.

MRS O'DONNELL GUILTY

CONVICTED OF SAME CHARGE HER HUSBAND IS NOW IN JAIL FOR.

Accused of Selling Liquor Without a License—Too Poor to Hire a Lawyer—Judge Will Sentence Her in a Week.

Mrs. Margaret O'Donnell, of South Second street, was tried this morning in the City Court for selling liquor without a license and was found guilty. Sentence in her case was deferred for a week.

The two witnesses against the defendant were Joseph Block and Hugo Wierlz, who each swore that they went into Margaret's place on a Sunday, and while one called for a round of drinks the other bought five bottles of beer Mrs. O'Donnell was not represented by a lawyer and said that she was too poor to hire one. The City Judge listened to the evidence carefully and pronounced her guilty. Mrs. O'Donnell's husband is now serving a term in the county jail for the same offense.

Mrs. O'Donnell was arrested some time ago charged with a similar offense, but the case was never brought to trial.

TRAP SHOOTERS' LEAGUE

ENTHUSIASTS IN THIS VICINITY PLANNING TO ORGANIZE ONE.

It Will Consist of Gun Clubs of This City, Dunellen, Bound Brook and Somerville—Shoots Every Other Saturday.

A movement is now on foot among the trap shooters of Plainfield, Bound Brook, Dunellen and Somerville looking toward the organization of a Central New Jersey Trap Shooters League. Under such a league, shoots could be conducted with regularity and give the lovers of that kind of sport a chance to enjoy themselves at frequent intervals.

The league has been talked of for some time, but the leaders in the movement are now planning to take active measures towards its organization. The principal trap shooters in the towns mentioned are all in favor of the proposed association and there seems no doubt of its ultimate organization.

The Climax Gun Club and the Independent Gun Club, of this city, the Dunellen Gun Club, the Bound Brook Gun Club and the Somerset Gun Club, of Somerville, will probably form the league. The enthusiasts in New Brunswick are very anxious to join, but the idea of the league was to have all the members along the line of the Jersey Central Railroad, where they could easily reach each other and at little expense.

Matches between the clubs would be held at each meet and there would also be sweepstakes for those who wished to enter. It is planned to hold the shoots every other Saturday afternoon and holidays.

An Early June Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Chaffee, of New York, have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Aline Blanche, to Dr. Arthur Melville Shrady on Tuesday evening, June 7th, at 8:30 o'clock in the Mount Morris Baptist church, Fifth avenue and 126th street. Mr. Chaffee was for many years a resident of Grove street, North Plainfield, and himself and family are held in kindly remembrance by a host of friends.

—This is the last week of Doane & Edsall's great removal sale. Marvelous bargains are offered to reduce the stock as low as possible.

MYSTERY IN ABSENCE OF THESE TWO CLERKS

Two of Woodhull & Martin's Trusted Employes Are Gone.

WENT AWAY SATURDAY.

SPECULATION IS RIFE WHY THEY HAVE NOT RETURNED.

Hudson Losey Was Floor Walker and Isaac V. Van Arsdale Shipping Clerk—Borrowed Small Sums From Other Clerks, Boarded a Midnight Train and Left For Some Unknown Destination—Suspicious Circumstances in That Fact That the Porter Left Under a Cloud a Short Time Ago.

What has become of Shipping Clerk Isaac V. Van Arsdale and Floor Walker Hudson Losey, of Woodhull & Martin's dry goods store?

That is the question that the proprietors and the clerks have been asking all today. The two above named gentlemen failed to put in an appearance yesterday morning when the time came for them to begin their duties for the day, and speculation was rife as to where they were. Although Messrs. Woodhull & Martin were concerned about their whereabouts, when a Press reporter called yesterday they refused to give out any statement for publication until today, when they admitted that they had gone.

Saturday both young men asked permission to go away, and intimated that they might not be back in time to go to work Monday morning as early as usual. Permission was granted them, and that was the last seen of them. Report has it that they were seen boarding a midnight train for Philadelphia, but that cannot be confirmed.

The absence of the two young men cannot be explained. Both were trusted employes, and Losey held a position of no little responsibility in the large store, being a floor walker and a skilled window dresser. Losey had been in the employ of the firm for many years and at one time had complete charge of a store in Orange for the firm.

VanArsdale was shipping clerk and boarded with A. W. TenEyck, of Westervelt avenue, who is in the carpet department of the store. Losey boarded at McVey's.

A week or so ago the porter in the store left under suspicious circumstances, and the members of the firm are inclined to think that there were ties between the two last and Benj. S. Heyward, the missing porter. The night before Losey and Van Arsdale went away, it is said that they borrowed as much money from the clerks in the store as possible, which, it is said, they have not paid back. Whether there is any shortage in the accounts of the two clerks or not the members of the firm have not learned.

STREET WORK.

Gangs of Men Working on Various Streets Patching Them Up.

The street commissioner has been hampered by the wet weather, but manages to get out and do a little work with his men on the clear days and between showers.

Fresh stone has been spread on South Second street, Muhlenberg place and West Third street from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue, and these streets were to have been rolled Friday, but the steering apparatus on the steam roller got out of order and the roller had to be kept on West Front street until today.

The street scraping gang, with the horse scraper, are busy rounding up the roadbed and cleaning the gutters on First, Second and Third places. This week they will be at work on East Sixth street.

In response to the request of the freight department of the Central Railroad, and of several of the expressmen who have occasion to cross the gutter across Richmond street, at North avenue, the committee has decided to place a culvert there.

A culvert is about to be placed at the corner of Monroe avenue and West Seventh street, the stone for which is already on the ground.

Talked to His Old Scholars.

The golden jubilee services of the New York Avenue Reformed church in Newark were held Sunday, and in the afternoon addresses were delivered by former Sunday-school superintendents, among whom was William Clark, of Washingtonville, father of Lawyer Robert Clark, of this city.

—The property at the corner of Franklin place and Putnam avenue has been graded and a curb set on the Putnam avenue side.

STARTING FOR MANILA

Embarkation of the First California Volunteers.

STEAMER SAILS TO-DAY

Brigade Commanded By Gen. Anderson to Sail at Once—Official Corps of Paymasters for Duty in the Philippines Has Been Selected—The Bank of California Has Offered to Become the Government's Agent at Manila City.

San Francisco, May 24.—By order of General Otis the First Regiment California Volunteers, under command of Colonel J. F. Smith, embarked yesterday morning on the steamer City of Pekin, and probably will sail for Manila to-day.

Brigadier General Anderson has arrived from Portland, Oregon, and today will go on board the steamship Australia, which is already loaded with supplies, and is ready for the reception of troops. He will have charge of the advance brigade of the Manila expedition. He is accompanied by Lieutenant Clark of the Fourteenth Infantry, who is his aide-de-camp. Major P. R. Jones, who came from Omaha, will be the quartermaster of this expedition. Major R. R. Thompson of the Signal Corps, who arrived yesterday from Tampa, will be the chief signal officer.

Selecting Paymaster Corps.

Paymaster General Stanton has selected an official corps of paymasters for duty with the Philippine expedition. Three of these will go to Manila. They are well tried officers who have been in the service for a long time. Their names are Major Charles McClure, who is to be chief paymaster, and Majors Charles H. Whipple of Minnesota, a son of Bishop Whipple, and Charles E. Kilbourne. An adequate amount of cash to pay the soldiers for three months will be taken, to be made up entirely of gold and silver. The Bank of California, located at San Francisco, has offered to the government to become its fiscal agent at the city of Manila, but inasmuch as Manila is not yet in our actual possession, nothing has been done in the matter. The designation of some reliable financial concern as the fiscal agent of the United States in the Philippines no doubt will be made, as this is regarded as absolutely essential to avoid the actual transfer of large amounts of cash by the government.

Somebody has suggested that the government purchase a large consignment of Mexican silver dollars, two of which can be bought by one United States dollar, and that the troops at Manila be paid in these coins. The Mexican dollar, it is asserted, will purchase considerably more in Manila than the American coin of similar denomination, and thus the soldiers for the time being would receive a greater apparent amount of compensation than if paid in United States silver. The government, however, is not disposel to pay the men in depreciated coin, for when the soldiers return the Mexican dollars which they might have saved would be of less value by half than a similar number of American silver dollars. The proposition has not been taken seriously, but it is mentioned simply to show the character of propositions which the officers of the government are constantly receiving during these times.

HELD ON SUSPICION.

British Steamer Thought to Have Tried to Enter Havana Harbor.

Key West, May 24.—The British steamer Ardanmhor, Captain Dana, came into port this morning in charge of an ensign from the auxiliary gunboat Osceola, by which vessel the former was seized yesterday, off Cary's Fort Light, because she was acting in a suspicious manner and was supposed to be trying to enter Havana harbor.

She was here several weeks ago with a cargo of cattle for Havana, having been turned back by the blockade fleet.

The Ardanmhor, which is chartered by James E. Ward & Co. (the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company), then proceeded to New York, unloaded her cattle and cleared for Nassau and Mexican ports, including Vera Cruz.

She stopped at Nassau on her way south, and when captured yesterday was far out of her course, if bound for Vera Cruz.

New York, May 24.—At the offices of James E. Ward & Co. to-day it was said there was no truth in the allegation that the steamer Ardanmhor was trying to run the blockade of Havana, and surprise was expressed at the fact that she had been seized.

A TREATY WITH NEW BRITIAN.

Military Officials Learn that Defenive Alliance Is Signed.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 24.—A dispatch received by the military authorities here on Saturday announces the signing of a defensive Anglo-American treaty and intimates that a war crisis is imminent immediately affecting Jamaica.

All military and naval leaves have been cancelled and supplies for eighteen months are being stored.

It is well known that the British government has been making extraordinary warlike preparations in Jamaica, on a much greater scale in fact than our war with Spain would warrant.

A Relief Fund for Soldiers.

San Francisco, May 24.—Lists have been distributed at the postoffice and its various stations in the city for the signatures of letter carriers who will pledge themselves to pay the sum of fifty cents in the first of each month to a fund to be known as the Letter Carriers' Relief Fund for the Benefit of Sick and Wounded Soldiers now engaged in the war with Spain. The lists are being signed with eagerness.

Schley Is at Santiago.

Washington, May 24.—According to information received here, Commodore Schley's fleet has arrived off Santiago de Cuba.

CANNONADING OFF HAYTI.

Dispatches From Port de Paix State That The Fleet Are Believed to Be Hotly Engaged.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 24.—Dispatches from Port de Paix confirm the report that there is a hot engagement at sea.

The cannonading seems to be going on to the north, toward Cuba, and is vigorously sustained.

It is now nearly an hour since the first shot was heard.

This dispatch should not be confused with the reports from Port de Paix received yesterday saying heavy firing had been heard off Mole St. Nicholas.

MANGROVE REPORTED CAPTURED.

Spaniards Said to Have Taken Her on South Coast of Cuba.

Key West, Fla., May 24.—This town is all agog over a story that the Mangrove has been captured by the Spaniards.

It was said that the little lighthouse tender's entire complement of officers and men had been butchered. Then this was modified to the extent of saying that they had been taken to Santiago de Cuba.

Telegrams sent to Washington asking whether or not the dread report was true, elicited unsatisfactory replies. Evidently the navy department could not, or would not, confirm or deny.

The belief is that if the Spaniards had taken the Mangrove, Madrid would undoubtedly have gone wild with joy over it, and reported to the world the greatest victory of modern times.

FIELDING IS CONVICTED.

Of Approving and Certifying False Bills Against the City.

Brooklyn, May 24.—Robert W. Fielding, ex-deputy commissioner of public works in Brooklyn, was declared guilty at 9 o'clock last night by the jury that tried him on a charge of certifying fraudulent bills against the city. The maximum penalty is five years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both.

When the verdict was rendered Fielding's young and pretty daughter caused quite a scene. As soon as the words that made a convict of her father fell from the foreman's lips she uttered a piercing shriek. Then she rushed to Fielding's side, threw her arms around his neck and wept loudly.

Fielding will be sentenced next Thursday by Judge Hirschberg.

DAMAGE BY TEXAS TORNADO.

Two Killed and Eleven Injured—Loss Amounts to $1000.

Dallas, Tex., May 24.—A tornado struck Ravenna, in Fanning county, on Saturday night, from the southwest, blowing down eleven barns, ten dwellings and the Methodist and Christian churches. The tornado travelled in a northeasterly direction and passed just north of Ivanhoe, where Captain Joe E. Dupree was killed and his house wrecked.

At Clarksville a negro was killed and eleven persons injured. Many horses and mules were killed. The property damaged in the Red River valley will reach $100,000.

John A. Wiley to be Nominated.

Washington, May 24.—President McKinley gave positive assurance yesterday of the appointment of General John A. Wiley of Franklin, Pa., as brigadier general of volunteers. Announcement of the appointment will soon be made. Both General Wiley and General Corbin, the commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., had been urged for the place.

Cornered By Our Warship.

Boston, May 24.—A sailing vessel, believed to be the San Ignacio, is off Halifax, and a steamer manoeuvring off the harbor is thought to be an American warship.

Yankee at Delaware Breakwater.

Wilmington, Del., May 24.—The cruiser Yankee arrived at the Delaware Breakwater at 1 o'clock to-day. It is reported that she sighted a Spanish war vessel.

TO CATCH CERVERA

Department Think Spanish Fleet Still At Santigo.

NO NEWS OF THE SPANIARD

United States Squadron Will Be Off Santiago Today and if Cervera Has Not Left It Will Immediatly Engage the Wily Don—Secretary Long Thinks That Commodore Schley Will Reach the Place Before Sampson.

Washington, May 24.—According to the best information obtainable, neither the state department nor the navy department has received anv advices about Cervera's vessels since Friday, when official confirmation came of their presence in Cuban waters.

As each day passes without news of Cervera's departure, the interest in the coming naval combat increases in administration circles, and particularly among naval officers. It is the general opinion of these officers that one of the United States squadrons will be off Santiago to-day, and if Cervera has not left it will immediately engage the enemy.

While nothing definite on the subject is obtainable at the navy department, there is a general impression among naval officers not in the confidence of Secretary Long or the strategy board, that Commodore Schley will be the first to reach Santiago, and that Admiral Sampson is not far behind.

Just how the big armor-clad fleet was divided between these two officers is quite as much a secret in Washington as anything else relating to naval affairs, but the general impression is that the ships were pretty evenly divided as regards formidability, Schley, perhaps, having the advantage in speed in order that he might reach Santiago in as short a time as possible.

It will be twelve or fifteen hours after the Spanish fleet gets away from Santiago before the navy department knows of it. One of the scout boats, formerly of the American line, will probably bring the first news to some cable station in Hayti or Jamaica.

Allowing plenty of time for the run from Santiago and ample margin for delays in telegraphic transmission, the department has figured out that it will be not more than fifteen hours after Cervera weighs anchor before a dispatch noting his departure is delivered here.

That no such dispatch came yesterday indicates, naval ocers say, that Cervera must have been at Santiago last evening. They think he will not clear at night, and on taat reason base the hope that he was still there this morning.

The flying squadron sailed from Key West last Thursday.

UNPRECEDENTED GOLD HOLDINGS.

$164,000,000 in Specie Now Detosited in New York Banks.

New York May 24.—The associated banks of this city now hold $169,402,800 in specie according to the weekly statement issued on Saturday. Of this amount a prominent bank officer said yesterday probably not more than 3 per cent. is silver, the gold holdings aggregating $164,000,000, a larger amount of the precious metal than the local banks have ever held before.

Of the total specie holdings eleven banks hold $107,175,300, divided as follows: National City Bank, $28,893,000; National Park Bank, $13,494,000; Hanover National Bank, $10,304,100; Chemical National Bank, $8,558,800; Importers' & Traders' National Bank, $3,555,000; First National Bank, $7,501,500; Chase National Bank, $6,492,700; Western National Bank, $6,474,800; Bank of the Manhattan Company, $6,128,000; National Bank of the Republic, $5,457,000; Bank of America, $3,316,400.

SMALLPOX ON A STEAMSHIP.

The Pisa, from Hamburg for New York, Is Held at Halifax.

Halifax, May 24.—The steamship Pisa, chartered by the Hamburg-American Steam Packet Company, arrived yesterday from Hamburg with 900 passengers destined for Winnipeg. During the voyage small pox raged and when the steamship put into port nine passengers were down with the disease.

The health officers ordered them into the Quarantine Hospital and all the passengers will be sent ashore for fumigation.

The Pisa will likely be held here in quarantine for a fortnight. She is bound for New York.

Texas Lawyer Assassinated.

Cotulla, Tex., May 24.—W. G. Bowen, one of the most prominent lawyers in this town, was assassinated here last night. As he was returning to his home about 9 o'clock, he was shot twice in the back, not over twenty steps from his house. Mr. Bower was unarmed. So far no clue to the perpetrator has been found. If caught the assassin will probably be lynched.

Edward Bellamy's Funeral.

Springfield, Mass., May 24.—The funeral of Edward Bellamy, the author of "Looking Backward," who died Sunday at his home in Chicopee Falls from consumption, will be held on Tuesday afternoon.

Messages of condolence to the widow and brothers of the late author are arriving from every part of the warld.

THE WAR REVENUE BILL.

Mr. Chilton Makes an Extended Speech on the Measure.

Washington, May 24.—After the transaction of some routine business Mr. Allison called up the war revenue measure in the senate to-day.

He announced that when the senate adjourned on Friday the pending question was upon the amendment removing the proposed corporation tax from certain classes of corporations which were such in name only. He added that the reading of the bill had been completed and that an agreement had been reached for the convenience of the senate, first to consider the amendment providing for excise taxes on persons, firms, companies and corporations. That amendment, Mr. Allison thought, ought to be disposed of before the remaining parts of the bill were taken up.

Mr. Chilton of Texas delivered an extended and carefully written speech upon the general features of the bill. He expressed the opinion that the vast amount of money proposed to be raised by the pending bill would not be needed for the naval and military operations before Congress should convene next December. He did not believe, therefore, in view of the fact that the war might come to an end within a few weeks, and in view of the certainty that the situation would be cleared up materially by December 1, that it was necessary to provide so large an amount for the conduct of the war. He expressed his willingness, however, to join with others in furnishing ample resources for the conduct of the war until July 1, 1899. He thought it would be a mistake to appropriate an amount greater than $25,000,000 a month for war purposes.

SPAIN'S ELUSIVE FLEET.

Madrid Says It Is Still at Santiago While Jamaica Hears It Has Left.

Madrid, May 24.—The Liberal denies that Admiral Cervera's squadron has left Santiago and says it believes the warships are likely to remain there.

The press urges the government to promptly assist Admiral Cervera and to do everything to increase the perplexity of the Americans, retard an invasion of Cuba, and, perhaps, assume a bolder offensive.

Kingston, Jamaicva, May 24.—Direct Santiago advices are to the effect that when the Spanish fleet appeared off that port four American cruisers (two was the original number) that were then bombarding it were compelled to retire.

Admiral Cervera then realized that when the Americans, who now know his position, returned in force, he would be in a pocket, as only one ship at a time can pass the channel. He thereupon coaled his fleet as quickly as possible and put to sea in a northerly direction.

FRANCE AS SPAIN'S ALLY.

Rumors of Impending Alliance Heard in London.

London, May 24.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon in its financial article said:

"In the foreign market this morning several leading dealers were said to be in possession of advance news of the forthcoming announcement of a Franco-Spanish alliance, hence the rise in Spanish fours.

"In connection with the above it is currently reported that the recent speeches of the Marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain did not refer to West Africa, but to this impending alliance, against which Mr. Chamberlain's allusion to an Anglo-American alliance was intended as a counter-blast."

The strength of silver is attributed to the prospective Spanish purchases to replace the withdrawals from the Bank of Spain, amounting to 135,000,000 pesetas since April 16.

TO CLEAN WARSHIPS HULLS.

Six Divers Have Left Washington for Key West for This Purpose.

Washington, May 24.—The navy department has sent half a dozen divers to Key West to clean the bottoms of the warships.

This is a temporary expedient, as it is not possible at present to dock the ships and give them a thorough cleaning.

The divers can accomplish this cleaning for all practical purposes, renewing the efficiency of the ships in their evolutions, but it will be impossible to repaint the bottoms and thus add to the good effects of the cleaning.

ANOTHER FLEET COMING.

Spain Said to Be Preparing a Third Squadron to Send Here.

Gibraltar, May 24.—The Spaniards are preparing what they call a third squadron, consisting of the Princessa de Asturias, which is now at Cadiz; the Cardinal Cisneros, at Ferrol; the Numancia and Vittoria, which are being newly armored and engined at Ferrol, and the torpedo boats Maria Molina, Marques Vittoria, Alvono and Bazan, each of 800 tons, and with a speed of from twenty to twenty-two knots.

Unless America moves quickly she will have the foregoing vessels to contend with besides the squadrons of Admirals Cervera and Camara. The latter will start in a few days, probably for the Antilles and not the Philippines.

Coaling Vessels Watched.

Perth Amboy, May 24.—A strict watch is being kept by the custom house officials at Perth Amboy on two barks, now loading with soft coal at South Amboy. In spite of the fact that the shippers are well known and reliable, there might be danger of the boats turning over their coal to Admiral Cervera's fleet. The barks are expected to clear to-day.

To Cut Off Supplies.

Washington, May 24.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding has sent the following telegraphic instructions to all collectors of customs at Atlantic ports:

"Before clearing any vessel with flour or other supplies to San Juan, Porto Rico, or other Spanish West Indian ports, investigate, wire facts and recommendations to department."

TO MOVE ON CUBA

Vigorous Action To Be Put Into Execution At Once.

MILES ANXIOUS TO ACT

His Position Was Misrepresented As His Only Protest Was Against An Expedition Consisting of a Few Thousand Men—Believed That Everyting is Now In Readiness for Landing of Large Bodies of Troops.

Washington, May 24.—The army will postpone no longer the invasion of Cuba because of the Spanish fleet. It is expected that before the end of the week more than half of the army now being concentrated in the South will be either in Cuba or on its way. The volunteers mustered in now number over 110,000, leaving but 15,000 to be mustered in before the completion of the number called for by the president. The troops left in state camps are being rushed South, and transports are being made ready to carry them to Cuba.

Something Must Be Done.

The condition of the insurgents, as well as the non-combatants in Cuba is becoming such that they cannot be left unaided much longer. As the war is one of humanity, the president realizes that something must be done to help the sufferers. Our fleets are closing about Cervera and his ships, and there is no fear from that quarter in regard to our troops. Preparations are therefore being hastened for the invasion of Cuba.

There has been a great deal of private and some public criticism of General Miles, based on the theory that he is standing in the way and opposing the immediate invasion of Cuba. This criticism, there is the best of reason to believe, is unjust and based on a false assumption as to General Miles's attitude. It is known to a few people, at least, that General Miles has for some time been strongly in favor of a speedy and effective invasion, and that he has chafed at the delays attending the organization and equipment of the volunteer army. That he is accused of advocating delay is merely an evidence of the fact that he has not been taking into his confidence any one outside the department. The difference of opinion which has existed has been as to the character of the invasion to be made.

Wanted a Large Army.

General Miles has earnestly and determinedly opposed sending a few thousand men to Cuba with a great quantity of stores and equipment trusting to the support which might be given them by the Gomez army. He has taken the ground that it would be unwise to send so small a force; that it would endanger the lives of the few thousand men, possibly resulting in our stores falling into the hands of the enemy, and thus giving them the supplies which Spain is unable to furnish, and that it would do very little toward hastening a conclusion of the war, even if the men were able to defend themselves and their stores. He has advocated, it is asserted, an immediate invasion of the island with a force of between seventy and one hundred thousand men, and that this force should be landed as nearly as possible at the same time at different points. It is said that he has insisted that transports enough should be provided to land eighteen or twenty thousand men at a time in quick succession, with abundant stores.

Everything Ready Now.

It is believed now that everything is in readiness for the invasion and that General Miles is not advising postponement until fall, as has been asserted.

It is generally conceded now that had a force of but a few thousand been landed in Cuba to establish a base of supplies they would not have been effectively supported by the insurgents, and that a large Spanish army could have been concentrated in an attack upon them, which in all probability would have been disastrous. The insurgent army, whatever its size is, undoubtedly is greatly in need of provisions, arms and ammunition, but apparently is unable to assist us much in getting the needed relief to them.

MATTERS BEFORE CONGRESS.

Bill in the Senate Concerning Army Officers' Retirement.

Washington, May 24.—Senator Chandler to-day introduced this bill in the senate:

"That during the war with Spain the president be, and he hereby is, authorized in his discretion to place upon the retired list any officer in the army above the rank of lieutenant colonel, and any officer in the navy above the rank or relative rank of commander, and to fix in his discretion as the retired pay of any such officer any rate now by law provided for officers retired for any of the various causes for retirement; and the president may fill every vacancy happening through retirement by promotion through selection and not according to seniority."

A communication was received in the senate from Secretary of War Alger together with a draft of a bill providing for a gradual increase in the number of officers of the corps of engineers.

The bill provides that the corps of engineers of the army shall hereafter consist of one chief engineer, with rank of brigadier general; seven colonels, fourteen lieutenant colonels, twenty-eight majors, thirty-five captains, thirty first lieutenants, twelve second lieutenants and the battalion of engineers. All promotions shall be made by seniority. The communication and bill were referred to the military affairs committee.

The House to-day passed the Senate bill providing for the payment of volunteers from their enrolment and authorized the secretary of war to pay troops embarking for Manila one month in advance.

Buoys Removed at Cadiz.

London, May 24.—Lloyds agent at Cadiz announces that the buoys in and about the harbor have been removed; that the lights have been extinguished and that vessels are not allowed to enter or leave Cadiz at night.

Doctors now agree that consumption is curable. Three things, if taken together, will cure nearly every case in the first stages; the majority of cases more advanced; and a few of those far advanced.

The first is, fresh air; the second, proper food; the third, Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil with hypophosphites.

To be cured, you must not lose in weight, and, if thin, you must gain. Nothing equals Scott's Emulsion to keep you in good flesh.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

NO COAL FOR WEST INDIES.

Treasury Department Stops Carrying of Fuel to Southern Ports.

Philadelphia, May 24.—The action of the treasury department in instructing all the collectors of customs not to grant clearance papers to any vessel intending to sail with cargoes of coal for ports in the West Indies, Bermuda, Mexico, Central America and South America during the time of the present hostilities between this country and Spain, in order that none may find its way to the Spaniards or to those who might sell to Spaniards, has caused no little sensation in shipping circles. The ruling practically puts an end to the outward business of many of the West India traders.

Since war with Spain was declared thousands of tons of coal have left here for the Danish West Indies, Mexico and various other of the islands not under Spanish rule. It is hard to imagine just what will be the effect of this ruling of the treasury department upon the shipping interests, particularly of Philadelphia, as this city's chief exports to the West Indies consist of coal.

The shutting off of the exports of coal to the West Indies and Mexico means much to those places at this time, since the Welsh trade is brought to a standstill by reason of the strike among the miners. Very little coal is now being shipped from Cardiff, and such English coal that has been sent across has come from the north of England.

The instructions to the various collectors from Washington not only prohibit the granting of clearance papers to vessels bound to any of the countries specified with coal, but orders that a list of all vessels applying for the same, with an inventory of the cargo loaded, the names of the owners and masters be furnished to the secretary of the treasury.

Several vessels arrived here Sunday, presumably to load coal for West Indian ports.

DALY THE WINNER.

McPartland Lost Fight in Fifteenth Round by Bad Tactics.

Bad temper cost Kid McPartland the decision in his fight with Jack Daly last night, and it cost his friends thousands of dollars. It is probable the Wilmington man would have won under any circumstances but the foul tactics of McPartland made the end come sooner and with far less satisfaction to his friends.

He was cautioned both by his seconds and the referee repeatedly, but he lost his head in the ninth round and from that time to the final moment in the fifteenth, he roughed it in a manner most inexplicable. The referee was more than fair and Daly was more than patient.

Both men turned the scales at 132 1-2 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and when they stripped last night they were in excellent trim and equally confident of success. When they were introduced each was received with cheers and handclappings, but it was evident that McPartland had the greater number of admirers.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

Grade of Several Ministers and Consuls Raised R. T. Greener Goes to Vladivostock.

Washington, May 24.—The president yesterday sent to the senate the following nominations:

George F. Lincoln of Connecticut, now consul at Antwerp, to be consul general at Antwerp, Belgium.

Oliver J. D. Hughes of Connecticut, now consul at Sonneberg, to be consul at Coburg, Germany.

George H. Jackson of Connecticut, now consul at Cognac, to be consul at Larochelle, France.

Richard T. Greener of New York, recently nominated and confirmed as consul at Bombay, to be consul at Vladivostock, Russia.

Thomas Leidy Rhodes of Pennsylvania and Ralph Thompson Orvis of California, to be assistant surgeons in the navy.

Connecticut Troops for New England Coast.

Niantic, Conn., May 24.—Yesterday afternoon Companies C, F and K, First Regiment Connecticut Volunteers, left Camp Haven here on a special train of five cars, for Portland, Me., and Portsmouth, N. H., for garrison duty at Fort Preble and Fort Constitution. The men were given an ovation at the camp and the railroad station.

A Troop Train in Collision.

Savannah, Ga., May 24.—Yesterday a special train on the Florida Central and Peninsula Railway, carrying North Carolina troops to Florida, came in collision with a north bound vegetable train. A private named William Barbee, Company I, of Durham, was killed, and a private named J. M. Colclough, was fatally injured.

Rainy Season Sets In at Cuba.

Key West, May 24.—The rainy season in Cuba is well started now. Rains fall daily. Preparations for landing the sick at this port are complete and no anxiety is felt here. It is announced that in case of any epidemic this summer those leaving town will be detained ten days on a small island to the southwest before going north.

Timely and Patriotic.

The suggestion, made by The Daily Press' correspondent with the Jersey boys at Camp Voorhees, that a detail of them be secured for the flag raising demonstration May 30th, is a timely one. It is to be hopeed that application will be made to the proper authorities to secure the needed furlough for the men on that occasion.

A Yukon Craft.

We do not know whether the St. Louis company that built the boat will realize 500 per cent on their investment, as they expect to, but they certainly have constructed something unusual in the way of a light draft steamboat. St. Louis builders have had much experience in light draft boat making, and their craft ought to be a success. The vessel is 150 feet long and 26 feet wide. She will carry 275 passengers and tow two freight barges besides. With all this it is declared that when fully loaded she only draws three feet of water.

Her unusual buoyancy is produced by a double hull arrangement. If she is a success, her model will be a good one for the United States government to follow in constructing lightest draft gunboats. Inside her outer steel hull of 26 feet beam the St. Louis steamboat has another one of 19 feet beam. The space between them is occupied by airtight compartments, which are expected to lift the vessel like a feather. The hull and machinery will be very powerful.

A feature highly illustrative of the American way of doing things is the fact that this unique craft is built in sections and will be shipped thus to St. Michael's. There the sections will be put together and the boat set to plying up and down the Yukon If, again, the United States could only have acted some time ago on the suggestion here given and have had several first class cruisers thus built in sections which could be packed up and shipped from Philadelphia to San Francisco right quick, it would be a great help just now. Perhaps we shall be able to do that by and by.

Japanese Labor Troubles.

If any proof were yet wanting that Japan is learning the ways of civilization, it would be afforded in the fact that she has her hands full of strikes and labor troubles. One of the first effects of the opening of Japan to foreign trade was a general rise in the prices of living. Why this should be so it is hard to see, but it is always thus when a place comparatively out of the world suddenly comes into public notice.

With the rise in prices of living Japanese laborers, who worked for a few cents a day, found they could no longer get even their humble food and clothing with such pittances as they had formerly received. Then the disturbances began. Another factor helped on. As the Japanese became accustomed to foreigners and their styles the little brown men and women themselves began to want this, that and the other and to be dissatisfied with the poor, hard standard of living which had been their lot so many centuries. This, while really a sign of progress, increased the labor troubles. The factory operatives that have been put to work on the cotton and other machinery imported from Europe and the United States are the hardest to manage. The long, intense strain

FIRST AMERICAN OFFICER KILLED BY SPANIARDS.

Ensign Worth Bagley was the first American officer killed in the war with Spain. Ensign Bagley was attached to the torpedo boat Winslow. He was killed by the explosion of a shell at the bombardment of Cardenas. Four members of the Winslow's crew met death with the brave young ensign.

with the hum of machines in their ears, which western operatives are so familiar with, stupefies and breaks down the simple Jap at first. In old Japanese days the workman took a quarter hour's rest every two hours, and he cannot at first accustom himself to the new order of working straight through without stopping. Therefore he rebels or breaks down.

The Annette islands are one of the little groups along the Alaskan coast. A number of years ago Mr. William Duncan, a missionary, settled there with some Metlakahtlan Indians. There have been found in the far northwest tribes of so called Indians who are of a different race from our red savages and who have proved themselves capable of civilization. The Metlakahtlans are such a tribe. A few years ago the islands were given to these Indians by the United States for their allotted home. They began under the guidance of Mr. Duncan and built houses and entered on various industries. They have a church and schoolhouse, a sawmill, a fishing station, a town hall and, what is much more, a soap factory. Any people that possess and run a soap factory are in a very advanced state of civilization indeed. These people are mechanics, merchants and agriculturists, and their place was granted to them by the United States government. They occupy their land in common. Now some blatant Americans in congress with more zeal than sense want to enter into this Eden and split up the lands and throw them open to settlement. It is an outrage. The Metakahtlans are among the best citizens of this country and should be left alone as long as they live. A system which was the approved one among the early Christians is good enough today where it has proved its success.

An often quoted remark from General Sherman is this: "War is hell." While he knew this he recognized that if war had to be made at all the hotter it was made the better and the sooner it would be over. He believed in no delay or hesitation once a thing had been decided on. The energetic manner in which this war has been opened and conducted thus far by the United States would call forth the enthusiasm and admiration of the old hero if he could know about it.

"Spain fights for glory, the Americans for money," says a Spanish newspaper. Spain is certainly welcome to all the glory she will get out of this war.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

In the stuffy little courtroom of the city jail there hangs a policeman's night stick decorated with a faded white ribbon. To the oft-repeated inquiry, the officers say that this stick was the one carried by their fellow-officer, Florence McCarthy, who is now serving his country at the front. When the officer left for Sea Girt he was the envy of several who would have given a great deal to have been in his place. To perpetuate his memory this stick, which was his constant companion on many a lonely night's beat, has been hung up in the courtroom where it will hang until McCarthy comes home to claim it.

The young men who have chosen to serve with the navy rather than with the army in the present war, have decidedly the best of it so far as pay is concerned. In the infantry, for instance, the pay is $13 a month for privates, while the members of the Naval Reserves who enlisted last week will be paid $21 a month. The Naval Reserves were all enlisted as able seamen. There are other ways in which the sailors would, to some, seem to be better fixed than their brethren ashore. The jackies, no matter where they go or what the weather may be, are pretty sure to have dry beds. The three weeks or thereabouts that the First Regiment put in at Sea Girt was made fearfully disagreeable by the rain. If the Naval Reserves had been in the service during that period there would have been little complaint from them, since, no matter how wet they might get while on duty, they know a warm, dry place is awaiting them in which to sleep. A man can stand a good deal if he gets a good bed, and if he has to lie down in mud and water his existence is little short of miserable.

A few days ago H. P. Seader, of Harmony street, wrote a letter to Governor Voorhees at Sea Girst asking if he approved the efforts being made to provide comforts for the soldiers who have answered their country's call. Mr. Seader had in view the comfort bag sociable to be given in Trinity Reformed church Thursday evening. The following letter was received from Governor Voorhees:

State Camp,
Sea Girt, N. J.,
May 21st, 1898.

Mr. H. P. Seader, chairman,
39 Harmony street, Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Sir—Replying to your kind inquiry of the 12th inst. It is very gratifying to the soldiers and the authorities of the State of New Jersey to know that the people at home are caring for the comforts of those far away in camp, and your suggestion certainly has my cordial endorsement. The First Regiment, Colonel E. A. Campbell, has already left Sea Girt, and their address is now Falls Church, Va. I have no knowledge of how long they will remain at that place.

The Second Regiment, Colonel E. W. Hine, and the Third, Benjamin A. Lee commanding, are still in camp at Sea Girt, and I am not informed as to when the Government will order them elsewhere. There are many young men from Company C., of the Third Regiment, commanded by Captain Bickel, who are from Plainfield, and no doubt this company is the one in which you naturally have the most interest.

If I can be of any further service in your commendable intentions, please let me know and I will be glad to serve you.

Yours very truly,
Foster M. Voorhees,
Governor.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The cleverest and most artistic actors that have appeared in popular priced performances in Music Hall made their debut there last night. This is not lavish praise "to help the house along," but it is honest and deserved comment which the work of the American Stock Company merited in their presentation of "A Soldier's Vow." Scores of repertoire companies have been heralded to Plainfield in a pretentious manner, carrying carloads of scenery, brass bands, premier orchestras, dancing and singing comedians and soubrettes, but their spectacular and costly effects were usually maintained at a sacrifice of acting talent on the stage. It is not thus with the company that made its appearance last night. People who like good drama and clean comedy given by though and conscientious actors can be pleased by the American Stock Company. Their work last night warrants theatre-goers to patronize the performances with perfect assurance of enjoying as good acting for popular prices as, with possibly one or two exceptions, any company playing at regular prices has given in Plainfield this season. This evening the enjoyable farce comedy, replete with laughable situations, entitled, "Uncle," will be presented with a curtain-raiser preceding it entitled "In Honor Bound." On Wednesday, at matinee and evening, the delightful pastoral drama, quite the equal of "Shore Acres," closely imitating it in pathos and strong situations, called "An Iron Will," will undoubtedly pack Music Hall to utmost capacaity.

Manager Edwards, of Music Hall, states that Phillip Kirch, for some time treasurer of the theatre, is no longer connected with the house in any capacity.

—The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will hold a regular meeting this afternoon in Vincent chapel.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 24.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sproul, of Jersey City, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Randolph, of Washington avenue.

In conversation with Charles Sebring, manager of the Watchung Water Company, a Press reporter learned that before long the work of laying water pipes through the borough will be started. Mr. Sebring says that recently he has been very busy and that in a short time he will be able to give his attention to the needs of Dunellen.

Last Saturday a slight accident to an engine caused a short delay in a train filled with soldiers south-ward bound. The train stopped at the station and some of the boroughites had an opportunity to greet the soldiers.

It is quite likely that before long Charles Sebring, of Greenbrook, will organize a hose company for the protection of valuable property in that vicinity. A quantity hose was bought recently.

Tomorrow afteroon a missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Horace Garrabrant, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Church of the Holy Innocents.

The attendance at the various churches in the borough last Sunday was large. All of the local preachers occupied their own pulpits and delivered excellent sermons.

Harry Swackhammer, Wilson Fredericks and John Fenner went to Sea Girt last Sunday and were the guests of Captain John Wherley, of Co. H, at dinner.

Mrs. Johnson, of South avenue, does not improve from her serious illness, and she continues to grow weaker.

Hazelwood Craig is among the latest to enlist at Sea Girt. He went to that place yesterday and was accepted.

Wm. Dunham and John Logan spent Sunday at Sea Girt with friends who are in the regular army.

G. R. Crandall, of North avenue, left today for Litte Genesee, N. Y., where he will spend several weeks.

Mrs. Smith, of Somerville, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Samuel Vermeule, of Jackson avenue.

Miss Anna C. Todd is visiting at the home of Rev. Dr. Todd, of Tarrytown, N. Y.

The improvements about the station park are favorably commented upon.

Miss Lottie Taylor has returned from a visit with Bayonne friends.

W. H. Terry is visiting Brooklyn and New York friends today.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

New Market, May 24.—Ben. Carpenter was the guest of friends in Plainfield yesterday.

Miss Titsworth, daughter of President Titsworth, of the Board of Education, will be graduated from the State Normal School next month. Miss Titsworth will probably take up teaching as a profession.

Stanley Day is not now associated with his brother in the printing business. He expects to secure a position out-of-town in a short time.

Tomorrow evening the members of the public school will give an entertainment in Friendship Hall.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The board of trustees of the Baptist church met last evening.

Central Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will parade Memorial Day.

Albert Williams is riding a new Cleveland bicycle.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE WOMAN'S WORLD

Business Women.

It has frequently been said that women in business employments do not make as desirable wives as their sisters who have lived only domestic lives, but a recent observer takes a wholly different view of the case. He holds that the effect of the woman in business is not so much to the advantage of the woman as to the business man. Such a woman has more respect for him, more regard, more sympathy. She is altogether less likely voluntarily to impose upon him or involuntarily to harass and worry him. She has been there, she knows how it is herself, and this personal experience and knowledge makes her more lenient and considerate.

Every woman wage-earner worthy of the name learns first, last and all the time that success is attained by close attention and single-mindedness. The woman who realizes this must also realize that the same rule holds good of the business man. In a present capacity as daughter and sister, or in a future capacity as wife, she is certain to show such keen consideration for the business members of the household as is undreamed of in the philosophy of the other kind of woman.

There is no danger of her husband being besought to just stop on his way down town and attend some specially seductive "special sale," or to leave his office an hour or so earlier in order that he may bring her home a lot of "samples." She has had practical and personal proof that it is through this sort of thing that business interests are made to suffer, and she does not propose to let this knowledge play her false. A woman's appreciation of business and business ways and means thus insures domestic comfort; if conditions warrant it, it benefits the business man even more than it benefits the business woman herself.—Anaconda Standard.

Serving the Hostess First.

The custom of serving the hostess first at luncheons or dinners seems a highly commendable one. There are so many little vagaries and novelties of service nowadays that it is difficult to know them all. A lady who was a guest of honor at a recent dinner found herself embarrassed by having a platter handed her, holding apparently, a whole turkey. She glanced it over with quick apprehension and could see no evidence of its having been carved. Thinking that frankness was the best way out of the situation, she appealed to her hostess for instruction, which, of course, was courteously imparted. It was with both chagrin and relief that she found the turkey was in a condition to yield to the touch of a fork inserted in any part of the fowl of which she wished to partake. The list of table silver grows every season. Many of the utensils are passing fancies and are not heard of, perhaps, outside of circles who constantly seek such novelties. Obviously the hostess knows how she wishes her guests served, and her example is often a relief and comfort. —New York Evening Post.

To Prevent Headache.

Headaches have an inconsiderate habit of coming at inoppontune times. Unless they are caused by chronic stomach or nerve trouble they will usually yield to rest and quiet. But rest and quiet are not possible when there is a theatre party or a dinner awaiting one. To cure these untimely headaches quickly, unfasten the hair, brush it and pile it loosely on top of the head. Take off all stiff clothing. Bathe the back of the neck and the temples in water as hot as can be borne, to which a few drops of lavender essence have been added. Lie down in a dark room for a few minutes, with a small hot water bag at the back of the neck.—New York Journal.

Developing the Body.

Do you want a chest without hollows and a neck firm and round? Take breathing exercises. Every morning as soon as you awake put on a warm dressing gown and warm slippers. Stand before an open window and breathe in deeply. Count mentally as you inhale. A breath taken while you count seventy, one held while you count twenty, or one expelled while counting twenty, is a long one. Take six of each every morning. Nothing fills out the throat and chest more effectually Nothing causes the blood to flow more healthily and gives brighter eyes and cheeks.—New York Journal.

The Way to Dry an Umbrella.

In standing up an umbrella to dry it should be placed handle downward. When stood upright, as is usually the case, the moisture settles in the top of the umbrella, when it is held by the lining underneath the ring ,thus injuring the cover. This is the cause of the umbrella wearing out first in tiny holes around the top. When not in use an umbrella should be left loose.

Specialists in digestion point out that only the heart of lettuce should be eaten. The outer dark green leaves are a needless tax on the stomach, as they contain nothing of value to the system.

Before using a new kettle boil it out with soda water, so that it may be perfectly clean. New pans should be treated in the same way.

SAILORS COULDN'T SLEEP.

They Were Watching for Spaniards and Waiting for Revenge.

"It was a constant round of drills and picking duty on our ship at Dry Tortugas after the Maine was blown up," said a naval officer. "We were seventy miles at sea, with no source of news, and we didn't know when a Spanish fleet would heave in sight. We all worked harder than ever, chiefly to keep our minds occupied. My division included what I considered the crack gun crew of the ship, and the way those boys handled the rapid-fire guns was something delightful.

"After a week or two of this unusual drill, which developed a proficiency truly amazing, I noticed that my pet gun crew became listless and a trifle slow in their work. They seemed to lack heart. Sharp words and reprimands only served to stir them up temporarily. I was at a loss to account for this change, and set out to discover the reason. I called up an old gunner's mate and asked him what he thought was the cause.

"'Don't know, sir. The boys is all right, sir—only I guess they don't sleep very well, sir.'

"More puzzled than ever, I resolved to keep my eyes open. Jackie is a queer bird at times. The next night I was officer of the deck and had the midwatch. Along about two bells I thought I heard voices forward, and went to investigate. There was that whole blessed gun crew stowed away as comfortably as possible on the deck, looking out to sea. Some were lying down, with their eyes glued on the water, others had their elbows on the guard rails with their chins on their arms looking out over the waves.

"I went aft and sent for one of my men, and asked him why he wasn't below in his hammock where he belonged.

"'Well, sir, we ain't a-goin' to get caught asleep down below in our hammocks like those Maine boys, sir. We owe the Spanish something for that and something for ourselves. We are all tryin' to be the first to sight a Spaniard, sir, so we're watchin'—that's all, sir.'

"Here was the explanation of my gun crew's listless performance. They were working as hard as men could work and getting little or no sleep. It wasn't fear that kept them awake—not by a long shot. It was simply the desire to be the first to sight a Spanih ship and the hope of getting the firt shot at her. The suspense of inaction was what worried the boys."—Electrical Review.

THE JOLLY AMEER.

Abdurrahman is One of the Most Original of Living Rulers.

The most interesting ruler in the world at present is, probably, Abdurrahman of Afghanistan.

A fine old-crusted autocrat is Abdurrahman, capable of waking up his doctor to ask if it would hurt him to eat a peppermint lozenge, and also shutting up a thief in an iron cage to starve to death.

Once a beggar in Kabul asked alms of the Khan.

"Did you ever work for a living?" asked the ruler.

"Never, O Khan," the man replied; "I am a beggar."

"Then," said Abdurrahaman, "we can get along without you," and forthwith directed that the beggar should be hanged. He is, however, susceptible to flattery, and can sometimes be cajoled.

A man whom he had sentenced to have his ears cut off for some indiscretion happened to be a friend of his chief secretary, who averted the mutilation by offering to perform the task himself, provided it might be done in the Ameer's presence.

To this he assented, whereupon the secretary explained that he had never executed this form of punishment before, and would His Highness show him how much was to be removed.

The Ameer passed his hands over both ears of the trembling wretch, whereupon the secretary reminded him of a passage in the Koran saying that anything touched by the representative of the Almighty became sacred. So the ears were saved.

Afghanistan is anything but backward, as Asiatic countries go. There is a modern factory in Kabul run by steam and employing 3,500 workmen, which turns out daily 10,000 Martini-Henry cartridges and 10,000 Snider cartridges, finished and complete; twenty Martini-Henry and twenty Snider rifles; 50,000 coins, two field guns, varying from 3-pounders to 12-pounders; twelve Maxims, eighteen Gardners, with carriages and full equipment, per annum, as well as a large number of swords and mechanical contrivances.

The Ameer takes great pride in the factory and makes his khans and all his visitors go and see it. One day Umra Khan, who came from a distance, called on Sir Salters Pyne and said:

"How do you make guns?"

"It is quite easy," replied Pyne. "You make a hole first, and then wrap some iron around it."

"Ah," he said, sorrowfully, "there is lots of air for the hole in my country; only no one there knows how to wrap the iron around it."—New York World.

Something Besides to Rent.

"What are you going to give up for Lent?" asked the landlord, who had come for the month's rent

"I am going to give up this house for one more comfortable," replied the tenant.—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

"Do you believe that honesty is the best policy, Rodden?"

"Most assuredly. I make all my money out of my honest customers."

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Mulhausen. Wegen Majestätsbeleidigung wurde ein hiesiger Tagner zu sechs Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt; der Staatsanwalt hatte ein Jahr beantragt. Der Mann hatte die unvorsichtigen Aeußerungen in einer Wirthschaft bei einer Kaserne fallen gelassen. Die Verhandlung fand hinter verschlossenen Thüren statt.

Urville. Auf der jüngsten Fahrt des Kaisers hierher entstand durch einen Defekt an der Maschine ein unliebsamer einstündiger Aufenthalt auf der freien Strecke zwischen den Stationen Hettstadt und Sondersberg. Der Kaiser stieg aus, begab sich nach vorne zur Maschine und war sehr befremdet, dort nur eine Lokomotive statt deren zwei zu sehen. Er befahl, damit solch' Aufenthalt nicht wieder vorkäme, bei kaiserlichen Extrazügen stets zwei Lokomotiven vorzulegen.

Luxemburg.

Muno. In einem kürzlich in den hiesigen Archiven aufgefundenen Erlaß aus dem Jahre 1686 wird den Gerichtsbeamten von Muno, die einen großen Durst besessen zu haben scheinen, ausdrücklich verboten, während der Ausübung ihres Amtes und während den Sitzungen zu trinken. Es heißt in dem amüsanten Schriftstück des Weiteren: Wir verordnen, daß sie, wenn es sich darum handelt, Bier, Wein oder ein anderes Getränk zu bevtheilen—wie es ja geschehen muß—davon nur einen Schoppen (etwa ein halbes Liter) verzehren und zwar unter einer von jedem Kontravenienten zu bezahlenden Strafe von einem Goldflorin für den ersten Fall, von zwei Goldflorin für den zweiten Fall und unter Androhung der Amtsentsetzung für den dritten Fall. Doch wollen wir hiermit unseren genannten Gerichtsbeamten keineswegs verbieten, die ihnen von uns überlassenen Abrogationsgebühren zusammen zu vertrinken, vorausgesetzt, daß die Gerichtsverhandlungen beendigt, die Sitzungen aufgehoben und sämmtliche Register im Gerichtsschrank verschlossen sind u. s. w.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Unter feierlichen Ceremonien fand, in Gegenwart des Kaisers, die Verkehrsübergabe des bisher fertigen Theils der Stadtbahn statt. Durch diese Bahn, welche, wenn ganz vollendet, aus zwei nahezu die ganze Stadt umfassenden Ringlinien mit mehreren bis in's Centrum des Verkehrs reichenden Radien bestehen wird, dürften dem ganzen Verkehr in der österreichischen Kaiserstadt andere Formen angewiesen werden.—Prinzessin Louise von Coburg, die extravagirende Tochter des belgischen Königspaares, die in letzter Zeit durch ihre Liebschaft mit dem Lieutenant v. Matachich-Keglevich und ihre enormen Schulden so viel von sich reden machte, ist von der Familie Coburg nunmehr in die Nervenheilanstalt des Professors Obersteiner dahier gebracht worden.

Agram. Der Pozegauer Gerichtshof verurtheilte den Bauer Stephan Cacalic wegen Ermordung seines Onkels Simon Cacalic zum Tode. Der Mörder, welcher während der Untersuchung Irrsinn simulirte, verbrachte einige Monate in der Irrenanstalt bei Agram, bis er, weil es ihm dort nicht gefiel, die Simulation aufgab.

Bregenz. Neulich Abends fand in der hiesigen Kaserne ein Säbelduell zwischen einem Gendarmerie-Lieutenant und einem Landesschützen-Lieutenant statt. Beide sind verwundet, die Verwundung des Landesschützen-Lieutenants ist jedoch bedeutender. Als Arzt fungirte dabei der Bürgermeisterstellvertreter Schmid.

Drohobycz. Dieser Tage fand hier die Grundsteinlegung zu dem israelitischen Krankenhause statt, welches der Großindustrielle und Bergwerksbesitzer Herr Moses Gartenberg aus Anlaß des Kaiserjubiläums für unsere Gemeinde stiftete.

Pola. Hier wurden der aus Graz nach erfolgten Malversationen im Betrage von einigen tausend Gulden zum Schaden der Firma Anton Spieler flüchtig gewordene 24jährige Buchhalter Peter Blumauer und dessen Geliebte Anton Koeffeler aus Laibach verhaftet. Man fand bei denselben zahlreiche Schmuckgegenstände und bei Blumauer eine Summe von 2600 Gulden.

Stuhlweißenburg. Bei einem kürzlich im städtischen Krankenhaus ausgebrochenen Feuer starb eine Patientin in Folge des Schreckens, sonst kam von den Insassen Niemand zu Schaden. Zwei Feuerwehrleute erlitten schwere Verletzungen.

Schweiz.

Bern. Spätestens im August wird die erste Strecke der Jungfraubahn dem Verkehr übergeben werden können, so daß man mittelst Bahn alsdann die Station Eigergletscher (2340 Meter) erreichen kann. An dem Unternehmen wird rüstig gearbeitet; von den Tunnelbauten sind bereits 300 Meter fertig. Herr Guyer-Zeller in Zürich hat bis jetzt für die Arbeiten an der Jungfraubahn die Summe von 1,500,000 Francs verausgabt.—Die neue Kornhausbrücke in Bern kann wahrscheinlich schon Ende Juni dem Verkehr übergeben werden.

Glarus. Die Abrechnung der Klausenstraße auf Glarner Gebiet ergibt eine muthmaßliche Kostensumme von rund 1,050,000 Francs. Bis Ende 1897 wurden etwa 900,000 Francs verausgabt.

Schaffhausen. In der Stadt Schaffhausen wurde auf das Gesuch eines Vaters, dessen Tochter das Gymnasium zu besuchen wünschte, das Gymnasium grundsätzlich dem weiblichen Geschlecht geöffnet. Der Beschluß fand seitens der Partei der Spießbürger heftige Anfechtung. Das Schaffhauser „Intelligenzblatt" bezeichnet ihn schlankweg als eine „Verlotterung des Gymnasiums zu einer Mädchenschule."

Tessin. Der italienische sozialistische Deputirte Rondani ist kürzlich von Bellinzona in Lugano angekommen. Er erklärt als Zweck der italienischen Revolutionäre die Absicht, eine Bundesrepublik nach dem Muster der schweizerischen zu errichten.

Waadt. Auf die Nachricht von den Erhebungen in Mailand hin zogen in Lausanne unter dem Absingen der Marseillaise und Hochrufen auf die Revolution gegen 1000 italienische Arbeiter durch die Straßen der Stadt, eine rothe Fahne, die mit Flor drapirt war, an der Spitze des Zuzes führend.

People We Know.

They Are Plainfield People, and What They Say Is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. When so many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts; when the intelligent reader knows they cannot be true, there is no wonder that people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual personal experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen, living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs Wm. H. Ludlow, of 88 Jackson avenue, says: "I was troubled with symptoms of kidney complaint such as backache and a sort of dull pain across my loins for several years. If I sat for any length of time and attempted to rise I had a sharp pain in the kidneys. Walking any distance or much standing aggravated the difficulty. I could not rest well at night from the fact that I had to be constantly changing about from one position to another trying to free myself from the pain. I used quite a number of remedies but got no permanent relief. I was prevailed upon to get Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store. In justice to them I must say that they did me a great deal of good. It is seldom that I feel any pain in my back and when I do a few doses of this remedy never fails to relieve me. I know others who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with equally good results. From my experience I can honestly recommend them to all who suffer from kidney troubles."

OPERATION ON A TIGER.

Its Success Brought Relief and the Animal Was Grateful.

An interesting operation was performed in Dublin some time ago by Dr. Samuel Haughton. A magnificent tiger, one of the finest animals in the Dublin Zoological, was threatened with gangrene in the paw.

One of its claws, becoming distorted, had grown into the foot, and to save the tiger's life it was necessary to cut away the diseased portion. The operation was, to put it mildly, an exciting one. An immensely strong net was in the first place, thrown over the tiger, and in the net he was drawn, struggling desperately, to the door of his cage. Four keepers, each of whom must have been endowed with uncommon courage as well as strength, then held the animal's paw while Dr. Haughton cut away the ingrowing claw.

Meanwhile the tigress, which had been temporarily placed in an adjoining den, was frantic with rage, flinging herself furiously against the bars in her mad efforts to come to the rescue of her lord and master. When she was readmitted to the tiger's den, after the operation, she examined the wounded paw most tenderly, purring the while, and licking her mate as if to soothe him.

Both animals appear to have realized that the operation was a beneficial one, for a week afterward, when Dr. Haughton looked in to see how his patient was progressing, he was received in the friendliest way, and was even allowed to examine the mutilated paw. —Tid-Bits.

SOURCE OF COLOR.

Some Facts Which May be of Interest to Artists.

The sources of color used in the arts is given as follows: The cochineal insects furnish the gorgeous carmine, crimson, scarlet and carmine lakes; the cuttle fish gives sepia, which is the inky fluid which the fish discharges when attacked; Indian yellow comes from the camel; ivory chips produce the ivory black and bone black; the exquisite Prussian blue comes from fusing horses' hoofs and other animal matter with impure potassium carbonate; various lakes are derived from roots, barks and gums; blue black comes from the charcoal of the vine stock; Turkey red is made from the madder plant, which grows in Hindostan; the yellow sap of a Siam tree produces gamboge, while raw senna is the natural earth from the neighborhood of Sienna, Italy, and raw umber is an earth found near Umbria. India ink is made from the burnt camphor; mastio is made from the gum of the mastic tree, which grows in the Grecian Archipelago. Bistre is the soot of wood ashes; very little ultramine—obtained from the precious lapis lazuli—is found in the market. Chinese white is zinc; scarlet is iodide of mercury, and vermillion is from quicksilver ore.—Industrial world.

When the War Really Ended.

Many people think Appomattox marked the end of the war, as Sumter did its beginning. As a matter of fact, the war did not end officially until August 20, 1866, when President Johnson issued a proclamation announcing that war was at an end, and that peace, order and tranquility and civil authority existed in all the States. While Lee's surrender was not the end of the war, it was the beginning of the end. Johnson surrendered on April 26, "Dick" Taylor on May 4, and Kirby Smith not until May 26. On May 13, more than a month after Lee's surrender, a sharp fight took place at Palmettto ranch, in Texas, which is called by Jefferson Davis and other authorities the last battle of the war.—New York World.

Early Knowledge of California.

An American geography printed in 1812 contains this interesting information: "California is a wild and almost unknown land, covered throughout the year by dense fogs, as damp as they are unhealthful. On the northern shores live anthropophagi, and in the interior are active volcanoes and vast plains of shifting snow, which sometimes shoot up columns to inconceivable heights." The book adds that some of these statements would seem incredible were they not so well authenticated by trustworthy travellers. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

HE LIKES THE KLONDIKE.

Arthur G. Jordon, a Well-Known Guide, Gives Some Facts.

Arthur G. Jordan, one of the best-known guides to the Klondike, was in St. Louis recently, making up a party to go to the Alaskan gold fields.

Speaking of the facilities for travel in the Klondike, he said: "There is now a good trail to Teslin Lake, where the trip to Dawson City can be made by boat. I have just come from Stewart, after stopping a week at Seattle, and the trail from Telegraph Creek, a small village on the Stickeen River, to Teslin Lake is dotted with parties of workmen in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who are getting ready to begin work on the new line of railroad from the Stickeen River to the lake. They are hauling material and provisions now, so as to have everything in readiness as soon as the weather opens. The road, which is to be 130 miles in length, will have to be built inside of three months, and that is the reason preparations are being pushed now. They are also building a steamboat on Teslin Lake that will transport freight and passengers from the railroad terminus to Dawson City. The water route from the terminus will be across the lake to the Teslin River, down the Teslin River to Lewis River, thence to the Yukon, and on the Yukon to Dawson City. The trail from Telegraph Creek to Teslin Lake is now in first-class condition, and I will form my party as soon as possible, and will probably leave St. Louis within a week.

"There is a blockade at Skaguay and Dyea on the Skaguay trail, and people are dying there like sheep. The main trouble seems to be meningitis. The men are too warmly dressed, and go out during the day and work like beavers, carrying their sleds of provisions up the steep trail, and getting wet through with perspiration. They return to camp at night and don't take the trouble to change their clothes. The nights are bitterly cold, and there have been instances where men have been frozen stiff while asleep.

"I have figured the cost of going to the Klondike, and a man can safely make the trip and buy his outfit and provisions for a year for $350. That includes the cost of railroad fare and other expenses from St. Louis at the present rates. The merchants in Seattle thought they had a good thing in dogs for the sleds, and so they bought them from all over the country. Most of them are retrievers, shepherd dogs and Scotch collies. Seattle is filled with them and the business has been so overdone that you can buy the best kind of a dog for $2.50 now.

"The Klondike country isn't covered with snow all the time by any means, and it has been a wonder to me that sportsmen haven't visited it. It is a perfect paradise for hunters. I saw a drove of hundreds of caribou at one time, and there is no end to sheep, moose and caribou. There are plenty of bear, too, grizzlies, black bear and silver tips.

HE'S A LOBSTER.

An Expression That Originated in Jersey's All-Winter Race Tracks.

The expression "he's a lobster," which has now become so general in colloquial use about town as to convey a clear-cut message of contempt or derision, has a somewhat peculiar origin. There is nothing about a lobster, which the elder Dumas, it may be recalled, described as "the cardinal of the sea," to invite derision; but a few years ago when all winter racing was a customary thing in the vicinity of New York, especially in neighboring New Jersey, a mud horse that failed to realize the expectations of those who bet money upon it was called a "lobster," an allusion to its mode of progression. Horses which had been generally defeated were lobster horses, and as this colloquial expression got to be more general in use on the race tracks, it began to be applied not only to horses but to men and things as well. A lobster car was a car that made slow time; a lobster boat was a boat in which rapid time could not be expected. A lobster calculator was a man who took too long, in the judgment of his critics, to add up an account, and so gradually the name lobster has come to be accepted as a designation of sloth or inferiority and "he's a lobster" has come to be regarded as a phrase of disapproval.—New York Sun.

He Came Near Praising Her.

Old Ab Drake was one of the "odd sticks" that flourished in a Vermont rural neighborhood a good many years ago. His wife was a meek, obedient, spiritless woman, over whom Ab tyrannized for fifty years, when she quietly slipped out of this world. Old Ab's panegyrics on his dead wife's virtues were loud and long. Before the funeral he said to one of his neighbors: "She was the best woman on the top of this earth. I jess thought the world and all of her—yes, I did! I always thought it, and hanged if there wa'n't times when I come mighty near telling her so! Yes, sir! an' I would of told her so, only I've always held, and I still hold, that it ain't safe to praise anything that w'ars petticoats. 'Ceptin' for that, I would of told 'Lizy Ellen what I thought of her many a time—yes, I would!"—Boston Journal.

Caught in His Own Trap.

"What's the matter, Brinkley? You look pale and worried."

"I am worried. I've had some blamed hard luck."

"Sorry to hear it. What's happened?"

"Why, I joined the militia to get out of serving on a jury, a little while ago, and it looks now as if I had made a horrible mistake."—Cleveland Leader.

Maine Pocketbooks Opened by Sympathy with a Dollar-a-Week Baby.

The latest and most successful method by which Armenian peddlers awaken sympathy and secure trade has recently been exposed. One Armenian woman went to Maine six years ago, and as soon as she had learned English enough to make change and say "Buy—buy somesing, me Chreesten," she started out peddling. Since then she has sent $800 home to her people, and has had $1,500 in a Bangor bank.

Though her husband and children remained in Armenia, she always went out on her trips carrying a dark-faced baby along, whom she lugged for miles over country roads and held up in the face of the people who met her at the houses where she called for trade. The good wives and mothers, seeing the pinched and hungry child, bought out of sympathy, gave her free meals, and free lodgings, and often harnessed up a horse and took her from house to house, thus helping her to secure trade.

Though the woman was frugal, she would drink all the liquor that her customers would buy for her. Recently while in her cups she revealed the secret of her success at trade. The child whom she carried and kept lean and hungry was not her own but was hired of an Italian family in Boston, and she paid $1 a week for the privilege of taking the baby from place to place. She showed receipts covering a period of four years. In that time she had employed five different children, three of whom were furnished by one family. When the peddler grew sober and realized what she had revealed she gave notice that she wanted to draw her money from the bank and took the boat for Boston, carrying the hired child along.—New York Sun.

SPANISH SOLDIERS IN CUBA.

Mostly Plowboys Conscripted and Sent to War Without Any Training.

Many newspaper writers have remarked on the youthfulness and apparent stupidity of the regulars in Cuba. I suppose 75 per cent. of them are under twenty-one and 95 per cent. are under twenty-five, says a writer in The Arena. They are mostly plowboys, freshly caught by the conscription, and shipped across the seas without any training or drill whatever. Spain has kept her older troops at home to protect herself against the Carlists and the Republicans, who are supposed to be plotting against the Government.

These boys are set down far from home, in a strange land, where yellow fever and smallpox prevail by turns the year round. They are treated with the greatest brutality by their officers, robbed by the commissaries, insufficiently clothed and fed, shot down from ambush by enemies whom they cannot see and cannot catch, and are paid irregularly or not at all. Can such soldiers be expected to prove efficient?

I have seen a whole company crying like children because one of their number had received a letter from home, and the rest were homesick. I have seen a Major General in the Spanish Army lash a private over his face and head with a whip, because the man did not notice his approach and failed to salute him quickly enough. I have seen half a dozen of these soldiers scrambling on the floor of a coffee house for a few coppers contemptuously thrown to them by an American correspondent. Are these the proud soldiers of Spain, the descendants of the foot soldiery that were the terror of Europe a few centuries ago?

The Minister's Blessing.

Down in the rural district it happened when the Mean Man invited the preacher to dinner. The Mean Man had plenty of money, but he didn't spend it on his table, which, on that occasion, showed but scant fare.

"Parson," said the Mean Man, "times air hard an' groceries high; but sich as it is, you're welcome. Will you ax a blessin'?"

"I will," replied the parson; "fold your hands." And then he said:

"Lord, make us thankful for what we are about to receive—for these greens, without bacon; this bread without salt, this coffee without sugar; and, after we have received it, give thy servant strength to get home in time for dinner!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Siberian Horses' Manes and Tails.

Much of the horse hair used in this country comes from far-away Siberia, and is taken from horses used by the Cossacks after the animals have outlived their usefulness. Horses are cheap in Russia, and after having seen better days their manes and tails are the only things left of a commercial value. Very often these hirsute appendages are taken from sound animals and the beasts left to their fate. Here the upholsters use the hair for stuffing chair backs and other articles of furniture, and the material from Russia brings the best price, because the hair is the longest, and consequently the best.—Philadelphia Record.

American Prisons.

A man who has spent nearly a lifetime studying prisons all over the world says: That American jails to be very dirty, but the penitentiaries are the cleanest and best in the world. America leads the world in prison reform. It is years ahead of every other country.

A Boston inventor has devised a substitute for toeclips. The pedal is equipped with a plate which is a permanent magnet, and the sole of the shoe is fitted with a sort iron plate, attached by bands or screws.

SPORTS

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The third annual championship games of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association will be held on the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. There is a large list of entries for the different events, in which there are many familiar names. Plainfield is not represented in any of the runs. George Proctor Smith, of the Plainfield High School, will start in the 220 yard hurdle race. Harry Cuming, of the High School, will start in the one-mile bicycle race. J. L. DeForeest and George Proctor Smith will be the Plainfield boys in the discus throwing contest. Smith will also compete in the pole vault. Carrol L. Runyon and Smith are entered for throwing the hammer. Putting the shot and the running broad jump include Smith among the competitors. Walter L. Long will take part in the running high jump as from Plainfield. Last year Smith won the all-round championship at the games, and he will make a bid for it again. Runyon is counted on smashing the State record for throwing the hammer. There will be a large delegation from Plainfield that will attend the games. They will leave here on the 1:16 train.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Thomas Welsch and George Gould rode down to Sea Girt Saturday and returned Sunday. They went on a tandem.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company have put out one of their automatic pumping machines at Jack Benner's place at Fanwood.

Daniel Miller, Alex IMuir, Herbert Templin, Geo. Firstbrook and Daniel Page, of this city, took a trip to Dover on their bicyles Sunday.

Bob Skinner and Tom Shephard, of Pond Tool Works foundry, have purchased a tandem and issued a challenge to any other two moulders in the shops for a 25-mile road race.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a cycle run and social next Friday evening. Those riding wheels will meet at the church at 7:45 and an hour's run will be enjoyed. The Endeavorers will then return to the church for a social time.

GOLF.

This evening the board of governors of the Park Club will meet and complete the organization of the new golf club. People not members of the club can join the golf club.

THE SCOTCH PLAINS ROW.

Mrs. W. S. Emery Explains How it Happened to Occur.

Mrs. William S. Emery, of Scotch Plains, called at The Press office this noon and explained the circumstances of the disturbance which occurred at the Emery hotel Sunday night, the details of which were given in The Press last night. Mrs. Emery stated that the men who visited the place had become drunk in another hotel, and after indulging in a scrap there, in which it was necessary to call a constable, they visited the Emery house. Mrs. Emery says it is a rule of the house not to permit such men in the house and Mr. Emery immediately ordered them out, but in enforcing the order he had to resort to some force. That occasioned the loud talk, and today Mr. Emery is nursing several bruises and a black eye. Mrs. Emery stated that they always try to conduct their house in a perfectly orderly manner, and that the majority of Scotch Plains people say they do.

THE SCHOOL OF METHODS

THE UNION COUNTY TEMPERANCE WOMEN IN SESSION.

Convention Being Held in the First Presbyterian Church—Delegates Welcomed by Mrs. E. A. Parse—Interesting Papers.

The School of Methods of the Union county W. C. T. U. is being held today in the First Presbyterian church. Delegates from unions all over the county are in attendance at the morning and afternoon sessions, which were devoted to the transaction of business and the reading of papers upon topics relative to the cause.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, the president, was in the chair and took charge of the exercises. The report of the executive committee was read, and committees on resolutions, courtesy and pages were appointed as follows: Mrs. W. D. Deland, of Elizabeth; Mrs. Lambert, of Elizabeth; Mrs. R. A. Benedict, of Cranford; Mrs. Stephen Cahoone, of Plainfield; Mrs. Stoddard, of Elizabeth; Mrs. Humpstun, of Dunellen. The committee on courtesy consists of Mrs. Randolph and Miss Boice, both of this city; and the pages are Miss Patton and Miss Cahoone, of Plainfield.

The delegates were welcomed by Mrs. E. A. Parse, president of the union here, and the response was made by Mrs. Y. Z Hatfield, of Westfield. An interesting paper upon "Franchise and Good Citizenship" was read by Mrs. E. Collins, of Westfield. This was followed by a paper upon non-acoholics in medicine by Miss Emma L Starr, of Westfield.

Michael Armstrong, as a delegate from the Reform Club; Mrs. E. Corwin, from the Ladies' Aid, and William B. Ayres, from Howell Division, Sons of Temperance, spoke a few words, after which a social hour was spent in getting acquainted and luncheon served in the Sunday-school room.

The members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of serving lunch at that church today when the School of Methods of the W. C. T. U. of Union county will meet in the church. Those who will serve in the evening are Miss Grace Petrie, Miss Luella Mills, Miss Evelyn Searing, Miss Lucia Wood, Miss Jessie Pruden, Miss Mary Lucky, Miss Bertha Wilcox, Miss Nellie VanWinkle, Miss Jennie Abbott, Miss Edith Bond and Miss Charlotte Messerschmith. Those who served at noon are Miss Helen Boice, Mrs. Gifford, Miss Lettie Remsen, Miss Mabel Conover, Miss Fannie Mills, Miss Edith Pruden, Miss Nora Williams, Miss Gertrude Hazeltine, Miss Lillian Glen, Miss Margaret Cave and Miss Blanche Fellows.

GOT THE EDITOR'S CASH.

Burglars Made a Raid on a Bound Brook Sanctum.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 24.—Burglars last night effected an entrance into the office of The Chronicle by forcing the lock on the front door. The office contained three safes, one of which they opened by use of dynamite, and the other by the combination. The iron box of the former safe contained about $10 in cash, which was the only plunder of value that the burglars obtained. Several suspicious characters were seen about the town early this morning, and the police are in hope of catching the men.

Everyone is Invited.

It is hoped that all persons who are interested in Muhlenberg Hospital will attend the graduation exercises of the Training School for Nurses, which are to be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church next Thursday evening. Although invitations have been sent to persons actively interested in the hospital the management wishes it understood that the public are cordially invited.

APPLICATION FOR A WRIT OF ERROR TO BE MADE.

The Condemned Man's Counsel Will Appear in His Behalf in Court of Chancery—VanHise Wants a Job

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 24—Frank Bergen and Edward Nugent, counsel for Louis Roesel, who is under sentence to be hanged Friday, June 3d, served notices Saturday on Prosecutor English and former Prosecutor Marsh that a motion would be made in the Court of Chancery at Trenton today for a writ of error and a new trial.

Yesterday Roesel's counsel appeared before Judges VanSyckel and Vail and secured their signatures to the bill of exceptions. There were nine exceptions taken at Roesel's trial.

Hangman VanHise was a visitor at the sheriff's office yesterday and had a conference with Sheriff Kirk in reference to the execution. VanHise has another hanging in Hudson county June 9th.

Sheriff Kirk said he would proceed to arrange for the execution of Roesel on the day fixed in his sentence, but the general opinion is that a stay will be secured by his counsel, and the hanging will be deferred to a much later date.

SICK FROM EATING PASTRY.

Number of Dunellen People Poisoned by Charlotte Russes

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 24—A number of people living in the borough were suddenly taken ill last Saturday night after eating charlotte russe and cream puffs purchased at a local bakery. In all there were about seven people who needed the assistance of a physician, and Dr. Brakely was called to treat many of them.

Among the sick ones were Miss Churchill, Louis Churchill, Mrs. Smith, of the borough, and Edward Kline, of Plainfield, a dealer in fish and clams. These people purchased the pastry and a short time after eating were taken violently ill. Dr. Brakely succeeded in bringing his patients around all right. The baker was questioned about the matter and he claimed that the goods were all right. All of the sick ones are out of danger now.

BAIL JUMPER CAUGHT.

Was Just About to Eat Supper With His Wife When Arrested.

Last October Edward Kober, of the borough, was arrested for beating his wife. He was tried and held for the Grand Jury. George Ball furnished bail in the sum of $100 for his appearance before the Grand Jury. Soon afterward the jury found an indictment and about the same time Kober jumped his bail. Since that time a search has been in progress for Kober. Yesterday evening Chief Wilson received word that Kober was at Muhlenberg Hospital, where his wife is employed. The officer in company with Chief Grant and Patrolman Myers went to the hospital and arrested Kober. They found him just ready to partake of some supper. He was surprised to see the officer and told him that he thought the difficulty had been settled. He was informed that it was not and that he was wanted. He was then placed in the borough lockup. Today he will be taken to Somerville to answer to the indictment found against.

Annual Decoration Day Outing.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey is again in touch with the public pulse by coming out with the best attraction for next Monday that any seeker after a holiday jaunt could select. It comes in the shape of the annual Decoration Day outing to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback Railroad, a truly economical trip for respectable people that love wild scenery, combined in mountain, valley, river and stream, not to speak of fair Glen Onoko, the queen of all the fairy glens in this region of marvellous scenic attractions. Mauch Chunk is very well known as a resort patronized by high-class people, and there is so much to be seen that each recurring visit finds the visitor face to face with something new. These excursions are personally conducted and patrons are directly under the company's protection. They may be assured of a pleasant time. Attached to special train will be a lunch car, from which food and refreshments can be procured at reasonable rates. Train will leave Plainfield at 9:28 a. m. and return about 8:30 p. m. Adults round-trip tickets are $1.75, children's, $1.31. On sale at company's station.

THE SECOND CALL FOR 75,000 TROOPS.

President McKinley Took Action After Long Deliberation.

Spanish Fleet at Santiago While Schley Waits Outside—Sampson to Bombard Havana—The Invasion of Cuba to Start This Week—Spain Can Get No Funds Abroad.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

MORE VOLUNTEERS WANTED

The President Issues the Second Call For 75,000 More Troops.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 25, 1:50 p.m.—The second call for volunteers has come, as predicted by many, as denied by some. The call is for seventy-five thousand more volunteers.

It has been known that the President has had a second call under advisement for several weeks and that the call was the subject of numerous confetences in the war department.

The call will be divided among the States in the same ratio as the first call. It is understood that in most States the call for volunteers will be made direct and that the militia will not be formally called out.

SPANISH FLEET TRAPPED.

Official Reports That It is Bottled Up in Santiago Harbor by Americans.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 25, 9 a. m—Rumors of every kind have been current for the last twenty-four hours, but the Navy Department has settled many of them by an announcement that the Spanish fleet is positively at Santiago de Cuba.

It was positively announced this morning that the fleet was there and further that the American fleet had cooped up the Spanish squadron in it.

The first meeting of the joint commission to settle the Alaskan boundary question and the dispute over the seal fisheries was held at the State department today.

The representatives of the other powers are watching the precedings closely for signs of an Anglo-American alliance.

President McKinley intimated today that the plans for the invasion of Cuba were no longer being held in abeyance. Secretary Alger practically confirmed the news of an early movement against Cuba.

The ordinance department reports that there is an ample supply of ammunition ready for the invading army, and that it can be handled at once and without delay.

The ram Katahdin sailed this morning from the Charlston navy yard under sealed orders.

New York, May 25, 12:10 p. m—The Mail and Express correspondent at Port au Prince positively confirms the arrival of Admiral Cervera and his Spanish ships at Santiago de Cuba.

PLANS FOR THE WEEK.

The Movement to Transport Troops to Cuba to Start This Week.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 25, 2:05 p. m—It is authoritively asserted that the administration plans that Schley shall hold Cervera at Santiago. Sampson is to bombard Havana while Gen. Miles attacks it in the rear.

The smaller vessels are to assist in the transportation of troops which will begin at the end of the week. The regulars will form the vanguard, with the volunteers following as fast as possible.

Tampa, May 25, 10:07 a. m.—Thirty transports are reported to be loading for Cuba this morning.

NO MONEY FROM EUROPE.

Spain's Financial Situation Is Desperate Indeed With No Chance of Betterment.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 25, 12:10 p. m—The financial situation in Spain is desperate. There seems no practical solution to the question as to where she is to obtain financial aid.

The Ministry is making desperate efforts to raise funds among the populace but with little success. The people have no money to give. The Ministry now admits that a foreign loan is impossible.

OREGON AT JUPITER.

Lieut. Davis Tells of the Exciting Voyage Home from Bahai, Brazil.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Jupiter, Fla., May 25, 1:10 p. m—The Oregon has anchored off here for a short time. Lieutenant Davis, of the battleship, came ashore.

He told the story of their daring voyage from Bahia, Brazil. A strict watch was kept on all sides for any suspicious craft.

Captain Clark steered the Oregon and her two consorts, the Marietta and the Buffalo, as far as possible outside of the regular course of vessels.

Jupiter is a prominent but small part on the east coast of the peninsula of Florida, ten miles north of Palm Beach and a hundred miles north of the northern extremity of the peninsula.

Washington, May 25, 11:32 a. m—Secretary Long of the Navy Department received this morning official confirmation of the report that the Oregon's arrival in Jupiter Inlet, Florida.

MILITARY TO GOVERN.

Insufficient Police Protection and Numerous Outrages Arouse Indignation.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 25, 11:30 a. m—The increasing disorder here has caused a demand for the immediate establishment of martial law on the Key.

The latest outrage was discovered this morning. James J. Dercy, an expert machinist, aged fifty-five, was found dead at an early hour.

He was lying within half a block of the Key West Hotel, and his head and face were bruised almost beyond recognition. He received his wages last night, and when found they were gone. He was undoubtedly murdered for his money.

This murder, coupled with the murderous and probably fatal assault upon Seaman William Caine, of the gunboat Morrill, has aroused general

TEMPERANCE WOMEN ARE AGAINST YALE.

Union County W. C. T. U. Pass Resolutions of Censure.

WON'T LET SONS GO THERE.

THE ACTION TAKEN BECAUSE THE FACULTY ARE TOO LIBERAL.

The Women are Opposed to the Students Having Wine at Their Banquets and Also to Permitting Inter-collegiate Sports Being Held in Towns Where Liquor is Sold—Several Addresses Given at the Afternoon and Evening Sessions Yesterday, and Better Attendance Than in the Morning.

The session of the School of Methods of the W. C. T. U. was brought to a close last evening. The afternoon and evening sessions were better attended than the morning session, and the programme was a little different. The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock with devotional exercises, after which came addresses by the ladies on important topics.

Mrs. Ella M. Thatcher, national superintendent, of Florence, N. J., gave a talk on the work among the soldiers and sailors. This was followed by a memorial service in honor of Miss Frances E. Willard, the dead president of the National Union. Several ladies took part in this, and one told about Miss Willard in the home, another about her school life, and another about her temperance work.

Mrs. C. S. Valentine, of Cranford, told about Miss Willard in her home; Miss Anna M. Ramsey, of her school life, and Mrs. L. H. Demarest, the State corresponding secretary, told how Miss Willard conducted her temperance work.

The members of the Loyal Temperance Legion, under the direction of Miss Minnie G. Morse, gave songs and demonstrations which showed the faithful training of their teacher.

When the report of the committee on resolutions came, there were several resolutions offered. Among them was one for the ladies as members of the W. C. T. U. to use their influence with their representatives at Washinton and at Trenton to have them do all in their power to prohibit the sale of liquor among the soldiers and sailors in our army and navy.

Another one was aimed at Yale College, because of alleged leniency on the part of the members of the faculty in regard to the students using intoxicating liquors and having liquor at their spreads. Resolutions were passed to discourage the attendance of young men who are seeking a college education at that institution until more stringent rules are made there in respect to the drinking habit.

The women also desired to protest against the "canteen system," which which they claim is in use in our army, and which they say is only another name for the traveling saloon.

Thanks were expressed for the services of the young ladies of the Christian Endeavor Society for their service at the tables; to the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian church for the use of the church, and to the city union of the W. C. T. U. for so lavishly entertaining the delegates.

The evening session of the School of Methods began at 8 o'clock. It consisted principally of an address apon "Why I Belong" by Mrs. Isabella Demarest, the corresponding secretary of the W. C. T. U., of Closter, N. J.

Too Bad About the Law Clerks.

The law students of this city will meet tonight in the office of Justice Nash, on Park avenue, and consider the advisability of striking their employers for the Saturday half-holiday. The clerks claim that they have to make as long hours Saturday as on any other day, and think that they ought to be allowed to get off as well as bank clerks. Especially is this true now that the baseball season is at hand.

Relic From the Flagship.

Mr. Bennett, of Lincoln place, has received a letter from his son, Fred Bennett, assistant past engineer on the flagship New York. The letter was mailed last week from Key West and it states that he is well and getting along nicely. He sent along a small piece of a shell which struck the New York when fired from a Spanish ship.

Joined the Army.

William Stewart, of the West End, has successfully passed his examination to join the army. He has been assigned to the Sixth Cavalry now located at Georgia, and he left Trenton last evening for the South.

LIBERTY POLE ERECT.

IT TOOK JUST AN HOUR AND A HALF TO RAISE IT.

Work Done Under the Supervision of Charles Runyon and Captain Hand—Big Crowds Witnessed the Pole Go Up.

A great portion of Plainfield stood around the corner of Park avenue and Front street all day yesterday, watching the raising of the immense flagpole in front of Schwed's clothing store. From the time the pole first started on its upward journey until it was safely in place was just one hour and thirty minutes. W. W. Coriell, of West Front street, started a faint hand clapping as the pole settled into place, but as no one else joined in, Mr. Coriell soon desisted.

The hole for the pole was started Monday, but on account of the rain could not be finished until yesterday. The hole was dug nine feet deep, and the dirt in the bottom had to be lifted out with a bucket.

The guide pole was a newly cut tree, strong and straight, and hardly bent with the weight of the flagpole. Officers Cash, McCue and Giese kept the crowd back, and prevented the passersby from getting under the poles.

Charles Runyon, manager of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, with a gang of expert linemen, assisted by Captain Hand and several of his employes, had charge of the pole raising. The neatness and dispatch which they displayed in the work showed that they thoroughly understood their work. Though the job was worth $75, and that is what out-of-town workmen would have charged, the work was done gratis, and the men deserve great praise for their services.

The lower part of the pole only was raised yesterday; the top was put up this morning. Many people were wondering how this was to be done, but they were soon to see. A tackle was rigged on the top of the pole, and Linemen Green and Chamberlain, of the Telephone Company, climbed to the top. Men below began to haul on the ropes, and in a short time the pole was together. While the pole was in midair the ball, weather vane and eagle were placed on top.

CLERKS STILL MISSING.

LOSEY AND VAN ARSDALE STAY IN A PUZZLING MANNER.

Said They Were Going to Morristown Saturday Night, But Evidently Did Not go—No Shortage in Their Accounts.

Up to the time of going to press no news has been received from the missing dry goods clerks, Hudson Losey and Isaac V. Van Arsdale, of Woodhull & Martin's store. When they left town on Saturday night, they were as completely lost as if the earth had swallowed them up.

Losey, who boarded at McVey's restaurant, has left a heavy trunk at the hotel. No one knows what is in it, but it is very heavy, and seems to be filled with something of weight. Mr. McVey said to a Press reporter this morning that he always considered Lossy a model boarder, and was very much surprised when he heard of his sudden dissappearance. Mr. McVey says that every Monday morning as regular as clock work Losey used to pay his week's board, and this he never missed during the year and a half that he boarded there, until this week.

Mrs. McVey says that Saturday night Losey told her that he was going to Morristown to spend Sunday, but he was seen in town long after the last train had left to connect with another for that place. There is no shortage reported in the accounts at the store, but the men did not handle very much cash.

Petit Jurors Dismissed.

[Special to The Daily Press.]

Somerville, May 25—There being no more cases to come before the Somerset County Courts that require the attendance of the jurors the Court Tuesday dismissed them with thanks, stating that it concurred in the several findings of the panel. John Ernied, who was found guilty of assault and battery, was sentenced to pay $50. The case of North Plainfield against Warren township was postponed till tomorrow.

Smoker to Follow.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., will install one member, R. H. Rushton, at their meeting tonight. The installation exercises will be followed by a smoker, to which all the members are invited.

Decoration Day Tea.

An afternoon tea will be held at the clubhouse of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, Plainfield avenue, Monday afternoon next, Decoration Day, commencing at 4 o'clock.

MAPS SHOWING ROUTE OF COUNTY TROLLEY

County Engineer Hubbard Has Furnished Fourteen of Them.

GIVE A GOOD IDEA OF PLAN.

DEBCRIBES THE CHANGES THAT WILL HAVE TO BE MADE.

These Maps are Now on File at Mr. Hubbard's Office Where They May be Inspected—Estimates of the Cost of the Road, Bridge and Track Building Will be Completed in a Week or Two, But Work of Placing Correct Valuation on Property Will Take Several Weeks to Complete.

The preparation of the estimates for the building of the proposed Union county boulevard and trolley road is rapidly going forward despite the movements in several towns along the line to defeat the plan. A series of fourteen elaborate maps have just been completed by Engineer Frank J. Hubbard, of this city, showing the route of the proposed boulevard, the roads and properties as they are at present and the proposed changes. The maps are well and carefully drawn and give a very good idea of just what changes will be necessary.

These maps are now on file in Mr. Hubbard's office in the Babcock building where they can be seen by anyone interested in the proposed county trolley scheme.

The estimates of the cost of the road, bridge and track building will probably be completed in a week or two at most, but the work of placing a correct valuation on the property will occupy three weeks at least. Then the estimates will be ready to be placed in the hands of the Freeholders.

There has been a general impression in this city among those who have not looked carefully into the county boulevard and trolley road scheme that the boulevard would follow the line of the present county road its entire distance from Elizabeth to Plainfield. Such is not the case, however. While it is completed to remain with present county road from Elizabeth to Westfield, further than that the proposed trolley line will take the course now marked by North avenue. The reason for this is so that the great boulevard will not have to cross or pass under the tracks of the Jersey Central Railroad.

CHEERED CRACK 69TH.

THE BRAVE SOLDIER BOYS ON THEIR WAY TO THE SOUTH.

Three Trainloads Went Through on the Central—69 Torpedoes Exploded on the Rails—Incidents of the Demonstration.

Three trainloads of soldiers, consisting of the 69th Regiment of New York troops, passed through this city last night at 8 o'clock bound for the south. Sixty-nine large railroad torpedoes were placed on the track, and as the trains passed over them there was a loud noise. The racket frightened three hack horses standing in front of the depot and made them run away The horses ran as far as Park avenue when they were stopped and brought back. No damage was done.

At Bound Brook the trains slowed up, and one of the soldier boys went out on the train platform to cheer and wave his cap. A sudden lurch of the train threw him off and he fell to the depot platform. He was not hurt, and was picked up and taken inside the car where one of the surgeons examined his body for injuries. The trains did not reach Philadelphia until nearly 12 o'clock on account of a wreck, and were held at Wayne Junction for several hours.

The trains passed in three sections, and as the third section reached Dunellen it had to be sidetracked to allow a Philadelphia express to pass. Everybody turned out to give the soldier boys a rousing welcome, and received a piece of hardtack for a memento of the occasion.

Working on Railroad Property.

A gang of Central Railroad workmen are busy laying a stone sidewalk along the railroad property on the north side of East Fourth street. This is a much needed improvement, and will make a continous line of flagging all the way from the western part of the city to Watchung avenue with one or two breaks. The railroad company will also construct a driveway from Fourth street to the track so that commuters can drive right up to the station mornings and evenings. It is not known just how soon the work on the new station will be begun, but each new movement in this direction is hailed with delight on the part of the commuters.

ENTERTAINED SINGERS.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. FREEMAN HOSTS FOR GRACE CHURCH CHOIR.

The Affair Given in the Parish House—Many Musical Numbers Given—Prizes in Games Were Awarded to the Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Freeman, of 52 Sandford avenue, entertained the members of the Grace Church Choir at the parish house last night. The entire choir, with one or two exceptions, attended, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. There were a few outside guests, Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Rodman, Rev. Floyd Appleton. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Moore, and William Moore.

William Moore brought his phonograph with him, and entertained the young people with seleetions. The choir stood together and sang Guonod's anthem which Mr. Moore took and reproduced afterwards from the phonograph. The experiment was a great success.

Fletcher Hallock was present with his banjo and played and sang. The evening wound up with games in which all joined. Prizes were awarded as follows: The first lady's prize, which was a set of gold shirt-waist studs and buttons, was won by Miss Eleanor VanDeventer. The first boy's prize, a silver pocket knife, was won by Lyon Adams. The second lady's prize, a gold hatpin set with rubies, went to Miss Mabella Smith. The corresponding boy's prize, a gold charm, went to VanWyck Brooks. Miss May Collier also drew a hatpin set with amethysts.

Miss Eva Noe took the third lady's prize, which was a gold hatpin. Harry Messersmidth drew a gold enamel pin with the battleship New York. The fourth lady's prize was a gold patriotic medal and this was taken by Miss Lottie Messersmidth. Frank Housman got a boy's pin. The fifth lady's prize was a silver-mounted rabbit's foot which was taken by Miss Mary Rodman. The fifth boy's prize was an enamel flagpin. Miss VanDeventer got the consolation prize.

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR GOLF

THE PARK CLUB TO LAY OUT LINKS IN THE BOROUGH VERY SOON.

Board of Governors Completed the Arrangements Last Night—Expert to be Employed to Prepare the Course.

The board of governors of the Park Club held an adjourned meeting last evening and received the final report from the committee on golf. The appointment of Meredith Dryden, Walter McGee and B. A. Hegeman, Jr., completes the board of trustees which now consists of B. A, Hegeman, Jr., chairman; Meredith Dryden, secretary; Walter McGee, treasurer; S. St. John McCutchen, Charles A. Reed, George P. Dupee and William J. Roome. The latter was elected in place of Pierre Malli, who cannot serve.

A committee, consisting of Charles W. McCutchen, W. J. Buttfield and Mr. Hibbard, were appointed to look after the grounds and course, and arrangements have been made to have the course laid out at once and a small clubhouse erected on the grounds. The clubhouse will be a model one in every particular, although it will not be an elaborate affair.

An expert in laying out a golf course will be secured at once and the grounds will be put in shape for playing as soon as possible. Other committees will be appointed in a short time to look after the club membership and other important details in connection with club affairs.

Judging by the people who now compose the club there is no doubt but that the new organization will be a great success. It has been arranged that persons not members of the club can join the Park Golf Club. Another meeting of the trustees and members will be held soon to complete all arrangements, and when the course is completed there will be a grand opening event.

Seniors and Juniors to Meet.

A union meeting of the Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor Societies of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held Friday evening at the church. The meeting will be led by Mrs. W. S. Lowry, the Junior superintendent and the president of the Senior society. The topic of this meeting is "Christ our Model." A quartette from the Junior society will sing.

Flowers for Decoration Day.

The members of the various churches in the city have been asked to donate flowers for the observance of Decoration Day. The flowers can be left at G. A. R. headquarters Saturday, when the rooms will be open.

TO TAKE PHILIPPINES

Cabinet Decides to Send a Second Expedition at Once.

QUICK CONQUEST IS URGED

The Administration Has Come to Regard the Occupation and Retention of the Philippine Islands As the Vital Point in the Campaign—Spain's Reported Attempts to Interest Other Powers in the Islands Hastens Government's Plans.

Washington, May 25.—After careful deliberation the cabinet has decided to increase the number of troops to be sent to the Philippine Islands as soon as transports can be secured, and to accomplish this a second expedition will be made up after the one now preparing starts.

The president and the cabinet, it is stated on the highest authority, have arrived at the conclusion that the islands must be held permanently, and recent dispatches from Admiral Dewey in regard to the force needed to accomplish this show that a greater number of soldiers will be necessary than it is now intended to send.

It is also stated that the administration is informed on reliable authority that the Spanish are preparing if they have not already sent, reinforcements to Manila. It is said that the Spanish, seeing that Cuba is lost to them, intend to make a bitter fight for the Philippines.

There have been very material and important developments in the war policy of the administration within the past two days. For some time there has been a growing appreciation of the importance of the Philippine campaign, and it is definitely stated on good authority to-day that this government has come to regard the occupation and retention of the Philippine Islands as the vital point in the campaign.

It is said that the most active and urgent effort of the government will be directed from now on toward rendering permanent the possession of the Philippines, and that the administration regards this as the most important move in the war.

Spain's Contemplated Policy.

Information concerning the Spanish policy, her contemplated military operations, and her attempts at negotiation with foreign powers, impresses this government with the importance of settling the possession of the Philippines as quickly as possible, and there is said to be more anxiety felt at this hour to successfully complete that campaign than there is to push operations in Cuba.

Some of the strongest advisers of the administration insist that the conquest of Cuba can very well and wisely be prosecuted with deliberation after the Philippines are completely within our possession. The overthrow of Spanish power in the West Indies is considered fully assured, and it is believed to be the design of Spain to attempt negotiations with foreign powers looking to a termination of the war after a decisive naval engagement and the conquest of Cuba on the basis of no further loss to Spain than that of the island of Cuba.

MISSIONARIES RESCUED.

A Force of Troops Relieves Those on the West Coast of Africa.

Sierra Leone, West Africa, May 25.—A force of troops has relieved the missionaries and others at Kwellu, whose lives were imperilled by the uprising of the natives, who rebelled against the imposition of the hut tax.

The bodies of the American missionaries who were murdered when the insurgents attacked and destroyed the town of Rotifunk, in the early part of the present month, have been recovered and buried.

On May 6 the British colonial office received the names of the American missionaries who were massacred during the debellion in the Sherboro district of Sierra Leone, including those who were reported to have been killed at Rotifunk. They were Mr. and Mrs. Cain and the Misses Archer, Hatfield and Schenck. The other missionaries—Mr. and Mrs. Burtner, Mr. and Mrs. Hinshall and the Misses Mullen and Ward—succeeded in making their escape to Freetown.

Miss Muller, an American missionary, who was alone in a mission house in the Sherboro district when it was invaded by the insurgents, was rescued by a boat's crew from a British warship just in time to prevent her from being massacred. The infuriated natives had already surrounded the mission when the sailors arrived on the scene.

COAL STEAMER DETAINED.

Action of the Collector of Port at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Fearing that her cargo of coal might fall into the hands of Spanish warships in Cuban waters, or that the coal is intended for a Spanish port, the collector of the port of this city to-day detained the German steamer Amrun, pending instructions from Washington. The coal is consigned to the Mexican Railroad to be delivered at Vera Cruz, Mexico. In detaining the vessel the collector is carrying out the instructions issued by the treasury department last week, to the effect that all vessels with coal for West Indian, Central, or South American points shall not be given clearance papers until it is positively shown that the coal is not for Spanish consumption. Up to late this afternoon the collector had received no word from Washington.

Martial Honors for Soldiers Dead.

Tampa, Fla., May 25.—There was a military funeral under the pines of Lakeland yesterday, when the body of Weslie S. Brass, Company I, Second Massachusetts, who died of pneumonia, was sent North. His company was detailed to escort the body to the train, but every other company in the regiment volunteered to march behind it also, and all the citizens in Lakeland lined the sandy streets and stood with heads uncovered as it passed.

BATTLE HOURLY EXPECTED

The Spanish Squadron Positively Located -- Every Preparation Being Made to Destroy It -- Statements About the Position of War Ships.

Key West, Fla., May 25.—The movements of the United States war vessels, which are known here, make it absolutely certain that no battle with the Spanish squadron has yet occurred, but an engagement is expected to take place this week.

The Spanish fleet has been definitely located off the Island of Cuba. Every preparation has been made by the United States naval authorities for destroying it. All the signs point to a decisive battle soon.

The hospital ship Solace and her surgeon were ordered long ago to be ready for service at a moment's notice, but no fresh orders have been issued.

Key West, Fla., May 25.—The Cuban officers are greatly nettled by the criticisms of United States army officers, who say that the Cubans are unable to make an offensive campaign. They declare that the Cuban army is about to distinguish itself by brilliant operations. United States army and navy officers, however, have a poor opinion of the Cuban forces. The rank and file are brave and willing enough, it is conceded, and they are excellent bushwhackers, but they are believed to be without anything like real military training.

Madrid, May 25.—A dispatch received here from Havana says: "American warships continue to occupy stations outside of Havana, Cienfuegos, Cardenas and Santiago de Cuba. There are now nineteen American warships before Havana.

"Secret orders have been given to Admoral Cervera as to what course to pursue in the event of the Americans attempting to cut communications between Cuba and Spain."

It was officially announced at noon to-day that the squadron of Admiral Cervera was still at Santiago de Cuba yesterday.

According to reports published here, Admiral Camara, the commander of the Cadiz squadron, has been fully instructed and returns to Cadiz to-night.

COM. DEWEY HEARD FROM

He Reports Scarcity of Provisions and Residents of Manila Fear an Uprising of Spanish Soldiers.

Washington, May 25.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Admiral Dewey, as follows:

Manila, Friday,
Via Hong Kong, Tuesday.

Secretary Navy, Washington:

Situation unchanged. Strict blockade continued. Great scarcity of provisions in Manila. Foreign subjects fear an outbreak of the Spanish soldiers and they will be transferred to Cavite by the foreign men-of-war in the harbor.

Aguinaldo, the rebel commander-in-chief, who was brought here from Hong Kong on the McCulloch, is organizing a force of native cavalry, and may render assistance that will be valuable.

(Signed) DEWEY.

CERVERA IS CAGED BY TWO SQUADRONS.

Cape Verd Fleet Found in Santiago Harbor, and the Great Crash Is Only Hours Away.

Washington, May 25.—The great battle of the war is to take place in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. The Spanish fleet, under Admiral Cervera, is inside. The fight may come off any minute. The authorities in Washington, although guarding the facts jealously, are looking for immediate action.

FOOD FOR BLANCO.

Announces That Duties Have Been Removed and Hints at Blockade Running.

London, May 25.—A Madrid censored dispatch alleges that General Blanco's first official public expression on the food question has just been received there.

General Blanco, the Madrid cablegram writer says, declares that he does not need food, but at the same time it is announced that all duties on food entering Cuba have been removed, and that if any ship brings supplies she may be unloaded without a moment's delay or any custom house formalities.

The announcement also takes pains to indicate West India islands, where food may be obtained and conveyed to Cuba with least risk of capture.

CHEERS GREET SOLDIERS.

The Fighting 69th and the Ninth Get Rousing Cheers.

New York, May 25.—Two more New York regiments departed yesterday for the front. The gallant Sixty-ninth, the pride of every citizen, whether Celtic born or not, and the Ninth, composed of men who will be heard from in action, now are speeding southward as fast as steam can carry them.

Both regiments passed through the city on their way to the cars and never, since the days of '61, were such cheers heard or crowds seen. Flags were everywhere and people were simply packed into solid blocks of humanity all along the line of march of both regiments.

OUR VOLUNTEER ARMY

Advices Indicate That 107,751 Are Now in Service.

NEWS FROM THE CAMPS

Roosevelt's Regiment of Rough Riders to Begin Moving Toward Cuba—Thirty-five Thousand Men Encamped at Chickamauga—Hard Drilling and the Work of Training Troops is Being Steadily and Vigorously Prosecuted.

Washington, May 25.—At a late hour last night Adjutant General Corbin announced that advices received by him from the state camps indicated that 107,761 volunteers had been mustered into the service of the United States.

San Antonio, May 25.—It is thought that Roosevelt's regiment of rough riders will begin its movement toward Cuba within the next two days. Colonel Leonard Wood, commanding the regiment, received a telegram from the adjutant general asking him when he would be ready to move, and Colonel Wood answered that he could start immediately. The necessary supplies are now being secured for the regiment and further orders are expected.

Chickamauga, Ga., May 25.—The first division review held here since the mobilization of the volunteers began took place Monday in the Kelley Field. The First Division, commanded by Brigadier General Wilson, was the one reviewed. Nine thousand men were in line.

General Breckinridge and staff continue their work of inspection. They will remain several days and then go to Tampa. General Andrew S. Burt, who has recently returned here from Tampa, has been ordered back to that place.

Troops K, B and E of the Third United States Volunteer Cavalry went into camp Monday. The First District of Columbia Infantry, Colonel G. H. Harries, of 1,200 men, arrived Monday.

The Fourth Ohio Infantry marched to Chattanooga Monday evening. The regiment goes into camp near the National cemetery, close to the city limits, to do provost guard duty.

The work of unloading and storing 49 cars of provisions, which arrived Monday and Monday night, was completed yesterday. Up to yesterday the quartermaster's department had received 1296,000 worth of provisions for the volunteers. The value of the clothing and equipments already received amounts to almost as much. The quartermaster's department is doing remarkably well in its work of caring for the 35,000 men now in camp.

The arrivals yesterday morning were the Third Regiment Tennessee Infantry and the First Regiment Vermont Infantry. The Third Tennessee, 1,000 officers and men, under Colonel J. P. Fyffe, arrived at 4 o'clock in the morning on three special trains from Nashville. The First Regiment Vermont Volunteers infantry arrived yesterday morning on four trains over the Southern Railway. The regiment is composed of 980 officers and men, under Colonel O. O. Clark. It was transferred to the park at once. The railroad men are now getting their first rest since the mobilization began. Comparatively few troops are arriving.

In the park yesterday hard drilling was going on in every camp. The work of training the troops thoroughly is being steadily and vigorously prosecuted.

New York May 25.—The Ninth regiment started from Camp Townsend for Chickamauga yesterday. At 10.20 o'clock the men broke camp and marched to the transport at Roa Hook in waiting for them. With the departure of the Ninth Regiment Camp Townsend came to an end. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired, after which the colors were lowered. General Doyle and his staff left for New York yesterday afternoon.

ARMOR FOR BATTLESHIPS.

Bethlehem and Carnegie Companies Put in Bids This Time.

Washington, May 25.—Bids were opened yesterday for supplying the armor for the three battleships, Illinois, Alabama and Wisconsin, now in course of construction at the Union Iron Works, Newport News and Cramps. This is the second time that the government has endeavored to secure bids for supplying the armor of these ships. The first effort, made about a year ago, was unsuccessful because Congress had made the minimum cost per ton for the armor at a figure below the cost of production. The present naval appropriation bill having increased the price allowed to $400 per ton, to-day's effort was successful.

For the Illinois the two armor companies, Bethlehem and Carnegie, divided their bids, one taking the lighter armor and the other the heavier. For the Alabama the Bethlehem Company bid $1,022,504, while the Carnegie Company did not bid. For the Wisconsin the Carnegie Company bid $1,023,504. The rate in each case was $400 per ton flat for bolts and armor, the maximum allowed by Congress. The Bethlehem Company undertakes to begin deliveries of the armor within seven months after contract and to supply 300 tons monthly. The Carnegie Company will begin December first next and supply the same amount monthly.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TRANSPORTS.

Will Not Submit to Extortion and Will Exercise Sovereign Power.

Washington, May 25.—As to the Philippines, the acute stage has been reached. The government will, if necessary, immediately impress into service vessels under American registry.

The government of the United States is determined, peacefully if it can, forcibly, if it must, to put United States troops aboard boats at San Francisco and to land these troops at Manila.

Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, consenting to the use of his name, said that the government had every disposition to be reasonable and fair in its compensation for transportation of troops to the Philippines, but one thing might as well be distinctly understood—that these troops had to be taken across the Pacific and put at the service of General Merritt.

"We paid the City of Pekin $30,000," said the assistant secretary, "and we have not been unwilling to pay other boats at the rate of $1,000 per day. We think that is fair, but we are not willing to be duped.

"We fully realize the gravity of the situation, and we have been doing the best we could; hence I authorize you to say that after reasonable advances by the government shall have been exhausted we propose to impress such boats as we may need."

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION.

The Resolution, It is Said, Will Come Before the House.

Washington, May 25.—Speaker Reed has about given up his fight against Hawaii, and announces that he will allow the annexation resolution to come before the House before the week ends. At a conference yesterday Congressman Tawney of Minnesota showed him a canvass of the House showing very few members who would confess that they were opposed to annexation.

The argument seems to have had its effect upon the speaker, and it is now expected that the House will pass the resolution before the first of June, and that it will go to the Senate at once.

A FLAG FOR MORA CASTLE.

New Jersey Veterans Present One to Be Used When Havana Falls.

Washington, May 25.—A delegation from the New Jersey G. A. R. visited the war department yesterday and called on Secretary Alger, and presented him with a magnificent silk American flag and requested that when the Americans took Havana it be raised over Morro Castle.

The delegation was referred to General Miles, who notified the New Jerseymen that the flag would be used for the purpose they requested. The veterans, after leaving the war department called at the White House.

Wire-Tapper Sent to Jail.

Chicago, May 25.—Oscar M. Stone began yesterday serving a six months' sentence in jail for wire tapping. The prisoner is believed to have been the most successful wire tapper in the country. Heretofore he has entirely escaped punishment. The sentence in this case was pronounced by Judge Grosscup of the United States circuit court. The particular offense was interfering with wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company, a few miles outside of Chicago, just across the Indiana border.

Killed His Wife, Then Shot Himself.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—A double tragedy occurred in this city Monday evening. About 6 o'clock Arthur A. Spoor, a travelling photographer, whose home is in Syracuse, N. Y., went to the house where his wife was and shot her dead. He then walked over to a park nearby and fired a bullet into his brain. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

Spain's New Foreign Minister.

The duke said that he did not desire the office, but that he accepted it on patriotic grounds.

Irishmen Against An Alliance.

COAST SIGNAL SYSTEM

Impossible For a Hostile Ship to Approach Unobserved.

HOW THE SYSTEM WORKS

Over Two Thousand Observers from Bar Harbor to Galveston on Duty—Most Complete, Comprehensive and Efficient System for Observing Approach of a Hostile Fleet Ever Put Into Operation—Reports from Stations Received Daily.

Washington, May 24.—After several weeks of work along the entire stretch of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, the navy department has completed the most comprehensive and efficient system for observing the approach of a hostile fleet that has ever been put into operation. A new bureau has been created for this purpose, known as the Coast Signal Service, in charge of Captain Bartlett, who attends to this as well as the naval board of information. The system has the services of 2,300 men stretched along the coast from Bar Harbor, Me., to Galveston, Tex. These are divided into thirty-four central stations about sixty to one hundred miles apart. The stations are in turn connected by telegraph with the coast signal office of the navy department, and operators are on duty night and day keeping the navy department in constant telegraphic touch with the entire stretch of Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Secretary Long projected this plan a month ago, and $75,000 was set aside to establish the points of observation along the coast. After selecting the 34 central points from Maine to Texas, rush orders were given to build observation towers and towers for the observers. The naval militia was drawn to man the different observation towers, and five militiamen, with the rank of naval quartermasters, are now on duty at each of these stations. The towers are completed and also the small houses for their living purposes. There are 223 of these militiamen now in service.

Other Assistance.

The next step was to have the lighthouse service made an adjunct to this coast observation. This was done through the co-operation of the treasury department, and the lighthouse force of 1,200 men, scattered from Maine and Texas, is assisting the work of observation. The life saving service was brought into similar co-operation, so that 1,060 life savers are added to the observation force. The thirty-four central stations, with the numerous lighthouses and life saving stations, make a complete chain of observation points, all connected by telegraph or telephone with one another and with the navy department.

By arrangement with the telegraph companies the reports from these observers take precedence over the private telegraphic business, so that the navy department is enabled to get immediate telegraphic notice of the approach of any hostile fleet or suspicious ship.

Work Thoroughly Systematized.

The work of observation has been thoroughly systematized. Watches are kept in the towers throughout the day and night. The life saving crews in particular are assigned to night duty, and they patrol the beach throughout the night, on the outlook for approaching ships. All the central points and the observers have been supplied with telescopes and full appliances for marine observation. They are also supplied with torches, rockets and other paraphernalia for signaling.

The results already secured have showp the efficiency of the plans adopted. Naval vessels passing along the coast are able to signal day or night by torches and otherwise with the naval observers along the beach and these signals are immediately telegraphed to the navy department here. Thus the naval vessels can be kept in constant communication with the department without the necessity of coming into port.

With the system in its present perfected condition the navy department feels assured that it knows exactly the condition of affairs along the entire stretch of Atlantic and Gulf coast. The system is simply a precautionary one, as the department has had no reason to believe that Spanish ships were menacing points along the coast.

It is further believed that Spain is endeavoring to transfer important interests in the Philippines in a way to bring foreign influences to bear for the purpose of restraining the operations of this government. Altogether the Philippines are now regarded as the key to the situation, their possession involving great interests and possibly most important events in the future.

It is said that there is not the least doubt or hesitation on the part of the administration with respect to the policy to be pursued and that possession is to be taken of the entire group of islands.

SAIL FOR MANILA.

Transports With 2,588 Men Left for Philippines Yesterday.

San Francisco, May 25.—Four companies of the Fourteenth Infantry, the full regiment of Oregon Volunteers and a picked battalion of fifty California Heavy Artillery left the Presidio yesterday and boarded the transports City of Sydney and Australia, preparatory to starting for Manila.

The strength of General Anderson's command is 117 officers and 2,382 enlisted men. The navy contingent consists of 11 officers and 75 enlisted men. The total for the three vessels is 128 officers and 2,458 enlisted men.

The transports were in readiness for the troops, who marched on board with little delay. About noon the steamers left the docks and anchored out in the stream near the Pekin. There the finishing touches will be given to the cargoes of the transports and this morning the three big steamships will start for Manila.

The transports will reach Honolulu by next Tuesday and will coal and depart convoyed by the cruiser Charleston, which will arrive there on Sunday.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Report of the Home Mission Board—The Charity Embezzlement.

Winona Lake, Ind., May 25.—The report of the Board of Home Missions, submitted to the Presbyterian General Assembly, began with an extended review of the work in the whole field, saying in conclusion that "in spite of circumstances the financial year had been a good one." The year opened with a debt of $147,276, and closed with a debt of $167,839, an increase of $20,562. This is accounted for by the change from quarterly to monthly payments of salaries to the missionaries in the field.

Contributions amounted to $698,940, a decrease of $93,464 from last year, when special efforts were made. Operating expenses were cut down by $7,515, and administration cost $30,578. For mission work $421,748 was given, and for Sunday school work $277,192. The total expenditures amounted to $722,965, of which $440,280 was for mission work and $225,866 for Sunday schools.

Under the board are 1,398 missionaries, 84,682 church members, 2,018 Sunday schools, with 123,612 pupils. Of the 1,632 churches under the care of the board ten became self supporting during the year.

The year, on the whole, had been the most prosperous in the board's history. The expenses had been reduced 20 per cent. The numoer of students was 2,732, a gain of 16. The receipts were $145,246, and the expenses $102,461. The cash on hand amounts to $43,785.

RED CROSS READY TO START.

State of Texas to Follow the Fleet of Troops Into Cuban Waters.

Tampa, Fla., May 25.—The Red Cross ship State of Texas, with Miss Clara Barton, representative of the National Red Cross Society of America and a corps of surgeons and trained nurses, arrived at Port Tampa from Key West yesterday and cast anchor near the gunboat Helena. The vessel, which is fully fitted up for special purposes and carries supplies enough for the equipment of several Red Cross stations, will, it is said, follow the fleet of troops into Cuban waters.

In speaking of the Red Cross work in Cuba, Miss Barton said that she had received assurances from the highest Spanish official sources that the hospital at Serro and her headquarters were being carefully guarded, and that the Red Cross supplies left there were being put to their intended uses. In the hospital at Serro, where sixty children were being cared for when Miss Barton left the island, there were now 160 children receiving medical attention.

"General Blanco himself belongs to the Red Cross Society of Spain," said Miss Barton, "and I am confident that the Red Cross work in Cuba will not be interfered with."

Miss Barton left for Washington last night.

GLADSTONE'S BODY IN STATE.

At Hawarden To-day and To-morrow; at Westminster Abby Until Saturday.

London, May 25.—The body of the late William Ewart Gladstone laid in state at Hawarden yesterday, and will lie in state in the church to-day and in Westminster Abbey Thursday and Friday.

The funeral will be held Saturday.

The state procession will consist merely of members of both Houses of Parliament, who, in ordinary morning dress, not court costumes, will precede the body, which will be followed by members of the family and mourners.

The pall bearers will include Lord Salisbury, Lord Rosebery, Lord Kimberley, Lord Spencer Sir William Harcourt, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Morley and the Duke of Norfolk.

As the funeral is to be a national tribute, no political organization will be recognized in connection with it. Some idea of the size of the throng expected to gather at Westminster to see the body lying in state may be gleaned from the fact that the police authorities are providing 1,500 extra police to regulate the crowd.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S BIRTHDAY.

Celebrated in a Manner Quite Unusual in Army Circles.

Tampa, Fla., May 25.—The proposed Anglo-American alliance was the uppermost topic in Tampa yesterday. Queen Victoria's birthday was celebrated in a manner quite unusual in American army circles. To be sure, there was nothing official about it, but officers were present at the dinner at the Tampa Bay Hotel, for which an announcement under crossed American and British flags and the motto "Blood is thicker than water," had been out for two or three days. Two British officers, Captain Lee of the Royal Artillery, and Sir Bryan Leighton, Bart., of the Berkshire Yeomanry, are with the troops, and their popularity is very great. Sir Bryan was present last night at an informal dinner given to the naval officers in port by the officers of the Ninth United States Cavalry.

Sir Louis Davies Coming.

Ottawa, May 25.—Sir Louis Davies, minister of marine and fisheries, left for Washington yesterday afternoon to take part in the conference looking to a settlement of the disputed questions between Canada and the United States.

Soldiers' Cemeteries.

This Memorial day we dedicate thousands of wreaths to the memory of one whom those who place the flowers never saw, brave Ensign Worth Bagley of the Winslow, the first man who fell in the war with Spain. Neither will those heroes who were hurled by the dastard hand of treachery to their death in foul Havana bay be forgotten. Some of these lie in the cemetery of Havana, others rest at Tampa, the bodies of a few were taken to their own homes north and south. Of many of those who were killed on the Maine not even the bodies or any trace could be recovered. But wherever they sleep or whether their bones still lie in the slime of Havana bay American men, loyal women, beautiful maidens on Memorial day with bowed head and moist eyes will remember the Maine. All over this beautiful land we place flowers on Memorial day to the sacred memory of those good men and true whose dying cry sounded the deathknell of the foul, monstrous and murderous old kingdom of Spain. By the destruction of the Maine she filled the measure of her iniquity full.

Memorial day is henceforth sure to be observed perpetually in this republic. New graves, alas, will be added to those in the plots now grown close with the green turf of years. This war is only in its opening. The sacrifice of patriot lives that must be before it is ended has scarcely yet begun. This time the sadness will have running through it an emotion of thankfulness that wherever they fall the northern and southern soldier will be alike held in sacred remembrance by all the people of America.

The United States government owns and cares for 83 national burying grounds. The men whose bodies lie within them were soldiers. Besides these the government also takes care of plots in 320 private cemeteries where those who gave their lives in its defense were buried. Living or dead, United States soldiers are well cared for by their grateful country.

There is one pathetic feature connected with the soldiers' graves in the national cemeteries. It is that of the 331,000 soldiers interred therein the headstones of more than 140,000 are marked simply "Unknown." On the battlefields of the civil war fell thousands whose poor remains could be in no way identified. At Fredericksburg, Va., where was fought the bloodiest battle of the war, there are 12,786 of these nameless graves. We place roses and lilies in remembrance of these 140,000 heroes. We know them not, yet the name and number of every one are recorded in the books kept in the kingdom of the great white throne.

The strongest proof of the towering greatness of Gladstone is that, starting in life as a Conservative, he became step by step more liberal toward reforms of all kinds, till at length he stood out as the most radical of England's statesmen. The oldest man in the nation's councils was the youngest in his mental attitude toward human progress. It is proof, too, of the powerful affectional nature of the man that it was his friendship for Sir Robert Peel which first lined him up with the Liberals of England. He disestablished the church of England in Ireland. He gave Ireland also liberal land laws. He laid the foundation for the state free school system of the kingdom. Likewise he gave us two phrases that will last as long as the English language. He first made use of the expression, the "unspeakable Turk," and he first spoke of us, the American people, as England's "kin beyond sea."

Admiral Cervera, commander of the Spanish squadron that came dodging around the West Indies, is a fine looking man. If he belonged to another country and was not handicapped by having the dynasty of old Spain hanging like a millstone about his neck, he might make something of himself yet. When the Portuguese drove him and his fleet away from St. Vincent, he issued to his men a proclamation beginning, "After a three years' struggle in Cuba we are now about to see the end." Exactly so. Admiral Cervera and his men are about to see the end, the end not only of the war, but of about everything earthly for Spain herself. For some of those unfortunate men whom Cervera addressed the end will undoubtedly be the bottom of the ocean.

As soon as Admiral Dewey whipped the Spaniards in Manilla bay the great naval experts of all nations began to investigate the fight. They received all the evidence on both sides in regard to it, they studied it this way and that, they stethoscoped it and examined it through a microscope and an audiphone. After sitting on it for weeks they rendered the solemn verdict that Admiral Dewey gained the victory because of superiority at sea. It takes experts a long time to find things out sometimes.

There are people who consider it weak-minded to pray or believe in the power of prayer. Yet Gladstone, the greatest statesman of England, had perfect faith in it all his life.

Wherever Madrid dispatches announce a Spanish fleet to be, that will on general principles be the place not to look for it.

Already they are naming newly arrived live stock for Admiral Dewey. It has come to that.

Removal of the repair shops of the Central Railroad Company from Phillipsburg to Elizabethport may prove a convenience to the company and to the manufacturing section of Union, but it will paralyze the struggling little town in Warren. The few thousands of dollars that were given monthly to the employes of the shops so circulated in Phillipsburg as practically to keep business alive, and their loss will be felt keenly by the local tradesmen.—New York Press.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

The "oldest resident" stood with uplifted head squinting his optics at the peak of the liberty pole as it was being raised to a lofty position at the intersection of Park avenue and Front street yesterday afternoon. The "oldest resident" is nothing if not always reminiscent.

"Jiminy crack, them fellers are slick," said the "oldest resident" in a voice cracked by sixty-seven years of existence as he watched the dozen men slowly but surely setting the massive Norway pine in an upright position. "Why, in my day a pole raisin' was made a great celebration. People come in for miles around, and when the time came to raise her we all lent a hand, and with a heave and a ho she went up in the air to the tune of 'The Star Spangled Banner' by the brass band. Everybody was boss on them occasions, and the biggest bosses was the ones who looked on. I tell you, times have changed wonderfully since I was a boy."

And then the "oldest resident" wiped his eyes with a bandana handkerchief and went on his way, marvelling at the changes in his life.

Though the trolley has not yet begun to hum in Somerville, the staid citizens of the county seat have been frightened by their first accident due to the introduction of the electric street railway. A few days ago a gang of men were unloading car rails on Main street, and were making a great deal of noise in doing the work. An old farm horse from somewhere up in the hills wasn't used to such slambang ncises, and after pricking up his ears he loosened his legs a bit and took the old farmer by surprise. The frisky steed proceeded to mount the pile of rails in his excitement and after freeing himself from the wagon he further proceeded to execute a horse skirt dance along Main street. The friskiness of the horse became epidemic and two other farm horses broke their fastenings and ran in two different directions. Then there was more excitement in Somerville than since the county fair. Three mad farmers finally succeeded in catching their wild animals and returned home cursing the civilization that allowed street railways to invade the quietude of their favorite town.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

There were many pleased patrons last evening to witness the performance of the American Stock Company, now playing at Music Hall. The piece, or rather the humorous farce comedy, entitled "Uncle," which filled the boards, kept the audience in an uproar from the time the curtain went up until the finish of the comedy. It was all laughs, and enjoyment prevailed the entire night. The performances given by this stock company are really worth a dollar to witness, but are only 10, 20 and 30 cents. For tonight "An Iron Will," a beautiful pastoral drama, closely resembling "Shore Acres," will be the play. It should draw a crowded house, for without flattery, this is the very best dramatic repertoire company seen here this season.

* * * * *

With the closing performance of the American Stock Company the dramatic season of 1897-98 may be said to have ended at Music Hall, for Manager Maze Edwards has cancelled a few bookings made for June, in the belief that his patrons do not hanker after solid amusement or amusements of heavy character. As an offset, however, arrangements have been made with our new band organization—the Queen City Band—under direction of Benj. LaVere, for a series of weekly concerts, continuing until the opening of the regular fall dramatic season. These concerts will be made enjoyable in every way. Mr. LaVere's well-known ability as a conductor and director is guarantee that the work of his band and selections offered will be first-class, and to make the several concerts more interesting there will be special features of vaudeville and solcists at every presentation. The first concert is fixed for tomorrow night. We trust to chronicle a crowded house.

Notwithstanding the hot weather, "Way Down East" packed the Manhattan Theatre in New York every night during the past week. The 125th performance was celebrated last Monday night by the distribution of gold-lined silver bonbonnierre baskets with the portrait of Phœbe Davies photographed on the metal. Perhaps the best evidence of the strength of this beautiful rustic drama lies in the fact that while five theatres in New York had to close their season last week on account of lack of attendance, Messrs. Brady & Ziegfeld were compelled to display the "standing room" sign nearly every night. It is to the credit of the theatre going public that they appreciate a pure and wholesome drama properly staged and well acted. It is doubtful if there has ever been another play produced that combines the simple pathos, deep heart interest and homely simplicity of "Way Down East." The embellishments to the story in the shape of the quaint character bearings in the play and the realistic scenery are no small items in the play's success.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 25—A Daily Press representative made further inquiries yesterday regarding the illness of several Dunellen people caused by eating chocolate eclaires and cream puffs, which were purchased at a local bakery. It seems that during the present sort of weather this kind of pastry will keep about twenty-four hours, while under ordinary conditions they will keep about forty-eight hours. The pastry was thought to be all right until so many persons were affected. Among those taken ill were Mrs. Apgar, Miss Fanny Smith, Miss Della Fritts, Will Terry, Mr. Bowlsby and several others. One of the most violent cases was that of Edward Kline, of Plainfield. He called on Dr. Brakeley and the latter said that his symptoms were similar to that of cholera morbus. He had to be placed in his wagon and sent home by a boy. There were other violent cases but Dr. Brakeley succeeded in bringing them around all right. The baker was convinced as to what caused the illness and he has decided not to make any more such pastry for the present, or at least if he does he will not keep them too long.

A number of the members of the W. C. T. U. were in Plainfield yesterday attending the annual meeting of the School of Methods of Union County, which was held in the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Moynihan is making some improvements to one of his houses on North avenue. Mr. Apgar is doing the work.

Miss Becker has returned to her home at Raritan, after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. A. G. Anderson.

Miss Della Fritts, of North avenue, was the guest of Plainfield friends yesterday.

Miss Mamie Pyquett is the guest of her aunt at Philadelphia, Pa., for a few days.

Percy Abbott, of Church street, has returned from a visit with Somerville relatives.

Miss Jamison, of Church street, has returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

Joel Giddis has secured a position with S. G. Smith, and has started to work.

Mr. Lance, of Plainfield, was in the borough yesterday on business.

Matthew Eagany, of North avenue, has been slightly indisposed.

NEW MARKET.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to the Daily Press)

Scotch Plains, May 25.—A special meeting of Excelsior Hook & Ladder Company was held in their rooms Monday evening to take final action on Decoration Day exercises. A communication was read from John Hand Camp, S. of V., stating that they were unable to unite with Excelsior and other organizations of the village in observing Decoration Day. A motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed with power by the company to confer with the other committee and make all arrangements necessary for the observance of the day as usual. Music will be engaged if it is possible to secure any. The Township Committee will probably be asked to increase their appropriation from $10 to $20, and it is expected the day will be observed as patriotically as ever.

Twelve friends of George MacCauly and John Schmidt, made up a party and visited Camp Black Sunday. They report the boys enjoying the life of a soldier and are anxious to go to the front and shoot Spaniards.

A stereopticon entertainment, consisting of American and Spanish ships, Spanish scenes and war views, will be given in the Baptist church Thursday evening, for the benefit of the electric light fund.

Mrs. T. M. Paff, Jr., has returned from a visit with her parents in Brooklyn. Miss Edith Gere, Mrs. Paff's sister, accompanied her and will spend several days in town.

Mrs. Henry Johnston who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Johnston, has returned to her home in Tenafly.

The neighborhood prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George W. Marsh this evening.

Wm. Corey has accepted a position with the Walter Scott Press Works in Plainfield.

Edward Johnston returned Monday from a visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hand visited relatives in Plainfield Sunday.

AMOLIN

Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others—covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

THE WOMANS WORLD

Hints for the Would-be-Leader.

In the life of Madame Mohl, a woman who, without rank, fortune or beauty, held a controlling position in French society for the greater part of a century, there are useful hints for American women who wish to gain influence in the world.

Her dinners were famous. The most learned, wise and witty men of every country were her guests, and she gave much anxious thought to assorting them, to placing them at the table, and to the suggestion of subjects which would draw from each the best he could give. The food was plentiful, but plain and simply cooked, and only a white-capped maid served it. There was no display of any kind.

Queen Sophia of Holland, when visiting Napoleon III., expressed a wish to dine with Madame Mohl, who asked a brilliant company to meet her.

"And what will be your menu?" asked an anxious friend.

"Oh, Marie must cook us a lobster," said the old lady. "She cooks lobster very nicely."

The usual simple dinner was served, with its sauce of rare wit and wisdom, and the Queen was enchanted.

The next day, with her suite, she came to call upon her hostess. Madame Mohl, her gray hair in curl-papers, attired in a short jacket and skirt, was busy dusting the chairs, while the linen from the laundry was spread upon the table. When the royal party suddenly entered, the old lady laid down her brush, and, after welcoming the Queen, chatted away as gaily as usual.

"Were you not mortified at being caught in such a dress?" a friend asked the next day.

"Not a bit, my dear. I didn't mind it. Neither did her Majesty. I suppose it was important to her maid and the flunkey who waited behind her, and they were mortified."

Mark Hanna's Daughters.

Speaking of Senator Hanna's daughters, the Chicago Chronicle says: "Senator Mark Hanna's stern old heart goes out to his two daughters, Mabel and Ruth, the pride of the Hanna household. Mabel, the elder, greatly resembles, in a feminine way, her father, and possesses many of his characteristics. She is slender and of medium height, and has brown hair and dark gray eyes. Her attire is always fashionable. She has a great fondness for both society and the theater, and is seen at most of the important social functions both in Cleveland and Washington.

"Ruth, the younger, is a graceful and beautiful girl, a decided brunette, and inherits her mother's social tact. She is much taller than her sister, and has brown eyes and a pale, clear complexion. Both girls are good whips, and take great pleasure in driving a high-stepping steed to a well-appointed cart in fine weather. Miss Mabel Hanna is especially fond of dogs. It is said that the well-known Ohio politician hopes that both girls will make marriages more to his taste than his son, who was recently involved in divorce proceedings."

Home Training Shows in the Child.

The trend of the home training shows itself early in the child's life, and often by single small acts it is made evident that the principles of courtesy are inculcated, says an exchange. The expression of thoughtfulness on the part of a young member of the family for the comfort of a guest always is a pleasant sight, and does more honor to the mother than does costly furnishing.

Into a modest little home of four rooms, where the monthly income is so small that there is nothing for luxuries, and where the mother's days are so busy that there is no time for social amenities, a visitor entered on a warm mid-summer afternoon. She had been seated only a few moments when the little daughter of five summers came in with a pitcher of water drawn at a neighboring well and with a glass rubbed until it shone, and offered a drink to the lady with the grace which sometimes is wanting in the child of the mansion. There had been no opportunity for a word from the mother, and the stranger recognized the little courtesy as the result of careful home training.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Buttermilk for Dyspepsia.

Buttermilk, says a correspondent to the New York Medical Journal, which at one time was thought only fit for hogs, as its virtues are better known is eagerly sought after as not only a healthy, but a very pleasant drink, especially by the dyspeptic and old people. Down the street the other day was noticed a stand around which several old men, most of them millionaires, were gathered, drinking great glasses of rich, iced buttermilk. This, one of them said, was his lunch, and he often came down town to get his drink. The lactic acid dissolves the phosphate of lime, and keeps the blood in good condition, thereby preventing or retarding that ossification of tendons and arteries so common in old people.

Rules of a Chilian Society.

Among the rules of a Chilian society formed "to raise woman to the position she deserves and which God gave her at the creation" is one to the effect that "members shall be scrupulously clean when they attend the meetings, where dresses of elegant simplicity, of small cost and suitable to the age of the wearer; but this is no obstacle to the beauty of fit which will augment the beauty of the younger members."—New York World.

THE WOMANS WORLD

What a Woman's Sympathy Can Do.

There was a strangely sympathetic side to this saddest of the prisons of Paris (St. Lazare, for women). The sick and worn out were always tenderly regarded by their fellow prisoners, and if a woman died in the prison it was not unusual for the rest to club together to provide a costly funeral.

In the early days of the Restoration, a pretty peasant girl named Marie was sent to St. Lazare for stealing roses. She had a passion for the flower, and a thousand mystical notions had woven themselves about it in her mind. She said that rose trees would detach themselves from their roots and glide after her wherever she went, to tempt her to pluck the blossoms. One in a garden, taller than the rest, had compelled her to climb the wall and gather as many roses as she could, and there the gendarmes found her.

This poor girl excited the most vivid interest in that sordid place. The prisoners plotted to restore her to reason, christened her Rose, which delighted her, and set themselves to make artificial roses for her of silk and paper. Those fingers, so rebellious at allotted tasks, created roses without number, till Marie's cell was transformed into a bower.

An interested director of prison labor seconded these efforts, and opened in St. Lazare a work room for the manufacture of artificial flowers, to which Marie was introduced as an apprentice.

Here she made roses from morning till night, and her dread of the future being dispelled, the malady of her mind reached its term with the end of her sentence, and she left the prison cured and happy. She became one of the most successful florists in Paris.

How to Walk and be Benefitted.

To derive the greatest benefit from walking it is necessary to hold up the head; keep the mouth closed and move briskly; it is in these circumstances that walking is really good for us. Walking erect not only adds to the manliness of appearance, but it develops the chest and promotes the general health in a high degree, because the lungs, being relieved of the pressure made by leaning the head downward and bending the chest in admit the air fully and freely. If an effort of the mind is made to throw the shoulders back a feeling of fatigue and awkwardness is at first experienced, but this is soon forgotten. To maintain an erect position or to recover it when lost, in a manner which is at once natural, easy and efficient it is only necessary to walk habitually with the eyes fixed on an object ahead a little higher than your own—the top of a man's hat, for example—or simply keep the chin a little above a horizontal line. If either of these things are done the necessary easy and legitimate effect is to relieve the chest from pressure, the air gets in more easily, developes it more fully and permeates the lungs more exclusively, causing a more perfect purification of the blood imparting greater health and more color to the cheek.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Don't Always Protest.

The protesting woman may please a man occasionally, but she can never make herself eternally pleasing to him Suppose a man offers to take a letter to the box on the corner for you, to buy some medicine that he thinks would do your cold good, to step around to a library to get some book that you are wishing for; don't protest. Your impulse and the impulse of the average woman of to-day is, to say rather impatiently, "Oh, I wouldn't trouble you for worlds. I can mail my own letter," or "I never take medicine for a cold," or "I have something else I can read to-night." In your heart you appreciate the man's offer, but you obey your first impulse, and that is to protest. I know men well, and they aren't half bad. They are creatures who never do anything that they do not want to do, or, rather, when they do a thing it is solely because they want to do it, and it provokes them beyond polite expression to have a woman show that she had rather do things for herself. Every woman loves to be pleasing to men, and the woman who makes the greatest success along this line is she who always, under all circumstances, allows men to do things for her. Every woman should see to it that she crushes down and chokes out the impulse in her to protest.

For Cramps in the Leg.

A doctor offers this advice to people who suffer from cramp in the legs: "When I have a patient who is subject to cramp I always advise him to provide himself with a good, strong cord. A long garter will do if nothing else is handy. When the cramp comes on take the cord, wind it around the leg over the place that is cramped, and take an end in each hand and give it a sharp pull—one that will hurt a little. Instantly the cramp will depart, and the sufferer can go to bed assured that it will not come on again that night. I have saved myself many a good night's rest simply by posting my patients subject to spasms of the legs how to use the cord as above. I have never known it to fail, and I have tried it after they had worked half the night and the patient was in the most intense agony."—Troy Times.

"Some people get so much fun out of life."

"Yes; they get lots of fun out of life because they put lots of fun into it."—Detroit Free Press.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Das Centralkomite der deutschen Vereine vom Rothen Kreuz hat in einer seiner letzten Sitzungen die Frage einer etwaigen Unterstützung des spanischen und des amerikanischen Rothen Kreuzes erörtert. Es wurde beschlossen, den Gang der kriegerischen Ereignisse zunächst abzuwarten, indem bisher zu einer erhöhten Thätigkeit der Gesellschaften vom Rothen Kreuz in beiden Ländern noch kein Anlaß gegeben sein dürfte.—Mehr als 24,000 bebaute Grundstücke sind nach den letzten amtlichen Erhebungen in Berlin vorhanden; davon befinden sich etwa 1000 im Besitze des Fiskus und der Gemeinde. Etwa 23,000 Häuser sind im Privatbesitz, etwa 1000 Grundstücke unterstehen der selbstständigen Disposition von Verwaltern.—Der Spekulationsmakler Paul Kucke hat sich das Leben genommen. Er soll sich bereits seit längerer Zeit in Zahlungsschwierigkeiten befunden haben. Seine nunmehrigen Verpflichtungen waren aber nur unbedeutend.—Die biologische Abtheilung für Land- und Forstwirthschaft soll nach Dahlem bei Berlin gelegt werden, wohin auch der botanische Garten kommt.

Spandau. Eine große Wassersnoth herrschte neulich hier über Samstag und Sonntag. Das städtische Wasserwerk stellte plötzlich wegen einer am Hauptrohr auszuführenden Arbeit seine Thätigkeit ein, und die Wasserversorgung hatte gänzlich aufgehört. Der Unwille der Bevölkerung war um so heftiger, als die Verwaltung eine Benachrichtigung von diesem Zwischenfall, den man voraussehen konnte, unterlassen hatte.

Provinz Hannover.

Hannover. Ein schwerer Unfall begegnete bei einem hiesigen Wettfahren dem bekannten Radfahrer Alex Verheyen. Ihm brach beim Endspurt die Gabel seiner Maschine, wodurch er zu Fall kam und von den ihm folgenden Konkurrenten überfahren wurde. Alex Verheyen erlitt schwere Verletzungen am Kopfe.

Geestemünde. Das 30jährige Bestreben der hiesigen Handelskreise hat jetzt endlich Erfolg gehabt; die so lange erstrebte, eine direkte Verbindung mit Berlin schaffende Bahn Geestemünde-Burkholz wird jetzt gebaut. Wohl so ziemlich als Novum dürfte es bei diesem Bahnbau bezeichnet werden, daß ihr Oberbau vom Militärfiskus ausgeführt wird.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Frankfurt. Zu 100 Mark Geldstrafe wurde der Zahnarzt Dr. Triesch von der hiesigen Strafkammer verurtheilt. Derselbe hatte die bei ihm bedienstete 20 Jahre alte Margarethe Walter geohrfeigt und mit einer Gerte geschlagen. Er befand sich in hochgradiger Aufregung, weil das Dienstmädchen in frivoler Weise seiner Frau eine böse Nachrede anhängte.

Homburg. Der Kaiser beabsichtigt, das unter dem Landgrafen Friedrich Josef im Jahre 1828 begonnene und nicht vollendete Gothische Haus am Taunus zu einem Jagdschloß auszubauen.

CORPORATION NOTICE.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERS.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a regular adjourned meeting held Monday, May 16, 1898, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, June sixth, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of the sewers contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in portions of East Second street, Plainfield avenue, West Front street and Giraud avenue," approved May 2, 1898, as provided for in the plans adopted March 21st, 1898, and specifications adopted April 16, 1898, by the Common Council, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $300.00, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required and the work to be done is as follows:

1200—lineal feet 24 inch sewer.
1262— " " 12 " "
5—manholes.
13—catch basins.
200—lineal feet 12 inch basin connections.
60—lineal feet 10 inch basin connections.

Duplicate plans, forms of proposals, specifications, contract, bond, etc., may be examined at the office of the Engineer, 152 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed, "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

"The Portland Range" doesn't give you worry—but comfort—and lots of it.

No "Mystery" Here

—you're heartily welcome to look all over our three great buildings and see every bit of our enormous furniture and carpet stock—and when you come to place your order you'll be asked to pay an honest price, free from all strange, mysterious "extras"—no matter what credit you want. Cash or credit—we're a low-priced, square-dealing house near 40 years old.

Go to any part of the globe and a better chosen line of baby carriages can not be found—as a season's "starter," one lot of new pattern four-wheelers at $3.50.

$14.95—Another carload of this, the year's most popular seller—it's $20 worth if it's worth anything. Beveled plate mirror, high finish solid oak, neat trimmings. Not at all like the ordinary cheap suit put together to "sell" and not last. Other suits also on sale—a curly birch suit, was $40—now $30. An 8-piece quartered oak suit, now $35—was $50.

Free

with every Refrigerator sold

—to open season we're giving away, absolutely free, a fine ice pick, pair of tongs and water pan—all of fine galvanized iron; worth $1 usually.

We're ready with lots of kinds—all trusted makes—of refrigerators—hard and soft woods, cooler attachments, etc., $3.50 up.

"The Wickless Blue Flame" Oil Stove—as simple as a lamp.—"The Monarch Vapor Stove"—another great invention—no waiting for vapor to generate—operated for visitors any hour of the day.

PICNIC TIME.

It's June ag'in, an' in my soul I feel the fillin' joy
That's sure to come this time o' year to every little boy;
For every June, the Sunday-schools at picnics may be seen.
Where "neids beyont the swellin' floods stand dressed in livin' green'"
Where little girls are skeered to death with spiders, bugs and ants,
An' little boys get grass-stains on their go to-meetin' pants.
It's June ag'in, an' with it all what happiness is mine—
There's goin' to be a picnic, an' I'm goin' to jine!
One year I jined the Baptists, an' goodness! how it rained!
(But gran'pa says that's the way "baptize" is explained.)
An' once I jined the 'Piscopils an' had a heap of fun—
But the boss of all the picnics was the Presbyterian!
They had so many puddin's, sallids, sand wiches an' pies,
That a feller wisht his stummick was as hungry as his eyes!
Oh, yes, the eatin' Presbyterians give yer is so fine
That when they have a picnic you bet I'm goin' to jine.

PAIR OF TRAINED GOLDFISH.

William F. Simon, Their Owner, Has Taught Them How to Dance.

William P. Simon, 485 East Forty-sixth street, Chicago, has a pair of trained goldfish. They are of the Japan fantail variety and 4 years old. He began training them when they were very small and now they perform many remarkable and amusing tricks. One of them is leaping through a ring. This he suspends by a cord in the natatorium and at the word of command they jump through it after the fashion of a dog through a hoop, back and forth, so long as the ring is held in position for them.

THE TRAINED GOLDFISH.

Mr. Simon also has taught them another novel but more intricate feat. It is no less than going through the figures of a quadrille. This, Mr. Simon says, required a great deal of time and a vast amount of patience, but he was finally rewarded with perfection in the unique performance. As there are only two of them they cannot be said to perform a quadrille proper, but they go through all the movements of the genuine article. "Forward and back," "cross over and back to places," "swing corners," "grand right and left" and "all promenade" are rendered with the utmost precision.

An Elephant's Neck.

The reason the elephant's neck is short is that the head of the animal is so heavy that were it placed at the end of a neck proportionate to the dimensions of that member in other animals, an almost incalculable amount of muscular force would be necessary to elevate and sustain it. The almost total absence of a neck obviates the difficulty, and the trunk serves as a substitute.

The uses and advantages of a long neck, peculiarly exemplified in the giraffe, which contains only the same number of vertebral articulations as in the elephant, are in the latter supplied by the trunk or proboscis, by which he is enabled to carry food to his mouth and to drink by suction. This curious organ contains a vast number of muscles variously interlaced, is extremely flexible, endowed with the most exquisite sensibility and the utmost diversity of motion and compensates amply for the absence of a long neck.—Golden Days.

Count the Spokes in a Bicycle.

In buying a wheel, count the spokes, and be sure that there are thirty-two in the front wheel, and thirty-six in the rear wheel, and if there are more, so much the better. Do not let the dealer persuade you that it makes no difference in strength and durability. In the craze for light wheels, manufacturers cut down the number of spokes, thus diminishing the weight of the wheel by a few ounces, and at the same time weakening the machine to the danger point. Happily the boys and young men have outgrown the species of idiocy, and have sense enough to insist upon safety, and the number of spokes is an important element in that respect.

AN AUTOGRAPH QUILT.

Product of the Industry of an Aged Woman of Topeka.

One of the greatest curiosities in Topeka is a quilt made by Mrs. Cornelia Blackman, of Pittsburg. Mrs. Blackman is 74 years old, and has spent ten years of her life working on the quilt.

The quilt is made of bits of ribbon, each containing the authograph of some statemen or well-known man or woman. Mrs. Blackman sent the ribbon to the celebrities herself, and she collected 479 autographs in that manner.

Among the names on the quilt are Roscoe Conkling, ex-President and Mrs R. B. Hayes, Benjamin Harrison, Grover Cleveland, Kate Field, General W. T. Sherman, Senator John Sherman, Lotta, Kate Douglas Wiggin, W. Q. Gresham and P. B. Plumb. To every name attaches some interesting history. For instance, Mrs. Blackman sent a piece of ribbon to Roscoe Conkling for his signature. He blotted one side, and, turning the ribbon over, wrote on the other side. She returned the disfigured ribbon to him and told him that she was surprised that a man of his standing should treat an old woman as he had done. This had its effect, and the ribbon came back all right, with a letter from Mr. Conkling apologizing for his carelessness.

Mrs. Blackman says that she has secured signatures from but two people who have not made themselves famous by some act. Those two are John W. Mackay, the California multi-millionaire, and Ward McAllister, now dead, but who was the leader of New York's Four Hundred for many years. She says that she does not consider that these men ever did anything to entitle them to a place among the famous on the quilt, but she put them there to have variety.—Topeka, Kan., Journal.

ARMORED PLANTS.

Thorns and Spines that Protect Plants from Their Enemies.

Did you ever stop to think why thistles are so well armed with sharp prickles or why the ugly roadside nettles are furnished with stinging hairs? Notice cattle grazing in a field where thistles or nettles grow; see how careful they are to let those disagreeable plants alone. That is the reason for the stings and the spines. See the honey locust tree bristling with its horrid array of three-pointed thorns. What animal is brave enough to try to rob it of its leaves or great pods? Hawthorns, too, and rose bushes and blackberry briars all have their sharp little swords and daggers to defend themselves against browsing animals.

Out on the wide, hot deserts of Arizona and New Mexico those odd plants, the cacti, grow in great numbers. Some of them take strange shapes—tall, fluted columns, branching candelabra, or mere round balls, like the melon-cactus. They are almost the only plants that grow in some parts of that country, and there is always plenty of sap inside their tough skins. To the hungry and thirsty creatures that roam those dreary wastes in search of food and water they are very tempting. Were they not in some way protected, these cacti would soon be entirely destroyed. But nature has made them to be like strong forts or great armored battle ships among plants. They are guarded by all sorts of sharp spines and prickles and fine hairs that burn when they get into the fleshy.—St. Nicholas.

Looking on the Bright Side.

The habit of looking on the bright side of things is a good one, and is worth a great deal to each one who cultivates it. Certainly one should not cultivate the habit of looking on the dark side, especially when he must draw on his forebodings and apprehensions for a victim of that dark side, and thus see not only what does not exist but what may never exist. God promises grace for each time of need, but not for each time of worry and anxiety. He promises to be with His people when they pass through the fire, but He does not promise to extinguish the fire before it has been lighted. He says that when His people pass through the waters they shall not overflow them, and we ought to be satisfied with that. If we trust in God the disasters we dread most will never come, or if they do He will change the disaster into benediction.

Salting Wells.

If any of our subscribers, says the Hazel Green Herald, have wells that are failing in water and will put a pint of salt in their wells they will find an increase of water within twenty-four hours. We do not know the philosophy of the matter, but several instances where the experiment has been tried, demonstrate beyond a doubt the efficacy of the experiment.

Compensation.

"It must be awful to have a member of one's family who is a black sheep. You don't know how I sympathize for you."

"Oh, it has its joys. Every time Willie gets into trouble the papers speak of us and call attention to how highly respectable we are."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Virtuous Indignation.

Mrs. Johnsing—My, but dese chickens, sholy am thin!

Decon Johnsing (severely)—Indeed dey is! Dat close-fisted Squiah Brown ought tuh be repohted tuh thuh S. P. C. A. for not feedin' dem.—New York Journal.

AROUND THE BASES.

Manager Mumford has just discovered a prize in the way of a pitcher. He is a young man who is now studying law in New York, and will later in the season join one of the national league teams. At present he wants to keep his arm in and so has expressed a willingness to play with the Crescents. He will make his appearance Saturday or Monday.

Three strong baseball teams will visit Plainfield within the next week to try conclusions with the Plainfield Crescents. The Hoboken A. A. will play here Saturday afternoon. Decoration Day morning the famous Murray Hills will meet the Crescents. In the afternoon the mighty Octoroons, of Orange, will cross bats with the Crescents at the Oval. All three games promise excellent sport for the lovers of the national game.

The Crescents will not meet the nines from Westfield or Cranford this year. When the Crescents were far weaker than they are at present they defeated those two teams with ease, and now a game with them would be such an easy thing as not to be worth considering. It should be remembered, however, that neither of the two teams make any pretentions to being in the same class with the Crescents, as their teams are largely composed of amateurs from their own towns.

Plainfield has just lost a good ball player, and Rutland, Vt, will gain one. Will Symons, who played right field for the Crescents, has moved to that city. Symons had the reputation of being able to pound the ball harder than any man in Plainfield. His multi-base hits were the talk of the town for many a week. Of late, however, he has not paid much attention to the national game, and has gotten somewhat out of practice, which rather retracted from his batting record of old. He was always an enthusiast in the game, however, even after trying to stop a hot liner with his face.

The Inn to Open June 4th.

The popular summer resort, the Mountain Park Inn, which stands on the very crest of the Watchung mountains overlooking Plainfield, will again open this summer. G. S. Moulton, of the Lakewood Hotel, whose experience in the conduct offirst-class hostelries is well-known to the Plainfield public through his connection with the Inn for the past two seasons, will be in command. With Mr. Moulton as proprietor, the guests at the Inn will be assured of the best of treatment and a service to be excelled by none. The Inn will be opened to the public on Saturday, June 4th.

Annual C. E. Conference.

The annual conference of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union will take place tomorrow evening in the Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. Rev. C. E. Herring, of this city, will deliver the address. Action will be taken at this conference upon certain amendments to the constitution with a view to bringing the department work of the local unions into harmony, as was considered advisable at the executive meeting held in Elizabeth May 10th. It is hoped that a large delegation of Endeavorers from this city will attend this conference.

Now in the Navy.

William H. Lawrence, of Sherman avenue, now a sailor in the United States navy, sailed this morning at 4 o'clock on the converted yacht Gloucester from Tompkinsville, S. I., for Key West. The Gloucester was formerly owned by Charles Pierpont Morgan. Lawrence was in good health when he sailed and very anxious to see some active service.

Roundsman Flynn at Sea Girt.

Roundsman Flynn, of the police department, was a visitor at Sea Girt yesterday. He says that he had a fine time. Regarding the soldiers not having enough to eat, he says that is not true. The men have plenty of good food and it is cooked and served nicely. The Plainfield boys, he says, are doing well, but are anxious for a change of programme.

BASEBALL UNDER BAN.

IT ALL ROSE OUT OF NEWARK BOYS' TRIP TO PLAINFIELD.

All But One Departed From The Newark High School Before The Session Ended—Suspensions Followed.

The baseball team of the Newark High School is no more and eight of the young men who played on it are thankful indeed to return to school after an enforced vacation. The innocent cause of all this trouble was Plainfield and the baseball team of the High School here.

Readers of The Daily Press will remember an exciting game that was played here the afternoon of Wednesday, May 4th, between the baseball teams of the Newark and Plainfield High Schools. The visitors won in the last inning by a small majority.

The game was called for 2 o'clock and the Plainfield boys had plenty of time to reach the grounds before the game. It was otherwise with the Newark boys. So they went in a body to Prof. Sonn, the science teacher at the Newark High, who was in charge of the High School during the absence of Principal Hovey, who was indisposed. They asked to be excused before the last recitation.

Like the Plainfield High School, the High School in Newark closes its session at 1 o'clock. The last recitation was an important one, and so Prof. Sonn told the boys that they could not go.

When the time came all the team except one, Roe, the second baseman, quietly gathered their hats and departed without taking the trouble to notify the acting principal of their departure. When they reached Plainfield they were compelled to wait for Roe was not there. He waited until the last recitation was over and then rushed for Plainfield, arriving here an hour after the rest. The game was then begun.

When the boys returned to school next day, all the team except Roe, were quietly suspended for leaving without permission. Then followed sundry interviews between the boys, their parents and the faculty. The young men were given to understand that as some of them were pretty far behind with their lessons, it might be better for their chances of graduation if baseball was allowed to lag. The hint was taken and the team that represented the Newark High School in the League of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association quietly disappeared.

This is the second of the school teams in the league that have been compelled to give up before the season was over. The Plainfield High School decided to give up its team for lack of financial support.

MEMORIAL DAY DETAILS.

By order of the Common Council, the flag raising will take place at 9:30 a. m., Memorial Day, under the auspices of Winfield Scott Post. No. 73, G. A. R. The post and public school children will be massed on Front street and Park avenue. The school cadets, under command of Captain Edwards, will be on the right flank. John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will be on the left flank. After the flag exercises the line of march will be formed on East Front street, right resting on Watchung avenue, in the following manner: First, platoon of police; second, marshal and aides; third, Queen City Band; fourth, school cadets; fifth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; sixth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; seventh, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; eighth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; ninth, John Hand Camp, S. of V., and school children.

I. L. McVoy, past post commander, will be marshal of the day, and his son, Percy McVoy, will be one of his assistants. Comrade Wm. Day will escort the children of the Bryant School to their position in the line of march at 8:30 Memorial Day morning. Comrade Stephens will perform the same duty at the Franklin School, while Comrade Wm. Smith will escort the chilren from the borough school. All children will meet at the above schools.

There was a regular meeting of Post 73 last evening and all final arrangements were made for next Monday as stated above.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ex-Councilman Tolles is confined to his home with the rheumatism.

Clarence Teel, of North avenue, spent last Sunday with friends at Lake Hopatcong.

Mrs. Daniel Page, of Elmwood place, left yesterday for Harrisburg, Pa., to visit relatives.

Miss Jennie Martin, of West Fourth street, spent Sunday and yesterday with friends in Bayonne.

Frank Dencklau, of Hall's pharmacy, who was thrown from his wheel and hurt Sunday morning, is recovering nicely.

Mrs. John Stimson, with her son and daughter, from Saranac Lake, are stopping at the Seminary on West Seventh street.

The engagement of Miss Gretchen Schultz, of Montclair, and George Haurand, of this city, is announced. The wedding will take place at an early date, and the newly married couple will reside on Grove street.

Capt. Souther Dead.

Capt. Samuel Adams Souther, who was formerly connected with the Pond Machine Tool Company when the plant was located at Worcester, Mass., died suddenly a few days ago of heart failure in Boise, Ida., where he has been living for sometime. Mr. Souther was well-known to many of the present employes of the Pond Company who were connected with the works before their removal to Plainfield. At the request of the Governor and the Adjutant-General of Idaho Mr. Souther was interred with military honors, attended by a large concourse of Idaho troops now stationed at Camp Stevenson. Capt. Souther was a brother of Mrs. D. W. Pond, of this city.

A Man of Many Places.

Marshal Schenck, of the borough, arrested Henry Little on Craig place, this morning about 1 o'clock. Little was in an intoxicated condition and unable to navigate. When he became sober he gave his residence as Westfield, New Providence and Elizabeth. He was arraigned before Recorder Long this morning and he took ten days in preference to paying a fine of $10.

WAR NEWS.

There are only two policemen here, drawing $25 a month each, and they have notified the authorities of their intention to resign.

With Dewey.

San Francisco, May 25, 9 a. m—The expedition to relieve Dewey is ready to start. Three large transports are now loaded with troops.

Madrid, May 25, 1:10 p. m—An official despatch from Manila asserts that the majority of the chiefs who participated in the last insurrection, have presented themselves to the Governor General of the Phillippines and offered their services to Spain.

READY TO MAN THE BADGER.

Two Hundred and Thirty Naval Militiamen Sworn In on the Portsmouth.

The detail of 230 membeis of the Battalion of the East, naval militia of New Jersey, selected to man the auxiliary cruiser Badger, were mustered into the service of the United States yesterday afternoon on board the old sloop of-war Portsmouth, at the foot of Fourth street, Hoboken.

They will be retained on the Portsmouth until the Badger is ready to go into commission, which it is expected will not be later than next Monday. Dr. M. S. Simpson and Frank Fulton, of this city, were mustered in as surgeon and apothecary, respectively.

SOLD UNDER DISTRESS WARRANT.

An Inglorious Ending for Dr. Warde's Military Academy.

Yesterday morning a portion of the goods of the departed Dr. Warde were sold at public auction to satisfy the claim for rent made by Mrs. Julia Peck, of New York, owner of the building occupied by the New Jersey Military Academy.

There was a good attendance at the sale and everything that fell beneath the hammer went at a good price. Articles to the amount of $110 were sold and then the sale closed The rent was covered and the rest of the goods will be stored preparatory to the settling of the attachment suits covering them.

In Justice Mattison's court yesterday judgment was given in the following cases against Dr. Warde for the varying amounts: T. J. Carey, $9.35 and costs; F. S. Runyon, $114 90 and costs; C. H. Hand, $20 and costs; George F. Brown, $13 83 and costs; A. L. Force, $31 25 and costs, and H. W. Marshall, $21.96. Execution was issued in all the cases.

Woodhull & Martin Can Dress You Up.

Woodhull & Martin are prepared to dress you out in excellent taste for Memorial Day. Stylish goods and splendid quality that fit an ecomical purse are to be found in their big store. In their selection they aim to get the newest and consequently the most desirable. With such a firm at home there is no need of Plainfielders hurrying off to New York for natty garments of any sort. They have a new advertisement in today's Press, and it's chock full of interesting store talk.

—Rev. Arthur Crane, of Kensington avenue, commences a series of revival meetings at Gloucester, Mercer county, tonight.

—John Hummel, who reeently purchased the property corner of Duer street and Linden avenue, has built an addition to the house and opened a dairy, where he offers for sale pure milk, cream, etc. He expects to sell cream this summer.

One of the little daughters of Mrs. Pliny T. Fisk is very ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. C. W. McCutchen, of Washington Park, returns today from Newark, where she was the guest of friends.

Poison as Pick-Me-Ups.

It seems funny that whole races of men should thrive on poisons which, to common folk unaccustomed to their use, are absolutely deadly.

For instance, the mountaineers of Styria chew lumps of arsenic as big as hazel-nuts, and say it refreshes them; while, as is well known, numberless Chinese, Indians, and Turks find opium yields a solace all its own. Then Peruvian miners take verdigris as a stimulant. The people of Northern Siberia eat a peculiar toadstool, which with the uninitiated results in madness or death.

A Kansas man was talking of that State and the "good times" there. "Business brisk, is it?" he was asked. "Well, its pretty lively," he replied, "at least in my town." "What business are you in?" "Well," he replied, hesitatingly, "my wife is Chief of Police, and I'm on the force.—Atlanta Constitution.

Where They Missed It.

"I am very much surprised to hear that they are married. I thought he was merely flirting with her."

"He thought so, too."

"It is sad," murmured the Musing Theorizer, "to think that every man has his price." "Yes," admitted the Intensity Practical Worker, "and it is a sad fact that half the time he can't get it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FAVORED WOMAN WITH BUNDLES.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale Preferred Her Society to That of a Young Woman.

A Chicago young woman who had been visiting in Boston, related this incident of Edward Everett Hale, whom she greatly admires, having met him and become personally interested in him at the home of friends:

"I was waiting for a car," she said, "When Dr. Hale, who was also waiting for the same car, accosted me with great cordiality, and I at once anticipated a delightful treat, a tete-a-tete on the car. Just as it reached us, however, a large German woman, carrying several great bundles, climbed to the only seats that were vacant, and filling one, herself, placed her bundles in the other two, leaving the venerable pastor and myself standing. Dr. Hale smiled and took up one of the bundles motioning me to the place it had occupied. Then he dropped the bundle in my lap.

"'Lend a hand, Miss Jessie,' he said, 'this poor woman is overburdened. I will carry the other myself.'

"This he proceeded to do, talking meanwhile to the woman in German, and paying no further attention to me. Was I chagrined? I was more disappointed than I can tell. When he left the car he bowed to me in his pleasant, fatherly fashion, but to the German, as he returned her bundle, he said:

"'I have been much interested in your story. It has given me a new view of life. I thank you.'

"And I daresay," continued the young woman, "that he has put her into a book or a sermon by this time, while I wasn't in it with the woman of the bundles."—Chicago Times-Herald.

TOO MUCH ELOQUENCE.

Mark Twain's Sympathy Fluctuated and in the End the Preacher Lost.

In an interview with Mark Twain the following amusing story was elicited It seems that Twain once went to hear a missionary lecturer who had worked among the poor. The speaker was eloquent. He drew a picture of a starving family that drew tears from his audience, and Mark Twain, who happened to have four 100-dollar bills with him, said to himself, "I'll give one of those bills when the plate comes round."

The preacher continued, his story became more piteous and harrowing and Mark Twain said, "I'll spare two of those bills."

But still the tale of woe went on, the agony accumulating and accumulating, until Mark Twain exclaimed, "For goodness sake send that plate round, so that I can pour my sympathy into it. I'll give all four bills, and I'll write a cheque too."

But the lecturer rather overdid it. "He went on talking and talking," said Mark Twain, as he told the story, "and as he talked my enthusiasm calmed and calmed, and the red flush of my sympathy became paler and paler. And when he had been talking about half an hour I had saved one of those bills, and when he had talked five minutes more two of those bills were mine again, and when he had been talking an hour I had won all four back, and, by gosh, when he finally did send that plate round I borrowed ten cents out of it to pay my car fare home."

Wherein They Differ.

"No, sir," said the rabid free-thinker, "the idea that there is a God never for a moment has entered my head."

"Same way with my dog," replied the deacon, "but he doesn't go round howling about it."—Chicago News.

SPAIN IS TOTTERING, BUT STILL DEFIANT.

Fresh Revolts In Her Fair Eastern Possessions Reported.

Rumor that McKinley Has Offered Terms of Peace to Spain—She Must Evacuate Cuba—Then America Will Surrender the Phillippines—Prompt Responce to Second Call.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

SAGASTA SPEAKS.

Despite the Threatening Financial Crash He Puts on a Bold Front.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 26, 12:52 p. m—Financial differences threaten a cabinet crisis in Spain. Meanwhile, the great Sagasta keeps up a bold front.

In an interview this morning Premier Sagasta outlined the policy of Spain regarding the present situation in the West Indies.

He said that there would be no fight at Santiago de Cuba unless Admiral Cervera desires to engage the American warships.

The Americans, he declared, will find the forts, ships and harbor at Santiago in very different condition from those that Dewey destroyed at Manila.

If the Americans are waiting a naval battle, he said, before they attempt to invade Cuba, they will need considerable patience.

Madrid, May 26, 1:10 p. m—The Heraldo, a leading Madrid newspaper, published a despatch from Havana saying that the American warships shelled Fort Hilario, near Havana, while others reconnoitered Cardenas Bay.

At Cardenas the inhabitants are reported to be constructing fortifications. Twelve American warships made a demonstration against Cienfuegos.

A Spanish report said to have come from Manila declares that the American cruiser Baltimore, of Rear Admiral Dewey's fleet, was disabled by an interior explosion.

Madrid, May 26, 1:35 p. m—A despatch from Manila says that the Americans attempted to land arms and ammunition for the insurgents at Binacayan.

The Spaniards, who were in ambush, the report continues, allowed the Yankees to land, and then routed them, capturing all the supplies.

The newspapers here advocate the cutting of the American cables in retaliation for the cutting of the Cuban cables by the American fleet.

AN OFFER OF PEACE?

Report Current That McKinley Has Offered Terms To Spain.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 26, 1:03 p. m—It is widely reported here that President McKinley has offered to surrender the Phillippine Islands and to refrain from bombarding Porto Rico on the condition that Spain will evacuate Cuba.

Prominent officials were interviewed on the subject but declined to discuss it under any circumstances. The offer is said to have been made through the mediation of one of the Powers.

With the evacuation of Cuba, it is meant that the war should cease. The report has caused much discussion in all circles.

READY RESPONSE.

Volunteers All Over the Country Are Anxious to Go to War.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 26, 1:33 p. m.—Reports have reached the War Department from all the States that there is great eagerness to respond to the second call.

Wisconsin is not included in the list as she cannot afford the equipment of any troops.

OREGON COALING.

She Will Then Sail To Join Sampson's Fleet Near Cuba.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 26, 10:30 a. m—The situation here remains unchanged. The principal event of today was the arrival of the great battleship Oregon, which slowly steamed into the harbor this morning.

It is currently reported that the Oregon has been ordered to coal at once and then sail to join Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet and participate in the bombardment of Havana. Preparations for coaling the Oregon are going rapidly forward.

There was a little stir when the armed yacht Hornet, one of the blockading squadron appeared in port this morning. She carried despatches from the fleet. He officers reported, however, that everything was quiet along the blockade.

The man who was arrested here yesterday as a Spanish spy was identified this morning by seven different persons as Lieutenant Sobrat, a friend of Senor DeLome. He is a talkative young Frenchman.

Sobrat will be sent to Atlanta where he will be tried at a military court-martial immediately. The evidence against him is considered very strong.

THE SPANISH SIDE.

Spanish Captain Tells His Ship's Condition Before the Battle of Manila.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Hong Kong, May 26, 1:07 p. m—An interview was obtained with Captain Concha, commander of the Spanish cruiser Don Juan des Austria, which was sunk by Dewey's fleet at Manila.

He says that the Spanish commanders realized that the fight at Manila was a hopeless one but public opinion there forced them to the conflict.

The ship captains wished to meet Dewey's squadron in the open sea. Admiral Montijo wished to have the aid of the forts.

Before the battle began, the engines of the Don Antonio de Ulloa were broken. On the Don Juan de Austria there were only two guns capable of firing, on the Marquis del Duero only one.

The Terror With Cervera.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 26, 10:04 a. m—It is now confidently asserted here that the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer, Terror, has joined Admiral Cervera's fleet at Santiago de Cuba. The Terror left here several days ago.

PRESIDENT SELECTS BIRD FOR POSTMASTER

Nominations Sent to the Senate Yesterday.

CON. FOWLER RESPONSIBLE

MR. BIRD WILL NOW RESIGN THE OFFICE OF TAX COLLECTOR.

Local Republicans Have Been Awaiting the Appointment With Some Anxiety, But it Does Not Come as a Great Surprise as Bird was Known to Have Strong Political Backing—Fowler Guided by Hope of Support for a Renomination—Mr. Bird Has Not Yet Planned for the Future.

War news has not been the only kind of information that has been watched for from the the White House at Washington since the first of May by local Republicans. The nomination of a postmaster for Plainfield by President McKinley, which has been expected since the commission of Postmaster Hetfield expired, has been anxiously awaited. Yesterday it came in the naming of Elias H. Bird.

To those who are posted on local politics the selection of Mr. Bird for the office does not come as a great surprise. It has been known ever since the retirement of J. T. MacMurray from the race that Mr. Bird was an active and aggressive candidate for the position.

Mr. Bird was backed by City Clerk MacMurray, and as much of the latlatter's support for the position as he could control he turned in favor of Mr. Bird.

J. Fred MacDonald was the other principal candidate.

As is customary in Presidential postoffice appointments the chief executive was guided in the selection by the Congressman from this district, and so the appointment was virtually made by Congressman Fowler. Mr. Fowler is a candidate for a renomination, and whatever appointments he controls are generally made along lines that will result in the most political support to be given him in the future. Of course, it is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Bird's appointment was made in view of that fact.

The appointment will have to be ratified by the Senate, which is a mere matter of form, then Mr. Bird will receive the official commission. What his plans are, when he become postmaster, de facto, Mr. Bird has refused to divulge. He will at once give up the tax collectorship, as the positions cannot be held together. It is not likely that Mr. Bird will make any changes in the workings of the post office, as civil service rules prevent.

WHO'LL TAKE CARE OF ROSS.

That Much Involved Contention Will be Decided by Judge Bartine.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 26—The trouble over Mulford Ross, the insane pauper, who has been a bone of contention between Warren and North Plainfield townships, is to be settled in the county court today.

Both Warren and North Plainfield claim that Ross is a resident of the other county and that therefore the other county should look after him. The matter was brought into court and was tried before Justices Mattison and Speer. They decided in favor of Warren topnship that North Plainfield township should support that old man. The North Plainfield township authorities appealed the case and now Judge Bartine will review the evidence and decide the case. A large number of witnesses have been summoned. Codington & Swackhamer, of Plainfield, represent Warren, and Pope & Runyon are the attorneys for North Plainfield.

Boice Property Being Improved.

The property belonging to the Boice estate, several hundred feet front on Chatham street and running back to the lake, is being very materially improved under the supervision of J. B. Coward, one of the heirs. A sidewalk, never before in existence, is being graded in front of the entire property which will be flagged. When completed it will be money well spent.

Chapel Dedication.

Sunday June 4th, the new East Third Street Mission chapel will be dedicated with appropriate exercises. A fine programme is now in preparation. Commencing the following day, Monday, and continuing for one week, Rev. Arthur Crane, the evangelist, will hold meetings every night.

—The finance committee in charge of the alumni reception for the Plainfield High School commencement held a meeting at the High School building Tuesday evening.

KILLING THE SONGSTERS

SOME DESPICABLE PERSON WHO IS POISONING BIRDS.

Former Councilman Ginna Found Fifty-seven Dead Birds on His Lawn, That Had Eaten Poisoned Grain.

The Press is in receipt of a communication from Former Councilman S. A. Ginna, of Watchung avenue, in which he complains of some person or persons in his neighborhood, who have been poisoning song birds. Mr. Ginna says that yesterday morning he picked up 57 dead birds on his lawn, all of which, it was afterwards found out, had been poisoned.

There is no clue to the perpetrator, but the matter has been put in the hands of Chief Grant, who will investigate it at once. William Myers, a neighbor of Mr. Ginna, says that about four years ago a similar thing was done and that one day he picked up a half bushel basket of them.

The poisoning in both cases has not been confined to sparrows, but it is the song birds that have suffered. Black birds, robins and cat birds have eaten of the poison and paid the penalty with their lives.

Mr. Ginna, to find out what killed the birds, had several of their crops examined, and it was found that the birds had been eating poisoned grain. Mr. Ginna thinks that whoever did the deed does not live far away, because the birds were found so close together.

A 20TH CENTURY CITY

INTERESTING BOOK DIGESTED BY THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Different Sections of the Book Discussed by Various Men of the Church as to Provide a Profitable Evening.

"The Twentieth Century City," a new book by Rev. Josiah Strong, D. D., the author of "Our Country" and the "New Era," formed the subject of the midweek service at the Congregational church last night. There was a good attendance, in spite of the rain.

A brief, digest of the different sections of the book was given by various men of the church. Rev. Charles Lyman Goodrich spoke upon the first, telling of the material progress of the Nation, really out of proportion to its intellectual and moral progress. The reasons for the concentration of the population in cities formed the subject of Louis Irving VanAlstyne's remarks, while J. A. Robinson followed with reasons why the city must be considered a menace to the Nation, such as poor sanitary conditions, ignorant classes allowed political control, and the saloon problem. Mr. Goodrich said a few words on the need of patriotism in civic affairs, after which Anthony C. LaBoyteaux took up the section of the book referring to "Twentieth Century Christianity," speaking of the new social spirit and social conscience steadily increasing, and emphasizing the fact that Christ is the only Savior for society, as well as for the individual. "The Twentieth Century Church" was appropriately dealt with by the pastor, who gave the author's ideas on the mission of the church to society, and some practical suggestions for usefulness.

Improvement at Clinton Avenue Station.

A number of noted improvements have been made at the Clinton Avenue station of the Central Railroad. A fence has been erected along the eastbound track, and steps have been located on the station side of the track leading to Clinton avenue. These improvements will undoubtedly prevent accidents. The station park has also been much improved of late.

To Locate Here Permanently.

Dr. A. F. VanHorn, who has established an office at 452 West Fifth street, the former location of Dr. M. S. Simpson, comes to Plainfield to stay permanently, and not, as many suppose, simply to remain while Dr. Simpson is absent with the naval reserve. Dr. VanHorn is a graduate of class of '84 of the University of Pennsylvania.

Caring for Storm Water.

Borough Engineer J. F. Hubbard is preparing some needed improvements for Greenbrook road and Somerset street to care for the storm water that floods those thoroughfares during a heavy rain. Large culverts are to be placed there and other arrangements made to care for the water and prevent the usual washouts that have been frequent in the past.

Dog Kills Hens.

Yesterday morning a strange dog got into Daniel Hoagland's yard, on West Third street, and killed a valuable game cock and hen. The fowls were feeding quietly in the yard when the dog ran in and deliberately seized the two and bit them. The fowls died at once.

THE TOWN CLOCK IS SICK

THE PUBLIC'S TIME PIECE BADLY IN NEED OF REPAIR.

Its Works Need Constant Attention and Six Months of Neglect Has Resulted in Its Refusal to Mark Fleeting Time.

What is the matter with the town clock on the First Methodist church tower, and why does it not mark the flight of the hours as of old? For the past two months its hands have been motionless, and the neighbors looking up, have seen the clock standing at twenty-four minutes after seven, where the hands, after a spasmodic effort to go on, stopped to rest.

The clock is an old relic of Plainfield's early days, and the people miss its sonorous sound which used to be heard every hour during the day and night, and those who were too far to hear it strike used to look out of their windows mornings and take the time.

The old town clock has led a varied life. Though not belonging to the Methodist church, in the tower of which the clock was placed, the sexton of the church was still to wind it and keep it going, for the sake of having it placed there. In years gone by it kept excellent time, and many a housewife, living within range of its voice, needed no other clock, but depended on the old town clock, whose face she could see from her window.

In the rush of time the old clock was forgotten, and when its joints became old and rheumatic and its works refused to run, it was neglected and suffered to stand for months without attention. Finally some public-spirited citizen became anxious to have the old clock repaired. John VanEps, the Park avenue jeweler, offered to repair it and keep it in running order for one year for $30. His offer was accepted, and once again the old clock began to make time and chime the hours as they came and went.

Mr. VanEps centract expired six months ago and the old time piece, like other old things, needs more attention than when it was young. So it has been suggested that the city, to whom it belongs, expend $50 a year, for a jeweler has offered to take charge of the clock for that sum, and let this man clean it, oil it and put it in repair again, and keep it so for another twelve months. This sum includes winding it once a week, no light task, for it has to be done with a crank and the old clock winds hard.

AWAY TO ACTIVE DUTY.

STATE SOLDIER BOYS LEAVE THE CAMP AT SEA GIRT.

The Troops Marched Off Yesterday Afternoon—The Plainfield Volunteers Are to Do Duty at Sandy Hook.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 26—Camp Voorhees is smaller by the loss of over a thousand men who marched away yesterday and equipped for the field, some to do duty in guarding the powder mills at Pompton Lakes and the others for garrison life at Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook.

Yesterday afternoon the Third regiment of New Jersey Volunteers, 1,023 strong, marched down to the railroad station at Sea Girt where two special trains awaited them. The first battalion, under command of Col. Lee, left at 5 o'clock for Pompton Lake, where the powder mills are located. The four companies of the battalion will do guard duty there until further orders. Half an hour later another train took the second and third battalions, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Holmes, down to Sandy Hook. In this command was Company H, and the detail of the Plainfield boys.

Before the departure of the Third, they were reviewed by the Governor. The regiment had been busy all the morning, breaking camp and packing up all their effects. The men were all in heavy marching order. The usual morning drills were dispensed with. In the afternoon the Second turned out with the Third in field dress and participated in the review.

The Governor was greatly pleased with the appearance of the troops and declared that they could not be excelled by any of the other States.

As the boys stepped off for the station, the regimental band struck up "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and then "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home Again," while fully five thousand spectators who had gathered to witness the departure waved their handkerchiefs and gave vent to mighty cheer after cheer.

An Official Visit

Last evening District Deputy Grand Master J. W. A. Bauersachs, and Grand Inside Watchman V. W. Nash, of Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W., paid an official visit to Acme Lodge, A. O. U. W., of Rutherford, Essex county. They report having had a fine time.

IN AID OF HOME MISSIONS

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES OF METHODIST SOCIETIES LAST NIGHT.

An East Orange Woman Talked Interestingly—Treasurer's Report Showed That Western Ministers Were Assisted.

The anniversary exercises of the Woman's Home Missionary and the Young Ladies' Home Missionary Societies of the First Methodist church were held last evening in the church instead of the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting. The exercises consisted of an address by Mrs. Barkalew, president of the Young Ladies' Society of the Calvary church at East Orange, singing by Miss Etta Raybert, and the reading of reports of both societies.

Mrs. Barkalew's address was quite interesting, and in it she told something of the work of her society in East Orange. The society from which Mrs. Barkalew came is composed of young ladies, who are very much interested in the work of home missions.

The report of the Woman's Society was read by Mrs. Noah W. Pike. The report showed that about $125 had been donated in the way of supplies for the poor clergymen on the frontier, while another hundred had been raised for the work nearer home. The report of the Young Ladies' Society was read by Miss Nora Campbell, and was just as satisfactory, showing that the young folks had not been idle either.

NO FIGHT FOR REVENGE

WAR IS A PROTEST AGAINST EXTERMINATION OF INNOCENT PEOPLE.

Rev. Merrill Smith Says We Are a United People Because So Many Have Given Up Their Lives For Freedom.

Rev. Merrill Smith, who has just graduated from Drew Theological Seminary, gave an instructive and interesting lecture at Monroe Avenue church last evening before a large audience. His subject was "The American Soldier and his Contribution to Liberty." The speaker was introduced by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of the church, after the devotional exercises.

Mr. Smith recited many interesting facts concerning the present difficulty with Spain. He said that after fifty years of toleration, a peace-loving President, steady in his course, had turned aside from his personal feelings, and had declared that anarchy in Cuba must cease, and it has shown that the American people love humanity more than they do peace. Our flag, he said, will float over Cuba at no distant day. Our soldiers and sailors are not fighting for revenge, although they do not forget the Maine. The protest against the extermination of an innocent people is the war note. The God of battles will give that freedom. In conclusion, Mr. Smith said, never let us forget that our liberty cost. We are today a splendid united people, all because so many have freely given their lives that we might be free. Let us teach the young patriotism, let the youth of the land be taught to revere the flag as a nation's hope that represents the best and greatest, that has been woven in the loom of ages, and God is the weaver who has kept the shuttle moving to and fro. The bars of white representing purity, the bars of red the patriotic shedding of blood, and the stars of blue leading us to a heaven of liberty and love.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Yesterday morning at Elizabeth there was a meeting of the Union County Bar Association, at which time resolutions were adopted on the death of Frank Dunn, and arrangements were made to attend the funeral. Plainfield was represented by W. A. Coddington, of the firm of Reed & Coddington. Other parts of the county were also represented. A committee was appointed to have the resolutions suitably framed.

Bachelor of Divinity.

Orrin W. Snodgrass, eldest son of Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, graduated from the Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J., Thursday last. The graduating class was a large one. He received the degree of bachelor of divinity. A number of his family and friends were present at the graduation ceremonies.

Nurses' Graduation.

The board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital have issued invitations for the graduation exercises of the Training School for Nurses to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. Miss Messler and Miss Palmer are the two nurses who will be graduated.

Decorate on Monday.

It has been suggested that people living along the line of march for Memorial Day decorate their houses and give the veterans and others in line a warm reception.

MEMORIAL DAY TALK BY REV. DR. YERKES.

Programme of Exercises to Be Held in Music Hall.

DETAILS CONCERNING FLAG

G. A. R., S. OF V., SCHOLARS AND CADETS TO BE MASSED.

Flag Will be Raised by Commander E. C. Morse. After Which Short Addresses Will be Made by Some Plainfield Orators Not Yet Selected—Music Hall Exercises at 2:30 p. m—Music and Recitations Will be a Feature—Editor Pearsall on the Programme—Queen City Band to be Present.

The G. A. R. memorial detail met last evening in Justice Moffett's office on North avenue and completed all arrangements for the celebration of Decoration Day. The exercises to be held Monday morning when the flag is raised and for Music Hall in the afternoon were decided upon.

The exercises when the flag is raised at 9:30 in the morning will be very patriotic and interesting. Four platoons of G. A. R. and children will form in front of the pole and will extend down Park avenue. On the right will be stationed the school cadets. The Sons of Veterans will be stationed on the left. There will be several patriotic airs by the Queen City Band. The flag will be raised by Commander E. C. Morse, of Post No. 73, G. A. R. A surprise has been arranged which will be divulged when the flag is in position. In addition to the above there will be other organizations that will take part in this celebration.

There will be a short address of five minutes duration by some prominent Plainfielder yet to be decided upon. The organizations will so form about the pole that they will be all ready to proceed on line of march immediately afterward.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock in Music Hall there will be appropriate exercises and the programme is as follows: Music, Queen City Band; prayer, Rev. Father Smyth; music, Queen City Band; recitation, Alfred E. Pearsall; vocal solo, Miss Opdyke; memorial exercises, Post 73, G. A. R.; music, Queen City Band; oration, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes; decoration of unknown grave; music, Queen City Band; recitation, Alfred E. Pearsall; vocal solo, Miss Opdyke: music, Queen City Band.

A special effort will be made at the hall to see that perfect quiet is maintained during the exercises so that older people can enjoy the exercises.

A May Wedding.

There was a quiet May wedding at the A. M. E. Zion church on Filmore avenue, last evening, when Miss Mary C. Smith and Jacob H. Holland, both of Cottage place, were married by Rev. C. A. Jackson, a former pastor of the church. Miss Julia Hamilton was maid of honor, while B. H. Halaway acted as best man. There were present about 100 people. After the wedding the bride and groom were taken to the home of Mrs. Mary Coleman, 347 Cottage place, where a supper was served and a good time enjoyed by all.

Want a Half Holiday.

The young law students of the city want a half holiday once a week this summer. Last night a meeting was held in Justice Nash's office where some ten of embryo attorneys gathered and discoursed very learnedly on that and other subjects. A committee composed of Charles M. Dolliver, John H. VanWinkle, Jr., Edward Baker, Charles Dunlap and V. William Nash, Jr. were appointed to draw up the document which is to be presented to the lawyers of the city.

Spectacular Ice Cakes.

This afternoon at Rowley's new drug store there will be a great display of two large cakes of manufactured ice furnished by the Plainfield Hygiea Ice Company. Manager John Tier has arranged the display for Mr. Rowley. In each cake there will be bunches of roses and ferns, while the names of Mr. Rowley and Mr. Tier will appear also.

Taking Testimony.

Testimony was taking in the case of Macaroni against Varette, before Senator C. A. Reed, as special master, yesterday. Seven witnesses for the plaintiff were examined. The hearing then adjourned to Friday, June 3d, when the testimony of the defendant and his witnesses will be taken.

A Dump Filled In.

Under the direction of Health Inspector Pangborn, of the borough, the dump on Steiner place has been filled in and leveled off. It is a great improvement.

PHILIPPINE AFFAIRS

Washington Discusses Manner In Which Island Shall Be Ruled.

CAPITAL CITY IS QUIET

Secretary Long Declares That Schley Can Have Whatever Assistance He Wants, but Declines to Say Whether Sampsons Fleet, Alleged to Be in the Neighborhood of Havana Will Go to Santiago —To Be Starved Into Surrendering.

Washington, May 26.—Major General Merritt, who is to go to the Philippine Islands as military governor, is expected to govern them under martial law until Congress decides what shall be done with them.

There is little doubt that they will be permanently held by the United States. In view of the jealousy existing among European nations, many senators and representatives believe that it will be more difficult to relinquish control of the Philippines than to hold them.

In view of this belief some consideration is already being given to the problem of devising a civil government for the islands when the war is ended. The extension of the territorial system of the United States to the Philippines is out of the question, as it will be a great many years before the inhabitants are capable of any degree of self government.

The proposition that seems to meet most favor is to have the government of the islands administered by a board of three commissioners, to be composed of two civilians and one officer of the United States army, as in the District of Columbia. When the number of Americans in the islands increases sufficiently a very limited form of popular government might be introduced, to be expanded in the future.

Tariff taxes are to be collected by military authority and are to be turned into the treasury of the United States as the war progresses, the same system of collecting taxes to be applied to such Spanish territory as may be occupied, thus compelling the conquered territory to aid in defraying the expenses of the war

Hong Kong, May 26.—Advices received here from Manila say that riots are frequent in that city and houses are being burned by the rioters daily.

The archbishop of Manila has announced that four Spanish battleships are on their way to Manila. He prophesies a great Spanish victory.

Madrid, May 26.—Admiral Camara has started for Cadiz. He will at once manoeuvre the vessels of his squadron in order to test their speed and will also engage in gunnery practice.

The squadron will then sail for an unknown destination.

An official dispatch received from Manila says that insurgent leaders commanding 30,000 native volunteers have offered their services to Captain General Augusti.

A dispatch from Hong Kong says the rebels are organizing an attack upon Manila and a battle is expected soon.

The captain of the Spanish revenue cutter Callao, which was captured by Admiral Dewey's fleet, has been shot for not returning the fire of the American ships.

Senor Robledo and others laid a motion before the chamber asking the government to grant funds to erect barracks at Algeciras and San Roque and to establish a military camp near Gibraltar.

London, May 26.—A dispatch to the Times from Hong Kong says that Manila is tranquil. The foreign cruisers there have taken concerted action for the protection of the foreigners in the city in any emergency. The rebels lack firearms and are consequently delaying an attack upon the Manila garrison

GLADSTONE'S REMAINS.

The Body Taken From Hawarden Castle to the Village Church.

Hawarden, May 26.—The remains of Mr. Gladstone were removed yesterday from Hawarden Castle to the village church. They were carried by a half dozen old retainers of the family to a wheeled bier, on which they were taken over the lawn, past the favorite nooks of the deceased in the park, to the church, followed by the family.

Thousands of people have been arriving at Hawarden all day long to view the remains. Several ladies fainted from excess of emotion when passing the bier, and many men and women dropped on their knees and silently prayed. The body started for London at 6 o'clock last evening.

The Saranac Released.

London, May 26.—A dispatch received here yesterday from Lloyd's agent at Manila, via Hong Kong, says the American bark Saranac, which was captured shortly after the outbreak of the war by the Spanish gunboat El Cano, has been released.

The Saranac took about 1,640 tons of coal to Iloilo, which is said to have been unloaded before she was captured. The coal was released some time ago.

The Saranac is owned by William Simpson, Jr. of New York.

The Alleged Spy at Key West.

Key West, May 26.—Jimenez, the alleged Spanish spy, who was one of the Panama's passengers, and has been kept a prisoner on board since the vessel's seizure, was transferred to the United States sloop Maple yesterday morning. He had in his possession maps of New York harbor and its defences, which he is attempting to get to the Spanish authorities. He is about forty years of age, a Spaniard and a civil engineer.

Lieut. Bernadou Out of the Hospital.

Key West, May 26.—Lieutenant Bernadou commander of the Winslow, who was wounded in the fight at Cardenas, was able to leave the hospital yesterday. The surgeons located the splinter in his leg by means of an X-ray photograph.

START FOR THE PHILIPPINES

Three Vessels Left San Francisco Last Night With 2,458 Enlisted Men.

San Francisco, May 26.—The Philippine relief expedition sailed last night. There was an unparalleled demonstration as the transports left their piers. It seemed as if the entire city was at the water front. The hurrahs for Dewey and the men could be heard for miles. It is expected that the vessels will be well at sea this morning.

The expedition consists of 128 officers and 2,458 enlisted men, under the command of General E. S. Otis. They are aboard the fast steamships City of Pekin, Sydney and Australia, which will be joined at Honolulu by the United States cruiser Charleston, already well on her way to that port. This expedition will be quickly followed by additional men and supplies.

Brigadier General Anderson and his staff are aboard the Australia.

The first battelion of the Tenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, numbering 602 men and 38 officers, arrived in this city yesterday.

The streets were thronged with people, who welcomed the soldiers with the waving of flags and gifts of fruit and flowers, which the donors passed to the men as they marched along the street on their way to Camp Fort Richmond.

BRITISH SHIP ASHORE.

Grounded Near Forge River Life Saving Station, Long Island.

New York May 26.—The British ship Troop, from Swansea, is ashore near the Forge River life saving station, Long Island.

No lives lost. She went ashore about 10 o'clock Tuesday night. She is in ballast and is well up on the beach.

A dense fog has enveloped the coast since Tuesday, and there is no doubt that the Troop, when approaching the coast, lost her bearings in it before it was discovered that she was so near the shore.

The Troop is in command of Captain E. J. Fritz, and is consigned to James F. Elwell & Co., of this city. She sailed from Swansea for New York on April 28.

She is an iron ship, built at Dumbarton, Scotland, in 1884. She registers 1,-883 tons gross and 1,526 tons net.

Dr. Parkhurst Sails.

New York, May 26.—Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Parkhurst sailed yesterday morning on the steamship Germanic for Europe, to be gone until the autumn. Dr. Parkhurst was seen relative to the present police situation and the appointment of Acting Chief Devery. Dr. Parkhurst said: "I do not consider it wise at this time to discuss the situation. I may later, but not now."

WAR ECHOES.

Russia, Greece, Venezuela, Canada and the Netherlands have declared for neutrality.

Spain's inability to borrow money abroad has forced her to increase her taxes tremendously.

A fleet of seven ships, in single file, and steaming rapidly westward, is reported from Cape Breton.

The torpedo boat Porter steamed out of Mobile harbor this morning, after repairing there since Saturday last.

England has refused permission to the Spanish consul to search the Adula upon its arrival at Kingston, Jamaica, to-day.

Arthur Sewall, late candidate for vice president of the United States, has offered his big ship Roanoke as a transport to carry troops to the Philippines.

A dispatch boat that was with Sampson's fleet has returned to Key West. She reports that she left the squadron off Key Lobas, about 300 miles east of Havana.

CERVERA IN A TRAP

Spain's Squadron Cooped In Santiago Harbor By Schley.

OFFICIALS MUCH PLEASED

General Merritt Will Govern Them Under Martial Law Until Congress Decides What Shall Be Done With Them—Will Probably Be Permanently Held by the United States—Sensational Reports to Europe Are Without Foundation.

Washington, May 26.—While Secretary Long has no official advices he says he fully credits the press dispatches published, and has reason to believe that Admiral Cervera is cooped up in Santiago harbor, with Commodore Schley on the outside.

The president, in reply to inquiries from congressional callers, also said that the reports concerning the opposing fleets were undoubtedly true.

Secretary Long had only a brief talk with the president yesterday morning over the situation. The safe arrival of the Oregon at Jupiter Inlet had been discounted to some extent by a previous announcement of its safety, to there was little discussion concerning it.

Commodore Schley's catching up with the Cervera fleet was a source of much congratulation, for in the conference that took place in the White House there was a feeling that it brought the end of the war much nearer.

Whether Commodore Schley shall attempt to force his way into the harbor to meet the Spanish fleet therein, is a point which he alone is believed to be competent to pass upon and which he alone must decide. He received a chart setting forth the mines in the channel leading into the harbor, and with this information he will be able to judge what course is best for him to pursue.

By bottling up the Spanish fleet in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba a great load has been lifted from the shoulders of the authorities. It means the freedom from danger of the ports along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, the safety of the blockading squadron and assurance of its maintenance and the prompt and comparatively easy transportation of troops to Cuba for the reduction of Havana and finally a decisive blow toward the final destruction of Spain's weapons of offense and defence.

All Aid Necessary.

While refraining from discussing specifically the matter of reinforcements and the dispatch of Admiral Sampson's fleet now asserted to be in the neighborhood of Havana, to Santiago, Secretary Long had no hesitation in saying Commodore Schley could have whatever aid he wanted.

The published report that another and more formidable fleet is en route from Cadiz to the relief of the imprisoned squadron is not credited by members of the administration, but should this prove to be the fact, the move would be welcomed by our naval authorities, as it would result, it is said, in the destruction of the two fleets instead of one.

It is authoritatively stated that the situation of the Santiago harbor is such that our gunboats which are available for the purpose, could successfully stop the escape of the Spaniards, thus relieving a considerable part of both Sampson's and Schley's fleets for operations elsewhere. Members of the administration regard the present situation as most favorable for our cause and do not doubt that in a very short time the Spanish fleet will be utterly destroyed and active operations begun against Havana and Cuba by both our military and naval forces.

It is confidently expected that should the Spaniard attempt to force a passage to sea the news of the total destruction of his fleet may be expected at any time. Officials here are of the opinion that he is likely to remain there for a long time, weeks and months, perhaps.

Harbor Well Protected.

A study of the defences of the harbor and the photographical features has convinced the experts that to attempt to carry the place by storm from the sea and to attack the fleet while in the harbor would involve so great a loss of life on our part as to be entirely unwarranted under the existing conditions.

The harbor is known to be mined and these mines are so well protected by judiciously placed shore batteries that the usual methods of countermining could be practiced only with the utmost peril to the sailors of our fleet.

Morro Castle, one of the principal defences of the harbor, is perched upon a high elevation. Its guns, if served with anything like fair gunnery, could rain a most destructive fire down upon our ships, and not even the battleships and monitors are designed to resist a plunging fire of this kind.

On the other hand, it is extremely difficult for guns mounted on shipboard to be sufficiently elevated to throw projectiles with any effect against a modern fortification on an elevated bluff or hill.

That is the lesson learned at San Juan de Porto Rico, and the fleet there had the advantage of being able to lie off at long range, which it will not possess in the attack on Santiago. Of course the place could be taken by assault, but, as already stated, the officials do not believe the present conditions warrant such an expensive undertaking.

The effort, therefore, probably will be made to keep Cervera inside Santiago harbor until starvation causes the surrender of the Spanish squadron and the forts of Santiago.

That this can be done is not doubted by naval experts, as the narrow channel connecting the inner harbor with the sea, requiring any Spanish ships to emerge singly, would expose them to almost certain destruction at the hands of a couple of armored vessels or monitors commanding the entrance.

TO ATTACK SAN JUAN.

Both Porto Rico and Cuba Are to Be Invaded at Once.

Washington, May 26.—It was announced at the war department as soon as the proclamation was made public that an expedition of 20.000 troops would be sent at once to seize and occupy San Juan and the Island of Porto Rico. Further than this Admiral Sampson has been ordered to take his fleet to San Juan and prepare the way for the arrival of the troops. In other words he is to destroy the fortifications so that our army can land and occupy the island.

The invasion of Cuba will likewise be started immediately, and 100,000 men will in all probability be the strength of the invading army. Reports at the war department show that there are 13,000 Spanish troops at Porto Rico.

Oregon to Convoy Troops.

It is announced at the navy department that the Oregon will be used to convoy the troops to Porto Rico, and that they will start just as soon as they can be made ready.

Reports now in possession of the administration show that 10,000 soldiers will be sufficient to take and hold Porto Rico, but it is reported to-day the officials think at least twenty thousand men will be sent there for the invasion and occupation.

At present there are about 182,000 men in the army, counting the regulars and volunteers. The call for 75,000 men, together with the immunes, will bring the total up to 250,000, or the number which it is thought will be required for the plans now under consideration. These will be divided among the expeditions as follows: About one hundred thousand for the Cuban invasion, at least thirty-five thousand for the Philippines, and perhaps this will be doubled; twenty thousand for Porto Rico, which figure may be reduced. The extra troops sent to the Philippines.

MATTERS BEFORE CONGRESS.

Appropriation Bill to Supply Pensions Deficiencies Passed by the Senate.

Washington, May 26.—The Senate convened an hour earlier than usual yesterday morning to resume its discussion of the war revenue measure. Scarcely a dozen senators were present when the vice president's gavel fell.

Mr. Hale, Republican of Maine, reported an appropriation bill to supply deficiences in pensions and for other purposes. As reported the bill carries: For pensions, $8,976,872; for the war department, $125,000; for the navy department, $1,997; additional clerks in auditor's office, war department, $78,762; additional clerks in auditor's office, navy department, $18,745; United States courts, $170,000; executive department, $3,466; miscellaneous, $20,000; senate, $5,000; House of Representatives, $4,583; total, $8,498,465.

Mr. Bate of Tennessee objected to the consideration of the bill in the absence of a quorum. It required twenty minutes to secure a quorum. After a brief discussion of the features of the measure, which makes possible temporary appointments of clerks without civil service examination, it was passed.

A joint resolution was adopted directing the secretary of war to report to Congress plans for the improvement of Tampa Bay, Fla.

OREGON SAILS AGAIN.

Big Battleship Arrived Last Night, but Departs This Morning.

Jupiter, Fla., May 26.—The United States battleship Oregon arrived here last night and left this morning.

Washington, May 26.—Secretary Long has received an official dispatch announcing the arrival of the battleship Oregon in Jupiter Inlet, Fla. Her safe arrival in the inlet was reported immediately to the president.

Captain Clark in his message to the secretary of the navy reporting his safe arrival, says that he is in condition for immediate active operations.

Rather reluctantly the navy department confirmed the report of the arrival of the Oregon at Jupiter Inlet. While declining to give any details of the trip of the Oregon at this time, the officials admit that the ship swung clear to the eastward of both the Lesser and Greater Antilles after leaving Barbadoes, until she arrived at a point opposite the Bahamas, when she turned sharply in and made for the Florida coast. The Oregon left Mare Island, Cal., 13,000 miles away from Jupiter, on March 19, so she has averaged 260 miles a day for sixty-five days.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

A Bill to Push Its Completion as Rapidly as Possible.

Washington, May 26.—Senator Morgan and the president have had a conference over the Nicaraguan canal. The senator assured the executive that he intended to call up in the Senate at an early day the bill providing for the completion of the canal by American capital. He also said that he would press it to a vote as soon as possible.

The president is heartily in favor of the project and said so. The long trip just completed by the battleship Oregon has demonstrated the necessity of the canal, and the president assured the senator that he would support him as far as he was able.

Mr. McKinley thinks this is an opportune time to press the measure and believes that a majority of both houses can be secured for it.

New York's Quota About 7,500 Men.

Albany, May 26.—When the news was received here that the president had issued a call for 75,000 more volunteers, Governor Black had left the executive mansion for his luncheon. Attaches at the office estimated that New York's quota under this call would be 7,500 men. It is known that no definite plans have been prepared by the state military authorities as to how they will raise this second quota of men.

Ferry Boats for Defence.

Washington, May 26.—The navy department has purchased the ferry boat East Boston for use as part of the squadron of defence in Boston harbor. She is the second boat of the same kind acquired for the purpose, the first being the Governor Russell.

WANTS MORE TROOPS

President McKinley Issues a Proclamation For 75,000 Men.

TO SERVE TWO YEARS

Number to Be Apportioned Among States and Territories According to Population—Details of Organization to Be Drawn Up by War Department Later—Land Forces to Be Brought Up to 280,000 Men.

Washington May 26.—The president "By the president of the United has issued the following proclamation: States.

"A PROCLAMATION.

"Whereas, An act of Congress was approved on the twenty-fifth day of April, 1898, entitled 'An act declaring that war exists between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Spain; and,

"Whereas, By an act of Congress entitled 'An act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of war and for other purposes,' approved April 22, 1898, the president is authorized, in order to raise a volunteer army, to issue his proclamation calling for volunteers to serve in the army of the United States;

"Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution and the laws, and deeming sufficient occasion to exist, have thought fit to call forth and hereby do call forth volunteers to the aggregate number of 75,000 in addition to the volunteers called forth by my proclamation of the twenty-third day of April, in the present year, the same to be apportioned, as far as practicable, among the several states and territories and the District of Columbia, according to population, and to serve for two years unless sooner discharged. The proportion of each arm and the details of enlistment and organization will be made known through the war department.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this twenty-fifth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.

"WILLIAM McKINLEY."

By the addition of the 75,000 men called for the total army strength, regular and volunteer, will be 280,000 men

Secretary Alger said yesterday afternoon that the additional volunteers called for will not be recruited from the National Guard, as were the first 125,000, but that the enlistments will be open.

The regulations referred to in the proclamation, under which the enlistment will be conducted, have not yet been prepared.

The call, it is supposed, indicates a determination to press the campaign actively and vigorously from now on.

The president's first call for volunteers was issued on April 23. It called for 125,000 men, "the same to be apportioned, as far as practicable, among the several states and territories and the District of Columbia, according to population, and to serve for two years, unless sooner discharged."

One hundred and twelve thousand men have already been mustered into the volunteer army of the United States, and the official reports show that the greater number of these are ready to move to the front.

Different States Muster.

Over two-thirds of the states have entirely completed their musters, and are prepared to begin anew the work just completed, if necessary.

The failure of some of the states, notably four or five in the South, to furnish the men asked for in the first call, is a surprise to the army officers on duty here, but it is ascribed not to a lack of patriotism, but to a belief, probably shared by many of the National Guardsmen who had home ties and business connections which they could not well afford to give up, that plenty of other persons not so encumbered, would readily be found to take their places.

Ample time will be given the states referred to to fill the apportionment made by the war department, and the expectation here is that this will be accomplished without further unnecessary delay.

Should any of the United States default, the probability is that the fact will be reported to Congress formally by the secretary of war for such action as may be deemed best under the circumstances. No resort can be had to draft measures without explicit authority therefor from the national legislature.

WITH THE BLOCKADERS.

No Fighting at Any Point Along the Cuban Coast for Five Days.

Key West, Fla., May 26.—The situation on the blockade from Cardenas, east of Matanzas, to Mariel, west of the city of Havana, remains unchanged.

The American squadron continues to maintain a strict blockade and for the last five days there has been no fighting at any point, and no incident worth noting except that one of the large cruisers fired three shots at a schooner off Havana, on Sunday morning, and brought her to.

She proved to be an American vessel, and after she had displayed her colors she was permitted to proceed without sending anybody on board to examine her papers.

The light of Morro Castle, which, it is supposed, has recently been burning at night for the benefit of the Cape Verde squadron, under Admiral Cervera, was extinguished on Monday night and has not since been lighted. There are no signs of military activity along the coast of the blockaded part of Cuba.

The lights of Cardenas are also extinguished. An American gunboat is lying off the entrance of that harbor, near Diana Key, and some of the cruisers are patrolling outside Matanzas harbor.

When the children are hungry, what do you give them? Food.
When thirsty? Water.
Now use the same good common sense, and what would you give them when they are too thin? The best fat-forming food, of course.
Somehow you think of Scott's Emulsion at once.
For a quarter of a century it has been making thin children, plump; weak children, strong; sick children, healthy.

LAWLESSNESS AT KEY WEST.

Town May Be Put Under Martial Law—Assaults Are Common.

Key West, May 26.—An unknown man was found dead early this morning in a yard within half a block of the Key West Hotel.

His head and face were bruised beyond recognition. This, together with the assault of a negro upon two sailors Tuesday night, has roused the people to demand that the city be put under martial law.

The murdered man, it was said, had received a considerable amount of money in wages last night and was undoubtedly killed for his money. He was so terribly beaten about the head that only a search of his clothing revealed his identity.

William Carne, the sailor of the United States auxiliary gunboat Morrill, who was probably fatally injured on Tuesday night in front of a barroom in the southern portion of the town, is still alive. The man, who was intoxicated, was set upon by a crowd of negroes.

SHOT HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Killed Before He Could Carry Out His Threat to Do Murder.

Colebrook, N H., May 26.—Benjamin C. Young, one of the most respected citizens of Stewartstown, shot his son-in-law, Ira A. Reed, late Monday, from the effects of which the latter, died Tuesday.

The cruelty of Reed toward his wife and child, it is said, induced the father to take his daughter home last Sunday. Reed went to Young's to try to have his wife go back and she consented to go.

As she was about to get into the wagon Reed drew the butt of his whip and said he would kill her when he got her home, whereupon she refused to go and remained at her father's house, and Reed went away saying he would return and kill the whole family.

He did return about 3 o'clock, armed with a rifle, and tried to get into the house, but finding the doors locked, he stepped back from the house a few rods, when Mr. Young put a ball in him.

RED CROSS ICE PLANT

To be Placed on the Ambulance Ship and Money Needed For It.

New York, May 26.—Under the auspices of the American National Red Cross an ice plant auxiliary has been formed. This auxiliary is busy preparing for the establishment of an ice plant on the ambulance ship, which will transport the sick and wounded from Cuba and Porto Rico to their own country. It is intended to have a machine which will turn out one ton of ice a day, and which, with the cold storage room and the various engenious appliances of scientific refrigeration, will cost about $3,000.

The ambulance ship is an assured success, and every detail as to its equipment, maintenance and use has been attended to thoroughly. All that it now requires is the refrigerating installation, and for this the auxiliary appeals to the public for the necessary funds.

DISTILLED WATER FOR TROOPS.

Plants to Be Put on Board Transports Chartered by the Government.

New York, May 26.—Bids were opened in the depot quartermaster's department in the Army building yesterday for twelve water distilling plants. They are to have a capacity of 3,000 gallons a day each for use on transports chartered by the government. A sample plant is to be put in operation by the successful bidder, and on its success will depend the payment for it and for the ordering of the remainder.

Many bids were received, ranging from $750 to $2,250 for each plant, but no contracts were awarded.

Cooper Sent to Trenton Prison.

Wilmington, Del., May 26.—Convicted of conspiring with William N. Boggs to wilfully misapply $3,000 from the First National Bank of Dover, Colonel Ezekiel T. Cooper, member of the bar of Kent county, ex-register of wills and editor of the Milford Herald, was sentenced by Judge Bradford, in the United States district court, Monday afternoon, to pay a fine of $5,000 and to be imprisoned in the New Jersey state prison at Trenton, N. J., for eighteen months.

Buying Mules for Army.

St. Louis, May 26.—Lieutenant Colo- G. C. Smith, assistant quartermaster general of the United States, stationed in this city, Tuesday received orders to buy army mules without limit. During the past six days mules to the amount of $972,960 have been bought and it is estimated that yesterday's expenditure will amount to $100,000 additional.

Marines on Guard.

Key West, May 26.—Marines are now guarding the government docks and property under Lieutenant Ingate. They are part of those who came from the Brooklyn navy yard on the Panther. Martial law may be proclaimed at any time.

The Postmastership.

The appointment of a postmaster always has in it a great element of political influence so far as the selection is concerned, but after that, under the civil service rules, it is as far removed from politics as any public business can be. It is essential that whoever secures the appointment should be qualified in a business way to maintain a service that will prove satisfactory in all details to the public at large, for there is no public business with which the whole country is so intimately associated as the matter of distributing mail matter.

Elias H. Bird, who was nominated for postmaster of Plainfield yesterday by President McKinley, is qualified to fill his future duties in a manner that will please those who have dealings with Uncle Sam in this direction. He is a thorough worker, who will apply himself, as he has in all the occupations in which he has been engaged, in a conscientious spirit. Postmaster Hetfield has improved the service to a wonderful degree during his administration and he will deliver the office to Mr. Bird in a shape that with careful attention it can be maintained in a way to show that the President has not made a mistake in his appointment.

Mr. Bird's present position as city tax collector, which he will resign, will be filled by the Common Council until a successor can be elected next December.

Rights of a Spaniard Here.

There are still some Spaniards engaged in trade and living quietly in this country unmolested by anybody, even though their country is at war with us. It is right that they should be thus unmolested so long as they do not commit any act of hostility or treason against us, but all trading between us and Spain must stop. It would be smuggling. All intercourse and correspondence must cease.

By strict interpretation of international agreement, however, no contract made in this country by a Spaniard during the war can be made operative by law. According to the law of nations, the United States government has the right to seize and confiscate wherever found the property of any subject of Spain in this country. But people are more humane and civilized than their laws, and it is no longer the custom to seize the property of noncombatants in an enemy's country. The rule observed generally is to give the enemy's citizen a reasonable specified time after war is declared to get both himself and his belongings out of the land. He may be required to leave the country, but he is always allowed to take his property with him. If he does not leave, then the government at war with the country of which he is a subject may confiscate his property. It may even imprison himself, but, again, matters are not carried to this length in civilized nations where no charge is brought against the citizen of the hostile country.

Humane usages have developed among modern belligerent nations because any violence to the citizen of one country would immediately be met by like violence to the citizens of the other country who happened to be in the hostile territory. Humane usages arose as a measure of self protection.

MUSTERING IN THE NATIONAL GUARD.

With heads bared and right hands uplifted the militia boys are taking upon themselves an obligation that makes them a part of the United States army. The scene is an inspiring one. It may mean actual warfare for the regiment and hero's graves for some of its members.

Worth Clipping and Keeping.

When the historian of the present American-Spanish war comes to the story of Dewey's sea fight at Manilla, he can do no better than to simply quote the following account from The Outlook. It is a model of English as well as of statement of great facts in little compass:

The later reports of the naval engagement off Manilla show it to have been, in the combined sagacity and boldness of Commodore Dewey, unsurpassed and in the results achieved unequaled in the naval history of the world. Never before has an entire fleet been destroyed without the loss of a ship or even of a single life on the part of the attacking forces. The silent sail at midnight past the fort which was supposed to command the entrance to the bay, the almost contemptuous disregard of the mines placed in the inner harbor for its protection, the calm pushing forward after two mines had exploded just in front of one of the vessels, happily for our forces harmlessly, the silent receiving without return the earliest fire of the enemy, the terrible fire poured upon fleet and shore batteries when the commodore had reached the point where he could make the fire most effective, the stopping after two hours of cannonade for breakfast and then the resumption of the battle, the sailing in closer to the shore by the aid of the lead to make the fire more effective, the brave but hopeless resistance of the Spaniards till every ship was absolutely destroyed or placed entirely hors de combat, the quick and chivalrous attention to the Spanish wounded by Commodore Dewey as soon as the victory was complete, the laconic message to the Spanish authorities on shore, after he had destroyed the fleet and anchored off the city, that one shot fired from shore would be the signal for a bombardment which would lay the city in ashes, the report wired to his government at home, as modest as the achievement reported was heroic—all combine to make this naval engagement one of the most romantic as it is probably quite the most decisive in its immediate results of any in the world's history.

A remarkable voyage was the long journey of the battleship Oregon from San Francisco to the West Indies. She was ordered to leave California for the Atlantic coast as soon as it became apparent there would be war. If the authorities could have seen into the future a little way, the Oregon would undoubtedly have been left on the Pacific coast, but we did not know about Manilla and Dewey then, so she was ordered where the danger was known to be. The Oregon steamed out of the Golden Gate March 14 for her lonely journey around a continent. She saw no land till she reached Callao, Peru, some two weeks later. At Callao she coaled and took on water, then on again alone toward the Southern Cross. In the strait of Magellan the first friendly sight greeted her. It was the little gunboat Marietta, sent to meet her. Thenceforth the two traveled in company, and the last of April they steamed into port at Rio. Afterward the real interest of this 14,000 mile journey began. It centered in the fact that at any moment the Oregon and Marietta might be captured by a Spanish squadron.

In their desperate strait even Spain's priests resort to grotesque lying. The archbishop of Manilla knows that he is lying desperately in the pastoral letter to the Philippines, in which he frantically appeals to them to save their religion from the godless Americans when he tells the ignorant islanders that the invaders will desecrate their altars and turn their churches into Protestant chapels. If the archbishop does not know he is lying when he says this then he has not intelligence enough to be a common peasant, much less an archbishop, and if he states this falsehood deliberately he is a knave and not fit to be an archbishop anyhow. In no land of the globe is the Roman Catholic church so prosperous today as among these same Americans.

It is to be noted that the national banks of the country are practically unanimous in favor of raising revenue by an issue of government bonds instead of by taxation.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Some cynical people aver that the liberty pole which proudly mounts the American eagle 145 feet high in the air, is not in true line. H. C. VanEmburgh, the well-known civil engineer, used a plumbing instrument to get the pole in true line when it was set Tuesday, and he says it is as straight as can be.

Finding themselves unable to gather news in competition with the reporters of The Daily Press, the News writers resort to the shallow trick of stamping as "fake" the various exclusive stories which this paper has been printing with great frequency and promptitude. This practice seems to be peculiarly the trick of the man who covers Dunellen for the News. In two instances within the last week he has proclaimed exclusive and correct stories in The Press as "fakes." Both of the stories were perfectly truthful. It is a poor subterfuge to resort to for screening poor reportorial work.

Auguste Saltzman, president of the Exempt Firemen's Association of New Jersey for his third term, the unanimous choice of the delegates holding a convention at Perth Amboy Tuesday of last week, has been an active fire fighter for twenty-five years. It was Feb. 4th, 1873, that Mr. Saltzman became a member of Alert Hose Company of Plainfield, and ever since then he has been one of the most active members of this well known company, for many years one of the crack companies of New Jersey. Mr. Saltzman is a born fireman; as one of his fellow members says, "He would rather fight a lively fire than eat a meal." He has worked himself up from the ranks among the fire laddies. In Alert's company he was second assistant foreman, first assistant foreman and foreman successively. In 1884 he was elected second assistant chief of the department; in 1885 first assistant chief and in 1886 chief. He served in all the offices with great credit and efficiency. Though he has been entitled to exemption for eighteen years, he continues to "run" with members who were in their skirts when he was a veteran in the service. Mr. Saltzman was born in Henry street, New York, and is of Swiss parentage. He was educated in the government college in Paris, France.

The taste of vaudeville patrons for comedy and drama on what are called legitimate lines becomes more marked every season. The knockabout comedian and the perky soubrette, with yellow curls and childish voice, are all very well once in a while, but now-a-days in up-to date theatrical management they are used principally as adjuncts to more ambitious efforts in the way of comediettas and sketches. This will be shown in a striking manner at Music Hall Saturday night, when the Boston Vaudeville Company will make its appearance. Harry Bagge, one of the best general actors of the robust type on the stage, will appear in a snappy farcical sketch, supported by a number of vaudeville artists of clever talent. The sketch has been presented in Proctor's Twenty-third street theatre in New York, and was welcomed enthusiastically by metropolitan audiences. Up to-date specialties are introduced in the farce.

—A prayer and praise meeting will be held at the East Third Street mission this evening.

—Jerusalem Chapter, R. A. M., will meet this evening and confer the Royal Arch degree.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 26.—Miss Maude Bolton, of Somerville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harman, of North avenue, has returned home.

The Board of Health has not yet heard a word from the State Board of Health regarding the Plainfield sewer beds. The local members think that that it is a disgrace that they cannot be given a fair show in restraining such a nuisance.

The cats and dogs are playing havoc with the young rabbits on the game preserve. If the practice is not stopped some boroughites will be minus their pets before long.

The scholars to be graduated from the public school next month are now making arrangements for that event. Each one is studying hard and trying to graduate with honors.

The Children's Day exercises at the various churches gives promise of being very elaborate this year. Already the children are rehearsing for the event.

Recently some very acceptable donations have been received by Rev. Frank Fletcher for the Baptist church. In every case the donation has been money.

Mrs. William Terry, of Church street, has returned from a visit with her sister in Brooklyn, who is very ill.

There is considerable building going on in the borough at present and many improvements are being made.

Mrs. Elvaine VanName, of Plainfield, who has been visiting borough friends, has returned home.

Mrs. Johnson, of South avenue, is very ill at her home and her condition grows worse.

Mrs. Samuel Vermeule, of Jackson avenue, has almost recovered from her illness.

George Schenck, the borough grocer, was in Plainfield yesterday on business.

Chris. Huff, formerly of Plainfield, has returned to the borough to live.

Mrs. Laing, of Church street, has been visiting relatives in Plainfield.

Postmaster Charles Cerieli was in Plainfield on business yesterday.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to the Daily Press)

Scotch Plains, May 26 — Scotch Plains and Fanwood have responded nobly to the nation's call for volunteers. There are five enlisted in the army and navy and others are talking strongly of following their example.

Memorial Day exercises will be held by the children of the public school tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. A programme, consisting of recitations, singing, etc., will be rendered. Immediately after the indoor exercises the scholars will plant two evergreen trees in the schoolyard in commemoration of the Maine dead. An invitation to attend is extended to all interested in the school.

A dramatic entertainment by the Choir Guild of All Saints' P. E. church, Scotch Plains, will be given this evening in the Fanwood Clubhouse at 8 o'clock. Part one will consist of a comedy in two acts, entitled "A Rice Pudding," while part two will be devoted to the presentation of a comedy farce in two acts, entitled "Woodcock's Little Game." There will also be recitations and a musical tableau—Star Spangled Banner.

Fanwood Council, No. 744, R. A., held an interesting meeting in their rooms Tuesday night. Brother George E. Hall, of Fanwood, entertained the Council with selections on his phonograph.

George Thomas received his commission as ensign in the navy yesterday. George will report at once.

The Township Committee meet in town rooms this evening. The trolley franchise will be taken up.

Richard Hart goes to Camp Black today to enlist in the army if he can pass the examination.

Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, K. of P., meet in their rooms this evening.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 26—The Rev. Henry Ketcham, pastor of the Congregational church, is spending a week at Asbury Park. He will preach in the First Congregational church there Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Lambert celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage at their beautiful home on Summit avenue Tuesday evening. About 50 guests were present and the evening was pleasantly spent with recitations, music and dancing. At 12 o'clock a delightful lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert were married at Plainfield by the Rev. K. P. Ketcham May 24th, 1888.

"What the Baptist Stand For" will be the subject of Rev. George A. Francis in the Baptist church Sunday morning. In the evening the congregation will join in the union memorial service in the Presbyterian church.

J. N. Starment has been transferred from Broad street to Central avenue. He has been gateman at the former crossing for many years.

The Frank L. C. Martin Cycle Company have placed an automatic inflator in front of their Broad street store.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Jimerson, of First street, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frentz, of Fanwood.

There will be a musical given in the Methodist church by Miss Ferris and pupils Friday evening, June 3d.

Dr. F. A. Kirch is now calling on patients in a handsome new rubber tired doctor's carriage.

All the companies of the fire department have decided to take part in the Memorial Day parade.

The Rev. Joseph Greeves, of this town, will preach at Branch Mills Sunday evening.

Charles Smith's residence on Summit avenue is being painted and decorated.

The side wall in front of the Public Library has been repaired and much improved.

Robert Woodruff, who recently broke his leg, is improving rapidly.

The Central Railroad has put in a new cross over switch at Garwood.

Miss Lizzie Williams, of Paterson, is visiting friends in town.

Dr. S. Cooper will be marshal of the Decoration Day parade.

Fireside Council, Royal Arcanum, will meet this evening.

A new platform is being laid at the freight depot.

LINCOLN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 26—Timbers for the erection of the new waterproof-cloth factory have arrived and work will soon commence.

A meeting of the young men of this town was held Tuesday evening at Mayor Drake's office, and a baseball club organized with temporary officers, as follows: Chairman, A. Roy; secretary pro tem, John C. MacNeilis; captain, Frank Cushing and W. H. Kenyon. The ground has been selected and a diamond marked out, and arrangements completed to for the first practice game Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Charles MacDonald has been making a new bicycle record between this place and Bound Brook, having traveled the distance of two and one half miles in six minutes.

Assistant-Postmaster Van Polhemmis spent Sunday with friends in Roycefield.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following transfers of real estate in North Plainfield were recorded in the county clerk's office between April 30th and May 11th, 1898:

Wm. O. Worth et ux., to Olin L. Jenkins, $1; Alfred University to William L. Sharkey, $800; Borough of North Plainfield to Charles Bock, $137.59; William D. Craig et ux., to John J. Heideloff, $1.

—Swain has on exhibition at his store, 317 West Front street, a handsome large hand-colored engraving of "Washington Crossing the Delaware". It is well worth seeing.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Odorless Antiseptic
Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others—covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

Wait. Pawnee Bill's Coming.

Pawnee Bill's Historic Wild West, Hippodrome, Indian Village, Indian Museum, Congress of Trained Animals and Grand Mexican Bull Fight, will exhibit at the corner of Spooner avenue and Essex street tomorrow. This is not the greatest show on earth; advertising more than it fulfills; neither is it a snide, run by drunken and bankrupt proprietors, and preceded by a lot of cut-throats and a horde of gamblers, but is a legitimate exhibition of stupendous and startling wonders, including bands of Indians, warriors, squaws and papooses, brave scouts, roving cow boys, cunning Mexicans and vaqueros, a herd of buffaloes and long-horned Texas steers, spotted mustangs; Miss May Lillie, champion horseback rifle shot of the world; a troupe of wonderful Arabian Acrobats and Human Pyramid Builders, headed by the great Ali Bros.; Australian Boomerang Throwers, a troupe of famous Japanese Lancers, Fencers and Fighters, and sword combats on horseback; a museum of rare and startling wonders; grand, glorious, novel free street display at 10 a. m. This is an opportunity which should not be missed. Seats for 10,000 people under waterproof canopy.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Jacob Blimm, of Somerset street, is slowly recovering from his recent severe illness.

Mrs. E. L. Hyde, of Hyde Park, Massachusetts, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. F. A. Dunham, of Madison avenue.

Jere Dunn, at one time owner of the Elizabeth race-track, was in Plainfield yesterday calling on friends.

Miss Laura Worthington, of New York, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. V. N. Talmadge, of Central avenue.

The Misses Kate, Olive and Sadie Brown, of New York, will spend Decoration Day with the Misses Blimm, of Somerset street.

S. St. John McCutchen and family of Rockview avenue, will leave tomorrow for Belmar, where they will spend the summer.

Rev. Dr. James F. Brown, who was pastor of the Baptist church at Scotch Plains as far back as 1860, spent yesterday in town calling upon his old friends and parishoners who have located in Plainfield. He is a man of scholarly attainments and large sympathies.

The desirability of having a Piano in your home is a proposition that you would never seek to dispute. It is one of the things that is incontestibly true.

The only objection with most people is the supposed excessive cost. We wish those who want music in their homes, and haven't got it, to come and see us. We can make the buying of a Piano such an easy matter that they will surely acquiesce.

Pay us TEN DOLLARS and you shall have a Piano at once.

SASHES NOT A POSITIVE NECESSITY

The Neck Arrangements Stamp the Costumes Quite as Much as the Cut.

(By special arrangement with the N.Y. Sun.)

The modes of making and trimming the bodice are very nearly on the old lines; the sleeves are simply a little smaller, and while the skirt has acquired a reputation for shifting methods of construction, the simple gored skirt with five or seven gores and less fullness is still very popular.

A skirt model which is considered especially good style for thin wool materials, organdies and lawns, is cut with either six or seven gores, yet measures only three and a half yards at the bottom. It is trimmed with two circular flounces about eight inches wide, arranged straight across the back and rounding up narrowly at either side of the front to the waist, where they meet forming a small panel below.

It is the neckgear which stamps a costume as modish, quite as much as the cut. Stocks with four-in-hand ties or sailor knots made of the same material as the waist are especially good style, while other fashionable stocks are of white pique with a colored silk four-in-hand or narrow tie, which forms a small bow. There are black, white and colored silk ties with knotted fringe on the ends, and soft ties of net chiffon and Liberty gauze will be very much worn with the cotton and linen gowns.

Sashes are a very pretty addition to the thin gowns, but they are not a positive necessity, as many of the muslin gowns have simply a belt and bow of ribbon at the side in front, or directly at the back. The chiffon sashes in black, white or colored are the prettiest of all. They are cut fully three-quarters of a yard wide and trimmed on the ends with ruffles of the same material or frills of lace. Ribbon sashes are made of plaid ribbons and some of the former are crossed diagonally at intervals for the entire length with ruffles of black lace edging four inches wide, each one finished at the head with a ruche of narrow lace. Another dressy sash is made of two rows of seven-inch ribbon joined together lengthwise with black lace insertion, and ruffled across the ends with lace edging.

Youthful Brides.

California permits girls of over fifteen to wed without parental consent.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

How Julia Ward Howe's Great Song Was Written.

I heard Mrs. Julia Ward Howe not long ago tell how she came to write her famous "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the story was so interesting I have thought others may care to hear it:

"It was during the second year of the war," said Mrs. Howe, "that I had gone to Washington with my husband and my pastor, Rev. James Freeman Clark. I had wished so many times that I could do something for my country, but the way seemed closed. My husband was too old and ill to go; my son was only a boy. My children were so young I could not leave my home for long myself. While we were in Washington there was to be a great review of the troops across the river. We drove out to see it. While this review was in progress there was a dash made against some of our troops by the enemy. It was repulsed, but the further progress of the display was abandoned and the troops came thronging back to Washington, and we with them.

"The progress of our carriage was very slow, the roads were so crowded with the soldiers. To encourage the men we began singing various songs and hymns and they would join in the chorus. After we had sung 'John Brown's Body,' Dr. Clark turned and asked me why I did not write some new words for that music. I said that I had tried several times, but never could seem to write any good enough.

"The next morning just about 4 o'clock I woke suddenly. As I lay there in bed the words of the hymn began to form themselves in my mind. I got up, and by the faint light of the early morning scrawled them on a piece of paper, and then went back to bed and sound sleep again.

"That is the way the hymn was written. I tell the story to-day that any who hear it may see that if we really want to do a thing which is right for us to do, God will open a way, though not perhaps the one we looked for. I could not help my country as I wanted to, but he gave it to me to write this hymn."—Max B. Thrasher, in Outlook.

EMPRESS TAITOU.

Some Idiosyncrasies of Abyssinia's Rather Remarkable Queen.

There is no European Queen Consort filling a more dignified station than the Empress Taitou, of Abyssinia. She has a large household of her own, her lord stewards, chamberlains, butlers, cooks and guards. She directs all the grand feasts, has immense appanages all over the empire, and resources in kind. She leads a sedentary life because there are no interesting promenades, but when she shows herself in public she is surrounded with ladies, mounted on richly-harnessed mules, with runners, umbrella bearers and other attendants. The umbrellas are of many colors, but Taitou's is red.

The Empress is a stickler for etiquette, to which Menelek attaches no importance. Nobody who has not been formally presented to her must gaze on her even within the precincts of the palace. She has a large kitchen garden, which is one of her many delights, but the moment the red umbrella appears the gardeners must retire. All the servants stand aloof with downcast eyes as she walks by. Not taking much exercise, Taitou is lost in fat. She is wonderfully well informed, converses cleverly, and can be charming. Her letters are well written, and in a bright, natural style. They might put to shame those of many a well-educated European lady. The dress of the Empress is only distinguished from that of her ladies by its impeccable cleanliness and neatness.—London Standard.

Angkor-Wat's Mysterious Temple.

The great mystery about Indo-China, and one which must ever be insoluble, is the story of the lost race and the vanished civilization of that strange country. The mighty walls of Angkor-Wat, rising in the midst of sparsely populated jungles, remain as the memorial of a great empire which has utterly disappeared and is altogether lost to history. No one will ever know who planned this gigantic temple, or what tyrant hounded on his myriads of people to build up those immense blocks of stone and cover them with the most elaborate of sculptures. Angkor-Wat is one of the most astonishing monuments in the world, and this forgotten temple was built so as to endure as long as the earth itself, were it not for the irresistibly destructive effect of plant life on the strongest walls that man can raise. Only a highly civilized and very wealthy people could have erected Angkor-Wat—a very different race to the Annamite of modern days. The whole nation has disappeared as utterly as the busy myriads who once populated the wastes and solitudes of Memphis.—Singapore Free Press.

A Judgment of Solomon.

A story is told of Admiral Sicard when at Yorktown with his fleet for drills and maneouvres. A force was to land and capture an inland railroad base against a defense force of little more than half its size. The two commanders of these forces were discussing before the Admiral the details, and each contended that the other would have superior advantages. The Admiral, after puzzling over how the differences might be adjusted, finally said:

"Gentlement, it is evident that the matter can be reconciled in only one way. Suppose you swap forces and fight the other way."

The battle was fought on the original plan.—New York Tribune.

"Ef de average young man," said Uncle Eben, "ud be willin' to go froo as much hahdship ter git useful knowledge as he did learnin' ter smoke his fust cigar, dar wouldn' be nigh ez many regrets in dis here life."—Washington Star.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Königsberg. Ein großer Brand, durch welchen fünf Gebäude eingeäschert worden und etwa 40 Stück Vieh verbrannt sind, hat während der Nacht in der unweit der hiesigen Stadt gelegenen Ortschaft Seligenfeld gewüthet.

Memel. Das Hilfskomite, welches sich zur Unterstützung der Familien der bei Memel verunglückten Fischer gebildet hatte, hat beschlossen, ein Drittel der eingelaufenen Gaben zur Linderung der dringendsten Noth und Beihilfen zur Herstellung der beschädigten Kutter, so weit für diese nicht die Versicherungskasse eingetreten ist, zu verwenden. Der Rest wird zur Erziehung der zurückgelassenen Kinder derartig verwendet werden, daß jedes Kind bis zum zurückgelegten 14. Lebensjahre monatlich 5 Mark erhält, sowie zur Bestreitung unvorhergesehener, aber nothwendiger Ausgaben und ist in einem Sparkassenbuch angelegt.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Danzig. Auf dem großen Exerzirplatze in Strieß hatte die vierte Schwadron des 1. Leibhusaren-Regiments eine Lanzenübung. Hierbei entfiel dem Husar Glaus eine Lanze so, daß die Spitze nach oben gekehrt blieb. Glaus wollte nach der Lanze fassen, aber zu spät. Das Pferd ging vorwärts, und die Lanzenspitze durchbohrte Glaus das Herz, so daß dieser auf der Stelle todt war.

Graudenz. Die Ehefrau des Agenten Hoffmann wurde neulich Morgens im Bette todt aufgefunden. Die Leiche zeigte am Kopfe mehrere offene Wunden. Der Ehemann der Getödteten, die oftmals kränklich war, ist unter dem Verdacht des Mordes verhaftet worden. Die Eheleute lebten in beständigem Unfrieden.

Rheinprovinz.

Köln. Hier haben sich kürzlich bei der königlichen Eisenbahndirektion mehrere Damen der Prüfung als Fahrkarten-Verkäuferinnen unterzogen. Diejenigen, welche die verlangten Kenntnisse nachgewiesen haben, erhalten fünf Jahre lang eine Tagesbesoldung und hierauf ein von 1100 bis 1500 Mark steigendes Gehalt nebst dem gesetzmäßigen Wohnungsgeldzuschuß.

Barmen. Der Verkehr auf der städtischen Heckinghauser Straßenbahn hat erheblich nachgelassen. Die Stadtverordneten beschlossen, statt des Minutenbetriebs einen Zehn-Minutenbetrieb einzurichten. Durch diese Aenderung werden 9000 Mark erspart.

Elberfeld. Eine aus ihrer Wohnung exmittirte Frau sprang in der Verzweiflung mit ihren vier Kindern in die Wupper, wurde jedoch noch lebend herausgezogen.

Krefeld. Die Stadtverordneten beschlossen die Errichtung einer Reihe von Neuanlagen und Erweiterungsbauten auf dem städtischen Schlachthofe im Gesammtwerthe von 243,000 Mark, darunter die Erbauung eines Seuchenschlachthauses, eines Pökelhauses und eines Vorkühlraumes.

Provinz Sachsen.

Kühndorf. Der Landwirth Schneider hat in einem Wuthanfall seine Ehefrau und deren Mutter erwürgt und ist seitdem spurlos verschwunden.

Salzwedel. Der Regimentskommandeur des hiesigen Ulanen-Regiments Nr. 16, Oberst von Schmidt, ist nach Insterburg versetzt und mit der Führung der 37. Kavalleriebrigade beauftragt worden. Unsere Stadt verliert in ihm einen treuen Freund und Förderer aller Wohlthätigkeitsbestrebungen. Seiner Zeit hatte der Scheidende für die Hinterbliebenen des „Iltis" den Betrag von 10,000 Mark gespendet.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Die Stadtverordneten acceptirten den Vertrag mit der elektrischen Straßenbahn betreffend den Ausbau der wichtigen Linien nach den Rothkretschamer Kirchhöfen und der Hundsfelder Brücke.

Glogau. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Redakteur Franke vom „Niederschlesischen Anzeiger" wegen Beleidigung des Glogauer Oberbürgermeisters Martin durch einen Artikel in seinem Blatte zu dreimonatlichem Gefängniß.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Versuchsweise hat die Regierung, in der Absicht, die durch den Rückgang der Küstenfischerei verarmende Fischerbevölkerung zur Ausübung der Hochseefischerei zu bestimmen, den Grömitzer Fischern in Ostholstein geeignetes Fahrzeug und Fangvorrichtungen zum Betriebe der Hochseefischerei auf ein Jahr unentgeltlich überwiesen. Gleichzeitig ist die Anlage von größeren Fischereihäfen, die mindestens drei Meter Tiefe erhalten und den Fischereifahrzeugen genügenden Schutz bei Stürmen gewähren, in's Auge gefaßt.

Ratzeburg. Auf dem Küchensee unternahmen neulich vier Soldaten des Lauenburgischen Jägerbataillons Nr. 9 eine Ruderpartie. Bei der schweren Belastung kenterte das Boot. Zwei Soldaten ertranken, einer rettete sich durch Schwimmen, der vierte wurde von einem herbeigeeilten Boote aufgenommen.

People We Know.

They Are Plainfield People, and What They Say Is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. When so many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts; when the intelligent reader knows they cannot be true, there is no wonder that people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual personal experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen, living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs Wm. H. Ludlow, of 88 Jackson avenue, says: "I was troubled with symptoms of kidney complaint such as backache and a sort of dull pain across my loins for several years. If I sat for any length of time and attempted to rise I had a sharp pain in the kidneys. Walking any distance or much standing aggravated the difficulty. I could not rest well at night from the fact that I had to be constantly changing about from one position to another trying to free myself from the pain. I used quite a number of remedies but got no permanent relief. I was prevailed upon to get Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store. In justice to them I must say that they did me a great deal of good. It is seldom that I feel any pain in my back and when I do a few doses of this remedy never fails to relieve me. I know others who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with equally good results. From my experience I can honestly recommend them to all who suffer from kidney troubles."

PAULIST TO GO TO THE WAR.

Community Offers the Government One of Its Members as a Chaplain.

It was decided at a recent meeting of the congregation of St. Paul the Apostle (the Paulist fathers) that that community should show its affection for the country and its earnest sympathy with the cause of Cuba and freedom in the present war with Spain in a substantial manner by sending one of its number to the front. The record of the Paulists in the late civil war was an enviable one, and it was felt that the present opportunity should not pass unheeded. The Rev. Father Deshon, the superior general of the community, who was graduated from West Point with General Grant, was one of the most enthusiastic on sending one of the members of his band of preachers to the scene of hostilities.

After much discussion it was determined to ask the Rev. Francis Brooks Doherty of the Paulist community in the newly established house in San Francisco if he would consent to represent the order in the United States service. He was telegraphed to, and an immediate reply in the affirmative was received. A communication was then sent to the president announcing Father Doherty's desire to go to the front as chaplain either in the army or navy, or for such other service as the government might designate.

Father Francis Brooks Doherty was born in Boston and is well known in the east. He was ordained three years ago and was sent to the San Francisco house of the Paulists, which was established in 1895. Father Doherty is a powerful preacher and has been engaged in mission work along the Pacific coast and in Arizona.—New York Sun.

DUTY OF CATHOLICS IN WAR.

Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati Issues an Address to His People.

Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati recently issued an address calling upon all Catholics to do their duty in the present war. It contains the following words:

"Catholics understand very well that in time of war every one must do his full duty by his country according to his state and his obligations under pain of sin. I wish only to remind you that there is one service which everybody owes to his country, and that is prayer. I direct that all priests celebrating mass in this diocese continue to recite the prayer for any necessity during the continuance of the war or until otherwise ordered.

"Likewise, that after mass the priest and people recite 'Our Father' and one 'Hail Mary' and that the priest announce each time that it is for God's guidance to our rulers and for his protection over our soldiers and seamen and others engaged in the war, and then they shall recite one 'Our Father' and one 'Hail Mary' for the souls of those who die in the contest, including the brave victims of the Maine. I grant indulgence of 40 days each day that one recites them."—Chicago Record.

FATHER GODFREY SHILLING.

Recently Appointed Superior of the New Franciscan Convent at Washington.

Very Rev. Godfrey Shilling, O. S. F., for many years professor at St. Francis' Ecclesiastical college of Cincinnati, has been appointed by the general of the Franciscan order at Rome as superior of the fine new Franciscan convent at present in course of erection in the city of Washington. This is the second distinction the general of the Franciscan order has conferred on the Cincinnati priest, the first being his selection to the commissary generalship of his order in the United States to the Holy Land, which position he still very adequately fills.

Father Shilling is the master of at least 15 languages and one of the greatest linguists in America. He returned a few years ago from a five years' sojourn in the Holy Land, whither he had been sent by his Cincinnati superior to labor among the Catholics of Bethlehem, Jerusalem and other cities of Palestine. He is quite a young man and has a large circle of friends in Cincinnati who will be pleased to hear of his latest well deserved promotion.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Life of Priests In Texas.

Referring to the hard life led by many priests in Texas, The Southern Messenger speaks of one parish in visiting which the missioner must travel 1,892 miles by railroad and 444 miles overland by stage. The district was formerly called "No Man's Land" and comprises 69 counties. The number of churches in the mission is very small, but mass is offered in 25 private houses many miles apart. This largest parish in the United States—certainly there can be none larger—is in the diocese of Dallas, the area of which is 118,000 square miles. But Texas would have to be even broader than it is, remarks The Ave Maria, to limit the zeal of a prelate like Bishop Dunne or of a priest like Father Lenert of the Panhandle mission.

A Patriotic Offer.

The mother superior of the convent of Mary Immaculate, Key West, called on Commander Forsythe a few days ago and offered to place the convent and two school buildings at the disposal of the United States government, to be used as hospitals in case of war with Spain and offering the services of the sisters as nurses. Commander Forsythe laid the matter before Commander In Chief Sampson, who wrote a letter of acceptance.—Boston Herald.

The Only English Pope.

THE FAITH IN WALES.

EFFORTS MADE TO REVIVE THE CATHOLIC CHURCH THERE.

Three Years Ago Wales Was Made a Vicariate by the Holy Father—Influence of the Bishop of Newport and the Welsh Catholic Truth Society.

There is no part of the work of the church in Great Britain at the present time more interesting than the efforts that are being made to restore the faith to Wales, and though there is none that seems more beset with difficulties, yet in some ways there is perhaps none more hopeful if only the means of undertaking it are forthcoming. The results that have been already achieved, small though they are in themselves and in comparison with the magnitude of the task to be accomplished, are nevertheless most encouraging when considered in proportion to what has been done.

It may not be amiss to consider a few of the special circumstances existing in Wales, both favorable and unfavorable to the prospects of the Catholic movement. As every one knows, it is now three years since Wales (with the exception of Glamorganshire) was made a vicariate by the holy father. This took place in March, 1895, and six months later Bishop Mostyn was consecrated as vicar apostolic. He began his episcopacy under most favorable auguries, for his appointment was received with warm approval throughout Wales, even by a large proportion of the Protestant press. Glamorganshire remains part the diocese of Newport, which also includes Monmouthshire—a county which, though technically regarded as being in England, is ethnologically Welsh and is united to Wales for many purposes, such, for instance, as technical education—and Herefordshire, which contains a large number of Welsh people, though it has been an English county for many centuries.

The diocese of Newport is therefore far more a Welsh than an English diocese, and its conditions are very similar to those of the vicariate. Indeed, though it includes only one county of Wales proper, that county is by far the largest, the wealthiest and the most populous in Wales.

The great bulk of the trade of Wales is done in it and its population is, roughly speaking, three-sevenths of the total population of Wales. So that, when we add the Welsh people in Monmouthshire and Herefordshire, Bishop Hedley has probably as many Welsh people under his charge as Bishop Mostyn, and the total population of the diocese of Newport is of course considerably larger than that of the vicariate, though the latter includes 11 counties and the former only three. Great difficulties in the vicariate are its wide area, the scattered condition of the Catholic missions and the extremely bad means of communication over the greater part of it. Only those who have traveled on Welsh railways know how bad railways can be even at this time of day, and in many parts of Wales there are no railways at all.

That the church in Wales is still a very small body indeed will be seen from the fact that there are in this vicariate only 19 secular and 36 regular priests, including 21 Jesuit fathers in St. Beuno's college, and in the diocese of Newport 37 secular and 34 regular priests, of whom 15 are in Herefordshire and the rest in Glamorgan and Monmouthshire. The total population of the vicariate and the diocese is about 2,250,000.

The church, however, at any rate in south Wales, has an influence and a prestige which are out of all proportion to her numbers, and this is due in the first place to the bishop of Newport, for whom a widespread esteem and respect is felt among Protestants as among Catholics, and in the second place to the zeal and earnestness in spreading a knowledge of the truth shown by a great number of Catholics, many of whom are converts from nonconformist bodies. In this respect invaluable service has been done by the members of the historical society of St. Teilo (the Welsh Catholic Truth society). That the influence of Bishop Mostyn will make itself felt in the same way is the confident belief of those best able to form an opinion.—Tablet.

The Mountain of the Monks.

There is a region in Macedonia known as "the Mountain of the Monks," because there are no fewer than 20 magnificent monasteries scattered in the sheltered recesses or on the tops of the lofty crags. There dwell in this secluded spot, cut off from all the pomps and vanities of the world, the devotees of an extraordinary system of asceticism, quietism and superstition. The town proper is called Caryes, where are to be found all the essential features of civilized life—streets of shops and bazaars filled with bustling and eager customers, coppersmiths plying their trade, and fruiterers piling up their wares—but never is seen the form or face of mother, wife, sister, daughter, lover or infant. The Turkish garrison is a collection of bachelor quarters for men and officers. Strange to say, the superstition runs that it was the Virgin herself who banished her sex from this spot.—New York Tribune.

Sisters Offer Services.

The Sisters of St. Francis, through Mother Mary Agnes, have tendered their services to the government in the present struggle, as also the use of their hospitals, free of charge. This has been done by Dr. Michael O'Hara, Sr., medical director of St. Agnes' hospital, acting for the sisters, in a letter to the Hon. Russell A. Alger, secretary of war. Archbishop Ryan, who by virtue of his office is general superior of the order, has given his approbation to this act of the sisters. There are seven hospitals in their charge in this province alone.—Philadelphia Catholic Standard and Times.

CURIOUS WEDDING RING CUSTOM.

In Malabar One is Put On the Bridegroom's Big Toe.

Many curious customs are practised in connection with the use of the almost universal wedding ring. One of the strangest is in Malabar, where an old native custom seats both bride and bridegroom on a dais, and a relative washes the feet of the bridegroom with milk, and puts a silver ring on the great toe of the right foot. He then hands a gold ring to his kinsman, and a necklace and chaplet of flowers are put on the bride's neck and head.

Modern Greek peasants exchange a gold and silver wedding ring, and they drink wine from the same cup. But the regular ritual of the Greek Church ordains that solemn betrothal precedes the actual marriage, in which are used a gold and silver wedding ring, blessed by the priest, the gold ring being given to the man, the silver ring to the woman. The form of the espousal is then repeated, and the rings are placed on the right hands, and then exchanged that no inferiority may be betokened by the woman wearing the silver ring, and also to indicate the common ownership of property.

An Armenian mother usually selects her daughter's husband. After all business preliminaries are settled between the families the bridegroom's mother, accompanied by a priest and two matrons, visits the bride and gives her a ring in token of espousal, and with this ring the couple are ultimately married. Among the fishing communities very ancient and elaborate rings are used, and they descend as heirlooms from generation to generation. In Japan in marriages arranged between very young people the girl always receives a ring in evidence that the union is binding.—Jackson Clarion Ledger.

HIS FIRST DEER.

The Hunter Was Seized with Panic and Failed to Shoot.

Buck fever is a hunter's disease, the symptoms of which are pretty well known, but they have seldom been more feelingly described than by a Marquette citizen, whose first experience in deer-shooting is related in the Mining Journal.

After spending a few hours tramping through the woods, feeling tired, he sat down on a log to rest. Like most hunters, he had taken his pipe and tobacco along. Filling the pipe, he smoked for a time without interruption, when, happening to turn his head a little to one side, he saw a large buck coming straight toward him. As luck would have it, he had sat down to smoke near a deer trail.

The deer came nearer and nearer, until he was nearly opposite the place where th hunter sat concealed. While the hunter was watching the approach of the deer he forgot that he had a gun, and that the deer was his meat." He began to tremble and shake in every limb and joint, and it was difficult for him to restrain a yell of fright.

He watched and trembled until the deer passed his hiding place, and went into the thicket beyond. Then feeling for his pipe, he discoverd that it lay on the ground near his feet. By the time he had picked it up the deer was out of range, and then he discovered that in his excitement he had bitten the mouthpiece of his pipe in two.

He was greatly relieved to see the deer move on, as it seemed to him that he was the game and the deer was the hunter.

Punishment in the British Navy.

Two contrasted cases of punishment in the British navy have lately caused a good deal of comment in the right little, tight little island.

In the first case a boy on the Impregnable struck his commanding officer when the latter was assigning him a punishment for some offense. The penalty for this second offense was threefold: First, twenty-four cuts with the birch before the ship's company, then three months' imprisonment with hard labor, followed by dismissal from the service. The assault could hardly have been more than technical.

In the other case a lieutenant came back to his ship, and in an "explicable outburst of violence"—he was presumably drunk—made a murderous assult on a subordinate officer, kicking him about the head and face and beating him with a stick. The assaulting officer pleaded guilty before court-martial, and was reprimanded and dismissed from the ship, but not from the service. Four months later, after what was practically a vacation of that duration, he was gazetted for a better place than he had before, over the heads of deserving officers.

In the British navy, as elsewhere, the notion seems to prevail that a coarse and abusive brute must necessarily be a "good disciplinarian" and a "fine executive."

His Campaign Figures.

"Here's twenty dollars," said the candidate for the small office, to his campaign manager. "That ought to be enough to insure my election. What do you think?"

"Well, Jim," replied the manager, "you wants the truth erbout it, don't you?"

"Certainly—speak out!"

"Well, takin' yer reputation inter consideration, an sinin' you up at yer full weight, I'm positive it'll take at least twenty-two dollars an' a half ter git you in!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Divulging Secrets.

Mrs. Winston—I think your husband is so witty! But why is it that you never laugh at his jokes? I have often noticed this.

Mrs. Clapper—He always tries his jokes on me first. I hear them several times before he springs them in company.—Cleveland Leader.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Fred Adams, of Netherwood, is confined to the house by illness.

James Field, of Somerville, was the guest of his friends in Plainfield today.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Volz, of Johnston's drive, have returned from Newark, where they witnessed the marriage of their niece, Miss Rose Ehmann. The wedding occurred last Sunday.

Mr. Sangston, of New York, was in town today calling on his friends. He was accompanied by his friend, Mr. Clark, both of whom represent the Matthews Company, makers of soda fountains.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., Sunday afternoon, May 22d, 1898, after the burial of Brother George Butsche, the following resolutions of condolence were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in His all-wise providence to remove by death one of our beloved members brother and friend, George Butsche, one who always took a deep interest in the welfare and prosperity of our lodge; one who was always ready with valuable aid, and who did all this most willingly and cheerfully; therefore we desire here to place on record a full expression of our great loss, and for our lasting regard for him and his memory; and be it

Resolved, That we hereby tender to his bereaved and stricken friends and relatives the assurance of our warmest regard and tender sympathy in their bereavement, under a blow so sudden that our faith in the divine love can say, "Thy will be done."

Resolved, That this preamble and resolutions be placed in full upon the minutes of our lodge and published in the city papers.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Miss Clementine R. Yates, chairman of the Evangelistic Committee of the W. C. T. U., desires to announce that besides the usual Sunday meetings the Union will have Gospel services in their rooms every Friday and Saturday evenings for the present. It was a disappointment to many that the "City Mission" deemed it wise to discontinue the meetings and understanding that they have disbanded the W. C. T. U. has gladly accepted Mr. Graham's offer to take charge of two meetings a week. Everybody is welcome to the meetings which will commence this week.

A Big Dancing Pavilion.

The dancing pavilion, which is being erected at the mountain side grove, on Johnston's drive, North Plainfield, is finished, and will be ready for the picnic which the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein will hold there Decoration Day.

SPORTS

AROUND THE BASES.

The baseball team of the Plainfield High School has disbanded for good for the season with little prospect of resuming play next season. Arthur Lederer, the captain, graduates this year with several of the other players. While there will be plenty of good material left, there is little chance of any better financial support next season than this.

Saturday afternoon will see an exciting game at the Crescent Oval. The Hoboken Athletic Association will send its crack team to meet the Crescents and will make every effort to defeat them. The Crescents gained a great reputation by defeating the Seventh Regiment in their opening game, and the Hoboken players are particularly anxious to secure the scalp of the Crescents as a coveted trophy.

CYCLING COMMENT.

THIRD IN ATHLETIC RACE.

Plainfield Boys in the Inter-scholastic Association Games.

The Plainfield High School finished third in the race for honors at the championship games of the New Jersey Inter-scholastic Athletic Association, held on the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club at Bayonne yesterday afternoon.

George Proctor Smith, who entered under the High School, again secured the individual championship by scoring the most points of any one contestant.

Plainfield was not represented in any of the track events except the low hurdles. Smith ran in that event. With only four more hurdles to cross he was fully twenty feet in the lead when he tripped over a hurdle by jumping too close to it and was thrown heavily. He was badly cut up by the fall.

In the pole vault, the record held by Smith of 9 feet 6 inches was broken by Phil Moore, of Pingry's, with a vault of 10 feet. Smith was second, with 9 feet 3 inches. Smith was also second in the broad jump.

Smith showed excellent form in putting the shot, breaking the old record made by himself by over two feet. His put was 40 feet, 2½ inches.

In throwing the discuss, Smith outthrew the old record, held by himself, by nearly three feet. He won with a throw of 95 feet, 10 inches.

The old record for throwing the hammer was 102 feet, 11 inches, made by Carroll L. Runyon, of the High School. The event was won by W. C. Riley, Princeton Prep, with 129 feet, 7 inches. Smith was second and C. L. Runyon third.

Walter L. Long, of the Plainfield High School, took third in the running high jump, clearing 4 feet, 11 inches.

Pingry School of Elizabeth scored 53 points, winning the banner. Montclair High School was second with 38, and Plainfield third with 21.

A VOCALIST IN THE LAW'S TOILS.

His Voice Was Not Appreciated by West Enders.

Robert De Hart, of the West End, evidently thinks he is a vocalist of no small note judging by the way he was singing last night in front of the Muhlenberg Hospital, according to Roundsman Frederickson, who arrested him.

De Hart is a moulder by trade, and is employed at Pond's. The neighbors notified the police last evening that De Hart was acting in a disorderly way down by the hospital, and so Frederickson was sent there at double quick time.

Frederickson says that he found De Hart leaning up against a post and singing as lustily as his voice would permit. The prisoner pleaded not guilty this morning, and his trial was set down for 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Marriage of Sunday-school Officers.

Cards have been sent out announcing the marriage of Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, of Trenton, N. J., to Miss Mary F. Huber, of Louisville, Ky., to take place at Louisville, today. Mr. Fergusson and Miss Huber have been for years the general secretaries respectively of the New Jersey and Kentucky Sunday-school Associations and were prominent at the International Conference of Sunday-school Field Workers held in Plainfield last October.

Joined the Sixth Cavalry.

Frank Marsh, of Plainfield avenue, and William Stewart, of John street, left Tuesday for Fort Fremont, Ga., to report for duty with the Sixth Cavalry of the U. S. regular army. They were both formerly members of the Twenty-third Infantry of the regular army. Marsh went to Trenton Saturday and Stewart Monday where they successfully passed the necessary examinations for promotion into the Sixth Cavalry.

REVOLT AGAINST SPAIN.

Natives in Phillippines and Carolines Are in Open Rebellion.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 26, 2:05 p. m—A despatch from Manila via Hong Kong, says that a hundred Spanish soldiers have evacuated the fortifications on Corregidor Island. They have run short of ammunition.

A terrible rebellion has started in the province of Punagasinan. The insurgents are pillaging and massacreing the helpless inhabitants.

Dewey is attempting to furnish arms and ammunition to the insurgents. The inhabitants of the Caroline Islands are reported to have revolted and that the natives are perpetrating frightful violences.

American Cruiser at Iliola.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 26.—Letters from the Canary Islands say that the Camara was detained at Cadiz because the wrong projectiles had been furnished her for the fleet.

Despatches from Lloyds' agents at Singapore report an American cruiser off Iliola in the Phillipines.

Norman C. Magne, of Manson place, has resigned his position with the Pond Machine Tool Company and is now employed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard as an expert machinist. He began work there Tuesday morning.

Missing Clerks Heard From

John Stevens, clerk in Woodhull & Martin's dry goods store, received a letter today from Isaac V. Van Arsdale, who left town Saturday night with Hudson Losey, saying that the two were well and enjoying themselves. The letter was mailed from some point in Virginia.

AND THE BLOW ALMOST— W-

For It Meant Twenty Years of Labor Thrown Away.

Representative Eddy of Minnesota, is a man who makes a friend of his pipe. It is his companion when alone. He dreams over it, philosophizes over it, and it is a sort of condiment to aid in the digestion of the books he reads. For twenty years or more he has had one favorite meerschaum pipe. It has been his pride and the comfort of his quiet hours. It was a beautiful and expensive pipe when he got it, and year after year a deeper richness of color came upon it, until it came to be just about as perfect in every respect as a meerschaum can be. A short time ago the amber stem got broken.

Mr. Eddy took it to a foreigner who has a shop on a side street in this city and who was recommended as a repairer of broken novelties. The next day the mender of novelties appeared with the pipe carefully done up in a cloth.

"Ah," he said, "I dona a bea-u-tiful repair. It is, ah, so bea-u-tiful lika new," and as he unwound the cloth a proud smile played across his dark face. Then he held the pipe up to its owner's eyes. A new amber replaced the broken stem and the pipe was white and new looking.

"It was, oh, so dirty. I thought I cleana it. With alcohol and sandpaper, very fine sandpaper, I cleana it bea-u-tifully."

The pipe had been carefully sandpapered—very carefully sandpapered. —Washington Star.

Fancies in Tulle.

Tulle will prove a strong rival of straw during the early part of the coming season. The most novel ways of using it are not in quillings of puffs, as last year, but in layers, one over the other, until it is quite opaque, and then it is either stretched smoothly over a firm shape, or arranged in the form of a beret, with the loose edges of the tulle separate, like the leaves of a book, and each one bordered with extremely narrow satin ribbon or a row of spangles.

Tulles and gauzes woven with filigree gold, silver or steel are used for making toques. Plain tulle and gauze will be used for trimming all sorts of spring and summer hats, and closely spangled tulle will be used more for the puffed borderings of straw toques.

No Terror for Georgie.

Next Door Neighbor—You are welcome to all the turkey dressing you want, Georgie, but aren't you afraid you'l eat too much and be sick?"

Visiting Boy—No'm. We're faith-cure people over at our house. I'd like some more dressing."—Chicago Tribune.

Uncle George—So you think, Mr. Caxton is a literary man?

Carries—Oh, I'm sure of it. When he wants to find anything in a book he wastes half an hour hunting for it before he thinks to look at the index. —Boston Transcript.

SPAIN'S SECRET AGENTS DISCOVERED AT WORK.

By the Capture of One Spy, Two More Are Found.

The British Ship Adula, that Sailed to Relieve American and English Refugees Detained in Cuba—A Strange Spanish Warship Pursued by Americans—Washington Has News.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

SPANISH SPIES DISCOVERED

Head of Spanish Secret Service to be Placed Under Arrest.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 27, 1:10 p. m.—In connection with the arrest and capture of Lieutenant Sobrat, as a Spanish spy, two more secret agents for Spain in New York and Washington are to be arrested immediately.

One is a lawyer, formerly in the employ of the Cuban Provisional Government, and the other a prominent merchant. Both are prominent men at Washington and well-known. They are supposed to be at the head of the Spanish Secret Service in America.

The Washington spy sent a daily letter to the New York accomplice. The latter cabled a cipher message to France whence it was transmitted to Madrid.

He paid $750 for a single cablegram from Havana which asked that $10 be placed to the credit of one Senorita Maria, palpably blind.

REFUGEE SHIP DETAINED.

The Adula Went to Bring Off Americans and Englisnmen From Cuban Soil.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Kingston, Jamaica, May 27, 9:36 a. m—Great indignation is expressed here over the detention of the British steamer Adula by the Spanish authorities at Cienfuegos.

The Adula sailed from here a week ago to bring off the American and English refugees who had gathered on the southern coast of Cuba.

It is reported here that the Adula has been detained by the Spaniards and her officers arrested and thrown into prison as prisoners of war.

STRANGE SHIP SEEN.

A Vessel, Supposed to be Spanish Scout, Pursued by American Gunboats.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 27, 12:46 p. m—The United States gunboat Wilmington sighted a Spanish scout yesterday afternoon, fifteen miles off Sand Key light. The Spaniard was a three masted steamship with a yellow sack of about forty five hundred tons burden.

The Wilmington immediately started in pursuit of the stranger but in vain.

Later in the day the Wilmington was spoken by the gunboat Bancroft. The Bancroft inquired whether the Wilmington had seen anything of the Spaniard which had chased the yacht Eagle.

While the two ships were speaking the Spaniard again appeared. The Bancroft started in pursuit. As the Wilmington was short of coal she did not join in the chase but returned here.

For three nights a strange vessel has been hovering about Sand Key, disappearing in the morning.

The officers of the Wilmington report that all is quiet on the blockade.

Santiago Bombarded.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 27, 2:45 p. m—It is officially bulletined that Sampson's report of the bombardment of Santiago has been received.

The attack began at daybreak and lasted three hours.

It was intended only to ascertain the strength and location of the defense.

The information obtained, Sampson withdrew westward. One man was killed and seven wounded.

NO NEWS RECEIVED.

Washington Has Not Heard Officially From Commodore Schley.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 27, 1:19 p. m—The Newland's resolution declaring the annexation of Hawaii has been offered by Senator Lodge as an amendment to the War revenue bill. The senatorial annexationists declare that henceforth the measures must travel together.

The President stated this morning that no new advices had been received from Cuba or Phillippine waters.

Secretary Long said that he had no confirmation of the report that the Spanish fleet was at Santiago and that Schley was lying in wait for them at the entrance to the harbor.

There was no reason to doubt the accuracy of the statement, he said, beyond the fact that saveral days have passed and the report has not yet been officially confirmed.

The First Invaders.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Tampa, May 27, 2 p. m.—Major General Shafter and the Fifth Army Corps will probably be the first to land in Cuba. It is composed of regulars, the Seventy-first New York and the Second Massachusetts. The corps embraces the cavalry division under Wheeler and an artillery brigade.

Baltimore All Right.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 27, 12:27 p. m—The story of the disablement of the Baltimore at Manila has been officially denied.

At the Reform Club.

The usual weekly meeting of the Reform Club was held last night and was addressed by F. M. Marcley and Mr. Armstrong, who was a delegate to the School of Methods in the First Presbyterian church Tuesday, John H. Sayres and Mr. Johnson. Miss Jennie Smith rendered a piano solo. There were no signers to the pledge.

Fight at Show Grounds.

A free fight took place on the circus grounds this noon in which several of the workmen became engaged, and resulted in the arrest of the colored cook, Frank Goines, who will be tried tomorrow.

—Captain Edwards and the High School cadets will attend the patriotic festival in Vincent chapel tonight. Patriotic songs and good music will be the main attractions.

POOR MULFORD ROSS STILL TOSSED ABOUT

The Controversy Brought Up In County Court.

JUDGE RESERVED DECISION

NORTH PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP APPEALED FROM JUSTICE'S DECISION.

Neither Township Wanted to Support the Poor Old Pauper and So They Fought—North Plainfield Poor Master Claims Ross Was Able to Work and Earn a Living—The Trial Was a Lively One With Frequent Verbal Encounters Between Counsel—The Case Has Been Continued Now for Many Months.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 27—Blind in one eye, with a broken shoulder blade and a fractured skull that interferes with the proper gyrations of his brain, poor old Mulford Ross has been the subject of fierce controversy between the townships of North Plainfield and Warren. Even to the highest court in the county, the case has now been taken. Yesterday, it was tried before Judge Bartine who has reserved his decison in the matter.

The trial began yesterday morning. Fred Pope, of Pope & Runyon, of Plainfield, represented North Plainfield and Former Assemblyman W. R. Codington, of Codington & Swackhamer, of Plainfield, was the attorney for Warren.

The case was taken on an appeal from the joint court held by Justices Speer and Mattison. On the occasion of the first trial it was decided that North Plainfield township was the home of the harmless old insane pauper, Ross, and that therefore North Plainfield should pay for his future keep as long as he lived, whether in North Plainfield or at the State asylum.

Lawyer Pope opened the case with a claim that the proceedings were illegal on account of a technical mistake in the writ of removal. He asked that the Judge nullify all the proceedings. Mr. Codington showed statutes whereby the court was empowered to correct such errors and asked that it be done.

Then followed a lively verbal encounter. Lawyer Pope at length declared his wish to continue the case as the Judge explained that such action would merely delay proceedings and not stop them. The Judge then declared that the trial should go on and the case be tried on its merits.

The principal witnesses for North Plainfield were Thomas McGann, the poormaster, and William H. Smith, a town committeeman. They claimed that Ross was a sound man and perfectly able to earn his own salt and did not need to be supported by anybody. Thereat, Judge Codington waxed sarcastic and wanted to know if they considered a man, blind in one eye, his shoulder blade broken, chilblains on his hands, and a crack in his skull that made him mentally unsound, a perfectly sound man.

Warren placed Elias Allen and Theo. Luerssen, residents of Washington Valley, on the stand to testify that old Ross had been living in North Plainfield township for the last twenty years or more. Other witnesses were called to substantiate their testimony.

The lawyers then summed up and the Judge declared that he would reserve his decision.

Judge Codington conducted his case with great skill and showed his ability in the legal profession by his sharp cross-questioning and able arguments. Lawyer Pope pleaded his case with eloquence.

Free Soda Water at Rowley's.

Rowley, the progressive druggist, has adopted a unique way to furnish the people of Plainfield with a glass of fine soda for 2 cents. In tomorrow's Press he will print a coupon, which, when cut out and presented at the new soda fountain, will entitle the possessor to a glass of soda water. All that's needed to taste the delicious drink is to buy a Press for 2 cents, and those who take the paper regularly will have the chance of getting a glass just for the trouble of clipping and presenting the coupon.

Seniors and Juniors Meet.

This evening a union meeting of the Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor Societies of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held. Mrs. W. S. Lowry, the Junior Superintendent, and the president of the Senior Society, will lead.

Will Enlist.

James Wagner and Morris Barrie, formerly hackmen in the employ of John Lynch, started for Sea Girt this morning with the intention of enlisting.

SOLDIERS ROUGHING IT.

THEIR TRANSFER FROM SEA GIRT CAUSED SOME PRIVATION.

Had to Go Without Supper and Were Compelled to Sleep in Cars as Their Quarters Were not Ready at Ft. Hancock.

[Special to The Daily Press.]

Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, May 26,—The second and third battalions of the Third regiment left Sea Girt in a special train Wednesday afrernoon at 5 o'clock. They arrived ther eat 7 o'clock, having had nothing to eat since breakfast except one sandwich each at 10 o'clock in the morning.

There was no supper for the tired soldiers, and the quarters not being ready for occupancy they spent the night in the cars sleeping as best they could on the seats.

This morning the rain still continued. Some of the boys had breakfast, others did not. Everybody was feeling well and happy, however, and passed over the privations of the night as part of the expected hardships of army life.

The work of settling the camp was started without delay, and by the afternoon the tents offered shelter from the rain and the camp was in fairly good order.

The report that appeared in the Elizabeth Journal, and was afterwards copied by the Plainfield News, to the effect that Private McCarthy, one of the Plainfield squad, was punished for being "too fresh" was entirely a fake. It was put in for a joke and Captain Wherley ordered the Journal reporter to contradict it.

WHAT TROLLEY MIGHT DO

PROPERTY OWNERS AGAIN WARNED TO BESTIR THEMSELVES.

Union County League Contend That Great Damage Will be Done to Property Along the Proposed County Trolley Route

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 27—The recently formed association of taxpayers of Union County, known as the "Union County League," of which William Drysdale is president, has again appealed to the property owners of that county for co-opertion in the fight against the proposed widening of North avenue and the construction of a trolley railroad therein from Elizabeth to Plainfield. Officers of the league contend that the proposed widening of North avenue "would require the taking of an additional thirty four feet of land on one side or the other, or partly on both, thus destroying thousands of valuable shade trees that could not be replaced in a generation, cutting off twelve miles of front yards, and greatly impairing or totally destroying the value of the homes situated thereon."

Furthermore, it is represented that, as the law provides for both damages and benefits, the land will practically be confiscated. "In plain words," say the league committee, "if they take thirty-four feet of your front land and award you $2,000 in damages, they can at the same time assess you $2,500 for alleged 'benefits,' and you must pay the balance of $500, besides giving up your land. But the property owners on North avenue are by no means to be the only losers under this iniquitous act. To pay such an enormous sum as $900,000, (which may possibly be reduced to $600,000 if the Freeholders receive a large sum for the trolley franchise), the entire property of the county must be heavily taxed. Every foot of the land you own must pay. No piece of land in Union county is so small, so remote, or of so little value but it must pay its share of this enormous and wholly unnecessary burden, amounting, as it must in many cases, to more than the value of the land itself."

It is alleged that the persons who hope to profit by the undertaking have made some serious legislative blunders "which appear to involve either the integrity or the competency of several representatives of the people."

SAD FOR THE SONGSTERS.

More Poisoned Birds Found on Councilman's Ginna's Lawn.

Former Councilman S. A. Ginna, on whose lawn dead birds have been found for the past two or three days, picked up several more this morning. The dead birds are almost exclusively blackbirds, with a few robins. There is a scarcity of sparrows among those that were poisoned.

Chief Grant has been investigating the matter, but has so far not hit upon any clue. Boys have found a few dead birds along the brook, but most of them have been found on Mr. Ginna's lawn.

Mr. Ginna said this morning that he missed the songs of the birds mornings. They used to be thick around the house, especially in the early morning, when their songs would awaken the householders.

FLAG FOR BRAVE DEWEY

BRYANT SCHOLARS MADE THE PRESENTATION THIS MORNING.

President McKinley Notified and an Answer Received Saying The Emblem Would be Sent to Manila.

At the Bryant School this morning a handsome American flag, 8x12 feet, was formally presented to Admiral Dewey for the flagship Olympia by the pupils of the school. A few days ago President McKinley was written to, asking if the flag would be accepted by him for Admiral Dewey.

He referred the matter to the Navy Department and this morning while the exercises were being held a telegram was received from the Navy Department saying that the flag would be accepted in behalf of Admiral Dewey and forwarded to him as soon as received at Washington. The presentation this morning was made by George M. Rittenhouse, Jr. The idea originated with Miss A. V. Shattuck, principal of the Bryant School.

Memorial Day was remembered at all the public schools today by special exercises. The exercises were of unusual elaborateness and were attended by many visitors despite the threatening weather. It was rendered a patriotic occasion. Today the schools all close until Tuesday on account of Memorial Day.

At the High School the special exercises were held at 8:20 o'clock. The school had prepared several special songs appropriate to the occasion. A detail from the Grand Army was present in uniform. Principal Travell took charge of the exercises. The address was made by Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph and was a very eloquent one. Mr. Randolph talked of the soldiers who had died in defence of their country and those who yet lived and asked his hearers to live for their country too so that they might aid in its grand career.

A number of visitors were present at the exercises which lasted an hour.

This morning at 11 o'clock, Comrades W. C. Smith, Francis Whiteley, A. G. Perry, W. W. Coriell, Augustus Runyon, James Baglin and Mr. Van Court, visited the borough public school, and held patriotic exercises appropriate to Decoration Day. Comrade W. C. Smith was the speaker for the occasion. Other remarks were made by the comrades present.

DIED AS HELP ARRIVED.

OPENED THE DOOR FOR GEORGE HENRY AND THEN FELL BACK.

Mrs. Jennie Jervis the Dead Woman—Said She Had Been Sick All Night—When Help Came She Suddenly Died.

A sudden death occurred early this morning in Battle Row on West Fourth street, Mrs. Jennie Jervis, colored, was just in the act of opening the door to an early caller, when she fell backwards and a few moments later expired.

Mrs. Jervis lived in apartments in one of the houses in the Row and she spent last night alone. Early this morning George Henry, also colored, dropped in at Mrs. Jervis' door to leave a message. Mrs. Jervis came to the door and exclaimed, "Oh, I'm so glad to see you, for I've been sick all night," and fell backwards.

Henry picked the woman up, but she was unconscious, and in a few moments breathed her last. Henry laid the body back on the floor and notified Patrolman Higgins, who took word to Sergeant Kiely. The Sergeant notified Chief Grant, who went to the house, examined the body, and then locked up the room until the county physician could be brought to this city.

After Dr. Westcott had viewed the remains, he pronounced her death due to heart disease. She was about twenty-three years of age.

Visitors Were Present.

A meeting of Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., was held last evening. Deputy Grand Master Workman Bauersachs, of Columbia Lodge, and Receiver Wm. J. Smythe, of Long Branch, were present at the meeting. Remarks were made by the visitors and some of the leading members. The recorder was instructed to apply for a special dispensation for a special meeting. The excursion committee reported.

Trolley Struck a Wagon.

Car No. 2 of the street railway, in charge of Motorman William Bush, ran into a wagon near the Eight Row at Dunellen last night, upset it and threw the driver out on the ground. The man was not hurt very much, and after straightening things out he drove on.

Mrs. S. P. Craig, of Roselle, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Beatrice Craig, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Craig's brother, Charles E. Doane, of Norwood avenue.

COUNTY C. E. OFFICERS.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE HELD IN ELIZABETH LAST NIGHT.

Several Plainfield Workers Chosen for Offices—E. E. Anthony Spoke About the International Convention.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, N. J., May 27—The annual conference of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union was held in the Third Presbyterian church here last evening. President Fred H. Williams, of Rahway, was in charge.

E. E. Anthony, of Plainfield, spoke about the convention at Nashville which convenes in a few weeks. Rev. Charles E. Herring, of Plainfield, delivered an address upon the topic "Hold."

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Fred H. Williams, of Rahway; first vice president, Arthur Heath, of Plainfield; second vice-president, Miss Florence Bogart, of Roselle; third vice-president, Miss Isabella Cameron, of Elizabeth; secretary, Miss Mabel Wilson, of Plainfield; treasurer, Miss Clara Wolfreys, of Elizabeth

A meeting of the Junior Superintendents of the county was held prior to the conference. This meeting was led by Mrs. W. S. Lowry, of Plainfield. Superintendents of each society in the county reported that their society would give $5 or $10 to the fresh air work at Westfield. The next meeting of the Junior Superintendents will be held on the last Thursday in July, at the Westfield Camp.

HELPING THE SOLDIERS.

TRINITY ENDEAVORERS MAKE 25 COMFORT-BAGS.

Useful Articles to be Furnished to the Boys in Blue at the Front, Which Will Make Their Army Life Easier.

The Christian Endeavorers of Trinity Reformed church met last evening in the lecture room of the church and held a comfort-bag social. This is the first affair of the kind held in this city and the novelty attracted a goodly number of people considering the weather. The social was arranged by the social, missionary, temperance and good-citizenship committees of the society. The idea was to have various members of the society meet and make comfort-bags to the number of about twenty-five. Different ones were asked to contribute useful articles which are to be divided and placed in the bags. The members in charge will then select twenty-five soldiers and present them with these bags. The captain in charge will be asked to furnish the names of those receiving the bags and while the war lasts the society will look after them and keep posted as to how they are getting along.

Each comfort-bag contains a pair of scissors, vaseline, a testament bandages, paper of safety-pins, paper of needles, two kinds of buttons, writing paper, pencils and linen thread. It was not possible for the members to complete the twenty-five bags last evening and another social will be held soon.

During the evening refresments were served by members of the committees. Those who had the affair in charge consisted of Henry Seader, Harry Crawford, Miss D. Bolsterli, Miss Anna Searing, Miss S. Williams, Miss Minnie Wyman, Miss Viola Huff, Miss Laura Holder, Miss Bessie Martin, Mrs. Julius Williams, Mrs. H. J. Martin, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Bertha Richards, Miss Corinne Young and Miss Jennie Ross.

FOUGHT FOR A BEAU.

John Taylor is Almost Too Popular With Dusky Damsels.

Everyone knows that John Taylor, colored, is very popular with the ladies of his set, but the public were hardly prepared to hear that three young colored girls had got into a fight over him last night. The three women were Amanda Hooper, Sarah Green and Maria Pleasant, who were arrested for fighting on Plainfield avenue and Third street.

Taylor explained it this way: "You see, Judge, I was goin' home with 'Ria when 'Manda and Sarah began to pull and haul on me to go with them. I didn't want to go with them girls, but only wanted 'Ria, and then the cop came and pulled us all in."

"What are you here for then," asked the Judge.

"Mostly for a witness, I guess, Judge," answered Taylor. He got off with a suspension of sentence. Sarah Green was fined $8 or twenty days, and the other two $3 or ten days.

LIVES DEDICATED TO AID THE SUFFERING.

Trained Nurses Graduated From Muhlenberg Hospital.

DIPLOMAS WERE GIVEN.

REMARKS IN APPROVAL AND ENCOURAGEMENT OF NURSES.

Miss Emma D. Messler and Miss Grace Adele Palmer the Graduates—Diplomas Presented by George H. Goddard and Class Pins by W. R. Cook, of the Board of Governors—Rev. F. D. Appleton Spoke of the Worthy Work and Dr. E. M. Hedges, of the Hospital Staff, Gave Practical Advice.

The chapel of the Crescent Avenue church was well-filled last night with friends and patrons of the hospital who came to witness the graduation exercises of the nurses, Miss Emma D. Messler and Miss Grace Adele Palmer. These two young ladies have served the three years of preliminary study and experience, and are now ready to go forth into the world to do their share towards alleviating the suffering among humanity.

The exercises at the chapel began shortly after 8 o'clock. George H. Goddard, president of the board of governors, introduced the speakers and presented the graduates with their certificates. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Richards, after which Mr. Goddard explained in a few words what the people had gathered together for and something about the work of a nurse in training, the advantages to be derived from the course outlined at Muhlenberg. He also spoke of the courage and devotion of the two who were about to go forth. The course has, until recently, been two years, but upon a suggestion by the medical board, it has been changed to three years, which gives the women more time to prepare themselves. This change made a difference of two in the number of the graduating class, the time of only two having expired instead of four. Miss Messler was finished December 12th, and Miss Palmer, March 5th. This was the third anniversary, and Mr. Goddard said these were the sixth and seventh nurses who were sent out.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, curate of Grace Episcopal church, was the speaker. Mr. Appleton said that he had always been interested in hospital work, and that Muhlenberg Hospital was one of the first places that he was taken to when he came to this city. But he said he would be interested in it, not only because he is a clergyman, but because the work of church and hospital should be thought of together. The work of the church, continued the speaker, is to take away sin out of the world, and sin is misery and unhappiness. Today there are hospitals all over the face of Christendom, which wouldn't have been placed there were it not for religion.

Mr. Appleton expressed himself as pleased that the founders and patrons of the hospital are known as church-loving people, and said that Plainfield is far ahead of some other cities in the close connection between the church and charitable work.

After Mr. Appleton's address, Mr. Goddard presented the certificates to the graduates, and spoke a few encouraging words to them.

Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, representing the medical staff of the hospital, next spoke. He congratulated the nurses on belonging to the oldest profession in the world, and gave them some good advice which they could not help but appreciate just as they were starting out in the world. Dr. Hedges told them that the average working life of a nurse was but ten years, and explained this by telling them of the dangers to which they would be exposed and the irregular habits they would be apt to contract. All the glamor of being "ministering angels," said Dr. Hedges, soon disappears.

The doctor said that he was told a few days ago not talk to the graduates about their manners or the way they ought to behave in the homes to which they go. But the speaker declared he must urge them to use their common sense. "Be loyal to the doctor in charge, and to the family. Whatever you hear of unpleasantness in the homes to which you go, let it be a secret of your own."

Dr. Hedges said that there were no two people better known than Florence Nightingale and Clara Barton, who have lived their lives for the people, and who have made the red cross an emblem of all that is beautiful.

William Cook, whom Mr. Goddard introduced as one of the original founders and charter members of the

COUNTRY'S DEFENDER'S

Plans For Raising the 75,000 Volunteers Not Completed.

TO CONSULT THE PRESIDENT

Regiments of Volunteers Already Called Out, It is Said, Will Be Filled to Their Full War Strength -- The Estimated Quotas from Each State Under the New Call--115,000 Volunteers Already Mustered Into the Service.

Washington, May 27.—The officials of the war department are not yet prepared to announce their programme with respect to obtaining the 75,000 volunteers called for Wednesday. There will be some consultation on the subject between the president and the war officers before a conclusion is reached. It seems, however, to have been determined to fill to their maximum war strength the one hundred and more regiments of the volunteers already called for, most of which are organized at the minimum number allowed by law. This was permitted in order that as great a number of the National Guard organizations might come into the army as possible, thus giving an opportunity to their officers to hold their full rank in the volunteers.

The enlisted strength of most of the volunteer regiments in many cases is far below the miximum prescribed by law, which is 1,060 men in the infantry. Approximately 30,000 or more men will be required to recruit these regiments to their war strength which after all, will not leave such a great number to be obtained under the second call in new organizations.

Alaska has several thousand who are willing and anxious to serve the government as soldiers, as indicated in a letter recently received here from a prominent official of that territory. An opportunity may be given them to come in under the second call.

Discharge of Soldiers.

"It is not generally understood," said an army official "that soldiers who re-enlist in the service and recruits who enlist for the first time may be discharged on their own application at the close of two years, but there is nothing in the law to prevent soldiers who are received into the army while it is being organized to its war strength, from being discharged as soon as the war is over. This statement should be made to correct a misapprehension that exists in this regard throughout the country. When the war is over the officials will determine at just what figure the army is to be maintained, and I am sure that more men will want to remain than there will be room for. The enlistments in the regular branch are proceeding at the rate of about 1,000 every ten days, so that necessarily some little time will elapse before the full war strength of 62,000 men is reached."

As the volunteers called for must be distributed in proportion to population, it is a matter of simple arithmetical calculation to determine the number due from any state.

Each States' Quota.

The following gives an approximate of the state quotas: Alabama 1,500, Arkansas 1,230, California 1,930, Colorado 194, Connecticut 965, Delaware 210, Florida 450, Georgia 1,905, Idaho 139, Illinois 4,829, Indiana 2,581, Iowa 2,204, Kansas 1,680, Kentucky 2,045, Louisiana 1,164, Maine 759, Maryland 1,166, Massachusetts 2,832, Michigan 2,622, Minnesota 1,723, Mississippi 1,295, Missouri 3,246, Montana 314, Nebraska 1,446, Nevada 142, New Hampshire 451, New Jersey 1,-778, New York, 7,507, North Carolina 1,545, North Dakota 246, Ohio 4,349, Oregon 377, Pennsylvania 6,456, Rhode Island 426, South Dakota 1,110, South Carolina 448, Tennessee 1,036, Texas 1,-454, Utah 255, Vermont 397, Virginia 1,-173, Washington 704, West Virginia 633, Wisconsin 1,965, Wyoming 138, Arizona 109, District of Columbia 198. New Mexico 269, Oklahoma 85.

Adjutant General Corbin announced that 115,000 of the 125,000 volunteers called for by the president four weeks ago have been mustered into the service of the United States.

Robert W. Fielding Sentenced.

New York, May 27—Robert W. Fielding, formerly deputy commissioner of public works, was yesterday sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Hirschberg in Brooklyn to two years and six months in Sing Sing, and to pay a fine of $2,171. This is ten per cent. of the amount he was responsible for losing to the city in conniving at the audit and allowance of fraudulent claims against the city of Brooklyn. The maximum penalty is five years' imprisonment and $5,000 fine. The judge signified his willingness to grant a stay pending an appeal to release the prisoner on a $10,000 bond.

Seven Prospectors Drowned.

Nashua, N. H., May 27.—Information received at the Armenian colony here shows that an entire Klondike party of seven men from this city and Haverhill, Mass., were drowned by the breaking of the ice in Frasier lake on May 2. Five of the men were from Nashua and two from Haverhill. They left here on March 4 and were last heard from April 9, when they were just leaving for the lake. All were single men except one from Nashua. Each one had about $700.

Yellow Fever on the Sobralense.

New York, May 27.—The Red Cross Line steamer Sobralense, which arrived yesterday afternoon from Manaos, Para and Barbadoes, is detained at quarantine for disinfection, one of her crew having died during the voyage from yellow fever and another removed to Swinburne Island Hospital yesterday suffering from fever also. The steamer will be thoroughly disinfected and cleansed before being permitted to proceed to the city.

Brigham Young's Son a Bankrupt.

London, May 27.—In the bankruptcy court yesterday a receiving order was issued against J. W. Young, a son of the late Brigham Young. His liabilities are 333,882 pounds.

CAN AUSTRIA BE PLOTTING?

Does Emperor Francis Joseph Want to Force a Quarrel With the United States.

Vienna, May 27.—The sailing from Gibraltar to-day of the powerful Austrian warships Franz Josef and the Maria Theresa for Cuban waters has strengthened the suspicion in well informed circles that a clash is probable between Austria and the United States.

The refusal of the United States to comply with Austria's request for reparation for the death of twenty-three Austro-Hungarian subjects shot at Lattimer, may be magnified by the Austrian government into a pretext for hostile action.

It is well known that the emperor of Austria has failed in every attempt to rid his niece, the queen regent of Spain, by embarrassing the United States through a concert of European powers.

SPAIN READY FOR PEACE.

Minister of Marine Declares the Cabinet Will Do Its Best to Obtain It "Honorably."

London, May 27.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The political outlook is brighter and the Ministerialists believe that a cabinet crisis can be averted. Captain Auñon, minister of marine, declared in the cortes to-day (Thursday) that when an opportunity presented itself the cabinet would not fail to do its best to bring about an honorable peace."

The Madrid correspondent of the Times says:

The dominant note of public opinion here is a desire to find some way to honorable peace, as Spain has nothing to gain by an indefinite prolongation of hostilities.

"All idea that France will intervene, however, is now abandoned, and hopes are fixed upon the possibility that Duke Almodovar de Rio, the new minister of foreign affairs, will find some fitting occasion on which to take the initiative."

S THE BALTIMORE WRECKED?

Said That an Explosion Occurred on Board and That She is Now Lying in Mud at Macabulosno.

The London Daily Telegraph has a Manila dispatch stating that the Baltimore was wrecked by an explosion on board of her, and that she is now lying in the mud at Macabulosno.

A private dispatch from Manila says that the United States cruiser Baltimore has been disabled.

A dispatch from Madrid says advices received from Manila say that the United States cruiser Baltimore has been disabled by an explosion on board.

WAR ECHOES.

Two Austrian warships will sail for Cuba to-morrow.

Colonel Fred Grant is to be promoted to the rank of brigadier general.

The United States has just bought 1,000,000 worth of mules, and wants as many others as can be bought.

The insurgent general Cardenas is near Havana, awaiting the American invasion.

Sagasta says that Cervera can afford to remain quietly in Santiago harbor for a time.

Troops intended for the Philippines are flocking to Camp Richmond, near San Francisco.

Our warships are on the lookout for the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror, with orders to sink or capture her. She left Martinique yesterday.

Thirty sailors and marines in Key West threatened last night to lynch a negro whose gang had attacked sailors. They searched the jail and the city, but failed to find him.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria was said to have strongly advised the queen regent of Spain to prepare to flee from Madrid, and her mother, who is now in Madrid, was reported to have given her the same advice. This was reported to be the result of the revolutionary feeling in the Spanish capital.

Fifty-three Lives Lost.

Calcutta, May 27.—On Tuesday, while the British India Steam Navigation Company's steamer Mecca was towing her sister ship Lindula, whose shaft was broken, the hawser parted; the two vessels came into collision and the Mecca was sunk, her captain and fifty-two others being drowned.

CAN CERVERA ESCAPE?

Naval Officials of the Opinion That the Spaniard is Caged.

TO INVADE PORTO RICO

The Administration Said to Be Considering the Advisability of Moving on Cuba and Porto Rico Simultaneously With Large Forces of Troops—Consultation Held With Cubans Just Returned from a Visit to the Insurgents.

Washington, May 27.—Naval officers are now turning their attention to inquiries whether it is possible for Admiral Cervera to get out of Santiago harbor. They hope that this manoeuvre is impossible, and that, being so, the career of the Spanish admiral is at an end, so far as it constitutes a menace against our ships. The British comment that Admiral Hornby, in 1885, escaped with his entire fleet from a harbor under similar conditions, and that Admiral Cervera should be able to make his escape when he gets ready to do so, is not accepted. The naval view here is just the contrary.

It is pointed out that Admiral Hornby escaped from an open bay, while Admiral Cervera must come through a narrow channel about 300 yards wide on which the American searchlights will play constantly.

It is said that this is not mere open talk, but that naval manoeuvres were carried on at Key West and Tortugas a few months ago, which furnishes positive demonstration that Cervera cannot make an exit without being discovered.

An officer who was on board one of the American ships during the Tortugas movements, says a sham night attack of torpedo boats was made upon the big battleships and cruisers. The latter were given no notice of the projected attack and there was no extra guard such as the American ships now maintain. But every torpedo boat engaged in the attack was discovered long before it was within striking distance of the cruisers and battleships. One of the attacking torpedo boats was so bewildered by the searchlight that it nearly ran into a cruiser.

The lesson drawn from this attack was that a night sally by an enemy was impossible owing to the modern methods of discovering an approach. It had shown, also, that the attacking fleet could not get within range, although they had come within range of the guns of the ships attacked.

At Mercy of Our Squadron.

Acting upon the assumption that the Spanish fleet is at the mercy of our squadrons, the war department has, it is said, gone to work actively to prepare for the invasion, not only of Cuba but of Porto Rico. This, coupled with the expedition to the Philippines, makes three military movements of the greatest importance now being started.

General Miles and some others have it is asserted, been of the opinion that the invasion of Porto Rico should have been one of the first plans carried out in the war with Spain, and it is understood that the reason given for that course were of a diplomatic nature quite as much as they were strategical.

The invasion of Cuba, General Miles thought, would induce Spain to sue for peace, while with the Philippine Islands in American possession and Porto Rico seized, the invasion of Cuba and the surrender of the enemy would leave this country in possession of indemnification.

General Miles has also recommended it is said, that an increased force be sent to the Philippines, and that Cuba be invaded by an army which shall leave no hope for the Spanish on the islands.

The war department authorities have not determined just how large a force shall be sent to Porto Rica, and no action has yet been taken upon General Miles's recommendation that Porto Rico shall be invaded before an army is raised for Cuban invasion. The impression prevails that Secretary Alger approves the proposition, and that the first expedition for foreign invasion would be for Porto Rico.

Another proposition which has been freely discussed is that troops be sent simultaneously to Cuba and Porto Rico but it is questionable if the transports chartered on the Atlantic coast and at present at New Orleans, Miami, Fernandina and Tampa, will afford facilities for sending two expeditions at the same time

Number of Troops Needed.

Departmental estimates of the strength necessary to accomplish anything at Porto Rico place the American military force necessary for invasion at 20,000. The estimate for a Cuban army has been raised to 50,000, to be followed at once by a military force of equal numbers. The war department has information that there are between 13,000 and 15,000 Spanish in Porto Rico.

Secretary Alger and General Miles conferred with two officers from the staff of General Garcia, General Enrique Collazo and Lieutenant Colonel Charles Hernandez, who come direct from Garcia's camp, bearing credentials from him to effect a plan of co-operation with the American forces. They accompanied Lieutenant Rowan of the United States army on his return from Garcia's camp and shared with him the dangers of a two days' voyage in an open boat from the north coast of Cuba until picked up by a small sloop which carried them to Nassau.

They reported first to the Cuban delegation here and Secretary Quesada was careful to keep their presence secret until General Miles made the fact known. This relieved them from further secrecy, and yesterday General Collazo and Colonel Hernandez gave an interesting account of General Garcia's forces and surroundings.

MR. ASTOR'S BATTERY.

The Government Accepts the Young Millionaire's Offer.

New York, May 27.—The government has at last accepted John Jacob Astor's offer of a fully equipped and manned battery of rapid fire guns.

The battery proper consists of six Hotchkiss rapid fire twelve-pounders At the government's suggestion, Mr. Astor is going to equip the battery as a "mountain battery," such as are used by the English army in India and Africa. The guns and gun carriages will be so made that they can be taken apart and packed on the backs of mules for transportation. The "mountain batteries" have been found very effective and useful in rough or mountainous countries where there are no roads. Their use will be something unique in the history of the American army.

Before Mr. Astor turns the battery over to the government it will have cost him somewhere between $50,000 and $75,000. This includes the cost of the guns, uniforms, side arms and all other necessary equipments.

VESSELS FOR CARRYING TROOPS.

Question of Granting American Registry to Foreign Built Ships.

Washington, May 27.—The senate committee on commerce have under consideration the subject of granting American registry to foreign built ships for the purpose of securing their services in carrying troops and supplies to the Philippine Islands, and decided to place the matter in the hands of a subcommittee with authority to report in all cases in which the war department may make request that registry be granted.

A majority of the committee oppose the granting of registry to foreign ships under ordinary circumstances, but they consider a departure from the rule excusable under existing circumstances, and during the war. It is understood that the arrangement will aid the department materially in securing reasonable rates. The sub-committee having the matter in charge consists of Senators Frye, McMillan, Elkins, Gallinger, White, Murphy and Mills.

CHANCE FOR THE 7TH.

May See Service Under Second Call for Volunteers.

Albany, May 27.—Adjutant General Tillinghast returned from New York yesterday morning. He said that he was still undecided as to how he would fill New York's quota of troops under the president's second call for volunteers.

It is understood here, however, that the Seventh and possibly the Twenty-third regiments will be called out, and that the rest of the quota, about 5,500 men, will be made up of the volunteer regiments recruited under the first call. This will give Tammany a chance, and it is likely that at least one wigwam will be accepted.

RED CROSS RECOGNIZED.

Given Official Standing by the Government—More Money Needed.

New York, May 27.—The American National Red Cross Relief Association has received formal notice from Secretary of State Day of its recognition by the government ,and that it will be called to work as soon as there is need for it.

Much more money is needed by the society to push the work on its hospital ship.

Contributions of articles needed have been made to the extent of $60,000, but in money the society has but $5,593, which is not enough.

Filibusters Start for Cuba.

Chicago, May 27.—A troop of fifty-seven cavalrymen, equipped at private expense, left Chicago for Cuba Wednesday, under the command of Major Higgins. All but nine of the men have served in the regular army. They took with them arms and horses, which are all black. The troop, although it is of the nature of a filibustering expedition, will be officered and disciplined exactly as a regular cavalry troop and hopes to join the insurgents after reaching the island.

The Censorship at Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., May 27.—An order has been issued by General Shafter requiring every newspaper correspondent at Tampa to furnish headquarters with a copy of the paper which the correspondent represents. A strict watch will be kept on all matter printed under a Tampa date and any prohibited matter will result in a refusal by the censor to pass matter written for the offending newspaper.

Unknown Steamer Ashore.

St. Johns, N. F., May 27.—An unknown steamer is ashore thirty miles south of this port and is likely to be a total wreck.

The British steamer Coban, Captain Frazer, trading between here and Montreal, which arrived here yesterday morning, reported that the steamer ashore is painted a lead color, has a yellow smokestack and, it is added, looks like a warship. This, however, is very doubtful.

Illinois Volunteer Buried.

Rock Island, Ill., May 27.—Private S. L. Bledsoe of Company A, Sixth Illinois regiment, who died last Saturday at Camp Alger, was buried with military honors yesterday. His body lay in state at the regimental armory and a procession that included all the veterans and other military societies of the city, a platoon of police and a band, followed the body to the grave.

Mottoes on Hard Tack.

St. Louis, May 27.—The secretary of the navy has issued an order that contractors of army supplies must not put mottoes on their goods. This was brought about by a St. Louis contractor of hard tack, who stamped on each cake the words, "Remember the Maine."

It is understood that the secretary of war will issue a similar order.

Recruiting for Army Hospital Corps.

New York, May 27.—Dr. M. C. Jarvis, who is recruiting for the Army Hospital Corps, received orders yesterday to recruit waiters, nurses and orderlies for the hospital ship Relief. Dr Jarvis says that sixty-eight men have been recruited into the regular army hospital corps within the last month.

NATIONAL PATRIOTISM

Prompt Response to the President's Call For Troops.

REPORTS FROM GOVERNOR'S

Independent Companies Are Already Organized in Many Places Anxious for the Government to Accept Them—Numerous Applications for Privileges to Raise Regiments Are Being Received by Many Governors.

Washington, May 27.—President McKinley's second call for volunteers is meeting with prompt and hearty response everywhere and especially is this fact noticeable in the northwestern states, where the greatest enthusiasm is manifested.

Independent companies are already organized in many states, as is shown by the following dispatches:

St. Paul, Minn.—Governor Clough said: "I have applications from all over the state for permission to raise companies. I have not even kept track of them. We shall have more than enough men."

Hartford, May 27.—Governor Cooke yesterday telegraphed the war department, offering the services of the Third regiment, Connecticut National Guard, under the call of the president for 75,000 more troops.

Des Moines, Ia., May 27.—Gov. Shaw says: "I have no doubt that the second call will be responded to promptly. Already a large number of companies have been organized in anticipation of a second call."

Lansing, Mich., May 27.—Governor Pingree said that while all of Michigan's quota under the first call has been mustered in and business at Camp Eaton was about to be closed, steps will at once be taken to raise the additional quota assigned to Michigan under the second call and that he was confident the quota can be filled promptly.

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—When it became known throughout the state that a call had been issued by President McKinley for 75,000 more volunteers, telegrams began to pour in on the governor from the colonels of provisional regiments and their friends, and in a short time there was a perfect deluge of them.

The governor hopes to be able to furnish five regiments promptly, as he has tenders of double that number.

San Francisco, May 27.—California may be the first state to furnish a complete regiment under the president's second call for troops. General Farfield, commanding the Second Brigade, N. G. C., has ordered an inspection of the Fifth regiment and says it will be ready to be sworn in as a whole this morning. Under the second call for volunteers California will probably furnish two batteries of artillery, two regiments of infantry and one troop of cavalry.

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 27.—It is more than probable that the 1,775 new volunteers from New Jersey under the second call of the president will be in camp for inspection within the next few days.

The latest volunteers to offer themselves are from Asbury Park. Jacob R. Borden of that place, a former captain of Company A, Third regiment, notified Governor Voorhees yesterday that he has a company of 100 men ready for service.

Madison, Wis., May 27.—Governor Scofield says that Wisconsin has exhausted all available funds in its possession at present for the equipment of troops, and unless the federal government does something in the way of furnishing equipment, additional Wisconsin volunteers will not be ready to go to the front for some time. Reports from various sections of the state indicate that the volunteers who have already offered their services to the government considerably exceed the number asked for.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—The second call for troops has brought out the fact at the office of Governor Mount that enough applications have been made in Indiana for privileges to raise companies, batteries, cavalry and entire regiments to fill the quota of a dozen states like Indiana. Application will be made to the war department to increase Indiana's second quota from 2,582, the number announced yesterday, to three full regiments, so that more Indiana officers will have a chance to go to the front.

THE ALABAMA DRY DOCKED.

The Battleship Ready to Be Painted at League Island Yard.

Philadelphia, May 27.—The battleship Alabama, which was launched at the Cramps' shipyard last Wednesday, was yesterday towed to League Island navy yard, where she was dry docked.

While in the dry dock the battleship will have her twin manganese bronze propeller wheels keyed on, and her hull below the water line will be covered with a heavy coat of green submarine paint. The Alabama was docked by the Cramps at this time so as to avoid the necessity of being compelled to use a large dry dock outside of the city.

Starved in One Month More.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 27.—Within the last few days several persons have reached this port surreptitiously from Cuba. They came from several of the smaller towns, as well as Havana and Cienfuegos. Almost all of them declare that if the blockade continues the Spanish in Cuba will not be able to hold out more than a month longer, owing to the scarcity of provisions.

Retaliation in Cable Cutting Urged.

Madrid, May 27.—The newspapers here continue to urge the cutting of the American cable connections across the Atlantic if the Cuban cables are severed.

THE FLEETS IN CUBAN WATERS.

Composition of Three Squadrons—Schley's Watson's and Sampson's Movements.

Key West, May 27.—The movements of the American ships under the three squadron commanders are now shrouded with only slight uncertainty. It is a generally accepted fact that Commodore Schley's squadron is now in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba, at the eastern end of the island, while the blockading squadron under Commodore Watson is thought to be on duty along the western and northern coast of the island.

The composition of the three squadrons has been changed but the exact complement and names of the ships under each commander is not permitted for strategic reasons to be telegraphed.

Concerning the statement that Admiral Cervera's ships are bottled up at Santiago de Cuba, it has been accepted that Commodore Schley could maintain the blockade of the harbor there and annihilate the Spanish fleet if it is found outside.

The fact that Commodore Schley is now thought to be outside of Santiago de Cuba has given free rein to Rear Admiral Sampson, who was known to be in the Bahama Channel a day or two ago. His known purpose was then to intercept the Spanish fleet if it attempted a movement along the northern coast in an attempt to reach Havana.

With Commodore Schley at Santiago Rear Admiral Sampson would be in a position to proceed eastward and effect a junction of two powerful squadrons or return toward Havana to resume operations in that vicinity. It is now accepted as a fact that Commodore Schley is to be permitted to work out the problem of Santiago.

MORE INTERVENTION TALK.

France's Minister for Foreign Affairs Said to Be Anxious to Stop the War.

London, May 27—The Star claims to have information that the French minister for foreign affairs, M. Hanotaux, is making great efforts to stop the war. It says that Russia, Austria and France are endeavoring to induce Germany and Italy to join in a representation to President McKinley declaring that the powers will induce Spain to grant the independence of Cuba

Should America refuse intervention, it is further alleged, the powers referred to would send a fleet to put Cuba under international rule, similar to the action taken in the Island of Crete, until the withdrawal of the Spanish forces and the constitution of a regular local government. It is further said that these powers look upon their intervention as being justified, on the ground that the war threatens the general peace of Europe.

The Star's infgormation is not regarded seriously here.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "All the talk of assistance from Europe is moonshine. Neither France nor any other power is likely to burn its fingers with the Spanish ambassador to France. (the Spanish ambassador to France, most probably has a good deal to do in Paris, but it is of a financial nature."

KRUPP GUNS FOR SPAIN.

Reported Consignment of Forty Sent from Germany.

Gibraltar, May 27.—Information obtained here from a trustworthy source says that a consignment of forty Krupp guns, suitable for forts or battleships, have been sent from Essen, in Germany ,to Cadiz, and are now on their way through Spain. It is said that they passed through the German, French and Spanish custom houses as "kitchen furniture."

Torpedoes Adrift.

Washington, May 27.—Reports continue to be received at the war department showing an utter disregard by vessel owners and masters of the regulations which govern the entry and departure of craft to and from mined harbors.

The result of one vessel's incursion recently was to set adrift along the Atlantic coast, south of New York, a number of torpedoes, each of which contains probably 100 pounds of dynamite. Vessels were sent out to look for them, but thus far only one was picked up.

Negro Lynched in Maryland.

Salisbury, Md., May 27.—Garfield King, a negro, aged about 18, was taken from the jail at this place yesterday, hanged to a tree and shot to pieces. He was awaiting trial on the charge of having deliberately shot Herman Kenny, a white boy, about the same age as the negro. The shooting was done on Saturday night last, and Kenny died Wednesday.

As he dangled in the air at least 50 pistol bullets were fired into his body, which was left dangling in the air while the lynchers dispersed.

Oregon at Key West.

Key West, May 27.—The battleship Oregon arrived here yesterday morning from Jupiter. It is reported that while the ship was coaling at Rio Janeiro thirty dynamite bombs were found in the coal.

It is understood that the big battleship will take on coal today and then join Admiral Sampson's squadron.

Captain Clark and a number of officers came ashore on a launch at 10 o'clock. The captain received orders from Washington. The orders were not made public Aid Soldiers' Families.

New York, May 27.—The families left in need in New York by the men who have gone to the front are to be taken care of by an organization to be known as the New York Soldiers' Family Protective Association, founded by a number of Civil War veterans.

A complete roster of the soldiers is to be obtained and every case of possible need is to be "carefully, confidentially and with due delicacy, investigated."

The Cuban Blockade Quiet.

Key West, Fla., May 27.—The United States gunboat Hornet came in from the Cuban blockade yesterday morning. She reports everything quiet along the line of the blockade.

The Farmers and the Rabbits.

Governor Voorhees has not concealed his intention to veto the game law passed by the last Legislature. One provision of this law allows farmers to kill rabbits at any time in order to protect their fruit trees from these animals. A protest against the veto of the bill, sent to the Governor in behalf of the farmers of Somerset and Hunterdon counties by Senator Foster, of the latter county, has called out the following reply from the Governor:

"I know that the popular feeling among the farmers is very strongly in favor of that portion which permits the killing of rrbbits when found damaging their fruit trees, but in order that they may have that right there seems to me to be no necessity for the enactment of a new law. All they need to have is the assurance from me that if any of the game wardens attempt to impose fines for violation of the game laws in this respect, in such instances, I, exercising my authority, would at once remit any fines so imposed. I believe if this were generally known, the farmers would remain content with the law as it is."

If this letter is genuine it is a remarkable one. Lawyers profess entire ignorance of any authority conferred upon the Governor to set aside any civil law of the State, and they point out that it is justices of the peace, and not game wardens, who impose fines under the game law.

PASSING COMMENT.

Tommy Timbo, of North avenue, has a piece of hardtack hanging up in his store window which was sent him by Edward Day, who is in camp at Sea Girt. Day, it will be remembered, was sent to Sea Girt by Timbo, who offered to pay his way there if he would go and enlist. Day accepted the offer and was accepted by the recruiting officers.

The Press has been asked where are the flags which did such good service during the last Presidential campaign have been stored. It has been suggested that the Young Men's Republican Club, the Republican Club and other organizations bring out Old Glory and find a place for it in some of the streets. A good place to hang a flag would be across North avenue in front of the station, and another good place would be across Park avenue at Fourth street.

A correspondent of the Sun from Somerville says:

I noticed an article in your issue of May 20th calling attention to a case of patriotism regarding the Bang brothers. Your correspondent says he "has yet to hear of a parallel case of collective patriotism." For the sake of justice I would like to mention a similar instance. There are in Company H, Third Regiment of New Jersey, three brothers from Somerville by the name of Rodney Houston, Erle E. Houston and William C. Houston, who have willlingly and bravely gone to the front for the sake of their country. I think the Houston family (who bade them godspeed) as well as the United States have just cause to be proud of such devotion and loyalty to Old Glory. Let us hear of another case.

The prospect of having fifty thousand to one hundred thousand young men assembled in camps during the coming summer has appealed to D. L. Moody as affording an exceptional opportunity for evangelistic work among them. Already he has sent Rev. A. C. Dixon, General O. O. Howard, Major Whittle and J. H. Burke to Florida, where they have inaugurated the mission under the most favorable circumstances. Should the war continue, Mr. Moody will go to the front, where his experience in the Christian Commission of the late war will be of great service to him. Mr. Moody hopes to be able to raise enough money within the next thirty days to place a Testament and religious book in the hand of every soldier in the Army, and to send out at least a score of experienced evangelists.

THEY WERE WITH DEWEY AT MANILA.

Officers and men of the victorious Asiatic squadron will always take pride in the fact that they were with Dewey at Manila. Here are the portraits of some of the gallant fellows who helped their brave commander win victory at the Philippines.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Lottie Gilson's re-appearance in America is the "star" event of next week's bill at Proctor's Twenty-Third Street Theatre. Miss Gilson has been abroad for nearly two years during most of which time she sang at the famous Berlin Winter Garden, where Lillian Russell is to be the next American star. For her return to New York Miss Gilson has no end of new songs, new gowns and new jests. That she will be warmly welcomed goes without saying. The bill at Proctor's is very strong in the other numbers, and contains at least one novelty in the debut on the vaudeville stage of Mr. and Mrs. Frantz Wilczek, the violinists, heretofore identifield with the concert stage. The Edison Wargraph has a dozen new views, some of them direct from the seat of war. The Silvers, Dailey and Hilton, Lawson and Ward, and twenty others are in the all day and evening show. Decoration Day there will be the usual long bill.

* * * * *

It is said of Harry Bagge, whose company appears in Music Hall to morrow night in a vaudeville bill, that "there is a breeziness about Mr. Bagge's acting that creates a healthful atmosphere in whatever he does." His sketches always go with a roar of approval from the audience. "A Passing Fancy" is one of the sketches to be given, and inasmuch as the piece has the approval of metropolitan audiences it ought to prove very acceptable to Plainfield theatre-goers.

ROWLEY'S SARATOGA SPA.

Beautiful and Unique Soda Water Fountain Just Established.

The magnificent Saratoga Spa, the latest designed and up-to-date soda fountain in the State, will be opened tomorrow under the direction of Geo. C. Milner, who for the past nine years has managed the openings of the most elaborate fountains built by his firm—the John Matthews Apparatus Company.

The store is beautifully decorated with lanterns, palms and great globes of flowers and ferns; and Old Glory forms a prominent feature of the decoration. In the window is an extravagant display of artificial ice and splendid vases of flowers, together with toilet articles, perfumery, etc. There will be handsome souvenirs given to the ladies. A list of drinks is announced to the number of fifty. Mr. Rowley calls attention to his coupon appearing in tomorrow's Daily Press, the holder of which is entitled to a glass of soda.

hospital, presented the class pins to the graduates. These pins are given by the members of the board of governors, and Mr. Cock said that they were presented so that all who see the pin will know that the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital place the utmost confidence in the wearer.

Mr. Cock has always been associated with the hospital, and is one of its most earnest supporters.

During the evening the Misses Hyatt, of East Ninth street, rendered selections on the piano and violin, and Miss Hardenburg, of the Crescent Avenue church choir, sang two solos. The nurses and matrons had seats on the platform.

At the presentation of the certificates by Mr. Goddard, Charles P. Bull presented each graduate with a large bouquet of flowers. Mr. Bull felt a friendly feeling for them because both nurses were his attendants when he was ill at the hospital over a year ago.

NO SIGHT OF TROLLEY YET.

Applicat'on for a Franchise Laid Over Again in Fanwood.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood, May 27—Fanwood Township Committee met in the town rooms last evening to give second reading to the trolley franchise, asked for by the Westfield and Elizabeth Trolley Company over what is known as the Westfield avenue route. Mr. Gaddis, representing the trolley company, asked the committee to lay the matter over for one week, owing to consents on Westfield road, which is the line between the borough and township, becoming mixed. Mr. Gaddis' request was granted by the committee, and Scotch Plains is still wondering when then will have the trolley. The meeting adjourned to Friday evening, June 3rd.

A Groundless Apprehension.

So much has been said in the public prints and elsewhere as to possible disturbances and trouble on the Atlantic coast, in view of the present war, and also of the lurking danger danger in submarine mines and torpedoes with which our harbors have been protected, that the timidity of a large number of people has been increased, and many have refrained from making their annual spring outing to one of the seaside resorts.

The best proof that these dangers are imaginary is found in the fact that the great coastwise lines continue to operate their schedule uninterruptedly. For instance, the steamships of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, running between New York and Virginia, have lost none of their trips, and do not expect to do so.

To the many attractions of this company's short sea route along the New Jersey, Delaware and Virginia coasts, which is considered free from all risk, is added the gathering of warships, stripped for action in Hampton Roads.

Interest in Fort Monroe, Old Point Comfort, Newport News, Hampton Roads, and Washington has never attained a greater height since the Civil War.

Cadets Will be There.

The Plainfield High School Cadets have been invited to assist at the patriotic sociable at Vincent chapel this evening. The invitation was accepted and a detail of the cadet corps will be present.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 27—The members of Wm. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., being so well pleased with the Fourth of July celebration last year, have decided to repeat the affair this year. The games, music and fireworks will be held on North avenue, the same place chosen last year. Already the members are beginning to plan for the celebration, and they hope to make it even more successful than last year, if that is possible.

A Decoration Day service will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening when Rev. A. I. Martine, pastor, will deliver an appropriate sermon. A similiar service will be held at the M. E. church. Usually these services are held together but there was a desire this year to hold them separately.

Next week Wednesday it is expected that work will be started in the borough to lay the trolley. The iron is expected to arrive on Monday next. The men who are to construct the trolley are under contract to complete the entire system from the borough to Raritan in forty days from the time the iron arrives.

Manager Sebring, of the Watchung Water Company, has promised to commence the work of laying pipes through the borough in a short time. He says that the residents are no more anxious to have the water than he is to give it to them.

The Misses Mattie and Sadie Barrett, of New York, have returned to the home of their parents, and they will commute to New York in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, of Westfield, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bodine, of Church street.

Mrs. Frank Gillispie has been entertaining her mother, Mrs. Jennings, of Warrenville.

Jesse Dalrymple, who has been visiting relatives at Pittstown, has returned home.

Miss Burt, of New York, has returned home after a visit with Mrs. R. L. Fisher.

Abner Coriell, of New Brunswick, was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. Kuldoshea, of North avenue, is going to have her house painted.

John Fenner has returned from a visit with Somerville friends.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

New Market, May 27—It is probable that Rev. Alfred Jamison, pastor of the M. E. church, Dunellen, will deliver the Fourth of July oration at New Market.

The New Market Tennis Club expect to play as usual this year, providing the weather will permit. The grounds will soon be put in good condition for playing. Miss Irene Day has been elected president of the club for another year.

A sufficient amount of money was raised at the school entertainment last Wednesday evening to purchase a flag for the schoolhouse. The flag will be secured at an early date. The entertainment given was a great success.

This evening Rev. Frank Fletcher will go to Bound Brook and give his lecture on "Sherman's March to the Sea," at the Presbyterian church.

The new furnishings for the pulpit at the First Baptist church are expected to arrive next week.

Miss Irene Day is the guest of out-of-town friends for a short time.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to the Daily Press)

Scotch Plains, May 27—Mrs. Walter Mann has rented her Fanwood house through the real estate agency of Hand & Allen to I. H. Perry and family, of Philadelphia.

The ladies of the Baptist church are arranging for a strawberry and ice cream festival on the church lawn Decoration Day afternoon. Special attention will be paid to wheelmen. Should the weather prove stormy the festival will be held in the church parlors.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold an important meeting in their rooms this evening. Committee on Memorial Day will report and other business.

Dr. Lambert and family, of New York, have taken up their residence for the summer in Mrs. C. N. Flanders' cottage on the mountains.

Dennis Cram, a former resident of the village, but now of Baltimore, Md., spent yesterday with relatives in town.

Abner Goodwin and family, of New York, have rented Dr. Westcott's cottage on Park avenue, Fanwood.

Rev. J. S. Braker led the neighborhood prayer meeting at Mrs. George Marsh's last evening.

Mrs. De Castro, of Plainfield, is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hand.

Mr. Charles E. Smith, of Westfield, spent Wednesday with her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Lyons.

Miss Minnie Bloomer has returned from a week's visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Fred Schmidt took a day off Wednesday and visited Camp Black.

H. Hand, of Plainfield, visited friends in town Wednesday.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 27—By the terms of the ordinance which the Township Committee passed at a recent meeting, the Westfield and Elizabeth Railway Company are compelled to have their trolley road between Plainfield and Elizabeth built and cars running thereon before Dec. 1st.

The baseball team of the Volunteer A. C., of New York, will cross bats with the Westfield club team Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Clark field.

All are cordially invited to attend the cake sale in the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon from 4 until 5:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dougherty have been entertaining Mrs. Somendyke, of Rahway, at their home on Central avenue.

Harvey Miller and George Dougherty will spend Sunday and Decoration Day with relatives and friends at Ocean Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Taggart entertained a number of friends at their home on Clark street Wednesday evening.

Mrs. C. E. Beaman, of Mountainside, has been spending several days with Mrs. J. E. Townsend, at Plainfield.

Mrs. Frederick H. Baker, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. J. H. Edwards, of Bird's Corner.

All pews in the Baptist church will soon be free, as the weekly offering system is to be adopted.

The wheelmen of the Social Club will hold their second run of the season Decoration Day.

Miss Grace Williams, of Boston, has been spending a few days with friends on Westfield avenue.

Mrs. Cadwallader Davis, of Philadelphia, is spending a few days with friends in town.

Two new houses are being erected on Walnut street by Mrs. E. S. Lewis, of Elizabeth.

Albert Mobues will soon open an ice cream parlor for wheelmen at Graceland.

O. Knight's residence on Elm street is being much improved by a new coat of paint.

Central Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., meet this evening.

Fireside Council, Royal Arcanum, met last evening.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

It would be surprising if, with our immense business, we did not handle the choice of the hundred odd makes of Pianos that are manufactured. We do.

The seven best in their different grades, that America produces—CHICKERINGS, GABLERS, HARDMANS, VOSES, STERLINGS, STANDARDS and HUNTINGTONS—are here.

There is absolutely no other as good as the first named; there may be other makes that will equal the last six, but they will cost you from $75 to $150 more than we would ask for the same grade and quality.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 29. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Christian growth.—Ps. xcii, 7-15; Eph. iv, 11-16.

The true Christian must grow. He cannot stand still, for that is impossible. He must not turn to the right hand or left hand, for that is dangerous. He dare not turn back, for that is treason to Christ. Christ emphatically declares that one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is not worthy of Him. God intended that we should grow and develop. He has placed the elements of growth within and without us. He has placed high ideals before us and calls upon us to strive to attain to them. Christ's intention and purpose toward us is that we should grow. "Ye have not chosen Me," He says, "but I have chosen you and ordained you that you should go and bring forth fruit and that your fruit should remain." "Grow in grace," says the apostle Peter. Grow in the graces that adorn and beautify Christ and Christianity.

Christian growth is compared to that of the palm tree and the cedar of Lebanon (Ps. xlii, 7-15.) "The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree; he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon." The leading characteristics of the date palm and the cedar are their stately loveliness, fruitfulness, undecaying vigor and perpetuity. Nothing in all the world of nature is more stately than the cedar. The palm is ever green, "in the winter's cold as in the summer's heat. Not by years, but by centuries, is the cedar's age reckoned." "The wicked spring as the grass," which soon withers and dies, but the righteous are ever green and fruitful. "They that are planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. They shall still bring forth fruit in their old age; they shall be fat and flourishing." The fruitfulness of the date palm in old age is remarkable. It has been said that when it reaches its maturity it produces 300 or 400 pounds weight of food and even as much as 600 pounds. May our Christian growth be like the palm and cedar, beautiful, constant, producing a fruitfulness that will redound to the honor and glory of God.

The Christian's growth is to be toward perfect manhood in Christ Jesus, Eph. iv, 6-11. This is the high ideal that Paul sets before us. Christ, he says, "gave some apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the perfecting of the saints * * * till we all come in the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." Perfection in Christ is the ideal that is set before us, and how well we know that this cannot be attained in a day or at a single bound, but by the steady, gradual growth of months and of years, as steadily and gradually the cedar attains to its stately height and spreading beauty. Let us take this as our ideal and strive each day to come one step nearer to it.

Bible Readings.—Ps. i, 1-6; Jer. xii, 2; Hos. xiv, 1-7; Mal. iv, 1, 2; John xv, 16; I Cor. iii, 6-9; II Cor. ix, 8-15; Gal. vi, 9; Eph. ii, 18-22; Phil. iii, 7-15; Col. i, 9-17; II Thess. i, 1-3; I Pet. ii, 2; II Pet. iii, 18.

Sabbath Catechism.

Here is a catechism on the Sabbath, fortified with Bible references. It is the work of Miss Catherine Copley, the junior superintendent of Riverside, Cal.:

When did God make the Sabbath? Gen. ii, 2.
What did God do it for? Gen. ii, 3.
For whom did He make it? Mark ii, 27.
What does He command us to do? Ex. xx, 8.
When does He say we may work? Ex. xx, 9.
Whose day is it? Exodus xx, 10; Mark ii, 28.
May we work on the Sabbath? Ex. xx, 10.
May your son or daughter? Ex. xx, 10.
Or hired man or cook? Ex. xx, 10.
Or horses or your visitors? May any one? Ex. xx, 10.
What else are we forbidden to do on the Sabbath? Isa. lviii, 13.
When ought we to prepare for Sunday? Ex. xvi, 23.
When God prepared food for the children of Israel, did He prepare any on Sunday? Ex. xvi, 27.
What resolve did the Jews of Nehemiah's day make? Neh. x, 31.
What effect did it have? Neh. xiii, 15-21.
The breaking of the Fourth Commandment had had what effect? Jer. xvii, 27; Neh. xiii, 18.
What about the man who keeps the Sabbath? Isa. lvi, 2; lviii, 13, 14.
Is it possible to keep it right as we think and still displease God? Isa. i, 13.
How shall we keep it? Luke vi, 7-10; Ps. xcv, 6; Heb. x, 25.

—Christian Endeavor World.

Going Without Religion.

The worst kind of religion is no religion at all, and these men living in ease and luxury, indulging themselves in the amusement of going without religion, may be thankful that they live in lands where the gospel they neglect has tamed the beastliness and ferocity of the men who, but for Christianity, might long ago have eaten their carcasses like the South Sea islanders, or cut off their heads and tanned their hides like the monsters of the French revolution.—James Russell Lowell.

Will Power Necessary.

Will power should be behind our asking. Sentiment is all right if it has resolution and execution to give it body and activity. Emotional supplication must be animated with the practical spirit. Many plead earnestly and do very little toward making their prayers a reality. The grace supplicated must come into the heart and go out into the life.—Presbyterian.

The Second Coming of Christ.

The signs appear to point to the near approach of the blessed day of Christ's second coming. The world, with all its sorrows and unrest, anticipates a change of some kind, and soon we who look for Him shall see the coming glory and share in the bliss of His everlasting kingdom.—Episcopal Recorder.

To Them That Love Him.

All things work together for good to them that love God, because love is always the gainer by being tested.—Episcopal Recorder.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning May 29. Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M. Topic, Our Brother's Burden and Our Own.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Gal. vi, 1-5.

To make men happy is not the end sought in getting them saved. Merely to make them good is not enough. We must be helpful to others—willingly, gladly, earnestly helpful—or we lose the road to goodness and happiness. We are burdened. So are others. We want help and sympathy and comfort and strength. Others need it also. If we have come to feel our need, we have discovered a fact which is true of most other people. We have by our very discovery of human need received a call from God to supply the want. "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you do ye even so to them." This is an application of the golden rule which, however new and startling, is nevertheless true. Do you feel a desire for some good thing? Then find that desirable thing and give it to other hungry ones. Feed the world's famine and you shall find your own hunger satisfied. Shelter the houseless and you shall be received into an eternal home. Give drink to the thirsty and your own thirst shall be quenched. No reception of gifts and benefits can give a soul its deepest satisfaction. We must ourselves be active. We must do. We must give and not merely get. We are never so near satisfaction in being fed as we are in feeding others. Christ came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and He gave His life for others. Here lies the secret of human nature. Indeed it is the clew to divine nature. Happiness and perfection, glory and bliss, are in doing, not in getting. It is outpouring and not ingathering.

Our young people are fortunate in being led into Christian helpfulness. This applies to all branches of our work. Other young people need our friendship. They need to be led to the church, welcomed to preaching service, prayer meeting, Sunday school and social meetings. They need to be led to Christ. A friend is necessary who will become interested in each one, learn the peculiarities of temperament, the circumstances of home life and occupation, the difficulties and temptations met and by kind, persistent companionship gain the confidence, show how one can become a Christian, persuade to consecration, conversion and Christian living.

What a transformation passes over every one who becomes a true follower of Jesus!

What transformation and transfigration comes to one who leads another to Jesus!

Are you bearing any one's burdens? Do you not find your own the lighter for it?

Are you faithfully bearing your own share of load, or are you shirking it upon some one else?

Old Wine Skins.

A decided sensation was created in religious circles last winter by the statement made in public at a notable gathering in New York by one of the leading Congregational clergymen of New England that their creed must be rewritten. The church had outgrown it and no longer believed it. There is no doubt that Calvinistic doctrines as they were once preached are no longer taught or believed to any great extent. It is a fact that the universal scope of the atonement of Jesus Christ is everywhere held. "He tasted death for every man." Still further, the freedom of every man to choose for or against God is firmly established as truth, and that the future happiness or misery depends on this choice is also seen to be undeniable.

If these truths have been denied, they must be denied no longer. If the old creeds dispute them, the creeds must be revised. Truth is of more worth than creeds, however ancient. Not the age, but the truthfulness of a statement gives it worth. To require a person to subscribe to a creed which neither he nor any one else believes is not a helpful thing.

Methodism has no need to rewrite her doctrines. All this modern discussion does not touch her. For over 100 years she has contended for the truth which is now recognized and under this banner of a free and full salvation has gained her triumphs. She has no old doctrinal wine skins to discard. It looks as if Wesleyan Arminianism was to be the theology of the twentieth century.

The church can in the organization of men's clubs do much to reach the unchurched masses. Open the rooms of the church for their gatherings. Offset the attractions of secular clubs and saloons by providing a place where men can meet free from degrading influences. Provide debates and addresses on topics which touch their everyday needs. The body needs care as well as the soul. Jesus healed both. Let us follow Him in caring for the whole man. Our League plan is broad enough for all our needs.

If the love of God has come into the heart, it has become possessed of the one passion which will lift and broaden and ennoble all the life as no earth born impulse can do. Home and business and society will feel its influence and be shaped by it.

My Answer.

Somebody asked me to take a drink.
What did I tell him? What do you think?
I told him "No!"

Somebody gave me a cigarette
And asked me to smoke it. What did he get?
I told him "No!"

Somebody laughs that I will not swear,
And lie and steal, but I do not care.
I told him "No!"

Somebody asked me to take a sail
On the Sabbath day. 'Twas of no avail.
I told him "No!"

"If sinners entice thee consent thou not,"
My Bible says, and so, on the spot,
I told him "No!"

—Frances E. Willard.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westfalen.

Bochum. Wegen Majestätsbeleidigung wurde der Bergmann Josef Dicke zu zwei Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt. Der Angeklagte hatte die inkriminirte Aeußerung in einer Wirthschaft gethan und zwar im Zusammenhang mit der Bemerkung: „In Berlin würden die Millionen verzehrt, aber das Volk habe nichts zu essen."

Dortmund. In Lünern erschoß ein Gutsbesitzer seinen Knecht, mit dem er des Essens wegen in Streit gerathen war. Der Thäter stellte sich dem Gericht.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der Redakteur der sozialdemokratischen „Sächsischen Arbeiterzeitung," A. E. Nitzsche, wurde zu sieben Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt, weil er durch den Abdruck eines 1848 in der „Reichsbremse" erschienenen Gedichts eine Gottesläster-ung begangen und durch einen anderen Artikel das monarchische und religiöse Gefühl des sächsischen Volkes nach Anschauung des hiesigen Landgerichts beleidigt hat.—Die erste Ständekammer hat es im Gegensatz zu der zweiten Kammer abgelehnt, den großjährigen Frauen den Besuch politischer Versammlungen zu verbieten. Doch hat sie dem Ausschluß minderjähriger Personen zugestimmt.

Leipzig. Der hiesige Konsulatsbezirk führte nach den Ver. Staaten im letzten Vierteljahr für $593,888, gegen $906,976 in der gleichen Zeit des Vorjahres aus. Der Rückgang von $313,088 betrifft namentlich Textilwaaren.—Das Reichsgericht hob die Todesurtheile auf, die das Schwurgericht in Coblenz am 15. März gegen die Arbeiter Held und Fuhr wegen Mordes gefällt hatte. Held und Fuhr waren aus dem Gefängniß in Arlon entsprungen, nachdem sie einen Gefängnißaufseher im Schlafe überfallen und erschlagen hatten.

Mylau. Die Nachricht, daß der Bau der Bahn Mylau-Lengenfeld von der zweiten Ständekammer einstimmig genehmigt wurde, hat hier große Freude erregt. Die Stadt hatte geflaggt.

Riesa. Die Ruinen des Ortes Gohrisch sind nunmehr verschwunden. Bisher hatten sie der Artillerie bei den Schießübungen als Ziel gedient. Da aber durch den Ort die Verkehrsstraße führt und außerdem die gefahrdrohenden Ruinen mancherlei Gesindel als Schlupfwinkel dienten, so sind diese natürlichen Ziele in Trümmerhaufen verwandelt worden.

Trachau. In dem an der sächsisch-böhmischen Grenze belegenen Orte Herrnskretschen wurde ein hiesiger Kaufmann verhaftet, welcher 30,000 Mark unterschlagen hat.

Thüringische Staaten.

Coburg. Der pensionirte Oberbürgermeister Rudolf Muther ist an einem Schlaganfalle gestorben. Der Verstorbene, der mehr als 30 Jahre zum Segen der Stadt gewirkt hat, war lange Jahre Präsident des Coburger Speziallandtages und Vizepräsident des gemeinschaftlichen Landtages.

Gera. Oberbürgermeister Regierungsrath Lade, genannt Ruick, hat sein Entlassungsgesuch beim Gemeinderathe eingereicht, und zwar wegen andauernder Differenzen mit der Gemeindevertretung. Er verlangt 5600 Mark Pension, 1600 Mark Wittwenpension und einen Vorschuß von 2000 Mark zur Regulirung seiner eigenen Angelegenheiten.

Mellingen. Der Gemeindevorstand verbot die Abhaltung einer Volksversammlung, weil der Wirth des betreffenden Lokals „an nervösen Erregungen" leide, was „zu ernsten Besorgnissen" Veranlassung gäbe.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Betreffs der San José-Schildlaus ist den hiesigen Volksschulen, einem Senatsbeschlusse gemäß, durch Schulrath Mahrann eine Wandtafel mit Abbildungen nebst erläuterndem Text übersandt worden.—In einer unserer Vorstädte verhaftete die Polizei eine fünf Personen starke Falschmünzerbande. Die Verbrecher setzten ihrer Festnahme den heftigsten Widerstand entgegen.

Bremen. Eine neue Schenkung hat Herr F. E. Schütte, der hiesige Vertreter der Deutsch-amerikanischen Petroleum-Gesellschaft, gemacht. Er hat schon einige Millionen im Interesse der Stadt geopfert. Jetzt hat er den Maler Arthur Fitger und den Dombaumeister Ehrhardt, Beide hier wohnhaft, beauftragt, den großen Konzertsaal des Künstlervereins, in dem auch die Philharmonischen Konzerte stattfinden, monumental auszuschmücken.

Lübeck. Die Hanseatische Versicherungsanstalt für Invaliditäts- und Altersversicherung, die mit der Schaffung von Heilstätten für die Versicherten bahnbrechend vorging und schon eine im großen Maßstabe angelegte Heilstätte für männliche Lungenkranke in Oderberg im Harz besitzt, hat beschlossen, nunmehr auch eine derartige Anstalt für weibliche Lungenkranke zu errichten. Sie wird in der Nähe von Andreasberg im Harz erbaut. Die Baukosten sind mit 440,000 Mark veranschlagt, die Anstalt ist für 120 Betten berechnet.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL]

Regular adjourned meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, held on Tuesday, May 10th, 1898, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Swain—1.

The minutes of the previous meeting, (reading of bills being omitted), were on motion approved as read.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the Lunacy Committee:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your Committee on Lunacy most respectfully report that they have visited the New Jersey State Hospital during the last year according to law, and they found that the patients of Union county were well taken care of. The county has at present 214 patients at the hospital; 10 patients died during the year, and 16 patients were discharged as cured.

The appropriation for the year was $37,000; there was expended $36,361.75, leaving a balanae of $638.25.

Signed, Yours respectfully,

Fred Miller, Addison S. Clark, J. Martin Roll, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Littell received and placed on file.

By the publication committee:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on publication would respectfully report that they have expended during the year for printing the collector's annual report, publishing the minutes of the board and for such other works as authorized by the committee, the sum of $1,249.60.

Signed, W. H. Hulskamper, John F. Wahl, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher received and placed on file.

By the committee to settle with the sheriff:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 10, 1898.

Gentlemen: Your Committee to settle with the the Sheriff respectfully report that they have audited bills to the amount of twelve thousand, seventy-three dollars and fifty cents ($12,073.50) Of the above amount the Sheriff has paid the County Collector the sum of one thousand, four hundred and forty seven dollars for Prosecutor's fees and fines ($1,447.)

Signed, John Robison, John H. Tier, John F. Wahl, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Clark received and placed on file.

By the Stationary Committee:

Elizabeth, N. J, May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your Committee on Stationery would report that the amount expended during the year was $1,744.34, which was for stationery, books of records and account books for the several court officers, who, by law, are entitled to receive their stationery from the board.

Signed,

Respectfully submitted,

George W. Littell, Chr. Ehrlich, W. H. Hulskhamper, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Robison received and placed on file.

By the county road committee:

Elizabeth. N. J, May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen: Your committee on county roads would respectfully report that during the past year there have been 23¾ miles of county roads repaired with stones, as follows: 2 miles with 2 inch stone, 5 miles 286 feet with 1½-inch stone, 14 miles top dressed with fine stone, 1¾ inches with ¾ inch stone, 18¾ miles of gutters cleaned, 1¾ miles of washouts filled, 15 miles top dressed with clay. Total cost, $17,492 30. Signed,

Respectfully submitted,

J. Martin Roll, James C. Ogden, Geo. W Littell, Henry Krouse, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell received and placed on file.

By the committee on legal questions:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen — Your Committee on Legal Questions would respectfully report that all matters referred to the committee during the past year have received the attention of the committee and County Attorney, and a satisfactory disposition made of all such cases.

Signed, Chr. Ehrlich, John H. Tier, Jacob Brucklacher, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Robison received and placed on file

By the Public Buildings Committee:

Elizabeth, N. J., May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen — Your Committee on Public Grounds and Buildings would respectfully report that during the year ending May 10, 1898, the amount expended for the following purposes is as follows: For the painting and making of general repairs on public building, new outside lamps, papering; also the supplying of fuel, gas, water, electric lighting, telephone service, and for all other purposes incidental to the proper conduct and condition of public ground and buildings, the sum of $5 427 85.

Signed John Farrell, James C. Ogden, Addison S. Clark, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher received and placed on file.

By the committee on jail inspection:

Elizabeth, N. J, May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: In compliance with the rules of the board, the committee on jail inspection herewith respectfully submit their annual report for the year ending May 10, 1898:

Receipts amount to four thousand, four hundred and eighty seven dollars and fifty five cents ($4,487 55).

The expenditures for all purposes, viz.: Salaries, provisions, medical attention, clothing, supplies, miscellaneous, etc., four thousand, four hundred and eighty-seven dollars and fifty five cents ($4,487.55).

Number of prisoners in custody at beginning of year, 43: committed during year, 700; discharged, 693; remaining, 50; total number of days' board of prisoners, 23.169.

The average cost per prisoner is 20 cents per day.

During the year the prisoners are daily employed about the building in cleaning an attending furnance, storing coal, and being generally useful.

Your committee would further report that at their meeting of May 3d, 1898, Frederick C. Bailey was unanimously appointed physician to the county jail at the usual compensation.

Signed, Respectully submitted, John H. Tier, Henry Krouse, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell received and placed on file.

By the Committee on Miscellaneous accounts:

May 10th, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Your committee on miscellaneous accounts would report that they have expended during the year the sum of three hundred and sixty dollars for insurance on public buildings which policies expire October 28, 1900.

We were enabled, owing to the removal of the Sheridan House, to place the insurance at a much lower rate than previous years, viz.: 1 per cent for three years. In making the above reduction the committee were greatly assisted by Director J. Frank Hubbard and County Collector E. M. Wood. Signed.

Respectfully submitted,

Benjamin King, Jacob Brucklacher, John Robison, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrell received and placed on file

By the committee on discharge of prisoners:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee on discharge of prisoners beg leave to report that they held regular meetings during the year for the purpose of granting a deduction in the sentence of prisoners for good conduct while under confinement in the jail upon the recommendation of the presiding Judge of the Common Pleas, as provided by law, and in each case when the allowance was asked it was granted. The number discharged was 290. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Signed, Henry Krouse, J. Martin Roll, John Robison, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Clark received and placed on file.

By the County Physician, his annual report.

May 11th, 1898

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit to your honorable body my second report ending May 1st, 1898. I have been called to investigate 130 cases during the year. Of this number 49 died from natural causes, 30 from railroad accidents, 15 suicides, 6 from alcohol, 1 from exposure to cold, 2 from burns, 15 from drowning. Number of still births 7 and 5 from other accidents. Of this number 8 remains unclaimed and unknown.

Signed, Frank W. Westcott, M. D, County Physician.

On motion of Freeholder King received and placed on file.

The Board then, on motion, took up the payment of bills, and the following bills, audited and approved, were read and on roll call unanimously ordered paid.

Members' Pay Account—J. C. Ogden $60.55, A. S. Clark $26, Henry Krouse $56, George W. Littell $46.

Committee Expense Account—Henry Krouse $13.30, A. E. Decker $4 50, A. S. Clark $8 55, G W. Littell $3.

Incidentals Account—F. W. Westcott $10.55. S. Rusling Ryno $64 50.

Publication Account—A. L. Force, Daily Press, $100,00

Freeholder Farrell moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to the members of the Board whose terms were about to expire for faithful services rendered by them during the time they had been connected with the Board.

The motion was seconded by Freeholder Brucklacher in a few remarks, and also by other members of the Board.

The retiring members, Messrs. Ogden, Littell, Krouse and Clark, replied, thanking the Board for the kindly sentiments that had been expressed, after which the motion was adopted.

On motion of Freeholder Littell the Board took a recess of thirty minutes.

On roll call, after recess, all members were present except Freeholder Swain—1,

By the County Collector his annual report for year ending May 10th, 1898, as follows:

The committee to settle with the County Collector presented the following report, viz:

Elizabeth, May 10, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: Your committee to settle with the County Collector respectfully report that they have examined his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular. His total receipts for the last fiscal year were $514,971.15, disbursements $495 362 96, balance in bank $19,608 18.

Signed, George W. Littell, Benjamin King, Henry Krouse, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Miller received and placed on file.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Resolved, That the County Collector is hereby authorized and directed to transfer from the court account to the bridge account the sum of five thousand five hundred and forty four dollars and eighty-six cents ($5,544.86), and from the lunacy account to the bridge account the sum of six hundred and thirty-eight dollars and twenty five cents ($638.25), and from the jail account to the bridge account the sum of one thousand five hundred and twelve dollars and ninety five cents ($1,512.95), and from the coroner's account to the bridge account the sum of nine hundred and eleven dollars and thirty-seven cents ($911.37), and from the miscellaneous account to the bridge account the sum of three hundred and eighty-two dollars and ninety-two cents ($382.92), and from the miscellaneous account to the members' pay and salaries account the sum of $804.72, and miscellaneous account to interest and coupon account the sum of $1,193.33.

Freeholder Clark moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

No further business appearing, the director then thanked the members of the board for the courtesy they had shown him during the year just ending; he also commended the board for the faithful manner in which they had looked after the interests of the county during the past year.

Freeholder Miller moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The director thereupon declared the board adjourned sine die.

ENDEAVORERS' WORK.

A meeting of the executive committee of the local Christian Endeavor Union was held Tuesday evening at the home of E. R. Anthony, of West Front street, the first vice-president. Representatives from eight societies were present. Plans for the summer home for city girls were further discussed, but no positive decision was reached as to the possibility of opening such a home.

The question of re-forming the bicycle squad for the purpose of visiting out-of-town societies was brought up and it was decided to attempt this unique method of combining pleasure and profit, again. It is hoped that the Endeavorers who ride will be ready at the call of the captain, Miss Ernestine Smith, to bear their part in the work.

The subject of inter-society visitation was discussed and the plan of the societies meeting occasionally with the other societies was proposed and met with approval. It was also suggested that the officers of the union visit as often as possible each society in the union.

Two new departments were added to the union Bible study and lookout and prayer meeting combined. In closing, the president asked for any new plans tried or special work undertaken during the past month by the societies represented.

VOICE OF EDUCATORS.

Borough Intelligence and Ideas Heard By County Teachers.

North Plainfield educators took a prominent part in the spring meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association held in Somerville last week.

The president of the Association, Miss Elizabeth Kiernan, of North Plainfield, placed before the meeting the subject, "Child Study."

The afternoon session was opened by a paper on "Nature Study," by Principal H. J. Wightman. This paper was pronounced by all one of the most interesting and instructive discourses ever delivered in this country. The writes claimed a foremost place in the curriculum of Nature Study. He deprecated the fact that the common fowls are less interesting than wild birds. Teachers should not compel excessive, unaided research on the part of the pupils, but should give them information freely.

After a short discussion, S. St. John McCutchen, member of the State Board of Education, gave an address on our present relations with Spain, in which he maintained that the time has passed for any sentiment, except loyalty to our government; and he quoted Decatur's famous aphorism, "Our country, right or wrong."

Installed as Prelate.

Unity Lodge, K. of P. had a very enjoyable time at their smoker Wednesday night. Robert Rushton was installed as prelate by Deputy Grand Chancellor S. J. Robinson and staff, of Perseverance Lodge No. 74, of this city. After the installation a box of cigars was opened and all enjoyed a good smoke. The evening was whiled away with story telling and readings by members of both lodges.

Solemn Intercession.

A solemn intercession for the army and navy of the United States on sea and land will be offered at morning service in Grace P. E. church Sunday next at 10:30 o'clock. A sermon will be preached by Rev. E. M. Rodman.

FIRST BAND CONCERT.

Small Audience, but a Fine Musical Programme Given.

The first summer night concert by the Queen City Band was given last evening in Music Hall before a small audience. The weather no doubt was responsible for the poor attendance, but the members of the band really deserve better patronage. The entire programme as published in The Daily Press was rendered. The band, under the direction of Ben. LaVere, played up to the standard, while the cornet solos by William Bartow and the violin solos by P. Ludwig Conde were special features receiving hearty applause. The band appeared in their new uniforms and made quite a hit. It is the intention of Mr. LaVere to give these concerts every Friday evening at the Hall and there will be special features each time. The people of Plainfield should support the efforts made to maintain a first-class band in the city by attending these concerts and encouraging those who take part. In the audience last evening occupying one of the boxes were the members of the Thursday Evening Euchre Club, of which Mr. LaVere is a member. One of the other boxes was also filled with an appreciative audience.

FINE LOOKING SOLDIERS.

Great Outburst of Enthusiasm When They Went Through.

There was a great outburst of enthusiasm displayed at the North Avenue station this morning at 10:30 o'clock when two special trains filled with soldiers from Rhode Island passed through. The two trains left Jersey City about 10 o'clock and made very fast time. As the trains passed through Plainfield the soldiers threw out small pieces of paper and their cards. On one piece of paper picked up by John Goodman was the following: "1st R. I. Infantry, Col. Abbott, 1,054 men, bound for Falls Church, Va." On another card the name of H. R. Springer, Co. G, appeared. The soldier boys were all fine-looking men and many compliments were passed about them. This afternoon additional trains will go through Plainfield carrying soldiers to the south.

A Piano Recital.

A piano recital was given last evening at the home of the Misses Marsh, 915 Madison avenue, by their pupils, assisted by Mrs. George A. Chapman, soprano. The affair was a delightful one and the pupils acquitted themselves with great credit. Those who took part were the Misses Bessie Phillips, Dorothy Fisk, Norma Northrup, Isabel Milne, Margaret P. Mead, Annie L. Jennings, Maysie L. Day, Ellen Ogsood, Virginia Hegeman, Ethel Titsworth, Gladys Kaufman, Grace Kaufman, Nellie Valiant, Bessie J. Valiant, Saidee Mae Howell, Margaret W. McCutchen, and Charles P. Titsworth and George L. Babcock. The singing by Mrs. George A. Chapman was a feature of the recital. The affair was largely attended by relatives and friends of the pupils.

No Cause for Action.

The contract case of Heinz against W. L. & J. D. Smalley was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Mattison and a jury composed of Melvin Cleaves, Andrew Wilson, John Barret, Thomas Trainor, George Rockafellow and Charles Wood. Lawyer William DeMeza represented the Smalley Brothers, while Pope & Runyon represented Heinz. The suit was for a debt of $25 claimed by the plaintiff. The jury was only out for a short time when they returned with a verdict of no cause for action.

CHURCH AFFAIR AT FANWOOD.

Clever Entertainment Given by All Saints' Society.

The entertainment given by the Choir Guild of All Saint's P. E. church, of Scotch Plains, at the Fanwood Clubhouse last evening was eminently enjoyable and successful.

Miss Madeline Pearson, of Brooklyn, opened with a charming recitation, entitled "Molly," and in the interval between the plays, recited with great approval, several other amusing sketches.

The young women have acquitted themselves so well in previous entertainments of this character that the mention of their names and the fact that they performed up to their usual ability is fully sufficient. In "Rice Pudding," Miss Kennedy, Miss Poole and Miss Kieb took part with Mr. Bent and Dudley Kyte.

In the comedy farce entitled "Woodcock's Little Game," Miss Grace E. Kyte, Miss Emily Moore and Miss Marguerite Kyte sustained their former reputation and were frequently applauded. John M. Thompson, as the typical Englishman elicted frequent outbursts of approval at his most excellent portrayal of his difficult part, and together with Henry Frentz and the Misses Wheeler, gave life and interest through the two acts of this popular and rather elaborate farce. Miss Frentz, Miss Bertha Frentz and Miss Klemper acted as bridemaids and were well received.

The musical tableau, which brought upon the stage most of the performers, was a patriotic and highly appropriate ending to the entertainment. The audience rose at the familiar strains of the Star Spangled Banner and Miss Elizabeth Kyte as the goddess of liberty gave an inspiring tone to the singing of the National air as she waved the "flag of the free." Miss Kieb accompanied the singers. A dance followed the entertainment, which at a late hour was being enjoyed by the young people and their guests.

A False Alarm.

There was something in his manner that led her to think he was about to propose. So she murmured: "I think that every woman craves some strong nature upon which she can lean in an emergency."

His face became white.

"What is the matter?"

"I thought," he gasped, "that you had already been taught to ride your bicycle."—Washington Star.

In the Menagerie.

"Come on," said the first flea, as he hopped from the brown bear's left fore leg; "come over and join me at a short golf game."

"Golf!" exclaimed the second flea, hastily taking a bite of hyena; "where in the realm of Barnum are we to play golf?"

"Why," said the first flea, "over on the lynx, of course."—Life.

Just What They Were Doing.

"Clara," said the mother of a little 5-year-old miss, who was entertaining a couple of neighboring girls of her own age, "why don't you play something instead of sitting still and looking miserable?"

"Why, mamma, we is playin'," was the reply, "we's playin' that we's grown-up women."—Montreal Herald.

Hustling Work On the Carriages

The work on the disappearing gun carriages at the Pond Tool Works is being rushed as fast as possible. The idea is to complete all the carriages about the same time so that they can all be inspected at once. No orders have been received as yet for their shipment. It is expected that the works will receive a small order for carriages for mortars in a short time.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

One of the largest wholesale manufacturers was forced to the wall. Every one knows of the depression in every line of business, but none have suffered so much as the clothing manufacturers that were rated away up. They were forced to go under or realize money in some way to save their credit, and we being enabled to offer them the ready cash, they refused two offers and we secured a very large lot of desirable clothing at our own price. A chance of a lifetime to secure high-grade spring and summer clothing at less than one-third its value.

Remember, this stock will be sold without reserve, without restrict on and without any consideration of cost of production, and the prices will bring every man and woman within 25 miles of Plainfield to our store in order to show what gigantic bargains will be offered

SPAIN'S RUMORED AID FOR ADMIRAL CERVERA.

Censored Madrid Despatch Says Cadiz Fleet Has Sailed.

Spain Hints to European Powers That Their Interference Is Expected—Supplies Landed Near Cienfuegos by the Brooklyn—Adula is Released But Fails to Accomplish Her Mission.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

CADIZ FLEET SAILED.

Madrid Officially States That Aid Has Gone to Relief of Cervera.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 28, 11:50 a. m.—(Censored)—It is officially announced that the Cadiz fleet has sailed.

SPANISH HINTS.

Another Suggestion to European Powers That Spain Expects Intervention.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 28, 11:45 a. m.—The Madrid reports of the Spanish desire for peace are construed here as a fresh hint to the European powers to intervene.

Despite the warnings inspired by the different governments of the powers, Spain expected their friendly intervention early in the war.

As the Spanish burdens grow heavier and the outlook of the war darker for Spain, the general disappointment regarding the strict neutrality of the powers increases in Spain.

SUPPPLIES FOR CUBANS.

The Brooklyn Landed There Near Cienfuegos Aided By Insurgents.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 28, 11:55 a. m.—A report has reached here that the Brooklyn, Commodore Schley's flag ship, landed 60,000 rounds of ammunition and a large number of rifles, and some provisions for the insurgents..

The supplies were landed Tuesday below Cienfuegos after a hot fight. The fort on the south side of Cienfuegos was knocked to pieces by the fire from the Marblehead.

The Spanish cavalry which opposed the landing was attacked by a body of 700 Cuban insurgents, who routed the Dons, killing many.

The Spanish losses were heavy, both at the forts and among the cavalry. There were none killed among the Americans and Cubans. The supplies were landed safely.

ADULA RELEASED.

She Has Sailed for Jamaica and Left the Refugees Behind.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Cienfuegos, Cuba, May 23, 12:16 p. m.—(Censored.) The British steamer Adula has been released. She sailed for Kingston instead of going to Trinidad for the refugees.

AUSTRIA PLAYING FALSE.

Her Spies Are Now Furnishing Information to the Spaniards.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 28, 1:03 p. m.—A diplomatic rupture with Austria seems imminent. It has been known that Austria's sympathies were decidedly with Spain.

Now President McKinley has become convinced that Austrian spies are furnishing information to Spain concerning the movements of the Americans.

A Rumor and Its Denial.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 23, 10:17 a. m—Reuter's Agency wires that there is a rumor that Sampson's fleet has been defeated at Santiago and Sampson killed.

New York, May 28, 12 m.—The London rumor of the defeat of Sampson is utterly denied.

THE DEWEY WHEEL NOW.

That Is What the Frazeur Invention Has Been Named.

The new wheel, which is to be put on the market by the Frazeur S. and P. Company, is now on exhibition at the establishment of Phillip Zimmer, of Exchange alley. The wheel has been name the Dewey.

The Dewey embodies a new invention of Samuel Frazeur, of New Market, which, it is claimed, will allow the use of high gears without the usual amount of energy needed to ride the very high gears under present methods. Engineer Eddy Clark has been at work on the invention for several months working it up for use and is now confident that he has been successful.

The principal on which the new wheel works is that the power instead of being applied directly from the shaft, is transmitted through a fixed gear wheel to another gear wheel fast to the large sprocket wheel.

The present wheel has sprocket wheels with 12 and 22 teeth, and through the arrangement of gears, is geared to 90. It is claimed that the new wheel with its high gear will run as easily as one geared to 68 under ordinary methods.

Weather Interfered With Bicycling.

Owing to the bad condition of the roads and the threatening weather the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church did not go on the proposed bicycle run. Instead the Endeavorers assembled at the chapel and enjoyed a social time during the evening. There were about thirty persons present and the time was passed in playing games of all sorts and having a good time in general. Refreshments were served by the Social Committee of the society of which Miss Grace Petrie is the chairman. It is the intention of the society to hold the cycle run just as soon as the roads will permit.

A Long Island Wedding.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Busby, Glen Cove, L. I., will take place the marriage of their daughter. Rev. Rush Rhees, a professor at Newton Theological Seminary, will perform the ceremony. The wedding will be attended by Charles W. McCutchen and family, of Rockview avenue. Mr. McCutchen is a partner in business with Mr. Busby.

A Dunellen Man in the Toils.

James Donohue, who gave his place of residence as Dunellen, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Roundsman Frederickson for being drunk and disorderly on Front street. Sentence was suspended on him this morning.

Rev. Mr. O'Donnell to Talk.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell will deliver the address at the flag raising Monday morning.

A baby girl has come to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sandford, of West Seventh street.

Miss Stackhouse, the efficient assistant at the office of A. V. D. Honeyman, on North avenue, left today for her home in Connecticut, where she will remain until next Tuesday.

WHAT THERE IS TO SEE AND HEAR MONDAY

Events Arranged for Observance of Memorial Day.

ENOUGH TO ENTERTAIN ALL.

FOREMOST OF ALL WILL BE THE FLAG RAISING.

Grand Army Has Made Elaborate Plans for Paying Tribute to Their Dead Comrades—Flag Raising is the First Thing in the Morning—Golf Season Will be Formally Opened in a Social Way—Two Baseball Games Between Crack Teams—Plenty of Dancing—Letter-Carriers Will Gather.

Patriotically, Memorial Day promises to be the greatest in many years for Plainfield. Otherwise, however, Monday will be a quiet day in this city. Golf and baseball are the principal attractions aside from the memorial celebration.

First and foremost of the happenings of the day will be the raising of the big city flag that is to wave over the city from the lofty top of the liberty pole at the corner of Park avenue and Front street. It is set down for 9:30 o'clock, and providing Dame Nature forgets to shed her tears for a few moments, it will be an event that will long stand out prominently in the history of Plainfield. Old Glory is to be spread to the breeze amid the general celebration in which the whole city is expected to participate.

Although the flag raising was provided for by the Common Council, it will be conducted by the Grand Army in conjunction with the regular Memorial Day celebration. If you want to be anywhere in the vicinity of the flag raising, you want to start early. Neither of the intersecting streets are remarkably broad, and it will not take a remarkable large number of people to block the passage completely. Then the different organizations, who are to take part in the parade that will immediately follow the flag raising, will gather there before the time set for the Stars and Stripes to make their appearance.

A short oration will proceed the ceremony and the Queen City Band will play during the interval. As the flag glides up the log pole it will be rousingly saluted by volleys from the Sons of Veterans and the battalion of eadets. Then everybody is supposed to cheer as they never cheered before, wave their hats and demonstrate their patriotism in every other way they can think of.

Immediately after the conclusion of the ceremonies, the parade will start over the following route:—

Through East Front street to Elm place; through Elm place to Chatham street; through Chatham street to Presbyterian Cemetery, where Post exercises will be conducted and graves decorated; through Chatham street to Somerset street; through Somerset street to Front street; through West Front street to Plainfield avenue; through Plainfield avenue to Evergreen Cemetery, where Post exercises will be conducted and graves decorated; through Plainfield avenue to Seventh street; through Seventh street to Park avenue; through Park avenue to Front street; through East Front street to place of formation, and then be dismissed.

The procession will consist of: First, platoon of police; second, marshal and aides; third, Queen City Band; fourth, school cadets; fifth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; sixth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; seventh, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; eighth, platoon of G. A. R. and school children; ninth, John Hand Camp, S. of V., and school children.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock exercises will be held by the Grand Army in Music Hall. The programme will be as follows:

Music, Queen City Band; prayer, Rev. Father Smyth; music, Queen City Band; recitation, Alfred E. Pearsall; vocal solo, Miss Opdyke; memorial exercises, Post 73, G. A. R.; music, Queen City Band; oration, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes; decoration of unknown grave; music, Queen City Band; recitation, Alfred E. Pearsall; vocal solo, Miss Opdyke; music, Queen City Band.

That will conclude the patriotic observance of the day unless something unexpected turns up.

The golf season will formally open in a social way on Monday afternoon. There will be playing on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Plainfield avenue all day. In the morning the preliminary round for the Chapman Cup will be played. The semi-finals for the same cup will be

A POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

BLEW OPEN THE SAFE IN THE NEW MARKET POSTOFFICE.

Dynamite Was Used—Stamps and Money Hid in Another Place—Postmaster Day Hustled Out With His Gun.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 28.—An unsuccessful attempt was made early this morning to burglarize the New Market postoffice.

The postoffice is located in Jenner's grocery store, on the Stelton road Postmaster Charles S. Day lives just opposite. At 3:30 o'clock this morning, his sister, Miss Lizzie Day, was awakened by the sound of an explosion across the street. She called her brother. Day seized his Winchester and rushed across the street to find the store filled with smoke.

The front of the safe was entirely wrecked and its contents, mostly government papers, partially destroyed. Nobody was in sight. A new brace was found near by. Two chisels stolen from Kelly's wheelwright shop, was found.

The crooks, who were evidently professionals, had grained entrance through the large window in the front door. They had cut out the glass.

The stamps and money had been hidden away in another place. The burglars took some papers from the safe which were of no value. The papers were afterwards found near the white bridge.

Two strange men have been seen about the town for the last two days. They have been in the store several times to make small purchases.

In the safe was an old township book, 230 years old, that was burned and scorched on the edges.

COOK WAS TOO HOT TEMPERED.

An Incident of the Appearance of the Wild West Show.

Frank Goines, the colored cook for the Pawnee Bill show, was arrested yesterday by Officer Cash for kicking a boy on the grounds and raising a disturbance. Goines went over to the members of the tent gang in one part of the grounds to borrow a wheelbarrow. This was refused him, and he began at once to strike the boy who had it in charge.

The men, seeing what Goines was doing, picked up tent poles and sticks and started in hot pursuit of the colored man, who ran as fast as he could go, through tents, in and out of the wagons, through the mud, and finally took refuge in a big tent.

Officer Cash, who was on duty in the vicinity, was informed of the racket and arrested the man and locked him up. When arraigned in court Goines pleaded guilty to being disorderly, but as there was no one to appear against the man, the Judge suspended sentence on him with a warning to be a "good man."

FAT WAGON WRECKED.

Trolley Car Collided With It—The Driver Somewhat Injured.

Augustus Hoagland, who is employed by William Banks, a fat and pelt dealer, of Netherwood, met with an accident Thursday night on the street railroad near Dunellen. Hoagland was driving a covered wagon near the Eight Row when car No. 11, in charge of Motorman William Bush, came up behind him, and before the man could prevent it, a collision had occurred in which the wagon was overturned and the man buried in the debris.

When Hoagland could be extracted from his perilous position, it was found that he was injured about the hips and the foot. The horse ran away when the collision occurred, but was soon caught. Hoagland was taken home and a physician called, who does not think Hoagland is seriously hurt. The railway company has agreed to settle for the damages.

Patriotic Catholic Children.

The assembly chamber of St. Mary's school was the scene of a happy gathering yesterday afternoon, the occasion being a formal reception given to the Grand Army post by the children of the school. It need but be recalled of the many receptions and entertainments rendered by the children of this school during the past years to speak of the success and effectiveness of the labors of the good Sisters of Charity, particularly Sister Mary Esther, the directress. The honored veterans expressed their congratulations to the children and encouraged them to have the love of religion and country always united, for in this union was found ennobling patriotism and loyalty to church and State.

Entertained Elizabeth Pythians.

Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., entertained about thirty-five members of Olive Branch Lodge, of Elizabeth, last night. The third degree was conferred on one candidate. A bountiful collation was served to the members and visitors in Washington Hall.

MINDS THAT CAN GRASP.

PARLIAMENTARY CLUB SHOW HOW THEY DO BUSINESS.

An Open Session Held Yesterday Afternoon and Intricate Forms of Debate Gone Through With Intelligently.

The members of the Parliamentary Club have a unique organization which heretofore has not allowed its secrets to be known outside its membership. To introduce its friends to the routine work done by the club, and to exhibit to intelligent women the importance of parliamentary drill, an open meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, to which each member had the privilege of inviting a few friends.

The regular business of the meeting was gone through with quickness and dispatch, and no doubt the visitors present learned more about conducting public meetings and regulating the proceedings of an assembly during the two hours spent there than they could have learned in several hours of heavy reading.

The constitution of the club limits the membership to fifty. There is always a waiting list of twenty or more, which goes to show the popularity of the club among the ladies. The members transact weighty matters of business, all of which is of a fictitious nature, motions being made, amended, and the amendments amended until the ordinary mind would be perplexed with the involved affairs which are reached, but so thorough was the training of the members that they are able to wade through the mass of motions and bring the matters to a focus.

All this was illustrated yesterday afternoon. Motions were made and the business of a body of grave, deliberating statesmen transacted, although some of the items brought up for consideration provoked a smile. Short speeches were made upon the topics of a minute or two duration. Of course the club has its regular business of the day to transact, but this was not done at yesterday's meeting

A few of the things discussed by the club were building a clubhouse in Alaska, joining the naval reserves, holding a strawberry festival and adopting the rainy day costume. Committees were appointed upon such things as were decided to be done, and other matters were laid upon the table.

During the afternoon Miss Elizabeth Cahoone and Miss Marguerite Burnette rendered violin solos, and several papers were read. "Debt Literature Owes to Poverty," written for another New Jersey club, was read by Mrs. J. P. Mosher, and a paper on foreign affairs, which was partly in verse, was read by Mrs. W. L. Patton. The club color, nile green, was displayed.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION ELECT.

Mrs. M. E. Dwight at the Head of a Congregational Society.

The annual meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational church was held in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. The election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. M. E. Dwight; vice-president, Mrs. C. L. Goodrich; recording secretary, Miss Effie E. Chase; corresponding scoretary, Mrs. Joseph Fuller; treasurer, Mrs. John M. Whiton. The officers of the committees were chosen as follows: Missionary committee, Miss Florilla F. Clark, chairman, Miss Mary Ellis, treasurer; social committee, Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux, chairman, Mrs. E. Messersmith, treasurer; committee on local charities, Mrs. L. B. Morgan, chairman, Mrs. E. L. Suffren, treasurer.

Scavenger Licenses Revoked.

It is unfortunate for the borough that the Board of Health has deemed it necessary to revoke all licenses for scavengers for the time being, owing to the inaccessibility of the public dump, and the complaints of those who object to the meadow land on Charles Hyde's property being used. It is especially perplexing to Evan Jones, who has a pocktful of orders to clean cesspools and who is prevented from doing the work. It is not likely that the matter will be straightened out till the next meeting of the Borough Council.

Four Score Years Old.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 28.—The death of Mrs. Catarina H. Enander, aged 80 years, occurred at her home in this place yesterday. She was an old resident of the borough and was well-known throughout this vicinity. She was the grandmother of Albert H. Enander, the Plainfield plumber. The funeral services will be held from her late residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

SMALL BOY THRILLED.

PAWNEE BILL GIVES HIM NEW INSPIRATION FOR FUN.

The Wild West Show Appears in Plainfield—One Boy Had His Arm Broken Trying to See the Show.

For the next fortnight every small boy in Plainfield will be busily engaged in reproducing blood curdling horrors, thrilling escapes, and heroic acts associated with the wild and wooly west, with perhaps a touch of the war in the bush in Cuba.

The reason for this sanguinary turn in the sports of the small boy was occasioned by the advent of Pawnee Bill's Great Historic Wild West, which gave two performances yesterday at the corner of Spooner avenue and Essex street.

They arrived in Plainfield early yesterday morning by train from Somerville. They unloaded at the freight yard and had the long haul through town. The small boy turned out at unheard of hours to witness the preparation of the ground and the arrival of the Indians and cow boys.

The trolley cars did a great business all day. In the afternoon and evening the crowd was so great that a number of extra cars were found necessary.

The attendance at both performances was large, several thousand being present at each one. For a traveling show, the performance was a good one and a number of wonder-feats were shown. There was lots of powder burned and the small boy returned home to dream of rescuing May Lillie, the crack shot, in the stage coach with the aid of Buckskin 'Arry and his consorts.

Last evening Robert Morgan, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, of West Front street, thought that he could see the Pawnee Bill show better if he could get in the top of a large tree near by. He climbed the tree and secured a comfortable place where he could watch the performance. During one of the exciting features of the show young Morgan lost his balance and fell to the ground, a distance of about twenty-five feet. As a result he fractured his arm quite badly. His friends picked him up and took him home. A physician was called and set the broken bone.

PROFITS OF RED CROSS BENEFIT.

$100 Acknowledged by the Proper Committee in New York.

The committee of ladies who were in charge of the benefit entertainment given at Music Hall for the Red Cross Society have received the following letter in acknowledgement of a check of $100, the net proceeds of the entertainment:

"I have today received a check for $100 from Mrs. Berman as a donation to the work of our committee from you and the other ladies of Plainfield. Will you kindly convey our warm thanks to them for their successful efforts in our behalf. We hope, within the next few days, to know that the first of our ambulances are on their way south. Believe me,

"Very gratefully yours,
"Louisa Pierpont Morgan,
"Assistant Treasurer of the First New York Ambulance Red Cross Equipment Society."

Poor Fare For Soldiers.

Finton Hibbitts, of Liberty street, has received a letter from his son, John Hibbitts, who is now a member of the regular Army and is located at Chicamauga Park. Mr. Hibbitts enlisted from Brooklyn. In his letter he says that the soldiers are getting very little to eat, and he should think that while the United States is trying to help starving Cubans they would try to feed their own men better. He says that they have to go a half-mile to get good drinking water and that accommodations are very poor.

To Be Graduated at Colleges.

Among the young women and men of Plainfield to be graduated from colleges this year are Miss Martha Tracy at Bryn Mawr; Miss Phebe Lovell at Vassar; Russell Bond at Princeton; Fred Goddard and Braidman Tyler at Amherst; Philip Wells, Harry Bushnell, Charles and Fred Case at Harvard, and Edward H. Waring at Lehigh University.

Sudden Death at Scotch Plains.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 28.—Noah Redford died suddenly last evening at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Hall. His death was caused by heart failure. The remains will be taken to Newport, R. I., tomorrow by Undertaker Geo. W. Cole.

Likes Army Life.

Harry McCormick, of the street railway, has received a letter from his brother, James McCormick, who is now located with Company H at Fort Hancock. He states that he is getting along very well and likes army life so far.

CADETS AIDED IN A CHURCH FESTIVAL.

Patriotic Affair Given in Vincent Chapel Last Night.

CLEVER WOMEN IN CHARGE

TYPICAL MILITARY CAMP PITCHED ON THE PLATFORM.

While the Soldier Boys Gathered in Their Bivouac Charles H. Lyman Sang "Tenting Tonight"—Effect Was Very Pleasing When the Cadets Joined in the Chorus—Cadets Gave an Exhibition Drill Under Command of Captain Edwards—Dr. Snodgrass Gave a Patriotic Talk—National Music.

There was a gathering of uniformed men in front of the First M. E. church last night. Bayonets flashed and the jingle of accoutrements could be heard. Then came the sharp word of command, "Fall in," and a few moments later the steady tramp was heard and the squad marched into Vincent chapel in the rear of the church. They were the High School cadets, who were the principal feature of the patriotic festival given in the chapel by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church.

The ladies had departed from the accustomed paths in providing entertainment for the festival. Through the influence of Captain George F. Edwards, commandant of the cadets, the corps turned out.

The soloist for the evening was not able to be present, so Charles H. Lyman took his place. The programme opened with his solo, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," the audience joining in the chorus.

At one side of the platform, a tent had been pitched, the rifles of the young cadets were stacked on the stage while they lounged about the platform and tent, save for the armed sentry who paced up and down. Then the lights were turned low, the soldier boys gathered in their bivouac, and Mr. Lyman softly sang "Tenting Tonight." The effect was very pleasing. The cadets joined in the chorus.

Then followed a twenty minute drill by the cadets under the command of Captain Edwards in which they went through their different manoeuvres with regularity and skill.

After a selection by Roger's orchestra, which gave several selections before the programme had begun, Rev. Dr. Snodgrass spoke a few words on "Patriotism." The singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" followed, Mr. Lyman singing the solo. Then all the guests were presented with little souvenirs appropriate to the patriotic festival.

The committee of arrangements in charge of the festival consisted of Mrs L. M. French, chairman; Mrs. C. H. Lyman and Mrs. O. Jenkins. The refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. N. W. Pike, chairman; Mrs. G. Q. Packer, Mrs. C. H. Rugg, Mrs. C. E. Horne, Miss Jackson and Miss Sharpe. Mrs. J. P. Homan looked after the souvenirs.

The chapel was artisticly decorated with flags and tri colored bunting which were used with effect all about the rooms. The parlors were hung with a series of small American flags.

SERVED TEMPTING DISHES.

Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival at Hope Chapel.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel gave an ice cream and strawberry festival last night, the proceeds of which went towards the benefit fund.

A programme of music and recitations was first presented. Vocal music was rendered by Mr. Turner and a duet by Messrs. Brandt and Turner. Recitations were given by Miss LaRue, Arthur Daw, Miss Ada Westphal, Miss Cora Hand, Miss Try Mattox and Miss Murphy.

Those at the tables were: Ice cream, Mrs. M. Sweeny, Mrs. J. Randolph and Mrs. Hangleighter; cake, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Bunn; berries, Mrs. Gray; candy, Mrs. McGue and Mrs. Sheppard. Mrs. F. Stewart and Mrs. Young took the tickets at the door. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. J. Randolph, chairman; Mrs. Andrew Cox and Mrs. Tillie Riker.

George Moncton at Camp Tampa.

George Moncton, formerly of Plainfield, but late of St. Louis, has written to his mother that he joined a Missouri regiment at St. Louis, and that he arrived at Tampa, Fla., May 21st. He reports himself as being well and enjoying life.

SUPPORT FOR DEWEY

Second Expedition From San Francisco With 2,500 Men.

MORE TRANSPORTS NEEDED

General Merritt Has Arrived at San Francisco and Assumed Command of the Manila Expedition—War-ships to Act as Consorts to the Three Transports—Naval Militia Has Been Ordered to the Mohican.

Washington, May 28.—The second detachment of the Philippine expedition, which it was expected would leave San Francisco next Sunday, may be held until next Thursday. This possible change is due to the fact that the war department succeeded yesterday morning in chartering two more ships on the Pacific coast for use as transports.

These are the China and the Colon of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The contract was entered into shortly before midnight Thursday night, when Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn succeeded in having a telegram delivered to C. P. Huntington of the Pacific Mail Company as the latter was en route to the East, at some point in Iowa.

The contract price is $45,000 per month for the China and $22,000 per month for the Colon. Both ships are now at San Francisco. The Colon is loaded with a cargo for Central America, but it will be immediately taken off. The Centennial, the Ohio and the Zealandia will be ready to sail with 2,500 soldiers for Manila next Sunday, but it is possible that these will be held so that the six ships can go together on Thursday, bearing about 5,000 men. The China will carry about 2,000 and the Colon about 1,000. The government is also negotiating for the Queen, Cleveland and Puebla of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

San Francisco, May 28.—Major General Merritt, governor general of the Philippines arrived in this city Thursday night. All future movements of the Manila expedition will be subject to his orders. He will act only under instructions from Washington. General Otis will accompany the second expedition. The work of equipping the troops will now be in charge of Colonel James W. Pope, chief quartermaster of General Merritt's staff, who also arrived Thursday evening.

After a careful inspection of the 7,000 troops now at Camp Richmond, it was semi-officially announced that the second Manila expedition would probably be composed of the First Colorado regiment, 1,008 men; the First Nebraska regiment, 1,020 men, and the Thirteenth Minnesota regiment 1,030 men, a total of 3,058 volunteers.

Boats at the Navy Yard.

The U. S. S. Philadelphia, after being thoroughly refitted, left the dry dock at Mare Island Thursday afternoon, and the Monterey took her place. The bottom of the Monterey will be scraped and painted, after which she will be ready for her trip to Manila. The collier Peter Jebson (renamed Brutus), purchased by the government, with her cargo of 4,800 tons of coal, for $270,000, is also being prepared for sea. Her engines and boilers were inspected and pronounced in excellent condition. Rapid fire guns were put on board at once. She will make the trip to the Philippines in company with the Monterey.

A crew of naval militia from San Francisco, numbering fifty-six, has been ordered to the Mohican, which will depart soon with ammunition and stores for the Hawaiian naval station.

There are now at the navy yard fifteen United States ships, as follows: Philadelphia, Monterey, Yorktown, Alert, Mohican, Pensacola, Independence, Unadilla, Monitor, Commanche, Hartford, Thetis, Ranger, Ning Chow and Peter Jebsen.

GEN. MILES AT CAMP ALGER.

He Now Intends to Leave Tampa Tomorrow Night.

Washington, May 28.—Major General Miles and staff will visit Camp Alger, Va., to-day to make an inspection of the regiments encamped there. His visit will occur at the same time as that of President McKinley and Secretary Alger.

General Miles expects to leave for Tampa to-night. Complete arrangements for going on Wednesday had been made, when the trip was suddenly postponed.

At that time it was said that he would leave for the South within two or three days.

DEWEY DAY IN KANSAS CITY.

The Manila Hero Honored by a Parade of 30,000 People.

Kansas City, Mo., May 28.—Yesterday was Dewey day, set apart by the common council for the celebration of the victory of Manila bay. Both Kansas Citys joined in making the most popular demonstration ever held here, and crowds from a dozen surrounding Missouri and Kansas towns lent their aid.

The street parade was the feature of the day. It contained no less than 30,000 people. Of this number 10,000 were school children who marched eight abreast and formed a division a mile long, each child carrying a flag.

WATTERSON ADDRESSES TROOPS.

Review at Lexington by Gov. Bradly and a Big Pageant.

Lexington, May 28.—Ten thousand people came into Lexington yesterday to witness the civic and military pageant, followed by a review by Governor Bradley, of the troops now here and to hear the address to the troops by Henry Watterson.

When the parade and review were ended 300 school children sang "America." William C. P. Breckinridge then introduced Mr. Watterson, who was given an ovation.

The Resolute at Newport.

Newport, R. I., May 28.—The auxiliary cruiser Resolute arrived yesterday morning from New York.

PREPARING FOR CUBA

Army Ready to Sail Promptly at Command.

SHAFTER, LEE, WHEELER

All the Regulars and Volunteer Troops in Florida Formed Into Corps, Divisions and Brigades Yesterday—The Fifth Corps Under General Shafter and the Seventy-First New York Regiments Expected to Lead the Way.

Tampa Fla., May 28.—The formation of all the regular and volunteer troops massed in Florida into corps, divisions and brigades, was completed Thursday in a general order issued by Major General Shafter, commanding the Fifth Army Corps.

The Fifth Corps, which will probably be the first to land on Cuban soil, is made up entirely of regular troops with the exception of two regiments of volunteers at Lakeland, the Seventy-first New York and Second Massachusetts. This corps also embraces the cavalry division, composed of the First and Tenth regiments at Lakeland, and the Third, Sixth and Ninth at Tampa, under command of Major General Joseph Wheeler; the artillery brigade under command of Lieutenant Colonel W. F. Randolph, and the signal corps, in all nearly 18,000 men.

The Seventh Corps, under command of Major General Fitzhugh Lee, embraces all the volunteer troops at Tampa, five regiments, and the troops at Jacksonville, or between 8,000 and 9,000 men.

Washington, May 28.—The preparations for invading Cuba at this season in defiance of all that has been said about the imminence of the summer rains and the unwholesome climate, are defended here by many on the ground that even if these adverse conditions force us to defer our aggressive campaign till fall, we shall have saved just so much time in moving our men and munitions of war and planting them on the island.

It is contended that landings for men and siege guns can be effected at points where they will be comparatively safe from attack on the land side, especially if protected by our ships. The idea is that a campaign by the Spaniards against such fortified encampments would be as difficult in the rainy season as a campaign by our troops against the Spanish, and hence that we would have little to fear from that quarter.

Plan of Campaign.

The plan of campaign which contemplates the landing of a large siege force on the north shore of Cuba, in the province of Santiago de Cuba to work across and attack the town of Santiago from the land side, finds least favor in the quarters where the topography of the country is best known. The country is mountainous, and to take artillery across by steep and muddy roads is deemed impracticable. Indeed, it is doubtful whether there is any good point for landing a siege force to take Santiago from the rear.

The key to the whole Cuban situation, as it is recognized by all the military authorities here is the strip of territory perhaps one hundred and fifty miles long by eighty miles wide, which takes in Havana on the north and Cienfuegos on the south coast, with the uninterrupted rail connection between them.

BIG TROLLEY LEASES.

Consolidated Traction of Jersey City Absorbed by the N. J. Railway Company.

Jersey City, May 28.—Arrangements have been completed for the leasing of the Consolidated Traction Company of Jersey City to the North Jersey Street Railway Company, which will hereafter control nearly all the trolley lines in northern New Jersey. The North Jersey syndicate will be capitalized at $50,000,000.

By the terms of the lease, which will go into effect next Wednesday, the stockholders of the Consolidated Traction Company will be paid 2 per cent. on their holdings.

The mammoth trolley syndicate will at once proceed to gridiron the entire northern part of New Jersey with trolley lines. E. F. C. Young of Jersey City is president.

ROYAL ARCANUM ASSESSMENTS.

New Method Adopted by the Supreme Chapter of Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., May 28.—A new method of levying assessments was adopted Thursday by the supreme chapter of the Royal Arcanum. It provides for an emergency fund of about $500,000 a year, and does away with the cutting down of certificates in amount year by year after the holders reach the age of sixty years. Each of the 196,000 members will also pay a yearly assessment of eighty cents to meet the running expenses.

It was voted not to legislate in any manner against applicants for membership who are likely to see service in the war with Spain.

San Francisco Needs Groceries.

San Francisco, May 28.—Stocks of groceries and provisions here are seriously depleted by reason of the government's needs. Many orders have been placed with various firms in the East requiring the goods to be sent by express.

New War Officer.

Washington, May 28.—In the senate yesterday Mr. Carter reported from the military affairs committee a bill providing for a second assistant secretary of war, to be named by the president, and to receive a salary of $4,000. The bill was passed.

Regulars Going to Fort McPherson.

Key West, May 28.—Ten members of the Fifth regiment arrived here yesterday morning on a government tug from the Tortugas Island, bound for Fort McPherson, Atlanta, to recruit and drill the newly enlisted men.

SCHLEY AND CERVERA

No Official Information About the Fleet's Whereabouts.

SAID TO BE AT SANTIAGO

Scouting or Dispatch Boats Expected to Soon Bring Definite Information Concerning Schley's and Cervera's Squadrons—No Move on Cuba or Porto Rico Until Spanish Fleet is Destroyed or Rendered Helpless.

Washington, May 28.—Notwithstanding the reported statements to the effect that the navy department has been in communication with Schley off Santiago, Secretary Long states that he has not received any message from Commodore Schley since his brief report made several days ago from another point in Cuba. Therefore, the department is in exactly the position it has occupied for the last few days so far as its knowledge of the fleet goes; it has heard through unofficial, and it is hoped, reliable sources, that the Spanish fleet is in Santiago harbor, and that Schley is lying in wait outside

The department having waited as long as dignity seemed to require for news directly from the squadrons, it is believed has now taken steps to secure it through its own inquiries, and, consequently, it may be expected at any moment that some of the dispatch boats or scouting vessels will bring news of the squadron to one of the cable stations, probably in Hayti, for transmission to the navy department.

At the close of the cabinet meeting yesterday it was authoritatively stated that although the government had no official information on the subject, there was no reason to doubt that Admiral Cervera's fleet was not in Santiago harbor and that Commodore Schley was on guard at the entrance. Although the information upon which this belief is based is regarded as entirely trustworthy, the government will make no important move or change its plans in the absence of direct confirmation from official sources.

Cuba and Porto Rico Movements.

It was also stated that any contemplated movement against Cuba or Porto Rico would be held in abeyance until the Spanish fleet either was destroyed or otherwise rendered too helpless to seriously interfere with our plans in any direction. The cabinet discussed the situation at length, but nothing of great consequence was decided upon. The work of equipping and mobilizing the volunteer army will be pushed with all possible vigor with a view to being in perfect readiness for any call that might be made when the Spanish fleet shall no longer be a serious factor in the war problem.

There was a revival yesterday morning of the almost daily rumor that General Miles was about to depart on his trip to Tampa, which is, of course, construed to mean the direct beginning of the invasion of Cuba. As a matter of fact there is just as much foundation for this report now as during any day in the past week. The commanding general has had for some time a special car ready for himself and staff lying in the Pennsylvania Railway station in this city ready to start at a moment's notice for Tampa. He himself has been anxious to depart for many days past, and has been restrained only because conditions were not ripe for the movement. When that moment arrives a start will be made, but whether it will be to-day or a week hence is absolutely not known at this time even to General Miles himself.

Rumors of Peace.

Another rumor which was revived yesterday with some degree of plausibility, related to certain attempts on the part of the representatives of European powers to secure peace through diplomatic representations to the United States. Like the other rumor, this meets with an absolute denial at the state department, and so far as known, neither in Europe through the United States representative, nor in Washington, has our government been approached on this subject.

The conditions mentioned in these stories,—the retention by Spain of the Philippines and Porto Rico in return for the release of Cuba—represent the very minimum offer that might be expected from the Spanish side, but as most peace treaties are in the nature of compromise bargains, it cannot be supposed, of course, that that is the maximum price Spain expects to pay for her indulgence in a losing war.

The navy department is making ready for the purchase of a number of small craft to supplement the mosquito fleets on the coast. The chief of the mosquito fleets, Admiral Erbin, at New York, has submitted to the navy department a list of over one hundred such craft, which have been examined and found suitable. The department was prevented from making any purchases on this score because it lacked the necessary authorization, but now that congress has passed and the president has approved an act appropriating $3,000,000 for the purchase of such vessels, it will begin at once to acquire them.

Dispatches from Gomez.

Key West, May 28.—The gunboat Wilmington, after a ten days' cruise with Sampson's fleet off northern Cuba, came in yesterday for coal, bringing the Cuban scout, Colonel Jova, former United States vice consul at Sagua la Grande.

She bears fresh dispatches from Gomez, at the headquarters of the patriot army in Central Cuba, for the Key West junta and our naval and military officials here.

Auxiliary Cruiser Gloucester Pu's to Sea.

New York, May 28.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Gloucester (formerly the Old Dominion liner Yorktown) passed out Sandy Hook yesterday. It is said that the vessel is going to join Commodore Watson's blockading squadron off Havana. She started for the South two days ago, but has been detained in the bay by bad weather.

Some cough mixcures smother the cough. But the next breeze fans it into life again.

Better put the cough out.

That is, better go deeper and smother the fires of inflammation. Troches cannot do this. Neither can plain cod-liver oil.

But Scott's Emulsion can. The glycerine soothes and makes comfortable; the hypophosphites give power and stability to the nerves; and the oil feeds and strengthens the weakened tissues.

TO CAPTURE PORTO RICO

The President is Said to Favor the Plan But as Objections, Containing Elements of Gravity are Urged Against it, He is Undecided What to Do.

Washington, May 28.—The president is listening calmly to a multitude of conflicting opinions concerning military operations against Porto Rico. Some of his advisers urge him immediately to set on foot a movement for the bombardment and destruction of the forts at San Juan, to be followed by the landing of a large force of soldiers to overcome the 13,000 Spanish troops who are now in the island under arms Many reasons are put forth in advocacy of this plan of campaign by those who are favorable to it. On the other hand objections which contain elements of gravity are urged against it.

It is known that the president was favorable to the subjugation of Porto Rico at the time Admiral Cervera's fleet was supposed to be approaching San Juan. Rear Admiral Sampson was directed to destroy the fleet if he found it at San Juan, and the plan was then to reduce the fortifications, occupy the island with an overwhelming force and make prisoners of the soldiers found thereon.

The carrying out of this proposed plan of action was frustrated by the unexpected movements of Admiral Cervera in dodging about the West Indies and finally seeking refuge in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. Rear Admiral Sampson, not being authorized to capture San Juan, had to withdraw and seek the elusive Spaniard in the Caribbean sea. The president, it is understood, would like to carry out his original plan and take possession of Porto Rico. General Schofield, in whose opinion he places a great deal of confidence, is of the same opinion, and holds that it is not yet too late to capture Porto Rico.

SPANISH CABINET CRISIS

Gamazo's Insistence Upon an Income Tax Divides the Ministers and Foments the Spirit of Revolt.

Madrid, May 28.—A ministerial crisis s imminent, arising from the attitude of Senor Gamazo, minister of public instruction, in urging upon Senor Pulgcerver, minister of finance, the imposition of an income tax.

The ministerial majority is doubtful, but it will probably oppose Senor Gamazo, which would be deplorable, in view of Spain's immediate financial straits, and Senor Gamazo's great authority, which is the only prop remaining to the Liberal party.

Unhappy Spain is hastening toward revolution with giant strides.

Hard Times For German Farmers.

The quick auction sale of 300 American horses in Berlin at an average price per head of $235 has stirred anew the dislike of the rural population of Germany to the United States. They appeal frantically to the government to put restrictions on the importation into Germany not only of American horses, but of American meats, fruits, breadstuffs and everything that grows.

On the other hand, it is to be noted that we hear considerably less lately of Emperor William's frank expression of disapproval of us and our institutions. The truth is the people of Germany are at cross purposes so far as the United States is concerned. Manufacturing industries of all kinds want food, live stock and raw material as cheaply as possible. With our limitless acreage and cheap raw material we can supply meat, grain, horses and even fruits and common wines more cheaply than these can be produced in Germany. Persons engaged in manufacturing industries there want these things of us. Meantime we take in return an enormous quantity of manufactured goods from Germany, and the amount increases heavily year by year. It is this great and growing export trade for Germany, bringing prosperity to her manufacturers, that has stopped William's mouth from uttering bad sentiments concerning us in the present difficulty with Spain. Our annual trade is worth ten times as much to Germany as that of Spain.

But the prospect is a bitter one for the German farmer. So it is for farmers all over Europe, with perhaps the single exception of those in Russia. European farmers never hold their own in competing with us in ordinary food products and live stock. Their only recourse to save themselves seems to be to turn to the rearing of improved and blooded live stock for export, the production of rare wines, in which we cannot yet compete with them, the raising of vegetables and small fruits and dairying.

As certain as death and taxes, just so certain is the price of wheat to rebound from rock bottom and run far up to dizzy heights. Half a dozen years ago some of the ablest economists on both sides of the water wrote elaborate essays, not to say volumes, proving that wheat could never again command so high a price as it had done during our war because the world's wheat area was now so large. Meantime the world's population quietly sneaked up on the writing philosophers as well as on the world's wheat area. The earth's population is increasing faster at present than it ever did because wars are fewer and sanitation is better. Every blessed one of the newcomers on the earth must have bread to eat. Now look at the conditions this year. The wheat crop of the United States is the greatest since that tremendous boom wheat year of 1891. The crop of the rest of the earth's surface, on the contrary, is smaller than it has been since 1890. Result, the farmers of the United States are in great luck, and there will be a brisk market with high price for every bushel of wheat they can sell.

Since all of us must die, one could wish for himself and those nearest to him no better fate than to go out of life like the expiring flash of a candle, as the great violinist Edouard Remenyi did. His death was happy as his life had been brilliant—one moment in the full vigor of his powers, having just finished the last strains of "Old Glory" on his violin, playing almost as even he never played before, the next, with the plaudits and cheers of thousands ringing in his ears, going out of life. It is the lingering, the horrible, slow wasting and growing helplessness that make death terrible.

Foley, James L., who was a soldier in the civil war and knows what the pest of mosquitoes, black flies and sand flies in the south means, gives his fellow countrymen a remedy against all three. It is to smear upon the face and exposed parts of the body a mixture of olive or cottonseed oil and North Carolina tar, worked together till it is about the consistency of ordinary cream. That mixture might properly be called cream of tar-tar.

On the whole, considering all the circumstances of the Oregon's thrilling voyage from San Francisco around Cape Horn and up the east coast of South America in order to reach the West Indies, is it not borne plainly in on the American mind that we need to have that Nicaragua canal cut through as quickly as possible?

Here is a question for, not the authorities at Washington, but the whole American people to consider: There are the Philippine islands, 1,400 of them. There are Cuba and Puerto Rico. What is best for us to do with these outlying possessions after we get them?

Left handed men are noted for the unerring accuracy with which they throw a stone. More than one victory of the Chicago baseball team this season is due to her famous left handed pitcher, Kilroy.

It is not conducive to good health to say anything disrespectful of the American flag just now.

The Yankee pigs seem to be rooting the Spanish gentlemen into rather a close corner.

GENERAL MERRITT AND THE CHARLESTON.

To follow up and make good the victory of our fleet at Manila, an army of occupation is necessary. The cruiser Charleston was selected to carry soldiers and supplies to Dewey. General Wesley Merritt will be military governor of the Philippines.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

It has been said that the Bryant School, whose pupils donated money enough to purchase a navy flag for Admiral Dewey, is the only school in the United States to do anything like this. The idea was original with Miss Shattuck, the principal, and was seized upon by the pupils with great enthusiasm. Enough money was soon raised to purchase a flag 8x12, the regular navy size, and it is a beauty. Because of a provision in the United States Constitution, which prohibits an officer in the army or navy from accepting any present, the flag was presented to the Admiral's ship, the Olympia.

W. W. Coriell, of West Front street, who engineered the scheme of having the town clock repaired, desires The Daily Press to state that the trustees of the First M. E. church agreed to keep the clock going if the city would fix it, and it was generally understood that Isaac Kennedy, the sexton of the church, would keep the clock wound. This Mr. Kennedy has failed to do. Mr. Coriell says that the clock is not stiff in the joints, but is in good condition. He suggests that as the city owns the clock they pay a small sum per year to have it wound regularly and kept going. This, Mr. Coriell says, is all that is needed. He thinks that the clock should be allowed to strike, as it proves a great convenience both during the day and night, and he hopes the clock will soon be doing duty again.

Some observing correspondent sent to The Press today the following clipping from a news despatch from Camp Alger, at Falls Church, Va., adding "chance for some good Jerseymen who have been wondering how they might help:"

The First New Jersey is making a determined effort to obtain cots for its three ill men. The First had a fine ambulance and hospital service at Sea Girst, but it was not mustered into the service, and so far few facilities for the care of patients have been furnished by the Government.

The Sixth Illinois had a similar experience, which was remedied by Illinois citizens in Washington, who supplied the hospital with all that was needed. The New Jersey boys wish that their home folk would treat them in the same way. It is true that the health of the Illinois boys was very bad, while that of the Jerseyites is very good. The three men ill are suffering from minor complaints.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

An excellent bill is offered tonight to theatre patrons who do not wish to be bothered following the intricacies of a plot. The list of performers comprises the following clever artists: Professor Robinson, the well-known prestidigitateur; Billy Payne, the clever monolue artist; the Wilsons, with their daring aerial wire act; Kathleen Warren, who has just concluded a two years engagement with May Irwin, and one of the cleverest serio-comic singers and dancers in the country; Ada Bisdale, the clever little chansonette artist. The whole to conclude with a roaring farce entitled "A Husband's Holiday" in which that well-known actor Harry Bagge will appear with his comedy company, comprising Miss Ruth Royal and Edward Powell.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Luckey are entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Luckey, of Appleton, Wis.

Tomorrow evening the members of Wm. G. Holton Council and Friendship Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., and the Daughters of Liberty, will attend divine service at the M. E. church. Rev. Alfred Jamison, the pastor, will deliver a patriotic sermon.

P. C. Staats, of North avenue, will soon erect a fence in front of the property he leased on North avenue and which he has recently planted. People persist in running across the field and he is obliged to put a stop to it.

Although the members of the Presbyterian church have not yet decided just where they go on their excursion this year, it is quite likely that they will go with the First Presbyterian church of Plainfield.

The engagement of Miss Maude Titsworth, of this place, to Prof. Green, of Brooklyn, is announced. The latter is superintendent of the public schools in Brooklyn.

Rev. A. I. Martine, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will deliver a patriotic sermon at the church tomorrow evening. There will be special music also.

Jesse Dalrymple, who has been visiting relatives at Pittstown, is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Randolph, of Washington avenue.

Hazlewood Craig left yesterday for New York to join the Naval Reserves who will take charge of the Badger in a few days.

The Dunellen baseball team is arranging to play a game with a Plainfield team at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon, of Washington avenue, have been visiting Plainfield relatives.

Mrs. William H. Terry, of Church street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Brooklyn.

Mr. Sandford, of East Front street, Plainfield, was the guest of borough friends yesterday.

George Moore, of Brooklyn, is visiting relatives in the borough for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Randolph, of Plainfield, have been visiting friends in the borough.

Mrs. Josephine Dunham spent yesterday in Plainfield with friends.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to the Daily Press)

Scotch Plains, May 28—The choir of the Church of the Holy Cross, Plainfield, will give a choral service in All Saints' P. E. church, this place, tomorrow evening, (Whit Sunday), at 8 o'clock. The organist and choir master, George Hosking, has prepared an appropriate service for this occasion. The music will include "The Magnificat," by Cobb, in E flat; the Nunct Dimittis, by Barry in C. The anthem will be "Seek Ye the Lord," by Hague Kinsey. The well-known musical ability of Mr. Hosking and the excellence of the choir under his charge will ensure a delightful service. It is to be hoped that the skies will be clear and the attendance at the service large.

The stereopticon entertainment given by Messrs. George E. and Harry Hall in the Baptist church Thursday evening, for the benefit of the electric light fund, was a success in every way. Notwithstand the inclement weather, quite a large number turned out and enjoyed the views.

John Bornman has donated a flag rope for the liberty pole, and Anthony Albert is to climb the pole today and then we will be able to fly Old Glory to the breeze. A little late, but better than never.

Rev. Delavan DeWolf, superintendent of the New Jersey State Missions, will occupy the pulpit in the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Miss Nellie McLoughlin, of Lewisburgh, Pa., who has been visiting Rev. J. S. Braker and family, returned to her home yesterday.

The class of '98 of the public school are arranging for a strawberry and ice cream festival to be held in the near future.

The Township Committee, at their meeting Thursday evening, increased the Memorial Day appropriation from $10 to $20.

The Junior Christian Endeavorers met in the parlors of the Baptist church this afternoon.

Onward Council, No. 98, L. A. B. A., met and initiated one candidate Thursday evening.

H. S. Phillips, of Roseville, spent Thursday with friends in town.

Fred Monte, of Brooklyn, visited friends in town yesterday.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 28—Central Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held a meeting last evening at which they decided to take part in the Memorial Day parade.

Stages will run from the postoffice to the Children's Country Home on the afternoon of Decoration Day, when there will be a festival held for the benefit of the home.

Miss Sarah Curry has returned to her home in New York after a pleasant visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Lorrey on Kimball avenue.

A number of the members of the Board of Freeholders were in town yesterday looking over the proposed route of the county boulevard.

Col. Coles, being unable to make the address Memorial Day, Rev. N. W. Cadwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will speak.

J. R. McCay will read a poem at the grand Cuban rally which takes place at Temperance Park, Staten Island, Monday evening.

Rev. C. N. Anderson has prepared a very patriotic sermon, which he will deliver at the union service Sunday evening.

Sunday morning the Rev. N. W. Cadwell will preach a memorial sermon in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. H. T. Widdemer, of Asbury Park, will preach in the Congregational church Sunday morning.

Warren V. Woodruff will be the leader at the Epworth League meeting on Sunday evening.

A large number from here went to Plainfield last evening to attend the Pawnee Bill show.

Miss Lillian O'Blenis, of South Broad street, is visiting friends at Warwick, N. Y.

Martin Snyder will deliver a cornet solo at the Bethlehem chapel on Sunday afternoon.

D. C. Austin, of New York, will spend Decoration Day with friends in Westfield.

Rev. C. M. Anderson will preach in Bethlehem chapel Sunday afternoon.

Lawrence Mulligan visited friends in Plainfield yesterday.

The Township Committee meets on Friday evening next.

LINCOLN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 28—The bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, which will be unveiled Decoration Day, has been placed in position on a granite pedestal seven feet high and eight feet square at the base. The ceremonies of unveiling will begin at 3 o'clock and will be attended by the public school children in costume who will open the programme by singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The parade from Bound Brook will be headed by Drake's Band and the famous Zouaves commanded by Gen. J. Madison Drake, of Elizabeth. Col. E. C. Stahl, of Trenton, will be the orator of the day.

The surveyors passed through here Friday making the survey for the poles for the new trolley line.

Adolph Johnson sailed from New York for his home in Sweden today.

The various works in this vicinity will be closed all day Monday.

—A beautiful souvenir will be given to every customer at Randolph's drug store this afternoon and Monday. It will come in the form of a flag.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The ladies of Garfield League will hold their Memorial Day services in the Presbyterian cemetery, North Plainfield, Monday, at 4:30 o clock in the afternoon. Should the weather be stormy the exercises will be postponed until further notice.

Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, D. D., formerly pastor of the First M. E. church in this city, will visit Rev. W. C. Snodgrass next Tuesday, and will be glad to see any of his old parishioners at the parsonage. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Mitchell.

Miss Ella Conover, who is a nurse in the Mercer Hospital at Trenton, is now visiting her brother, Chas. Conover, of Elmwood place. For a short time past Miss Conover has not been well and a change was thought advisable. She will remain in Plainfield for a short time.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Oldenburg.

Kloppenburg. Hier erschlug der Arbeiter Tinnemann den Arbeiter Hörmann nach einem Wortwechsel mit einem Stück Holz. Der Erschlagene hinterläßt eine Frau und sieben Kinder.

Mecklenburg.

Schwerin. Die von der Großherzogin Marie zum Gedächtniß ihres Sohnes, des mit dem Torpedoboot „S. 26" vor der Elbe verunglückten Herzogs Friedrich Wilhelm der Deutschen Gesellschaft zur Rettung Schiffbrüchiger überwiesene Stiftung soll zur Errichtung einer sechsten Station an der mecklenburgischen Küste, und zwar bei Müritz verwandt werden.

Braunschweig.

Königslutter. An der Genickstarre starb hier die 14jährige Tochter des Rollfuhrmannes Schneider, Mathilde.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Ein äußerst gefährlicher Verbrecher, der bereits mit zehn Jahren Zuchthaus vorbestrafte Häfner Josef Müller aus Oberroden, wurde von der hiesigen Strafkammer für längere Zeit unschädlich gemacht. Er wurde wegen einer ganzen Reihe von Einbrüchen mit einer Zuchthausstrafe von 15 Jahren belegt.

Heppenheim. Im hiesigen Kreise dürfen fortan Schulkinder nicht mehr zum Kegelaufsetzen verwendet werden.

Mainz. In der Stadtverordnetenversammlung wurde beschlossen, daß für die Folge rückständige Gemeindesteuern von nach anderen Städten oder Ortschaften verzogenen Steuerpflichtigen, wenn die rückständige Steuer weniger als 1 Mark betrage, nicht mehr erhoben werden soll.

Nieder-Ofleiden. In der hiesigen wirthschaftlichen Frauenschule bestanden sieben Damen ihre Prüfung als Nachweis ihrer Befähigung zu leitenden Stellungen in wirthschaftlicher und sozialer Frauenarbeit. Eine der Geprüften übernimmt die Leitung einer Schule für Fabrikarbeiterinnen in Bielefeld. Eine andere tritt über in die Leitung des wirthschaftlichen Sonderzweiges: Obstverwerthung an der Rhön. Drei übernahmen Aemter in der wirthschaftlichen Frauenschule.

Bayern.

München. Bei der Maifeier der hiesigen Sozialdemokraten in Holzapfelskreuth waren so viele Menschen wie in keinem Jahr zuvor, das sozialdemokratische Organ schätzt sie auf 60,000, Männer, Frauen und Kinder. Vielleicht ist die Ziffer etwas hoch gegriffen, aber sehr, sehr viele Menschen waren draußen. Die Thomasbrauerei hat 400 Hektoliter Bier auf dem Platze ausgeschenkt. Bei diesen großen in gehobener Feststimmung und im Bewußtsein der geschlossenen Kraft sich fühlenden Menschenmassen nicht die geringste Ausschreitung!—Das hiesige Schöffengericht verurtheilte Maximilian Harden wegen groben Unfugs, begangen in einem Artikel über König Otto von Bayern, zu einer Haftstrafe von 14 Tagen. Der Amtsanwalt hatte das höchste Strafmaß von sechs Wochen beantragt.

Bamberg. Auf dem Wege zur Polizeistation des zweiten Distrikts hat sich der Eine von zwei jugendlichen Arrestanten, beide Korbmachergehilfen, die dem Vater des Einen 200 Mark gestohlen hatten und deshalb telegraphisch von dort verfolgt wurden, mit einem Flobert in die rechte Schläfe geschossen. Er war auf der Stelle todt.

Nürnberg. Die Ausdehnung der Vermittelung des städtischen Arbeitsnachweisamtes auf weibliche Dienstboten ist den Verdingungsbureaus sehr unangenehm; eine hiergegen erhobene Beschwerde ist vom Magistrate abgewiesen worden.

Obernzell. Durch Niedergang eines Wolkenbruches wurde der Markttheil am Bach schrecklich verwüstet. Die Häuser sind theilweise eingestürzt. Einige drohen dem Einsturz. Mehrere Stück Vieh ertranken. Alle Menschenleben sind gerettet.

Pocking. Bei der kürzlich hier vorgenommenen Verpachtung wurde die hiesige Gemeindejagd durch Gemeindebeschluß den bisherigen Pächtern um den jährlichen Pachtschilling von 1500 Mark überlassen. Graf Arco auf Schönburg konnte die Jagd, trotzdem er 2000 Mark geboten, nicht erhalten.

Rosenheim. In der Winterfeller'schen Pulverfabrik in Stefanskirchen ist neulich Nachmittags 3 Uhr ein Läuferwerk in die Luft geflogen. Drei Arbeiter wurden lebensgefährlich verletzt. Die Ursache ist noch unbekannt. Der Schaden ist empfindlich.

Schwabach. Die hiesigen Silberschlägermeister minderten in Folge des schlechten Geschäftsganges, der seine Ursache in der Zollpolitik Amerikas und dem spanisch-amerikanischen Krieg hat, die Arbeitszeit auf sieben Stunden herab. Durch diese Maßregel hofen sie der Preisdrückung und einer Lohnerniedrigung vorzubeugen.

Staffelberg. Der bekannte Einsiedler Ivo ist bei den Barmherzigen Brüdern zu Gremsdorf eingetreten.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK.

The selection of Chickamauga Park as a headquarters for army mobilization in the struggle with Spain again brings into prominence that historic region around which such fierce and bloody work was done in the civil war. No grander or wilder stretch of country can be seen than the broad sweep of mountain and river-threaded plain over which the two armies clashed in those fateful combats of September and November, 1863, and no more momentous issues hung in the balance, save perhaps at Gettysburg, than depended on the outcome of the struggle. Chattanooga, then the key to the entire southeast, was a military camp, occupied by the Union lines under Rosecrans.

Over it towered the frowning heights of Lookout Mountain, from whose summit could be seen, twelve miles to the southwest, a stretch of smiling valley, dotted with heavy, tangled woodland here, and ribboned there by the sluggish and winding Chickamauga Creek. Here it was that the Union Army of the Cumberland met in deadly encounter the Confederates under Gen. Bragg. During the summer Rosecrans had made his advance into Tennessee and seized the strategic point of Chattanooga, and Bragg, far outnumbered, had wisely beaten a retreat. Believing that Bragg's men were off on a permanent retreat toward Georgia, Gen. Rosecrans started out to harry their rear and make the rout complete.

Phelps's Monument, Missionary Ridge, Chickamauga.

He knew nothing of the heavy reinforcements Bragg was soon to receive, nor of the stealthy approach of Longstreet's division from Virginia. But the generals in gray had formed consummate plans to turn Rosecrans and recover Chattanooga from the foe, so Bragg decided upon a bold stand, confident of Longstreet's aid in time. So difficult to traverse were many parts of that mountainous region that both armies were scattered, but they finally focused around Chickamauga Creek on the 18th of September, and on the following day the Confederates opened the main battle to recapture the Chattanooga road.

It was badly selected ground for battle, because so many obstacles were presented to the handling of artillery by the marsh land and tangled forest growth, but every inch was hotly contested, both sides displaying superb heroism, unexcelled by any engagement of the war. But darkness came down upon an undecided battlefield. The combat raged on the following day with even greater fury, for Longstreet's division, part of it at least, had reached the scene during the night, and that able soldier at once took the right of the Confederate line, while the left fell to the Bishop-General Polk. The latter led off with a hot charge on the Union left, under Gen. "Pap" Thomas, but the latter drove him back with heavy loss. Compensation soon came to the Confederate side in the powerful assault of Longstreet on the Union center and right under the personal command of Rosecrans, whose recent death in California left Longstreet the only prominent leader now living of all the generals on that Chickamauga field.

"Somebody blundered," is the way history will charitably account for what followed. Rosecrans gave a mistaken order to Gen. T. J. Wood, and the result was a bad breach in the lines of the Union forces. Longstreet lost no time in seizing advantage of the error, and the boys in gray plunged through the gap. McCook's entire army corps was routed, and a portion of Crittenden's as well. Rosecrans, believing the day lost, fled to Chickamauga and telegraphed to President Lincoln that his whole army had been repulsed. He had given up too much. It was bad enough, as it was, but brave old Thomas stood on the left like a solid rock. His line was strongly formed on a vantage ground, which enabled his division to hold out after repeated assaults from the combined Confederate strength.

Though outnumbered two to one Thomas and his men met and repulsed charge after charge of the enemy, and were still in position when darkness settled down on the death-strewn plain. But he knew it would be tempting disaster to renew the unequal conflict on the morrow, so he fell back to Rossville, under cover of night, and led his entire command to Chattanooga. The two furious days of struggle, therefore, at Chickamauga resulted, as the authorities now concede, in a Confederate victory. They held the battlefield, had captured fifty guns and some thousands of wounded prisoners; but still the real prize at stake, the stronghold at Chickamauga, remained in Union hands. So it was, practically, a drawn battle. There was no reversal, no settlement till Rosecrans was removed from command of the Army of the Cumberland and Gen. Grant was placed over the combined armies of the Ohio and the Tennessee, and Bragg was routed from the front of Chattanooga.

When Grant succeeded Rosecrans, the four departments of the division of the Mississippi were commanded by Sherman, Thomas, Hooker and Burnside. Chattanooga, strategically recognized as the key to military operations against the Confederacy in that vast and vital region opened up by the famous march to the sea, was at once the great prize to be fought for and won. The outlook was anything but cheering. Longstreet had gone to repel the advance of Burnside at Knoxville, 250 miles off, and Bragg, with his entire division, had Thomas practically in a state of siege at Chattanooga. Grant's first object was to raise this siege by storming the strong crescent line of the enemy that frowned menacingly down from that natural Gibraltar, the heights of Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge.

So steep were the mountain sides, so defended by the heavy Confederate batteries both on Lookout and along the slopes of Missionary Ridge that Bragg would not believe defeat was possible. But he counted without reckoning the cloud veils and the banks of fog that gathered about the mountain fastnesses and hid the operations of the foe. Behind this natural bulwark "Fighting Joe" Hooker, with his 10,000 men, intrepid as the Spartans at Thermopylae, began the ascent and moved in silence on the Confederate left.

Lookout Mountain, as seen from Chickamauga Park.

It was one of the famous and dramatic surprises in history when the yelling ranks of blue broke madly through the banks of cloud that screened the summit and had the enemy on the hip. The Confederates broke in a panic, leaving batteries and 2,000 prisoners in Hooker's hands. This memorable battle of Lookout Mountain, or "battle above the clouds," was the second in the trio of engagements which have made the region over which Lookout reigns a monarch unforgettable in American story.

The third and crowning achievement came on the day following, when Sherman moved against that strong, bristling line of gray that stretched along the heights of Missionary Ridge. Bragg had staked his all as a war strategist on the ability of his forces to hold this Confederate center and right against every assault. Three times the dauntless bluecoats rushed at the entrenched foemen like a mighty wave, and three times they were dashed back, like an ocean breaker by a strong sea wall. On both sides the loss of life was appalling. The day was rapidly drawing to a close, and the ranks of gray held their own like immovable granite.

It was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when Sheridan, Wood and Baird, leading three divisions of the army under Thomas, came into action, and again the Union yell and the fierce charge upon the guarded slopes. It was too much for the stern defenders. They yielded and fled before the irresistible onset. "The enemy," says Gen. Bragg, in his own account of the engagement, "having secured much of our artillery, soon availed themselves of our panic, and turning our guns upon us, enfiladed our lines right and left, rendering them wholly untenable. Fortunately, it was now near nightfall, and the country and the roads in our rear were fully known to us, but unknown to the enemy. The routed left made its way back in great disorder. It was decided to put the army in motion for a point farther removed from a powerful and victorious army, that we might have time to recuperate for another struggle."

So ended the battle of Missionary Ridge, with the Union forces, checked at Chickamauga in September, in full and undisputed command of the Chattanooga key to the South.

All this was thirty-five years ago. The Chickamauga battleground, adorned with memorial tombs and hallowed landmarks, is a national military park, under the government's fostering care. Under one flag lie the heroes who fell on both sides in that awful struggle.

Winchester Twenty Miles Away.

No more clash of blood-brethren in arms; no hostile battle lines; no warring standards; no discordant battle yells to break the peace of the soft Southland air; but, instead, another army, united in patriotism, massing with solemn eagerness to protect the Stars and Stripes, to defend a common country from attack, to avenge the martyrs of the Maine, and to throttle Spanish inhumanity on the Western hemisphere for all time to come. What grander inspiration than the scenes and memories of Chickamauga?—S. P. Butler, in New York Mail and Express.

PRIVATE HOWE'S PAY.

How the Inventor of the Sewing Machine Served His Country.

When the civil war broke out an immense meeting was held in Bridgeport, Conn., and many men volunteered for the army. To the general surprise, one of the richest men in the State, Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, arose and made this brief speech:

"Every man is called upon to do what he can for his country. I don't know what I can do, unless it is to enlist and serve as a private; I am willing to learn and do what I can with a musket."

But it soon proved that the chronic lameness from which Howe suffered incapaciated him from marching with a musket, even to the extent of standing sentry. Determined to be of use, however, he volunteered to serve the regiment as its postmaster, messenger and expressman.

Sending home for a suitable horse and wagon he drove into Baltimore twice a day, and brought to the camp its letters and parcels.

For four months after the 17th Connecticut entered the field the Government was so pressed for money that no payment to the troops could be made, and there was consequently great suffering among the families of the soldiers and painful anxiety endured by the men themselves.

One day a private soldier came quietly into the paymaster's office in Washington and took his seat in the corner to await his turn for an interview. Presently the officer said:

"Well, my man," what can I do for you?"

"I have called to see about the payment of the 17th Connecticut," answered the soldier.

The paymaster, somewhat irritated by what he supposed a needless and impertinent interruption, told him sharply that he "could do nothing without money, and that until the Government furnished some it was useless for soldiers to come bothering him about pay."

"I know that the Government is in straits," returned the soldier. "I have called to find out how much money it will take to give my regiment about two months' pay. I am ready to furnish the amount."

The amazed officer asked the name of his visitor, who modestly replied: "Elias Howe." He then wrote a draft for the required sum—$31,000. Two or three days later the regiment was paid. When Mr. Howe's name was called he went up to the paymaster's desk and signed the receipt for $28.65 of his own money.

The officers of a neighboring regiment sent over to the 17th Connecticut to see if they could not "borrow their private."

SONG SAVED HIS LIFE.

A Remarkable Voice Which was Recognized After Many Years.

Two Americans who were crossing the Atlantic met in the cabin on Sunday night to sing hymns. As they sang the last hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," one of them heard an exceedingly rich and beautiful voice behind him. He looked around, and although he did not know the face, he thought he knew the voice. So, when the music ceased he turned and asked the man if he had been in the civil war. The man replied that he had been a Confederate soldier.

"Were you at such a place at such a night?" asked the first.

"Yes," he replied, "and a curious thing happened that night which this hymn has recalled to my mind. I was posted on sentry duty near the edge of a wood. It was a dark night and very cold, and I was a little frightened, because the enemy were supposed to be very near. About midnight, when everything was very still, and I was feeling homesick and miserable and weary, I thought that I would comfort myself by praying and singing a hymn. I remember singing this hymn:

"'All my trust on Thee is stayed,
All my help from Thee I bring;
Cover my defenseless head
With the shadow of Thy wing.'

"After singing that a strange peace came down upon me, and through the long night I felt no more fear."

"Now," said the other, "listen to my story. I was a Union soldier and was in the wood that night with a party of scouts. I saw you standing, although I did not see your face. My men had their rifles focused upon you, waiting the word to fire, but when you sang out:

"'Cover my defenseless head
With the shadow of Thy wing,'

I said: 'Boys, lower your rifles; we will go home.'"

Tablet commemorating the victory of the Monitor.

That Monument was Spared.

Judge Thomas J. Mackey, formerly of South Carolina, gives an incident of Sherman's march to the sea which is not recorded in the war histories.

"South Carolina was the first state in the Union to send a regiment to the front to participate in the war with Mexico," said the judge. "The people of a grateful state caused to be erected in front of the Capitol in Columbia a monument to the memory of the brave boys of the First South Carolina regiment who lost their lives in that conflict.

This monument is made of pounded brass, and represents a palmetto tree. When Sherman's army entered Columbia and his soldiers were destroying everything that came in their way, several companies made a dash for the shaft. With the buts of their muskets they began the work of demolition. They had not proceeded far when a man on horseback rushed up to them and commanded them to desist.

"'Not another stroke!' he cried.

Several of the soldiers paid no attention.

"'The next man who dares assault that shaft I will kill!' he thundered.

"The men saw tears in the eyes of the one who thus addressed them; they also saw that he had weighed his words carefully and meant every one of them.

"'Soldiers,' said he, 'the boys who sleep beneath that palmetto loved their country as much as you or I. They fought as valiantly.'

"And the palmetto still stands in the old town of Columbia. The man who caused it to be preserved was Colonel Paine of the 124th Ohio regiment, and the people of South Carolina owe him a debt of gratitude they never can repay."

Reported Forty-Six Years After the Order

"I heard an old ex-Confederate down in Green county tell a good story not long since," said Hiram Paige, who stopped over in Louisville en route to Frankfort. "The old Johnny Reb said the officer commanding the regiment in which he was battling for the South's rights sent an aid out before the battle of Murfreesboro to ascertain the force of the enemy and to pick up any information of value. The colonel never saw the captain before or after the fight, and wondered what had become of him. The officer, of course, thought that the brave young southerner had met his death while on duty. While the colonel was presiding as mayor of a town in Tennessee three years ago a one-legged man walked into the office one day and said: 'Colonel, I have to report, sir, that I found the enemy in force.' The stranger was the captain who had been sent out to reconnoitre twenty-six years before. He had been wounded, captured by the Yanks and had his left leg amputated. He was sent to his home in South Carolina when exchanged and had never had an opportunity to see the colonel before. Having heard that his superior officer was in the Tennessee city, the loyal young 'Confed' decided to report.—Louisville Post.

OUR UNKNOWN MARTYRS.

O sing of the fallen heroes!
The boys in the blue and gray,
Who died where they fell, amid shot and shell
Of wild, smoke-dimmed affray.
Who had time for only a thought of home
Or a muttered snatch of prayer,
As from gaping wounds the dark tide flowed
And left but a pale corpse there!
Or who lingered upon the couch of pain,
As day succeeded day,
And never their loved ones saw again,
But drifted from life away.

O sing of the fallen heroes!
The loyal, the true and brave;
Who asked but to fight in the cause of right
And received in return a grave!
O deathless shall be their glory!
With bays are their wreaths entwined!
But forget not the sad, sad story
Of those who remained behind!

Who toiled at the ploughing and reaping
Far off from the scene of war;
Whose part was the watching and weeping;
Who suffered no single scar;
Who sent to the field their kinsmen
And bade them a long good-bye,
And prayed with the sweat of anguish
But knew how to wait—and die!
Thro' the long suspense of the drear campaign,
Passive—O difficult part!
Each bullett that counted a soldier slain
Was aimed at a loved one's heart!

Then sing of the boys in the blue and gray
Who gallantly fought and fell;
But think of the unknown martyrs
Who died for the cause as well.
Some day, in the midst of such glory,
As heart of man never devined,
'Twill be told us, the grand, sad story
Of those who remain behind.

—Beatrice Clayton.

ARMY STORIES, GRAVE AND GAY.

Incidents That Came Under the Observation of War Heroes.

For years past, writes G. W. Christine in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, ever since the close of our late civil war, in fact—I have asked every great general of both the Northern and Southern armies with whom I have come into contact to jot down for me, in his own words and over his own personal signature, what he considered the funniest and also the saddest incident that had come under his observation during our great civil conflict, or in immediate connection therewith. This request was kindly complied with in nearly every instance, and it was thus that the appended symposium was obtained.

General Lee's Story.

"Many of the most beautiful and pathetic incidents of the war occurred after it was all over. At a hotel in Washington in 1868 a gentleman whose face I could not remember exactly, though it seemed strangely familiar, introduced himself and asked permission to present me to his mother, a singularly beautiful old lady of queenly and dignified bearing, to whom he said, 'Mother, let me present to you Gen. R. E. Lee, of the late Confederate army, whose saber thrust gave me this scar on my right cheek, and who bears the mark of a wound I gave him.' The beautiful old lady threw her arms around my neck and wept on my shoulder, and in that tender embrace and fervent clasp of the federal officer's hand and mine we buried the animosities of the war forever."

From Admiral Porter.

"At the deathbed of my friend, Col. H., I witnessed what I think was at once the most touching and dramatic incident of the war. It was some years after the great conflict, and the Colonel had long employed as his children's governess a young Southern girl of great beauty and refinement. As I stood with his wife by his dying bed, he called this girl to him, told her how he had killed her father—a Confederate Captain—in a hand-to-hand fight, having recognized her by her resemblance to her parent, and by his miniature, which she wore around her neck, and asked her forgiveness. 'I have nothing to forgive,' she answered. 'You only did your duty, and if you deprived me of my father, you have filled his place.' With one supreme effort the Colonel placed her hand in that of his wife, whispered 'our daughter,' and was dead.

Good Ones from Sheridan.

"Once, in camp, myself and some of my brother officers fell desperately in love with a female voice we used to hear singing at night. It was simply angelic, and, resolved to see the singer, we followed its sound through the thickets and ravines till we came to a lonely cabin, whence the singing proceeded. Creeping up to the window, I peered in, and beheld a fat, greasy, middle-aged negress, barefooted and clad in a single garment of dirty calico, browning coffee with a long iron spoon, while she gave vent to the sweetest notes I have ever heard. In my surprise I staggered forward with a noise that attracted her attention. Grasping her coffee skillet and waving it around her head, she bawled out: 'G'way from deah, white man! Ef yo' don't I'll frow dis year fryin' pan right at yo' head.'"

Hats of the Princess.

The Princess of Wales has a remarkable collection of hats and bonnets, consisting of all those she has worn during the thirty years she has led London fashion. Each hat or bonnet, carefully put away, bears the date of the season of its use; and a history of the whims, vagaries, and changes of feminine fashion, which are never so capricious as in matters of headgear, might well be written upon this interesting collection.

The Pope Economical.

The strictest economy is practised by Leo XIII. with regard to his own table. This, however, is a small matter, for his tastes are simple. The Pontiff's milk supply is obtained from cows and goats kept in the Vatican gardens, and his wine is the product of a vineyard he planted. The latter has, in the past year, yielded so abundantly that there is a surplusage for sale. Moreover, the Pope receives frequent presents of the best French wines. His expenditures on coffee, meat, pasta (of which, in soup, he is very fond), bread (one penny per day), and vegetables that cannot be grown in his own garden has been reduced to about six shillings a day. The daily account is a very odd document, and it is very carefully scrutinized by the Pontiff.

The Narcisse in Great Favor.

Next to the American Beauty or La France rose, and the pansy and violet, the very popular flower of the season is the poetic Narcisse—called most often the daffodil. On account of the great vogue of pale and deep yellow tints, it will retain its popularity all summer, first as a favorite genuine blossom, afterwards as an imitation, in tribute to the marvellous Parisian flower-workers. The lack of vitality, as in many of the artificial roses, cannot be discovered in the beautiful copy until one has touched the flower, as the copy has all the fresh and fragile appearance of the true blossom.

Household Hints.

A good many things which we think we are just learning now have long been known heretofore. The effect, for example, of diet upon the eyesight was recognized by medical men early in this century, if not before. Experiments were tried upon the lower animals which showed that an exclusive diet of starchy foods for two months actually produced blindness. A varied diet has the best effect upon the eyesight, as it has, indeed, upon the general health.

Robe Patterns.

Robe patterns of lace of the most beautiful designs of point d'esprit, India mull, French muslin elaborately embroidered, tucked, and frilled, are among the most novel and beautiful importations of the season. The skirts in many instances are ready to put on, even to the addition of the narrow satin skirt-band. The waists are partly shaped and wholly trimmed, and the sleeves are ready to put together and adjust to the arms.

CYCLING COMMENT.

A tandem race has been arranged for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock between employes of the Pond Tool Company. The course will be from Plainfield to New Brunswick and return for a purse of $25. Skinner and Sheppard will be one of the teams and Randolph and Luckey the other.

GOLF.

This evening the board of trustees of the Park Golf Club will meet in the clubhouse to make final arrangements concerning the new golf course and links and the starting of the work on the same.

Everybody is Welcome.

The impression has been spread that no one will be admitted to Music Hall Monday for the Memorial Day exercises without holding tickets. I. L. McVoy, chairman of the committee from the G. A. R. in charge, wishes The Press to state that the exercises are free to all and everyone is cordially invited to come. The tickets referred to were for the use of the members of the Grand Army, Women's Relief Corps, and Sons of Veterans, for whom seats are reserved.

Realty Changes.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded in the Union county clerk's office during the past week: John Leal et ux to Sylvanus L. Schoonmaker, Madison avenue, 128.84 feet northerly from Stelle avenue, Plainfield, $2,250.00; Mary A. Pike to William J. Elliott, northeasterly side Monroe avenue, 150 feet from Third street, Plainfield, $700.

—The Daily Press will not be issued Monday.

—J. Owen Smith, telegraph operator at the freight house, has purchased of Benj. La Vere his silver cornet, gold mounted, Mr. La Vere's health not permitting him to continue its use. He will, however, still continue as leader of the Queen City Band.

S. H. Rowland, of this city, has gone to Norfolk, Ct.

Prof. and Mrs. Garland, of New Brunswick, were guests of Plainfield friends last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Titus, of Watchung avenue, formely corner of Regent street, are very happy, It's a little boy, born Thursday.

NOVEL CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

In Russia an Ant Bath is Given to Draw Out the Pain.

The Russian peasants, more especially those residing in the neighborhood of Moscow, have a peculiar and original method of treating themselves for that bane of mankind, rheumatism. Many cures, even in very bad cases, are, it is claimed, effected by making the patient take ant baths.

The manner of preparing these baths is as follows: An ant-hill is sought, and, when found, a sack is filled with ants, ants' eggs, and, if it be considered necessary, a certain quantity of the earth which composes the hill. The sack is then closed hermetically and carried to the home of the sufferer. A warm bath is already prepared here, and the sack is plunged bodily into the hot water. Soon this latter begins to give off a peculiar pungent odor characteristic of formic acid. The bath is now ready for the patient's immersion. The action of the bath on the skin is one of intense irritation, and the result seems to be a drawing out of the evil and the consequent disappearance of the rheumatic pains.

It is advisable for any one who may be tempted to try this remedy to be careful not to remain too long in the ant bath, as the consequences might be a total disorganization of the skin, which would peel off, due to the violent action of the acid.—Golden Days.

MONDAY AMUSEMENTS.

played in the afternoon. A tea will be held at the clubhouse on Plainfield avenue during the afternoon which will be one of the social features of the month.

The Crescents will play two baseball games on Monday. In the morning at 10:30 o'clock they will open on the Crescent Oval with the famous Murray Hills, of New York. The afternoon game will be with the well-known Octoroons, the colored team from Orange, which has made such a great reputation for itself. This game will begin at 3:30 o'clock. Stages will run to the Oval from the North Avenue station beginning at 2 o'clock. The fare will be five cents.

Monday is going to be a great day among the Germans. The members of the Gesang and Turnverein have been making great preparations for their picnic on that date at Mountainside Park. A large attendance is assured with the multitude of attractions promised.

The Twilight Social Club will hold its picnic in the Crescent Rink Monday afternoon and evening. From present appearances the affair promises to exceed any attempt of the club in the past.

The annual convention of the New Jersey Letter Carriers' Association will be held here Monday afternoon and evening. The letter carriers will assemble here from all over the State. After the meeting of the association, a banquet and concert will follow.

Changed His Plea.

Michael Sweeney, an old man living in the West End, was arraigned before the City Judge this morning charged with calling an old lady, Mrs. Maria Hickey, a neighbor, vile names and swearing at her. Sweeney pleaded not guilly when arrested several days ago, but in court this morning was represented by Counselor Swackhamer, who asked permission of the court to change the plea to one of non vult. This was granted, and at the counsel's request the Judge suspended sentence on him.

Sustained a Scalp Wound.

Antone Salvey, an Italian laborer employed at Smalley's stone crusher in the mountains, was struck by a large piece of rock this morning and sustained a severe scalp wound, and was cut in the back. Salvey and the other workmen had just touched off a blast, and after the explosion Salvey was picking around among the loosed stones when a big piece of rock, loosened by the blast, fell and struck him on the back. His employers are caring for him.

Death of David Runyon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 28—David Runyon, aged seventy-eight years, a lifelong resident of this place, died at 5 o'clock this morning at the home of his son in-law, Runyon Clawson. About two weeks ago Mr. Runyon was stricken with paralysis and his condition was such that the best of medical attention failed to effect a cure. He was well-known throughout this locality and was a highly esteemed citizen.

A Talk on Blockheads.

A good-sized audience gathered at the Christian church on Grove street last evening and heard an interesting lecture on "Blockheads" by Rev. F. D. Power, of Washington. The speaker was very eloquent and he kept his audience convulsed with laughter throughout the lecture. Mr. Power is an orator of great ability and out of a seemingly foolish subject he drew many pointed truths and helpful lessons.

—The W. C. T. U. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock will be led by Rev. Mr. Nelson, of the borough. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

SCHOOL MEETING!

Notice is hereby given to the Legal Voters of the

Borough of North Plainfield

in the County of Somerset, that a

Special School Meeting

will be held at the

SCHOOL HOUSE,

on

Tuesday Evening, May 31, 1898,

at 8 o'clock.

At which meeting the following items of business will be acted upon:

1. To receive the report of the Board of Education with a reference to the purchase of a lot or plot of land and the erection of a new school thereon, and furnishing the same.

2. To authorize the Board of Education to purchase as a site or location for a new School House, either of the following described plots of land, viz:

The plot on the south or southwesterly corner of Watchung and Summit Avenues, being one hundred and fifty-eight (158) feet, nine (9) inches on Watchung avenue, and one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Summit avenue, or the plot of land on the north or northeast corner of Watchung and Mountain Avenues, being one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Watchung avenue, and one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Mountain avenue, either one of which plots is thought by the Board of Education to be suitable.

3. To authorize the Board of Education to erect upon said plot of land, when acquired, a new school building, to be built of brick, and to contain at least six (6) class rooms, and to heat, ventilate and furnish the same. The amount thought to be necessary for all these purposes is $21,000.

4. To authorize the Board of Education to issue the Bonds of the district to raise the money needed to purchase said lot of land, erect said new school building, and heat, ventilate and furnish the same to the amount of twenty-one thousand ($21,000) dollars, such bonds to be issued in the corporate name of the district, in such sums, at such rate of interest and payable at such times as the legal voters so met may direct.

ANYONE having horses, wagons or harness and wishes to dispose of them will do well by calling or addressing W. M. Demler, Washingtonville.

Lawyer W. R. Codington, of this city, is in Jersey City today on business.

You can't do as well anywhere else in buying a Piano, as you can here, for you can get one from us for less money, quality considered, than you could anywhere else in America. That is because our prices are not made by competition; it has not been our object to keep in line with others, but to sell Pianos at the lowest possible profit, regardless of competitors' charges.

Our immense business and low profit methods have matured side by side—the more Pianos we sell the smaller we can make the price on each instrument handled—so that to-day we have no real competitors.

You save $75 to $150 in buying your Piano from us.

LARGEST CLOTHING SALE OF THE SEASON!

Of the finest stock of tailor-made
Men's, Boys' and Children's High-Grade Spring and Summer Clothing
ever shown in this city. Sale to begin Saturday, May 28th, at 8:30 a. m.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

One of the largest wholesale manufacturers was forced to the wall. Every one knows of the depression in every line of business, but none have suffered so much as the clothing manufacturers that were rated away up. They were forced to go under or realize money in some way to save their credit, and we being enabled to offer them the ready cash, they accepted our offer and we secured a very large lot of desirable clothing at our own price. A chance of a lifetime to secure high-grade spring and summer clothing at less than one-third its value.

Remember, this stock will be sold without reserve, without restriction and without any consideration of cost of production, and the prices will bring every man and woman within 25 miles of Plainfield to our store in order to show what gigantic bargains will be offered.

A few prices are here mentioned, and remember there are a thousand other bargains we cannot enumerate. Cut this out and bring it with you and ask for the following mentioned articles.

SCHLEY MUST WAIT FOR MILITARY AID.

Administration Trying to Prevent An Immediate Attack.

PORTO RICO MUST FALL

THE TWO MOVEMENTS WILL BE STARTED WITHOUT DELAY.

Volunteers Ordered to Tampa in Preparation for the Occupation of Both Santiago and Porto Rico—Florida Returns Successful—Second Spanish Fleet Delayed at Cadiz—Schley and McKinley Are Thought to be in Communication—Important Movements Expected—English Churchmen Commend the U. S.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 31, 12:45 p. m—An order directing eight regiments of volunteers to go to Tampa from Chickamauga is contrued to mean that the government contemplates the occupation of both Santiago and Porto Rico without delay.

Key West, May 31, 12:48 p. m—The Florida expedition was a complete success. Five hundred Cubans were landed together with a large quantity of arms and ammunition. The Florida has returned here under convoy.

Washington, May 31, 12:55 p. m—Every effort of the administation is being devoted to getting orders to Schley to postpone his attack on Cervera and Santiago until Sampson and the troops arrive. It is feared that Schley will not wait.

Gibraltar, May 31, 1:23 p. m—Advices from Cadiz say that the forts there are mounting heavier guns. It is reported that Admiral Camara's departure has been delayed owing to defects in the torpedo boats of the fleet.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 31, 1:30 p. m—Commodore Schley and President McKinley are cabling each other constantly. An important movement on the part of the American fleet is hourly expected.

Washington, May 31, 1:46 p. m.—At the meeting of the Cabinet today it was evident that the President's policy of postponing until autumn the operations against Havana, met the changed views of the members of the Cabinet.

Ambassador Hay informed the State Department today that the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Churchmen's Union, of England: "Resolved, this meeting of liberal churchmen extends its fullest sympathy to the President and citizens of the United States in their efforts to secure good government of Cuba, and trusts that in future years the ties of brotherhood between America and Great Britain will be strengthened."

To Try Right of Property.

Application has been made to Justice Newcorn to try the right of property in a dispute between the Hay & Willett Manufacturing Company and the Eclipse Bicycle Company. Some time ago the Hay & Willett Company brought suit against Charles C. Lister for a debt and secured judgment. Execution was issued on a number of bicycles in Lister's store. Now the Eclipse Bicycle Company claims that the wheels are the property of that corporation and not its agent. Thursday morning the case will be tried before Justice Newcorn and a six-men jury.

Important School Meeting.

The attention of the voters in the borough school district is called to the meeting which will be held this evening in the school building for the purpose of acting on the various propositions which have been submitted by the Board of Education, as given in detail in the advertising columns of The Daily Press. The meeting is a very important one and no parent or person interested in the welfare of the rising generation should fail to attend the meeting.

Suffered a Compound Fracture.

Little Jack Kenney, the young son of J. J. Kenney, of East Second street, fell from the piazza of his home yesterday. A compound fracture of his left arm was the result.

Twilight Club's Affair Successful.

The Twilight Social Club held a successful picnic in the Crescent Rink yesterday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance.

BATTLE ROW IN FLAMES.

THIRTEEN COLORED FAMILIES BURNED OUT OF HOME.

A Defective Flue in the Old Tenement Started the Blaze Early Sunday Morning—The Tenants Were Poor People.

An early morning alarm of fire startled the inhabitants of the western end of the city Sunday, and they awoke to find the historic old tenement house on West Fourth street known as "Battle Row," in flames. An alarm was sent in from Box 46, and the department lost no time in getting to the scene of the conflagration, but by the time they got there the entire upper part of the tenement was in flames, and the half awakened and partly dressed tenants were huddled in disconsolate groups outside, or were working with frantic haste to save what little they could of their belongings, from total destruction.

The alarm was sent in at 3:01. Officer Myers, who saw the fire, sent in the alarm from No. 46, although Roundsman Flynn, at Box 34 was already to ring that. When the firemen reached the spot they put three streams of water, and succeeded in saving the lower part of the building, and a part of the upper, at each end.

The fire is supposed to have originated in the upper story of the centre apartments, from a defective flue. The water was turned on and a stream was put on at each end and another from the rear.

While the fire burned it lighted up the sky for a great distance, and people who had arisen thought it was Steven's lumber yard, as it seemed to be further away than Liberty street.

The "Row" belonged to E. Frank Vail, the real estate dealer and was occupied by thirteen families, probably aggregating between 30 and 40 people, mostly colored. It is not known just how much damage was done, as it is impossible for them to compute it, but as there was little or no insurance on the household goods, their losses are total.

VETERANS AT DIVINE SERVICE.

Rev. W. C. Snodgrass Preached a Patriotic Sermon Sunday Night.

According to the usual custom, the members of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and Women's Relief Corps attended divine service last Sunday evening. Upon invitation they attended the First M. E. church and listened to a patriotic discourse by Rev. W. C. Snodgrass. The church was prettily decorated with American flags. Suspended from the organ pipes there was a very large American flag. In front of the platform there were stacks of arms and a pleasing arrangement of flowers. The music was in charge of Miss Jessie Utter, organist, and a choir of mixed voices. During the evening Mrs. Douglass sang very effectively the Star Spangled Banner. There was a very large attendance of people at the church and the patriotic words of the speaker were the sentiments of all present.

SERVED 1,000 GLASSES OF SODA.

Frank Rowley's New Fountain Proved a Great Attraction.

The formal opening of Frank Rowley's new drug store, which took place Saturday, was a huge success. The handsome new soda fountain proved a great attraction George C. Milner, of New York, had charge of the fountain and dispensed delicious drinks. As a result of the coupon printed in The Daily Press, entitling the holder to a glass of soda, about 1,000 glasses were served. Mr. Rowley also gave out about 500 souvenirs in the shape of sachet bags filled with imported lavender. Everyone present spoke of the place as a handsome drug store. Next Thursday there will be another display of manufactured ice, and thereafter novelties will frequently be introduced. The decorations in the store and entrance to Music Hall were the work of Mr. Milner.

Conductor's Mishap on a Trolley Car.

Conductor Voorhees Laing, of the street railway, fell off his car on Somerset street last evening while making his last trip to the carhouse. The motorman called him to the front of the car and as he was walking alongside of the open car his foot slipped. He fell on his head inflicting a bad wound and dislocated his shoulder. He was taken to a doctor's residence and treated. Later he was removed to his home on East Front street, where he is now doing as well as can be expected. His injuries are not considered serious.

In a New Business.

Arthur T. Gallup, of West Front street, who has been associated with the Potter Printing Press Works for nearly twenty years, resigned last Friday. Mr. Gallup has associated himself with John M. Hetfield in the ice business.

IN HONOR OF DEAD AND LIVING HEROES.

Old Glory Unfurled for Soldiers of Today and Floral Wreaths as Tributes for Those Gone.

Memorial Day Celebrated With Unusual Fervor of Patriotism in Plainfield—Flag Raising in the Morning, Followed by a Parade of Battle Scarred Veterans and Scholars—Public Exercises in Music Hall in the Afternoon.

Memorial Day, the one day in the whole year when people in all parts of the United States gather to revere and honor the valiant deeds performed on fields of battle, was auspiciously opened yesterday morning in a way that stirred the heart of everyone in Plainfield, from the smallest boy to the oldest person. It was a signal success and everyone had a part in one of the grandest patriotic demonstrations Plainfield has ever witnessed.

There was a double interest attached to the day from the fact that a beautiful American flag was swung to the breeze. When Plainfield's patriotism is aroused something is bound to happen, and when Plainfield's patriotic Mayor, Charles J. Fisk, said that this beautiful city should have a liberty pole and an American flag, it was not long before the thing was a reality. Edward White, Plainfield's wide awake drygoods merchant, promptly presented the city with old glory, and it is one of the finest symbols displayed in this section. It is 20x30 and it is a beauty.

Then the question of a pole was presented. The city decided to purchase one that would be worthy of the name, and the result was that a stately and imposing flag pole now stands as an emblem of liberty at the head of Park avenue on Front street. It stands close to 150 feet from the top of the eagle to the ground. The work of putting the pole in position was done by Manager Charles Runyon, of the local telephone company, his assistants, and William Hand and his men, and to all is due the heartiest thanks of every Plainfielder for this magnificent evidence of patriotism. Mounted on top of the pole is the American eagle, the National bird. For this beautiful and substantial gift the school children of the public schools are to be thanked, for they contributed the money to put it there.

Early yesterday morning the crowds began to assemble about the flag pole and by 9:30, the hour of raising the flag, every available space was occupied, while the roofs of buildings and every window was taken with patriotic people. To the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., was assigned the privilege and honor of taking charge of the exercises attendant upon the unfurling of the flag.

Shortly before the appointed hour patriotic airs were heard as discoursed by the Queen City Band, and at the same time the veterans, Sons of Veterans, school cadets and children, assembled in position around the pole. The appearance of all elicited the heartiest applause from the crowd as each took its position.

On the improvised platform close to the pole were seated Commander E. C. Morse, Charles B. Stephens, of Post No. 73, and Rev. William C. O'Donnell, orator for the occasion. Commander Morse gave his orders to Officer of the Day, Wm. C. Smith, who in turn gave his orders to Officer of the Guard, Wm. Day. The orders were that he should select a guard to display the colors. Comrade Day selected Comrade T. O. Doane, and with the assistance of one or two others they unfuried the beautiful flag, which was then in position at the top of the pole. When the word was given the proper rope was pulled, and as the flag was unfuried the patriotic air, Star Spangled Banner, as played by the band, excited the greatest enthusiasm. At the same time an innumerable lot of small flags were scattered from the large flag where they were concealed. Following this there was the firing of several volleys. The veterans in charge of Comrade Wm. C. Smith occupied a position directly in front of the pole and they fired several salutes, while on the right were the school cadets in charge of Captain Edwards, who also fired a similar number of salutes. The Sons of Veterans, in charge of Lieutenant Raymond McVoy, gave the same number of salutes. While this was being done the crowd cheered again and again, while in every hand there was a small flag waved to the breeze.

At this time Commander Morse introduced Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, a member of the Sons of Veterans, who gave a short patriotic address.

The speaker congratulated the city of Plainfield on the grand occasion and said that he wanted the honor of leading the vast army of patriots in giving three cheers for old glory so that it would be heard not only in Plainfield, but even to the Island of Cuba, that it might sound the note of freedom to the whole world. Continuing Mr. O'Donnell said: "This flag that we honor today has waved over the heads of our fathers long years ago, and as I stand here today, I see a picture before me. A picture where all nationalities will be seen passing under this glorious flag. This flag has never been trodden upon or suffered defeat, and God grant that it never may be.

"When our minds go back to the days of 1776 we are reminded of Washington, Jefferson and Lafayette, of Bunker Hill, Saratoga and Yorktown. In the days of 1861 we are reminded of men just as noble, and today we see the faces of Dewey and Sampson. This flag will stand as a symbol of the nation, to stand as a champion for liberty the whole world over. Let us hope that in this year the tyrant may be driven off the face of the earth and that liberty and union may stand inseparable. The eagle that stands at the top of the pole, the bird of national freedom, was the gift of the school children and so long as the children do not forget that bird our country will be safe."

Mr. D'Donnell closed his remarks with beautiful words of eulogy, and his remarks brought fourth a grand and united burst of patriotism. The band then played America, after which the veterans, Sons of Veterans, school cadets and children formed in line with the band and platoon of police at the head. The line of march as published before was followed and grand demonstrations were witnessed frequeently. At the various cemeteries the soldiers stopped to decorate the graves of dead heroes. The parade was concluded about noon, after which a recess was taken until 2 o'clock in the afternoon when exercises of a patriotic nature were held in Music Hall.

Music Hall presented a scene of patriotism and beauty. Wherever to good advantage the National colors could be placed they were, and especially attractive was the scene presented on the stage. The American flags displayed, the two graves representing the unknown dead and the display of flowers, all made up an attractive sight. The hall was filled with patriotic people who lost no opportunity to show their sympathy and which side they were on.

At the appointed hour the Queen City Band entered the hall leading the members of the G. A. R. The veterans took seats on the platform provided for them. In the boxes were seated members of the City Council, members of the Woman's Relief Corps, prominent Plainfielders and others.

Commander E. C. Morse was in charge of the exercises and announced the various numbers on the programme. The band opened the exercises with a catchy medley that struck a popular sentiment in the hearts of all. This was followed with prayer by Rev. P. E. Smyth, rector of St. Mary's R. C. church. Following this the band rendered "Hail Columbia."

The appearance of Alfred E. Pearsall, of Westfield, was a moment for a patriotic demonstration. Mr. Pearsall has many warm friends in Plainfield and his work yesterday increased that number materially. He recited a war selection that stirred the feelings of patriotism in every breast. Later in the afternoon he gave several comical selections that were equally well received.

The next number was a soprano solo, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," by Miss Opdyke, of Somerville. The singing was thoroughly enjoyed and the popular vocalist was obliged to respond to an encore. In part second of the programme she sang "America," and while she rendered this patriotic air the audience rose and joined in the song.

The Post exercises consisted of the reading of the general orders from the Commander-in Chief of the G. A. R., and also from the Commander of the Department of New Jersey, and an extract of Lincoln memorable address at Gettysburg. This was followed with responses from the Navy, by Senior Vice-Commander James Clarkson; from the Army, by Junior Vice-Commander Asa Collier; from the Scripture, by Officer of the Day Wm. C. Smith, and from the Nation and the dead, by Chaplain M. C. Dobbins The latter also offered prayer. Before the close of the exercises the decorating of the unknown graves was performed by members of the Post. The several parts taken by Commander Morse were performed with credit and military dignity.

The oration of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, and it was listened to attentively by the vast audience. The reverend gentleman said in part: "We are here today to celebrate the preservation of the Union and the deeds of brave men who fought for liberty. Patriotism is a high and sacred duty which we all owe to our country. The love for country rises to the heighth of a moral sentiment. The country that is the most civilized evidences the most patriotism. People are proud of their ancestry, and why shouldn't we be proud of our country. Our forefathers were God-fearing men and they brought the Bible with them to this country.

"This land of ours is wide and it provides a means for all to be prosperous. Regarding religious liberty, there is no land on the face of the earth where such laws can be read as are to be found in our Constitution. Regarding political equality, which is by the people, for the people and with the people, is something that we all enjoy. The President of the United States has no more political right than I have. We should be proud of our statesmen who for more than one hundred years have been composed of moral and intellectual quality, from Washington down to McKinley. This is our country, and its patriotism with God that gives it to us. The old flag is a guarantee of liberty to all, and we need patriotism to maintain a moral force.

"After years of peace and quietude we find ourselves at war again, but thank God it is not with our brother. We must protect our flag. Our flag is first before any other flag that floats on land or sea. It has never championed anything but freedom. We are not at war with Spain for the purpose of gaining territory nor for personal aggrandizement. Spain has violated the civilized laws of warfare and has inaugurated a famine. We invoke the judgment of the civilized world in what we have done and ask them if we have not done the right thing. When our flag floats over Morro Castle and poor downtrodden Cuba, then that flag will be looked upon as a symbol of a great and glorious nation. The world is moving onward and we must move also. May we see to it that right, freedom and humanity reigns.

"When the historian of the present war records the facts attendant thereon we will see written the names of McKinley, Dewey, Sampson, Lee and Wheeler, leaders of a great movement to relieve an oppressed people in the cause of humanity."

THE WORK AT HOSPITAL.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOARD OF GOVERNORS YESTERDAY.

Officers Chosen for the Ensuing Year—Hospital Service to the Unfortunate Has Increased Greatly in a Year.

The annual meeting of the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital was held last evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Samuel Huntington; first vice-president, Charles Schipper; second vice-president, William L. Saunders; secretary, William R. Cock; for managing committee Messrs. Clark, Cock, Goddard, Reynolds and Saunders were elected; and for finance committee Messrs. Woood, Ladd, Whiton, Fisk and Schipper. The election of a treasurer to succeed Edward H. Ladd, Jr., was postponed until the next meeting of the board. The reports showed that there had been 258 patients in the hospital during the year; that the average time that patients had remained was twenty-two days; and that an average of fifteen patients had been in the hospital every day throughout the year, which is twenty per cent. more than last year. 1,226 visits have been made at the dispensary by out-patients, which is an increase of more than thirty-three per cent. over last year. The receipts from pay patients have been less than last year's receipts by fifteen per cent The current expenses of the hospital have been about $8,109, almost exactly the same as in the previous year.

The hospital has no floating debt, but has in the bank about $1,444, the balance yet remaining from the proceeds of the Spielkartenfest held last November.

The principal items of income for the year were as follows, in round figures:

Individual donations	$3,818
Hospital Sunday collections	319
Patients	1,914
Training school	515
Police and letter-carriers' bed endowment	252
Interest, etc	383
Spielkartenfest	3,607

And the principal items of expense were for

Fuel, light and water	$1,075
Provisions	1,992
Medicine and instruments	1,150
Salaries and wages	2,868
Sundry expenses	1,038
Debt of last year	913
Coal for next year	325

The finance committee reported that in order to meet the expenses of the coming year it would be necessary to enlarge the list of regular contributors; and efforts will be made to interest new friends as well as to hold on to the old ones.

The complete annual report of the hospital will be issued early in October, and any person desiring a copy can make sure of obtaining it by sending his name to any of the officers of the hospital.

AROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

Bachelors Club Ended its Social Season With a Banquet.

The Bachelor's Club ended its season Saturday evening with a grand dinner at the Hotel Hunterston. The dinner was a very elaborate meal served in the large dining room of the hotel. The president of the club, Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., presided. The others present were. Carroll L. Runyon, Harry Ostermoor, Charles Barlow, Lindley M. Hillman, Aubrey Hull, Henry W. Brower, Edward J. Kline, Morris Dumont, Roy T. Phillips, John Hull, Albert Finch, Harry Woltmann, Godwin Beard, A. Willis West, Van R. Schuyler, Duncan Bulkley and Carl L. Walz. No wine was served.

Speeches followed the dinner, Edward J. Kline acting as toastmaster. The president made a rousing address. There was also singing by the by the club quartette, Messrs. West, Kline, Bowers and Runyon.

Celebrated Bird Day.

A pleasant little entertainment was given Friday morning by the pupils of the primary and intermediate departments of Miss Scribner and Miss Green's School. The children celebrated "Bird Day" by a number of suitable songs, recitations and compositions, and a patriotic turn was given to the exercises in view of the near approach of Memorial Day. About thirty-five children took part in the entertainment. Miss Juanita Machado, a sister of Jose Machado, of Kensington avenue, is to take charge of the kindergarten department of the school the coming year.

Death of Edward T. Matthews.

Edward T. Matthews, for many years private secretary to the late Senator MacPherson and recently for Senator Sewell, died at his residence in Washington, D. C., yesterday afternoon, of pneumonia. He had many warm personal friends in Plainfield.

—Doane & Edsall are removing today to the new Stillman building, corner of Front street and Madison avenue.

CAME FOR BUSINESS AND HAD A GOOD TIME

Annual Convention of Letter-Carriers of the State.

IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY.

WELCOMED AND ENTERTAINED BY THE LOCAL CARRIERS.

The Convention Held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, and After the Business was Transacted an Elaborate Banquet was Tendered the Delegates—Prominent City Officials Present—Chief Doane Exhibited the Working of the Fire Department—The New Postmaster Introduced—Address Given.

Yesterday was a big day for the letter-carriers of this city. They entertained the delegates of the State Letter-carriers' Association, and passed several hours in their company. The delegates who attended were well pleased with their reception, and voted the carriers here a jolly good crowd.

The convention met for business in the Knights of Pythias lodge room in the Elkwood building. Delegates from Passaic, Bayonne, Morristown, Elizabeth, East Orange, Rahway and this city were in attendance.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, F. J. Schmidt, of Bayonne; vice-president, Edward Huchins, of Morristown; secretary, C. A. Hunt, of Passaic; treasurer, Daniel O'Shay, of Passaic; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Cook, of Rahway. The delegates to the national convention which meets at Toledo in September are John J. Holey, of East Orange, Charles B. Stevens, of Plainfield and C. A. Hunt, of Passaic.

Postmaster Hetfield welcomed the delegates to this city in a short speech, and Counsellor Craig A. Marsh for the Mayor.

John Parsons, of New York, chairman of the National Association, and an ex-carrier of that city, made a long address in which he gave some good advice to the carriers, and hoped that the time would come when the office of postmaster will be obtained under the same conditions that the position of carrier is. His address was listened to with great interest by all, especially as this is the first time that the national president has honored a State convention of carriers from second-class cities with his presence.

After this speech all adjourned to the hall below where a bountiful spread had been provided. The carriers were not at all stingy in their invitations, as the long list of guests present proved. Upon invitation of the Chief of the Fire Department, who was one of the guests, all formed in line after supper and headed by the Queen City band marched to the headquarters of the fire department and were entertained there by an exhibition of what the fire horses can do. From there they went to Alerts, where Tom and George, the two horses there, went through their performance; then the party returned to the hall where the balance of the evening was spent in merry making. Councilman Runyon sang several times, and so did John Carney. A few of the delegates from out-of-town also amused the men with songs and speeches, and it was not until a late hour that the delegates thought of home.

The committee in charge of the convention were R. H. Laughlin, chairman, Charles B. Stephens, J. W. A. Bauersachs, Ernest Millard, secretary and treasurer, and Wm. Sharp.

The carriers from this city were the hosts, and furnished the entertainment for the visiting delegates. Besides the delegates who were fed, the carriers invited to supper the members of the police force and the members of the Queen City Band, Councilman Runyon, Chief Doane, first assistant Chief Martin, and several others. In the evening other city officials were present among whom were City Clerk MacMurray and Collector Bird.

MR. BIRD CONFIRMED.

United States Senate Acts Favorably on the President's Nomination.

Elias H. Bird has been confirmed as postmaster of Plainfield by the United States Senate. All that remains is for Mr. Bird to receive his commission from President McKinley, and then apply for possession of the office from Postmaster Hetfield, who is ready to retire as soon as it suits the convenience of Mr. Bird.

It is expected that Mr. Bird will resign the City Tax Collectorship in a short time, and then there were will doubtless be a lively contest for the appointment of a successor by the Common Council.

CUBA OR PORTO RICO

Invasion of Spanish Possessions to Take Place at Once.

Active Measures to Be Put Into Operation Without Further Delay—Troops Loaded on Transports Ready to Start—Probable That 25,000 Men Will Be Shipped Before Close of Week—To Capture Spanish Base of Supplies.

Washington, May 31.—The receipt of positive information with regard to the presence of the Spanish fleet in Santiago harbor has brought to a head the preparations for an immediate invasion of Spanish possessions.

General Miles left for Tampa last night. That announcement has been made a good many times already, only to be followed by a change of plan, but there seems to be no question about it this time. The troops are being loaded on transports ready to start, according to an apparently authoritative statement made at the war department yesterday morning and Admiral Sampson has ships ready to convoy them.

The first invading force is to consist of regiments of the regular army. They will be quickly followed by the best equipped and most thoroughly skilled volunteer regiments in camp in Florida, probably the Seventy-first New York and the Second Massachusetts.

It is probable that about 25,000 men will be shipped before the close of the week. The landing place is not known. It is not even definitely known whether the destination of the army is to Cuba or Porto Rico.

Difference of Opinion.

Secretary Alger and Secretary Long have favored an initial movement on Cuba, but General Miles, and it is understood the president, have preferred the seizure of Porto Rico first. It is argued that it is of the first importance to get hold of the Spanish base of supplies, and with San Juan in the possession of the American forces, the capitulation of Blanco's army must follow as a matter of course.

A much smaller army of invasion and occupation will be required in Porto Rico than in Cuba, and after the capture of the fortifications at the entrance of San Juan harbor it will not be difficult for 25,000 men to seize the city. With the aid of the blockading fleet even fewer men than these can complete the occupation.

By that arrangement more time would be given in which to arm and equip the forces which will be required to subdue those under Blanco at Havana. However, there is no definite knowledge here outside the administration as to whether Cuba or Porto Rico is to be the first point of attack.

GEN. TRACY SEES GOV. BLACK.

They Confer About Van Wyck's Removal of Hamilton and Philips.

Albany, May 31.—General Benjamin F. Tracy was in conference with Governor Black and State Superintendent of Insurance Payn at the Capitol yesterday. General Tracy came here in the interest of the New York city Republicans, to protest against Mayor Van Wyck's action in removing the two Republican police commissioners and the subsequent retirement of Chief of Police McCullagh by the incomplete police board.

The conference lasted for two hours and the whole question was discussed. The result of the conference, if any was reached, could not be learned, except that the declaration was made that the Republican leaders do not propose to allow Tammany Hall to cheat them out of an honest canvass of the vote in New York city next fall if they can by any means prevent it. General Tracy and Superintendent Payn left for New York city yesterday afternoon.

$25,000 for Rebel's Head.

Hong Kong, China, May 31.—The Spaniards have offered $25,000 reward for the head of Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, who is actively drilling the rebels, preparatory to an attack upon Manila.

In reply to the Spanish attempt to win over Aguinaldo's men the insurgents are said to have informed the Spaniards that they are neutral and will await events.

Aguinaldo went to Manila with Dewey's squadron and was landed to make connections with the insurgents. He is the most bitter enemy of Spain in the Philippines, and if he were removed the rebellion would lose its greatest leader.

Col. Astor Begins Army Life.

Chickamauga Park, Chattanooga, May 31.—Colonel John Jacob Astor began real army life last night and slept in a tent for the first time since he took the field.

The Second New York is camped right over the neglected graves of the dead heroes who fell in the battle of Chickamauga. A tent of Company I has a grave right in the center, and in another tent of the same company two privates sleep with their heads on a grave.

Panama Starts North.

Key West, May 31.—The Spanish prize steamer Panama left for New York yesterday to be sold as a prize, because a higher price was expected there. A story that she is to be turned into a cruiser is denied, because she is only a nine-knot ship.

Harvard Still at Kingston.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 31.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard, formerly the American line steamer New York, has not yet sailed. The colonial authorities have allowed her some hours longer in order to put her boilers in good condition.

The British in Manila.

Hong Kong, May 31.—The British cruiser Pique has arrived here from Manila. She reports that all the British residents at Iloilo are safe.

ARMY MOVES FROM TAMPA

15,000 to 20,000 Troops Form the First Phalanx of the Force That is to Crush Spain in the West Indies.

Washington, May 31.—The invasion of Cuba was begun last night.

It is absolutely known that the loading of the numerous transports at Tampa has begun. Between 15,000 and 20,000 troops, with heavy guns and complete equipments, are aboard the transport ships. The siege guns and other heavy artillery are also aboard the vessels. Whether these transports have actually sailed, and whither they have gone it would be unpatriotic to say. But late last night the actual sailing from Tampa had not been reported to the war department. It is known that the forward movement of the army will not be delayed beyond Thursday at the furthest.

It is also a fact that Acting Rear Admiral Sampson, with the flagship New York and several other warships, sailed at daybreak from Key West. The preponderance of the speculation as to his objective is that he has gone to Tampa to convoy the big expedition of the army. It is not wise at this time to disclose all that is known here as to the movements of the troops. It can do no harm to the arms of the United States, however, to say that Havana is not the objective of the army and navy.

AT THE TOMB OF LAFAYETTE.

Ambassador Porter Delivers a Speech on Franco-American Sympathy.

Paris, May 31.—The annual American manifestation at the tomb of Lafayette took place yesterday. United States Ambassador Horace Porter and all of the leading Americans in Paris were present.

General Porter delivered a speech in which he dwelt upon the sympathy of France with the United States.

M. Bartholdi and others made similar addresses. A banquet was held in the evening.

REVANUE CUTTER RUN DOWN.

The Golden Gate Damaged by an Excursion Schooner.

San Francisco, May 31.—The revenue cutter Golden Gate was damaged to the extent of about $1,000 Sunday by a collision with the schooner Mary F. Cruse. The schooner, which had a party of excursionists on board, "missed stays" and her bowsprit went through the cabin of the government boat, which was lying at her berth.

No one was hurt and the schooner was not damaged materially.

Cardenas Harbor Closed by Spaniards.

Off Cardenas, Via Key West, May 31.—Cardenas harbor has been completely closed by the Spaniards since the attack of the Winslow and other American torpedo boats. This fact was demonstrated Sunday by the attempt of the English steamship Myrtledene to enter the port to take on a cargo of sugar. She found that the harbor was filled with sunken obstructions and could not get in.

Dewey Captures Another Ship.

Hong Kong, May 31.—The Americans have captured the Spanish gunboat Leyte, which was attempting to run dispatches into Iloilo.

A steamer is reported to have landed six thousand rifles at Cavite for the use of the insurgents.

The Leyte is an iron vessel of 151 tons, built in 1875. She carries one 3.5 inch, one 2.7-inch gun and two machine guns.

Steamer Panama Sent North to Be Sold.

Key West, May 31.—The prize steamer Panama, captured by the Mangrove soon after the opening of the war, was taken north by a cruiser yesterday to be sold. Her cargo was released by the United States court last week.

MUST STARVE OR FIGHT

Cervera's Fleet Cornered In Santiago By Schley.

An Official Dispatch From Commodore Schley Gives Information Confirming the Reports Concerning the Whereabouts of Cervera's Squadron — Any Attempts Made By the Spanish to Escape Means Annihilation.

Washington, May 31.—The navy department has received a dispatch from Commodore Schley announcing definitely that he had located Admiral Cervera's Cape Verde squadron in the bay of Santiago de Cuba. The commodore states that he has seen and recognized the vessels of the Spanish fleet.

While the navy officials have been morally certain for several days that Cervera's squadron was in the harbor of Santiago, the official announcement by Commodore Schley was received by the officers on duty at the department with intense satisfaction. Assurance is now doubly sure that the Spanish fleet is bottled up and that the cork is in the bottle.

Spanish Can't Escape.

It is not believed that Admiral Cervera will attempt to escape from the predicament in which he now finds himself, as such a course would surely result in the destruction of his vessels and the loss of many lives precious to Spain. The suggestion is made, however, that the Spaniard may blow up his ships rather than have them fall into the hands of Schley, as they certainly will if they remain in the harbor.

The definiteness of Commodore Schley's dispatch would indicate that he has effected a landing near Santiago and made a personal inspection of the harbor. It would be impossible from the entrance of the bay definitely to see and recognize the Spanish vessels, but by effecting a landing at some point on either side of the entrance a vantage point could be gained, very likely, from which the entire harbor could be examined. In all probability Commodore Schley or one of his trusted officers has successfully performed this hazardous undertaking in order to obtain the valuable information contained in this dispatch.

Key West, Fla., May 31.—Any doubt remaining as to the exact location of Admiral Cervera's fleet was removed by reports brought in by naval scout ships, and forwarded in the Associated Press dispatches of Saturday night. The Spanish squadron is anchored in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, and the problem remains for the commanders of the American fleet to dispose of the enemy, either by corking the bottle, or by forcing the long and narrow passage and smashing the strong Spanish squadron at the anchorage its commander has chosen.

It has been the opinion of Rear Admiral Sampson that Admiral Cervera would seek either Santiago de Cuba or Cienfuegoes as a naval refuge and base, and the movement of the two American squadrons has proceeded upon this basis.

Strong and effective as are the Spanish ships, representing as they do the flower of the Spanish navy, every argument in naval strategy compelled Admiral Cervera either to seek the shelter of the close harbor of Santiago de Cuba or return to Spain, and he chose to make his stand at Santiago de Cuba. That he would court a fight in the open sea is an idea which has never been entertained in American naval circles, although his ships, without exception, have high qualities, owing to their great speed, for such a contest.

On the other hand it was believed the Spanish admiral would attempt to run into San Juan de Porto Rico, but the fact of the recent bombardment of the forts of that harbor, coupled with the great possibility that Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet would be met if he attempted to enter that harbor, left the Spanish admiral only one alternative, and he adopted it by going to Santiago de Cuba, where, it is presumed, he has been able to coal, clean and repair, and is in a condition to accept either the conditions imposed by the blockade, or the issue of a fight in the inner harbor, after the American fleet has forced the passage.

Campaign Propositions.

It has been thought that the campaign against Admiral Cervera might now be ended by demolishing the forts at the entrance of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, blockading the channel and isolating the Spanish fleet until the other problems of the war are worked out. This, however, is not in line with American policy, and, simply accepting the view of the situation taken by the naval experts here, Admiral Cervera will have to accept battle at once.

It is confidently expected that a hard blow will be struck within three or four days, and that the result will be known to the world at large at the expiration of that time. It has not been disclosed whether Commodore Schley is to be reinforced, but it would not be surprising if some additional ships were sent to him.

Cruiser St. Louis Ready to Sail.

New York, May 31.—The United States auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, having taken aboard coal and provisions for two months, and added four six-pounders to her armament, was ready for her second cruise yesterday, except that a wagon load of uniforms had not arrived from the Brooklyn navy yard. The St. Louis will sail under sealed orders, which may not be opened until she has left Sandy Hook 200 miles in the wake.

The Tax on Patent Medicines.

Washington, May 31.—The Senate finance committee held a three hours' session yesterday, devoting the time mainly to technical amendments to the war revenue bill. The most important decision reached by the committee was that the tax on proprietary medicines should be paid at the time of sale by the retailer.

TREATY WITH FRANCE SIGNED.

Agreement Between the Two Countries to Go Into Effect on June 1.

Washington, May 31.—It is stated on good authority that the trade discussions with France, which began directly on the appointment of Mr. Kasson, to take charge of reciprocity negotiations, have come to a successful conclusion.

The negotiations have been conducted under the third class of the tariff act of 1897. It is said that the commercial arrangement thereunder was signed last Saturday by Mr. Cambon, the French ambassador, on the part of France, and by Mr. Kasson, special plenipotentiary, on the part of this country.

The agreement is to take effect Wednesday, June 1, when the French Minimum rates upon certain products of the United States exported to France will take effect. The proclamation of the president announcing this fact will be issued to-day. The agreement makes the following tariff arrangement:

In favor of the United States, manufactured and prepared pork meats are reduced from one hundred francs to fifty francs per one hundred kiloes (approximating 200 pounds); lard and its components are reduced from forty to twenty-five francs per one hundred kiloes; table fruit, canned meats, dried or pressed fruits, common woods, logs, paving blocks, staves, hops and apples and pears, crushed, cut or dried, at the minimum French rate of duty.

The reductions in behalf of France are as follows: Argols shall pay a duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem; brandies or other spirits, $1.75 per gallon; works of art, 15 per cent. ad valorem; still wines and vermuth, 35 cents per gallon. No reduction is made on champagnes, which remain dutiable as fixed in the Dingley tariff law.

FATAL COLLISION ON BICYCLE.

Three Men Hurt, and Two of Them Not Expected to Live.

Camden, May 31.—A collision between bicyclists near Lakewood, Sunday afternoon, resulted in the serious injury of three men, two of whom are not expected to live. N. H. Barnard, 28 years old, of Merchantville, and N. E. Nogross, 21 years old, of Philadelphia, were on a tandem, with Barnard steering. They were coming toward Camden at a high rate of speed, when Hugh H. McMullen, 32 years old, of Philadelphia, approached from the opposite direction, also going very rapidly.

A large party of other bicyclers were in the vicinity and some confusion resulted. McMullen and the men on the tandem failed to alter their course and as a result the two wheels came together with terrific force. McMullen was thrown fifteen feet. He suffered a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. Barnard was also thrown on his head and suffered concussion of the brain. Nogross had his scalp badly torn. Both bicycles were total wrecks.

The physicians stated that McMullen cannot recover and Barnard's condition is critical. Nogross was discharged after having his injuries attended to.

TO MUSTER IN NAVAL RESERVE.

Admiral Erben Issues Orders for Additional Recruits in the Navy.

New York, May 31.—Admiral Erben yesterday issued an order regarding the enlistment of naval reserves for the United States navy. These reserves are now in the state service and are to be regularly enlisted in the navy. The order in substance is as follows:

The work of mustering in members of the naval reserves throughout the country will begin immediately. Recruiting officers will be sent to the various states.

Recruits for the service will be obliged to undergo a strict physical examination, and will then be sent to various stations along the Atlantic coast. From these they will be drafted aboard the auxiliary patrol fleet as they are needed. Those who remain after the auxiliary fleet has been filled will be assigned aboard the various warships, some of which are short handed.

Enthusiasm Over Proposed Alliance.

Greenwich, Conn., May 31.—At a patriotic service held in Christ church on Sunday evening, the English flag was used with the Stars and Stripes for decorating. The rector, Mr. George Thompson, said he hoped that before the close of the present war America and England would form an alliance for securing liberty and Christian civilization to all the world. There was intense interest and applause would have been hearty but for the place. Dr. Carl E. Martin of St. Thomas's church, New York, sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Attacked by Highwaymen.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., May 31.—Dr. Louis E. Bertine, president of the board of health of Mount Vernon, is in a dying condition at his home. He was attacked and fatally injured by four highwaymen late on Saturday night while returning home from a meeting of the Mount Vernon common council. Dr. Bertine is one of the prominent residents here. He resides at North Ninth and West Sidney avenues, in the heart of the town.

Iowa Volunteers on the Way.

Chicago, May 31.—Fifty officers and 822 enlisted men of the Fifty-second Iowa Volunteers passed through Chicago Sunday en route for Chickamauga. This regiment, which was the old Fourth of the Iowa National Guard has been at Camp McKinley. The commanding officer is Colonel William B. Humphrey of Sioux City.

Troops for Manila.

Atlanta, Ga., May 31.—It is expected that 500 more recruits will leave McPherson for Tampa soon. It is also planned to forward 1,000 trops to San Francisco to-day if their equipment arrives. From San Francisco they will be dispatched to Manila. The men are all enthusiastic and anxious for service.

Frechette's Son Enlists.

Montreal, Que., May 31.—Louis Frechette, C. M. G., poet laureate of Canada, yesterday stated that his son had enlisted at Exeter, N. H., as a sergeant in the National Guard of New Hampshire.

CONFLICTING RUMORS

A Variety of War Stories From Various Sources.

A Dispatch to the Lond n Times Says Cervera's Fleet is Not in Santiago But Is in Central American Waters—Blanco Asserts to the Contrary—Something Wrong With the Steering Ge r of the American Line Steamer New York.

London, May 31.—A dispatch to the Times from Kingston, Jamaica, dated Saturday, says:

"Private information from the most trustworthy sources, indicates that Admiral Cervera's squadron is not at Santiago de Cuba, but is in Central American waters.

"A dispatch from Dominica today reports that cannonading was heard off the southwest coast of that island last Friday evening."

St. Thomas, D. W. I., May 31.—It is rumored here that all the vessels of Admiral Cervera's fleet are not at Santiago de Cuba. Some of them either did not go there or have since left those waters, according to report.

The Spanish transport Alfonso XIII, chartered by the Spanish government, and loaded at San Juan de Porto Rico with provisions for Cuba, is now said to be scouting in the vicinity of the Porto Rican coast her crew having refused to try to run the Cuban blockade.

Madrid, May 31.—Nothing developed at the cabinet meeting Sunday to make it clear whether or not Admiral Cervera's squadron is in Santiago harbor or outside it, but General Correa, the minister of war, announced that he had received a dispatch from General Blanco to the effect that twelve American warships were off Santiago Saturday, but that most of them disappeared on Sunday, going in a westerly direction.

General Blanco gives it to be understood that Admiral Cervera's squadron remains in Santiago harbor.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 31.—Delayed in transmission.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard formerly the American line steamer New York, is coaling here. As something trifling is wrong with her steering gear and her boilers are dirty, she will be allowed to remain here twenty-four hours longer than usual under the neutrality regulations. With the exception of medicines, the Harvard has not taken on board any supplies.

Captain Cotton of the Harvard said that all were well on board the squadron when he left the vessels under the command of Commodore Schley Friday. Rear Admiral Sampson was then supposed to be off the northwest coast of Cuba. Captain Cotton added that he had no direct information that Admiral Cervera and his squadron are in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, but he assumes that Commodore Schley has a reasonable certainty that the Spaniards are there, or he would not be off that harbor with the American squadron.

Commodore Henderson, commanding the British naval station at Port Royal, was asked if he had, as reported, received information that Admiral Cervera is not in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. The commodore wrote the following reply: "By the latest news Cervera is still in Santiago harbor."

Albert Fowler, a brother of the British consul at Cienfuegos, received word by the British steamer Adula from Cienfuegos on Thursday that the Spanish officials at that place said that only a Spanish torpedo boat destroyer, the Terror (possibly the Furor, as the Terror is understood to be at San Juan de Porto Rico) of the Cape Verde fleet was in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba.

The United States auxiliary gunboat Eagle, which has been coaling at Port Antonio, sailed yesterday for an unknown destination.

The marine observer sighted a warship far outside the roadstead last evening. She could not be identified but is declared by the gossips to have been a Spanish cruiser waiting for the Harvard. The Harvard sailed yesterday morning for an unknown destination.

Destitution at Santiago.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 31.—Two Italians, who set out from Santiago de Cuba in a small boat, on Thursday, May 19, and landed near Mole St. Nicholas on the 22d, arrived here Sunday, bringing information as to the situation at Santiago.

The state of affairs there is critical, particularly because of the lack of food. A great many of the unfortunate people, especially the reconcentrados, are dying of starvation. The whole population is terribly discouraged and keenly desirous of peace.

For several days the rain has been falling in torrents, and many cases of yellow fever have broken out among the Spanish troops.

Accused as a Spy.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 31.—Mr. Emerson, a German newspaper correspondent, is likely to lose his life as a spy, in Porto Rico, unless he is promptly rescued. He left here on Monday for St. Croix in a sailboat. He took another sailboat on Tuesday at St. Croix for Ponce Porto Rico.

His newspaper friends here were notified Sunday by cable that he had been arrested at Caguas, Porto Rico, on Thursday. Later he escaped, whereupon the alcade declared him to be a spy, and put a price on his head.

Railroad Bridge Pier Moved.

Bismarck, N. D., May 31.—The east pier of the big bridge of the Northern Pacific railroad, weighing over 9,000,000 pounds, was moved from its foundation Sunday afternoon and run on rollers to a new foundation, a distance of nearly four feet. This is the first engineering feat of the kind ever attempted. The pier is 60 feet high, 25 feet wide, and 12 feet in diameter, and built of solid granite.

Keep in mind that Scott's Emulsion contains the hypophosphites.

These alone make it of great value for all affections of the nervous system.

It also contains glycerine, a most valuable, soothing and healing agent. Then there is the cod-liver oil, acknowledged by all physicians as the best remedy for poor blood and loss in weight.

These three great remedial agents blended into a creamy Emulsion, make a remarkable tissue builder.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

SEIZED A BRITISH SHIP.

The Restormet Captured While Trying to Put Into Santiago Harbor.

Key West, May 31.—The British steamer Restormet was brought in here yesterday under her own steam, by a prize crew. She was captured by the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, Captain Sigsbee, while trying to put into Santiago de Cuba with a cargo of coal. The steamer was bound from Cardiff to Porto Rico.

As the Restormet came in the British flag was flying half way down her mast. She was leaking badly. Newspaper men were not permitted to approach within a hundred yards of her.

The Restormet was captured under the very guns of Morro Castle, at Santiago de Cuba, at 6 a. m. on May 25. She carried 3,400 tons of best Welsh coal from Cardiff, presumably for Admiral Cervera's fleet.

The St. Paul had been lying off Santiago de Cuba for six days, and early last Wednesday morning the big collier was sighted, making at full speed for Santiago harbor. The St. Paul fired a blank shot and the Restormet came to, four miles from the Santiago forts. The forts did not fire on the cruiser. A prize crew, under the command of Lieutenant J. A. Pattson, was put on board and dispossessed the British officers, who made no protest.

Not a line was found among the ship's papers relative to the destination or consignee of the cargo.

The Restormet was built at Newcastle in 1882. She has a gross tonnage of 2,020, is 286 feet long, has 36 feet 3 inches beam, and is 23 feet 7 inches deep. She is owned by the Restormet S. S. Company, Limited (J. Cory & Sons), of Cardiff.

BOUND AND ABUSED HER.

A Boarding Housekeeper Assaulted in Her Home.

Tarrytown, May 31.—Mrs. Margaret Delaney, who keeps a boarding house on Ninth street, near Broadway, here, reported to the police yesterday that she had been bound, gagged and ill treated by a strange man, who entered her house Sunday night.

Mrs. Delaney says that the man had come to her house at 8.30 o'clock Sunday night and asked for food. She gave him a sandwich.

"Before I could make an outcry he put his hand over my mouth and then forced a gag into it. He was a powerful fellow, and I could not move, although I struggled hard to get away from him."

Only one of Mrs. Delaney's boarders was home at the time. He was in bed asleep in the room adjoining the one where the assault is alleged to have occurred.

It was this boarder who afterwards heard Mrs. Delaney's groans and released her.

Mrs. Delaney is a widow, forty years old, and of a rather prepossessing appearance.

SPANISH LETTERS STOLEN.

Alleged to Contain the Names of Spies in the United States.

Montreal, May 31.—Lieutenant Carranza, Senor du Bosc and other Spaniards here are much disturbed. A letter which is said to have contained a list of Spanish spies in the United States was stolen from their house at 42 Tupper street, Saturday. The entire city detective force is looking for it, but it is gone, and is supposed to be in the United States by this time.

It is understood that Carranza has offered $1,000 for the return of the letter. The detectives are now scouring the city, since until it is proved that the Spaniards are guilty of plotting, they must be protected.

SEARCH FOR A BRUTAL NEGRO.

Knocked a Boy Senseless and Tied His Hands and Feet.

Paterson, N. J., May 31.—The police are scouring the country in search of Louis Peck, a negro with a bad record, who on Saturday night brutally attacked Uriah Sweezy, an 8 year old boy. The boy went out to play with a few companions Saturday night and strayed into an empty barn. Peck was there and induced the little fellow to go to the rear of the building. Then he struck the boy a blow on the head, knocking him senseless. He then tied his hands and feet. The boy was almost dead when found. He was taken to his father's home.

Canadians See a Chance.

Montreal, May 31.—Canadian millers and merchants generally have been paying considerable attention of late to the trade of the West Indian islands, more especially since the outbreak of the war, which they expect will redound to their advantage. They anticipate also that the preferential treatment to be accorded to the products of the British West Indies is likely to tend to popularize Canadian goods in those markets.

WAR ECHOES.

Jiminez, the alleged spy, starts for the North soon.

That "Navy For Defense."

We have the most distinguished naval commander of this time, Admiral Dewey. We have also the most distinguished writer on sea fighting and naval warfare, Captain A. T. Mahan. In Harper's Monthly Captain Mahan punctures gloriously that favorite bubble of certain editors and statesmen in this country, a "navy for defense only." It is a fine phrase politically, but will not survive the ordeal of a definition.

The captain agrees with all thinking Americans that the true policy for our country is not the aggressive but the peaceable one. But even the peace advocates are agreed that we should protect our coasts. For this, they say, let us have a navy only large enough for defense. This would mean in the military sense a "navy that can only await attack and defend its own, leaving the enemy at rest as regards his own interests and at liberty to choose his own time and manner of fighting." On this style of national defense Captain Mahan's graphic comment is, "A man's defense against a snake if cornered, if he must have to do it with, is not to protect himself, but to kill the snake."

It will be right enough if we extend the meaning of the word defense in the political sense to include those large interests which are inextricably intertwined now with the existence of our republic, such as our interest in keeping European nations from getting control of any more territory in the western hemisphere or from obtaining control of the isthmian canal. This interpretation of the needs of our defenses Mahan accepts, but this means the permanent maintenance of a powerful up to date navy. The logic of events seems to be forcing this upon us. Captain Mahan says:

It is a thoroughly accepted principle that mere defensive warfare means military ruin and therefore national disaster. It is vain to maintain a military or naval force whose power is not equal to assuming the offensive soon or late, which cannot first or last go out, assail the enemy and hurt him in his vital interests.

About Concentration.

The lively young editor of the New York Evening Journal quotes Lord Rosebery's remarks on the enormous power of mental concentration possessed by Gladstone. Rosebery said, "There never was another man in the world who at any given moment and on any given subject could devote every resource of his intellect without the restriction of a single nerve to the immediate purpose of that subject."

Then The Evening Journal editorial writer adds out of his own head this fatherly advice:

Get that into your heads, young men. Blow the cigarette smoke out of your brains, fix your feeble gray matter on what you have to do and keep it there. Accustom yourselves to continuous mental effort in one direction, and you may make a high class railroad conductor if not a Gladstone.

Concentration is the great thing in this world, the very greatest thing except genius, and the marvelous mental salad called genius almost always has concentration for its main ingredient.

Concentration! Remember the word. Strive for the quality.

A London paper, which is almost the only exception to those that express sympathy with us, says Europe believes that America is only trying her strength on Spain, trying it on a dog, as it were, and if she succeeds in downing the dons will go on in the road of aggression, attack the outlying property of other powers and take possession of it. Doubtless Spain has spread this story, but it shows how little the powers of Europe understand us. We stand by the Monroe doctrine as the Englishman stands by the British constitution. The historic message of President Monroe in 1823 makes distinctly the statement that we shall not meddle with the territory already possessed by European nations in the western hemisphere, but we shall consider it an act of hostility to us if they try to get any more. We do not want any more territory merely for the sake of enlarging our borders. The land hunger of the overcrowded nations of Europe we know not.

ADMIRAL CERVERA y TOPETE.

Admiral Cervera, commander of what we call the Cape Verde Spanish squadron, is a distinguished officer. He has been awarded medals for service in the Cuban war and for his part in engagements in Africa and the Carlist war.

During some years when American exports are very large not much gold comes to the United States to pay for them. In such years the foreigners who buy our goods send instead of gold our own securities, stocks, bonds and various kinds of paper. But during the present fiscal year, in spite of the war, the estimated gold coming into the country from abroad is $100,000,000, more than in any year before in our history. It shows that we are rapidly paying off our debts to foreigners and drawing money from them. We are ceasing to be a debtor nation. America is a happy country.

It is a satisfaction to just people generally that Helen Gould is prosecuting with vigor the perjurer who instigated the suit of Sarah Ann Angell against the Gould estate on the ground that Sarah Ann was Jay's first wife. If examples were made of a few more of the blackmailers and adventurers that swarm around the rich, it would be for the good of the country.

The American who just now will haggle with the government to get an extortionate price for goods it needs deserves to have his pitiful little wares confiscated and to get nothing at all for them.

The result of the combustion of smokeless powder, which our navy uses, is gases which are almost colorless. A slight vapor is seen immediately after a charge is fired, but it quickly disappears.

MEMORIAL DAY AT LINCOLN.

Statue of Abraham Lincoln Unveiled—An Immense Audience Present.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 31—There have been many important events at Lincoln in the past fourteen months, but none of so much importance as transpired yesterday at 12 o'clock, when the noon train arrived bringing Drake's famous band and the Veteran Zouaves, Gen. J. Madison Drake commanding, from Elizabeth.

At 2:30 p. m., Rev. T. E. Davis, on behalf of Mayor Drake, presented a beautiful silk banner to the scholars of Lincoln Public School, which was received on behalf of the school by Rev. Mr. Fletcher, of New Market.

M. S. Drake pulled the cord that unveiled the statue of Abraham Lincoln, and the Mayor then placed a flag of Cuba in Lincoln's hand.

Rev. T. Davis offered prayer. Mayor Drake introduced Colonel Ernest C. Stahl who delivered the oration. To say that Col. Stahl's oration was grand, is but faint prase It was earnestly listened to by all. It is estimated that there were over 2,000 people present.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 31—The Memorial Day exercises yesterday were far ahead of the most sanguine expectations, the several organizations turning out in a much larger number than was expected. Especially was this so in the turnout of the school children, over fifty being in line. The town in general seemed to take more interest in the exercises this year than previously. The stores and hotels were decorated with bunting and the stars and stripes, and a great many citizens along the line of march swung the stars and stripes from windows and porch. The line of march was formed at Excelsior Hall at 9:30 o'clock by Grand Marshall John Robison. A short march was made through the principal street of the village, then to the cemetery where the graves of the soldiers were strewn with flowers. On the church lawn Dr. Parks and Rev. Mr. Woodruff made short addresses. The line was again formed and marched back to Excelsior Hall where they dispersed. The committee deserve a great deal of credit for the success of the exercises. Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., decorated the graves of John Klemser, who was a member of their council at the same time.

The committee in charge of the Memorial Day parade wish to express their thanks to all who distributed flowers or assistance in any form to the success of the celebration, and to assure them that there assistance was appreciated by the people of Scotch Plains, and especially by the committee.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 30.—William Perrine and Jack Kelly were both arrested by Constable Marsh Saturday on complaint of Hugh Meyers, who charged them with having held him up and relieved him of $2.50 Saturday morning. Justice Tucey gave them a hearing and sent them to the county jail to await the action of the October grand jury.

Decoration Day has come and gone, but the memory of the exercises held in Westfield will be remembered by the people of this town for many days. Everything was carried off according to programme, and the weather being clear a large crowd turned out. A parade, in which were G. A. R. members, the Sons of Veterans, the Jr. O. U. A. M. and the fire department, took place in the morning. Headed by the Union County Cornet Band, they marched from Broad street to Fairview cemetery. The procession was headed by over 100 wheelmen, each of whom carried an American flag. At the cemetery the paraders formed into a hollow square about the soldiers' monument, where the exercises took place. Acting Commander Reese said a few words, after which Chaplain Harden offered prayer. "The Star Spangled Banner" was excellently rendered by the band, and the young ladies of the Lincoln School sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." Next came an interesting address by S. W. Reese, after which a salute to the dead was given. The flag was placed at half-mast as the drums gave a muffled beat and the cannon roared out thirteen shots. The graves were next decorated with flags and flowers. The marshal of the parade was Dr. Sherman Cooper. His aides were Messrs. Martin Pierson, Clarence Smith and Warren Woodruff. The wheelmen were in charge of Dr. F. A. Kirch. The cannon salute was fired by Gunner L. Wilcox, assisted by Messrs. Charles Allen, Hugh Goltra, John Peyster, Gus Gillery, R. Gillery and Frank Hoeting.

Decoration Day exercises were held in the schools Friday afternoon. At the Lincoln School the following pupils took part: Alice Warncke, Ethel Pearsall, Marjorie Slade, Mabel Hurst, Eva Wright; and Messrs. C. W. Harden, Dr. Sherman Cooper and S. W. Reese delivered short addresses. At the Prospect street school John Ketcham, Henrietta Romberg, Rufus Taylor and Marjorie Brown took part.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Tyler have returned to their home in Philadelphia, after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tyler in Westfield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Edwards have been entertaining Mr. Edwards' brother, Dr. J. J. Edwards and family, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Affleck have returned to their home on Elmer street after a pleasant visit at Warwick, N. Y.

The Sunday-schools of the different Westfield churches will hold Children's Day exercises Sunday, June 5th.

Irving I. Ross, of Long Branch, spent Sunday and Decoration Day with his family in Westfield.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, of Plainfield, will occupy the pulpit at St. Paul's church Sunday, June 12th.

Messrs. E. C. and Herbert Pearsall spent Decoration Day with friends at Lake Hopatcong.

Miss Pauline Kratzel, of Dunellen, has been spending a few days with friends here.

Miss Mabel Clark, of Long Branch, is visiting friends in town.

C. E. Pearsall enjoyed a trip to Lake Hopatcong Monday.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A BRISK POLICE COURT.

NUMEROUS OFFENDERS BEFORE THE JUDGE THIS MORN NG.

Drunks and Disorderly Cases Were in the Majority—A Party of Colored People Too Noisy Last Night

Business was brisk in the police court this morning. Several cases were tried and disposed of.

Michael Gleason and James Carney were arrested Saturday night by Officer McCue charged with fighting on West Fourth street. Gleason was fined $10 or 30 days. Sentence was suspended on Carney.

George Potter, arrested by Officer Saffron, was fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly.

Bridget McDongugh, of Richmond street, was charged by Officer Higgins with using bad language. She pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Her case was set down for Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the Council Chamber.

Sentence was suspended on Nick Kelly for being disorderly on Third street a week ago.

William Ross, the Park avenue restraunt keeper, was charged by Officer Cash with using profane language in front of his restaurant a week ago. Ross was discharged.

John Divine and Harry Mullison were wrestling in front of Edward White's dry goods store Saturday night, and broke one of the show cases. They locked up by Officer Vanderweg, and sentence was suspended on them this morning. They have replaced the glass.

Michael Dunco was given 60 days in the county jail for being drunk on Cottage place Monday night.

Susan Lewis, Sarah Green, Hattie Moon and William Wilson were arrested last night by Officers Myers and Watson. They were charged with swearing and using profane language on West Fourth street. Susan Lewis and Sarah Green were discharged, and Hattie Wilson and Lewis Moon fined $5. Sentence was suspended on Wilson.

DEATH OF MRS. J. B. MACINTYRE.

An Estimable Woman Unable to Survive Lung Trouble.

The friends of Mrs. John B. Macintyre will learn with deep sorrow of her death, which occurred yesterday at her home on Elm place. She had been ill for some time past, but her condition of late had been much improved and the members of the family were quite encouraged. Death was the result of lung trouble.

Mrs. Macintyre was about 65 years of age, and before coming to Plainfield she and her family resided in Harlem. They have been residents of this city for many years. A husband and two sons survive her. One of the sons, George M. Macintyre, is associated with F. L. C. Martin on Park avenue, while the other son, Philip Macintyre, is in business in New York. The father is also associated in the bicycle business with his son George.

GUESTS ON BOARD A YACHT

Wesley Johnson Gave Several Friends a Salt Water Trip.

Wesley Johnson, of LaGrande avenue, took out a party of seventeen friends yesterday on his naptha yacht Aloha for a sail around Staten Island. They were very much interested in going through the Narrows to see Commodore Perry's new boat, one of the monitors, the auxiliary cruiser Yankee, coaling, and the numerous harbor defence mines which the men were busily engaged laying. Luncheon was served on board. The Aloha was put in commission last Wednesday after leaving her winter quarters at Morris Heights, and is now anchored off the New Jersey Athletic Association grounds at Bergen Point.

Mission for Italians.

A mission for Italians commenced last evening in St. Mary's church. It is conducted by Father Morelli, an eloquent preacher. The services will begin at 7:30 o'clock each evening during the week. Father Morelli was very much encouraged by the attendance last night, more than 100 being present. They were very glad to hear a sermon in their own language and already speak of erecting a church for themselves.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

This is without doubt a season of changing modes. No sooner does some lovely novelty of the dressmakers' art come into favor than the style, owing to its many cheap imitations, becomes decidedly passe and the thoroughly up-to-date woman turns her thoughts to other and newer fields.

So it was with the blouse, which in spite of being a dressy garment and one suited to so many rich materials was doomed to an early death, owing to its popularity. Many modifications of this garment are still seen but even these are so changed it is difficult to recognize our old friend.

And now it looks as if the trimmed skirt will also soon be relegated to the background, for the flounced and beruffled models are becoming so common that it is a positive relief to turn to the simple five or seven-gored skirt. Indeed the styles change so rapidly that it is almost impossible to keep track of them and it is a subject for cogitation what new turn fashion's fancy will take before the summer is over.

The tailor made gowns now exhibited at the fashionable couturieres are especially fashionable. The skirt is usually made very scant from the waist to the knees where the shaped flounce is added, which is generally headed with stitching or a band of the material. This flounce gives the bell effect to the bottom of the skirt which is now so popular. Stiff skirts are no longer seen, the linings now consisting of soft silk or satin and if the material is not too heavy a flannel interlining is used to render the garment more graceful.

The waists of these tailor gowns are either made with the new jacket, cut as short as a bolero, but double breasted with revers, or they are cut blazer fashion, fitting snugly in the back and opening in the front with large revers over a dainty blouse or stiff front. The tight bodice and fly front jacket are also very popular.

The materials suitable for these gowns are smooth cloths, ladies cloths cashmeres and the like. Alpaca in all the different shades also bids fair to be very fashionable for tailor made costumes this summer.

A very "smart" tailor made of smooth faced mauve cloth was made with a severely plain five-gored skirt worn over a black taffeta petticoat. The chic blouse jacket fitted snugly in the back and opened with wide revers in the front over a handsome black satin shirt waist, made with a tucked yoke. Folds of black satin ornamented the blouse and the tiny peplum and a belt of black satin encircled the waist.

Another handsome gown of cinnamon brown cloth also boasts the untrimmed skirt. The bodice was quite unique having a modified blouse effect worn over a vest of green velour. A scroll design of fine green and gold braid ornamented the waist and the same trimming was carried out on the tabs which extended below the belt of embroidered cloth. The sleeves were close fitting, pointed over the hand and finished at the top with stiff epaulets.

Another fad this season is accountable for is the elaborately trimmed silk skirt. They come in every color, although black predominates. Many of the black models have trimmings of a different color but this style often goes to extremes and is bound to be offensive to the well bred woman.

The taffeta skirt, in fact a number of taffeta skirts, are indispensable to the well-dressed woman. White petticoats for the street are impossible unless one commands a perpetual private laundry. It is surprising the richness of lingerie which has come to be considered good form.

A few seasons ago ladies choosing silk petticoats for outdoor use selected black. A gay color would have been a scandal. Black is the exception now. And is now rather as cachet for a gown light in tone than for propriety. It is not unusual to see a narrow line of silver gray, lilac, purple, cerise, below the dress as she holds it up, of a refined woman of fashion.

All ladies walk a good deal nowadays and each must tip-tilt her dress skirt as she progresses, because it is so long. A saunter any pleasant afternoon, with an eye for petticoats would give some idea of the fashionable favor in which gay underskirts are held. Even burnt orange and flame red petticoat hints are afforded by dark brown and blue gowns. Indeed, the color of My Lady's petticoat is limited only by its harmony with the dress. Yellow, red, blue, anything, is au fait, when it blends correctly or contrasts pleasingly.

For common use taffeta skirts have pinked or corded or accordion-plaited ruffles, in number from two to a dozen, put on to give full ruche effect, one above and one over another. The ruffles are of the skirt material. More elaborate examples show the deep Spanish flounce of silk finely tucked here and there, and "checkered" with cross tucks. Lattice work, that is, milliners' folds laid in lattice effect, made from purple satin, form the deep ruffle of a violet taffeta petticoat. Cream lace, fulled, edges it.

Black skirts, for mourning and oddity, are more fulled, even than their lighter companions. To offset its dullness one "mourning" skirt is a maze of tiny lisse puffings below the knee.

Diet Upon the Eyesight.

A piece of black sticking-plaster, notched all round the edges, and applied outside a crack in the leather of a shoe, is a neat way of mending it, and shows very little.

Prin: "I wouldn't be a fool if I were you."

Prone: "But I would if I were you."

For the Small Girl.

For the small girl there is a fascinating collection of dainty gowns. Many of these are designed on the same lines as those intended for elder sisters and mothers. The gored skirt, the blouse and the shirtwaist are all shown, and vary very little from those made on a larger scale.

Many mothers, however, prefer to cling to the more youthful styles for their young daughters and the little gathered skirts are often seen. A pretty model is of red cashmere, made with a simple round waist and full skirt. A little bolero of darker red velvet is worn, with collar, belt and cuffs to match.

Allowances for Children.

The question of allowances for the youth of the family seems to present itself in various aspects to mothers. One woman, whose ideas on the bringing up of children have resulted successfully does not approve of allowances. "My children," she says, "after they are fourteen or fifteen are always kept supplied with a quarter; this in case of emergency. The rest of their wants are provided for as they have been during childhood." Other mothers have found the allowance idea an excellent one. Fifty cents a week given to a young girl, out of which to provide certain small necessities and be equal to emergencies brought about by her own carelessness and want of forethought, is a system which has proved its efficacy. If a girl needs carfare every day for school, a dollar a week seems reasonable, and out of this she will frequently save money. The weight of opinion is, undoubtedly, in favor of allowances. The tendency of the day is to belittle the habit of promiscuously giving small sums of money—nickels, dimes and quarters. A child with an allowance soon discovers that even pennies count, and if no other lesson is taught something has been gained.

The Mouse and the Banknote.

A country vicar tells a curious story about a mouse and a bank-note. The note, which was left on a shelf in a store-room, always kept locked up, suddenly vanished. The servants were quite above suspicion. The fact that the note had been laid in that particular place and had disappeared, admitted of no doubt whatever. After some search it was noticed that there was a mouse-hole in a corner of the floor. A carpenter was sent for, and a board taken up. A large quantity of minute bits of paper were drawn out, the accumulation, probably, of very many years. Strange to say, in one corner of the heap, a nest of young mice was discovered lying on the bank-note! It was uninjured, no portion had been nibbled away, and was the only piece of paper left entire in all the heap. It happened, then, that the mouse had carried the note, folded up as it was, through its hole, and then unfolded and spread it out as a lining to its nest, and had used it as a blanket, evidently conscious of its softness and flexibility. The wonderful part of the story is the leaving of this one piece of paper entire, apparently because it was of a different texture from the rest.

The Learned Queen of Italy.

While the Queen of Italy is known as a doughty hill-climber and a beautiful woman, it seems to escape general recognition that she is also the most learned Royal woman in Europe. From her earliest childhood Queen Margaret has had a passion for books, and early set herself to master the different languages in which the best of them are written. She studied English in order to make Shakespeare's acquaintance; and to this day he remains her favorite author, followed closely by Ruskin and Darwin. Among German writers she loves Goethe best; among French, Racine and Chateaubriand. She knows Spanish well, and Latin and Greek are familiar tongues. Add to this a wide range of "ologies" of which she has a practical knowledge, and the Italian Queen's title to the reputation of being the most learned of Queens is obvious.

Stuttgart. Die Polizei hat hier den ledigen Kaufmann A. Bosch verhaftet, der beschuldigt ist, in London eine Anzahl alterthümlicher Geigen im Gesammtwerth von 60,000 Mark gestohlen zu haben; neun dieser Geigen sind hier aufgefunden worden.

Appenweiler. Hier stürzte der massive Scheuerngiebel des Oekonomen Matthäus Müller ein, wobei der 13jährige Joseph Fugal um's Leben kam. Das Unglück ist dadurch entstanden, daß unter dem Wohnhause ein Keller gegraben wird und in Folge dessen das Fundament gewichen ist.

Berg bei Ehingen. Hier hatte der Bräumeister Zimmermann nahezu einen Centner Hechte und Karpfen in einem Fischkasten gesammelt und denselben in seinem Weiher untergebracht. Als er nun letzthin darnach sehen wollte, waren die Fische sammt Kasten verschwunden.

Beuren. Ein von hier gebürtiger Schreiner H. hatte sich seiner Zeit, um einer voraussichtlichen Bestrafung wegen Körperverletzung zu entgehen, in die Schweiz begeben, wo er gute Anstellung fand und sich verheirathete. Dieser Tage nun kam er mit seiner Frau zu Besuch nach Hause, weil er glaubte, die alte Geschichte sei jetzt verjährt. Kaum hörte aber der damals Verletzte von der Rückkehr des Uebelthäters, so ließ er ihn verhaften, und seine Frau mußte jetzt allein in die Schweiz zurückkehren, da ihr Mann einer längeren Bestrafung entgegensieht.

Reutlingen. Zum Oberbürgermeister unserer Stadt wurde der Sekretär und wissenschaftliche Hilfsarbeiter des Stadtschultheißenamts Stuttgart, Hepp, mit 1024 Stimmen gewählt. Auf Rechtsanwalt Knapp (Reutlingen) fielen 890 Stimmen. Die Wahlbetheiligung betrug 85 Prozent.

Tübingen. Professor Dr. v. Jürgensen an der hiesigen medizinischen Fakultät beging sein 25jähriges Jubiläum als Ordinarius und Vorstand der hiesigen Poliklinik. Das diesjährige Sommersemester scheint eine noch bessere Frequenz aufzuweisen als das vorjährige. Mehr und mehr verschafft sich unsere Hochschule Geltung auch als „Sommer-Universität."

Ulm. Bei einem starken Gewitter fuhr ein Blitzstrahl in den Thurm der Wilhelmsburg über dem Ruhethal, wo die 6. Kompagnie des Grenadier-Regiments Nr. 123 liegt. Eine Anzahl von Mannschaften wurden zu Boden geschlagen; vier Mann mußten betäubt in's Militärlazareth gebracht werden.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. In der zweiten Kammer gab Abgeordneter Fieser eine Erklärung gegen einen Artikel der nationalliberalen „Badischen Landeszeitung" ab, in dem der Kammer zu vieles Reden und Diätenschinderei zum Schaden der Steuerzahler vorgeworfen wurde. Abgeordneter Fieser wies nach, daß der Landtag sehr fleißig gearbeitet habe und verwahrte sich öffentlich gegen diese Beleidigungen.

Heidelberg. Bei dem Antrittskommers des hiesigen S.-C. in der Hirschgasse wurde der dem Korps Saxo-Borussia angehörende 19jährige Student Vorwerk aus Wiesbaden plötzlich vom Schlage getroffen und war sofort eine Leiche.—Baron v. Erlanger in Paris hat dem Fonds zur Erbauung einer katholischen Kirche im Stadttheil Neuenheim die ansehnliche Summe von 10,000 Mark zur Verfügung gestellt. Die Kirche soll zum Andenken an seinen Sohn, den hier verstorbenen Professor Rafael v. Erlanger, den Namen Rafaelskirche erhalten.

Pforzheim. Nach einer Mittheilung der Handelskammer ergaben die Erhebungen über den gewerblichen Verbrauch von Gold in Münzen und Barren im hiesigen Handelskammerbezirk im Jahre 1896 die Verschmelzung von Gold im Werthe von 18,750,000 und 1897 von 19,000,000 Mark.

Wiesloch. In Roth wurde neulich Abends während eines Gewitters ein am Fenster stehendes Ehepaar vom Blitz erschlagen. Der Blitz schlug ferner in ein Stallgebäude und tödtete zwei Stück Vieh.

You can't fool the public all the time.
They will find you out at last.
Every time a man is fooled,
Another skeptic is made.
Many the remedy that makes the skeptic.
It fails to keep its promises.
Doan's Kidney Pills bring renewed faith.
They cure the skeptic.
Plenty of proof of this at home.
Plainfield proof for Plainfield people.
Our citizens say they cure backache.
Cure urinary disorders.
Cure sick kidneys.
Experience has taught them this is so.
Conviction for every sufferer.

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 W. 2nd Street, says: "I have used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and have derived more benefit from them than from anything else I ever used. Before I tried this remedy I was botnered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up, or was lying down and attempted to rise quickly, or retained one position for any length of time, sharp, acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such trouble and went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along under the treatment. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others who suffer from kidney complaint."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers price 50c per box. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

THE BOOK OF WEALTH.

Only Four Hundred Copies Published—Price $2,500.

Nobody but a millionaire can afford to buy the edition de luxe of "The Book of Wealth." The edition costs $2,500, and it cannot be expected that the humble book agent should bring it to your door. It is devoted to the achievements of the rich and powerful, and, of course, New York occupies a large part of it. Seven sections of the work have been already published, and the three sections devoted to the United States, now in preparation, will be ready for delivery during the next year. It is not placed on sale in the book stalls, for the prospective purchaser might soil its silk binding and its China silk linings.

Hubert Howe Bancroft, a San Francisco literary man, now in Cambridge, Mass., is the author. He is related distantly to George Bancroft, the historian, but he has made exploits in the realm of history himself which, his friends say, entitle him to recognition aside from the mere matter of kinship. Mr. Bancroft writes in a very entertaining style about the rich and what they have done. As he says in his prospectus, he tells of the rich and powerful of all ages and nations, "from Rameses to the Rothschilds, from Alexander to Astor." He begins with the men of pelf in old Chaldea, and closes his book with pages and pages devoted to the goings and comings and the doings of Gotham's millionaires. Solomon and Pharaoh, Xerxes and Croesus, Cyrus and Caesar, Jay Cooke and Seth Low—all these are spoken of as influences in the world on account of their wealth.

There is a lavish luxuriousness in the way this book is printed, illustrated and bound. It consists of one thousand pages, divided into ten sections of one hundred pages each. Each section is accompanied by ten water colors, etchings and photogravures incased in a portfolio. The text is embellished with twenty-five hundred illustrations. The drawings begin with the dawn of history and end with the last handsome house on Fifth avenue, New York. The covers are decorated with reproductions of water colors by the best artists. In order to give a more artistic appearance to these reproductions, they have all been retouched. The binding of this work is of rich, old gold and armure silk, which has been especially imported for the use of the publisher, the Bancroft Company, of Chicago. Everything connected with this volume was either produced in Chicago or brought directly to Chicago for the purpose. The insides of the covers are lined with white silk.

There will be only four hundred volumes of this work published. The first one hundred and fifty volumes comprise an edition de luxe. The Chicago publishers call it the "Cygne Noir" copy. This edition costs $2,500. There will be two hundred and fifty more volumes which will be sold for $1,000 each. They have not quite as much silk and less gold printing.—New York Herald.

CURIOUS RESULT OF OUR TAX LAWS

A Massachusetts Law which Made a Third Tax on a Resident's Income.

The following case of actual and comparatively recent experience constitutes both proof and illustration of the accuracy of this statement: A lady of a Western State, for the sake of availing herself of certain educational advantages, removed to a town in Massachusetts near Boston, and benefited the town by building a fine residence therein. Her property, which was held by a trustee in Indiana, was taxed to him by reason of his legal holding in that State. The property itself, mainly in another State, was taxed there, and properly, by reason of its location; but at the end of her first year's residence the lady was horrified to learn that a third tax on her income was demanded of her by the tax laws of Massachusetts, "And this," the person communicating these facts adds, "will, if enforced, be a decree of my personal banishment from the State as effectual as that which the State formerly launched against Roger Williams and the Quakers."

Can any one doubt that human nature, as ordinarily constituted, will protest against and successfully evade such laws? Would it not be well in discussing this subject to mention also that it was a question of taxation that gave liberty to the American Colonies, and that the principle that the people of Boston and their ministers once mainly relied upon to justify their destruction of imported tea, which they regarded as unjustly taxed by even a small amount, was "that resistance to tyranny was obedience to God"?—Hon. D. A. Wells, in Popular Science.

Writing Poetry on an Omnibus.

Mr. Joaquin Miller, in one of the foot notes to the new complete edition of his poems, mentions the different methods of authors and says of Bret Harte: "He once told me that his first line was always a cigar, and sometimes two cigars. I reckon Walt Whitman could write anywhere. I once was with him on top of a 5th avenue omnibus, above a sea of people, when he began writing on the edge of a newspaper, and he kept it up for half an hour, although his elbow was almost continuously tangled up with that of the driver."—New York Tribune.

The Way He Found It.

"If a man do not work," said the gentleman with the good clothes and the dignified expression, "he shall not eat."

"I don't find it 'zactly that way," said Perry Patetic; but I know if my stories don't work I don't eat."

PREJUDICE DISAPPEARING.

The French People Do Not Object to Horseflesh.

In Europe prejudice against horseflesh as food diminishes year by year, and in France and other Continental countries great attention is given to the fattening of wornout horses for the market. European societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals are interesting themselves in the subject, and are offering inducements to farmers to utilize their spare horses for food. The substance is said to be as nourishing and palatable as beef, and in some respects authorities of the cuisine give it the preference. Every year there is more or less of a panic in regard to the short supply of beef, and in the few countries which have become accustomed to its use horseflesh comes in as a substitute. In France the price of beef is from 25 to 40 cents a pound, while horse meat may be had from 5 to 8 cents. The pot-au-feu, disused in thousands of French homes on account of the high price of beef, has, through the cheapness of the latter meat, assumed its former importance in the domestic economy of that people. In this era of mechanical propulsion an increasing number of horses are thrown out of business, and their utilization as food, if it cannot be said to open a new career to them, brings their existing one to a useful close. According to current statistics it will not be many years before the world's supply of beef will fall short of its requirements, and if relief is not found in utilizing the horse as a substitute it is difficult to conjecture where it is to be looked for, short of general adoption of the practice of vegetarianism, which has always been the diet of the subject, and never, so far, the ruling of progressive races.

SURVEYING BY BICYCLE.

The U. S. Army Authorities Have Under Contemplation Its Adoption.

One of the newest uses of the bicycle is as a surveying machine, not merely a machine to carry a surveyor from point to point, but a machine which performs in itself the mechanical part of the surveyor's work. The device consists primarily of two parts, a cylinder revolving mechanism to carry the strip of paper on which the record is made, and a device to make the record. As the cylinder turns the strip of paper is unrolled from a spool. The marker, hanging by means of a pivot and controlled by a complementary mechanism, adjusts itself to the position of the bicycle. The United States Army authorities are considering the adoption of this attachment as an adjunct to military tactics. By its means the exact topographical characteristics of a road may be ascertained, with no other exertion on the part of the surveyor than a ride along the road in question. A general who wishes to know the topography of a road over which his army has to pass has only to send out an engineer on a surveying bicycle to ride ahead. When the engineer returns he brings with him an exact profile of the road, which has been automatically made while he was in the saddle.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Vegetarians and Meat Eaters.

A careful examination of the hearts of the vegetarian and the meat eater show that the number of beats to the former are fifty-eight to the minute and of the latter seventy-two. In twenty-four hours this means a difference of 20,000 beats. From this it is concluded that in the summer time the vegetarian has the advantage, for he can keep cooler and in better health under the reduced number of heart-beats. But in a cold climate, or in our own winters, the heat generated by such slow heart-beats would hardly be sufficient to make life strong and resisting enough. The true verdict that one must reach is that the vegetarian is better off in the summer and the meat-eater stronger in the winter.

SPORTS

GOLF.

Yesterday was a lively day on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Links, on Plainfield avenue. The morning and afternoon were taken with playing the first round and the semi finals for the Chapman Cup. The finals will be played Saturday afternoon.

Yesterday marked the formal opening of the links for the season, and a tea was given by Miss Wood and Mrs. Howard Tracy, the lady members of the House Committee. They were assisted by Miss Margaret Tracy and Miss Bessie Ginna. The tea was very successful, and was attended by nearly a hundred.

The playing for the Chapman Cup was started on Saturday afternoon, when the contestants played to qualify. The following were successful; A. R. Fisk, J. H. P. Wharton, W. L. Glenney, Reeve Stockton, C. W. Fisk, W. Richards, W. Wadsworth and H. W. Beebe.

In the morning the semi-finals were played. The men played in pairs and the successful contestants were Wharton, Glenney, Fisk, and Wadsworth. These four played in the afternoon, and the semi-finals were won by Wharton and Wadsworth. Next Saturday afternoon some sharp playing is anticipated, as both men are nervy, and will fight a hard battle for the prize.

This is the last time that the members will play on the Plainfield avenue grounds, for by next Saturday it is expected that the new grounds on Park avenue will be ready for use.

F. L. C. Martin and R. F. Richardson, of this city, acted as timers at the Irvington-Milburn twenty five mile road race yesterday.

Wheelman's Bad Fall.

George Arrowsmith, of South Plainfield, met with a painful accident yesterday morning while wheeling along Park avenue. The handle bars broke, throwing him over the front wheel to the ground, and cutting a deep gash in his head. George Becker, of Park avenue, who was driving behind Arrowsmith, saw the accident and took the man to Dr. Long's, where he had the wound dressed. Becker then took Arrowsmith home in his buggy.

In the Borough Court.

There were three cases before Recorder Long in the borough court this morning. Mrs. Hannah Vandervoort, drunk and disorderly, arrested by Marshal Wise yesterday, sentence suspended; Charles Vandervoort, interfering with the arrest of his wife, arrested by Marshal Schenck, sentence suspended; John McElroy, drunk and disorderly, arrested by Chief Wilson, sentence suspended.

An Approaching Marriage.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Cushing, of 50 Maujer street, Brooklyn, has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Bessie Vera Cushing, to Louis Eldridge Eaton, of East Fisth street, this city. The wedding will be celebrated Thursday evening, June 9th, at 8 o'clock at Grace Episcopal church, Conselyea street, near Lorimer, Brooklyn. The bride is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. William Hand, of Park avenue, this city.

—VanEmburgh's tomorrow. Tea kettles for oil stoves, 10c. each.

—Edward Kober, of the borough, will be tried next Friday before Judge Bartine, and the witnesses have been summoned to appear at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaskill, of Philadelphia, were guests yesterday of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Buchanan, of Duer street. They think Plainfield a very beautiful city.

IN HONOR OF HEROES.

Following the address by Dr. Yerkes there was an appreciative applause. Dr. Yerkes then announced that a collection would be taken for the relief fund of Post No. 73, G. A. R., and Comrades Coriell, Collier, Dobbins, Smith and Moffett were delegated to do the work. The exercises closed after the band played "Dixie" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Garfield League Ceremonies.

Garfield League, assisted by its auxiliary of girls, Houghton Division No. 1, of the Children's Loyal Legion, held memorial services yesterday afternoon in the Presbyterian cemetery, North Plainfield. The chorus sang as an opening hymn, "God bless our native land," then followed a responsive reading from the Scriptures, after which Rev. C. E. Scudder, pastor of the M. E. church of Mountain View, led in an impressive prayer. The flag was then saluted, recitations were rendered and several patriotic airs were sung. The service in honor of the unknown dead was held at the grave of the late Mrs. MacDonald, for many years chaplain of Garfield League. The children then proceeded to decorate the grave of every honorably discharged Union veteran in the cemetery, that of the Revolutionary soldier being decorated by the color bearer George Staats, a direct descendant from a soldier of the Revolution.

EXCEPTION TO AN ACCOUNT.

Union County Court Heard Testimony in Baker Will Case Saturday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 31—The exceptions taken to the account of William C. Stanbury, adminstrator of James A. Baker, by W. S. Angleman, attorney for Mrs. and Miss Baker, came up for a hearing before the Orphans Court at Elizabeth on Saturday last. Exceptions were filed to sixteen different items of the account and on hearing all the exceptions were overruled without taking any testimony, except four. Upon these four testimony was taken before the surrogate after court adjourned, and the testimony will be presented to the court for his consideration on Wednesday, June 8th. The four accounts upon which testimony has been taken are the bills of Andrew Love, Sr. and Jr. and W. R. Stanbery for services rendered in connection with the settlement of the estate, and the claim of the administrator for deficiency on bond. W. R. Codington successfully represented the administrator.

CITY FLAG TORN.

An Unfortunate Accident to It While Being Raised Today.

An unfortunate circumstance occurred this morning about 7:30 when Chief T. O. Doane, assisted by L. M. Dunavan, was attempting to raise the new American flag presented to the city by Edward White, on the liberty pole. One of the snaps caught in the field of blue and it was badly torn. The flag was taken down and is being repaired.

Chief Doane thinks that the flag is too big to raise every day and suggests that a smaller flag be procured. For holidays and special occasions he things the large flag should be used. It is thought that the suggestion may be followed by the officials.

The Germans Picnicked.

The members of the Gesang and Turn Verein held a picnic yesterday in Mountainside Grove near the end of the Somerset street trolley. The affair was largely attended and an enjoyable time was the result. There was both vocal and instrumental music and various sports occupied the attention of the crowd all day.

THE CRESCENTS WERE THRICE VICTORIOUS

Two Base Ball Games Yesterday at the Crescent Oval.

A GAME PLAYED SATURDAY.

THE LOCAL TEAM EASILY SWEPT ALL BEFORE THEM.

The Hoboken A. A. Was Defeated Saturday by a Score of 17 to 5—The Memorial Day Morning Game With the Murray Hills Was an Exciting One—The Visitors Made a Hard Fight After the First Inning—The Afternoon Game With the Octoroons Was an Easy Thing—Crescents Won by 16 to 1.

Three more victories have been added to the record of the Crescent baseball club during the last three days. The excellent form shown by the local team brought even the most unenthusiastic to admit that Manager Mumford has a wonderful aggregation of players, who are capable of holding their own with the best of the semi-professional nines.

Saturday afternoon the Crescents met the Hoboken A. A. on the Crescent Oval and administered a crushing defeat by a score of 16 to 5. MacLarty was never hit hard, the Hoboken team scoring only three hits, while the Crescents made eleven. Both sides made eight errors each.

Monday morning an exciting game was played with the Murry Hill Field Club in which the Crescents were victorious by a score of 7 to 3. A few fatal errors and some timely hitting scored four runs for the home team in the first inning. Then the visitors steadied down and made a plucky fight. They scored three times and were making things lively when the Crescents found the ball in the eighth and batted out three runs. The Murray Hills were handicapped by the loss of their regular pitcher.

The detailed score follows:

The game of the afternoon proved a farce. The Octoroons came from the Orange Athletic Club, cracked up to be a warm team. They were easy prey to the Crescents, however Terrible errors and several hits netted five runs in the first inning for the Crescents. In the second they made seven on heavy batting. Then the local team settled down to play with the dusky players. MacLaughlin found much fun as the different batters faced him only to succomb to his curves.

After Oscar Again.

Oscar Vaughn, of Harmony street, was arrested again last night and held to await trial this evening at 7:30 on a charge of annoying John Stewart and his daughter, Hattie, of West Front street. Vaughn was arrested on this same charge a week ago on a warrant from Justice Mosher's court, but Vaughn demanded a hearing at once, and he was taken before another justice and an error having been found in the papers, he was discharged. The new warrant was sworn out at once.

Mrs. H. S. Taylor, of Roseville, spent Sunday at the home of her friend, Miss Force, of Duer street.

SCHOOL MEETING!

Notice is hereby given to the Legal Voters of the

Borough of North Plainfield

in the County of Somerset, that a

Special School Meeting

will be held at the

SCHOOL HOUSE,

on

Tuesday Evening, May 31, 1898,

at 8 o'clock.

At which meeting the following items of business will be acted upon:

1. To receive the report of the Board of Education with a reference to the purchase of a lot or plot of land and the erection of a new school thereon, and furnishing the same.

2. To authorize the Board of Education to purchase as a site or location for a new School House, either of the following described plots of land, viz:

The plot on the south or southwesterly corner of Watchung and Summit Avenues, being one hundred and fifty-eight (158) feet, nine (9) inches on Watchung avenue, and one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Summit avenue, or the plot of land on the north or northeast corner of Watchung and Mountain Avenues, being one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Watchung avenue, and one hundred and fifty (150) feet on Mountain avenue, either one of which plots is thought by the Board of Education to be suitable.

3. To authorize the Board of Education to erect upon said plot of land, when acquired, a new school building, to be built of brick, and to contain at least six (6) class rooms, and to heat, ventilate and furnish the same. The amount thought to be necessary for all these purposes is $21,000.

4. To authorize the Board of Education to issue the Bonds of the district to raise the money needed to purchase said lot of land, erect said new school building, and heat, ventilate and furnish the same to the amount of twenty-one thousand ($21,000) dollars, such bonds to be issued in the corporate name of the district, in such sums, at such rate of interest and payable at such times as the legal voters so met may direct.

S. St. J. McCUTCHEN, President.

When you buy a Piano

you naturally want to get the very best possible for the money you are going to pay. That is what we propose to give you. There is no Piano concern in America that sells Pianos as cheaply as we do. An ordinary Piano man will say "I must make a big profit for I only sell a Piano occasionally." We have always said "We make the profit small and thereby stimulate business." It has paid us to do so, for it stands to reason that quarter the profit when you sell ten is better than the whole profit when you only sell one.

Pay us TEN DOLLARS and you can have a Piano at once.

LARGEST CLOTHING SALE OF THE SEASON!

Of the finest stock of tailor-made

Men's, Boys' and Children's High-Grade Spring and Summer Clothing

ever shown in this city, Sale to begin Saturday, May 28th, at 8:30 a. m.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

One of the largest wholesale manufacturers was forced to the wall. Every one knows of the depression in every line of business, but none have suffered so much as the clothing manufacturers that were rated away up. They were forced to go under or realize money in some way to save their credit, and we being enabled to offer them the ready cash, they accepted our offer and we secured a very large lot of desirable clothing at our own price. A chance of a lifetime to secure high-grade spring and summer clothing at less than one-third its value.

Remember, this stock will be sold without reserve, without restriction and without any consideration of cost of production, and the prices will bring every man and woman within 25 miles of Plainfield to our store in order to show what gigantic bargains will be offered.

A few prices are here mentioned, and remember there are a thousand other bargains we cannot enumerate. Cut this out and bring it with you and ask for the following mentioned articles.
